CHAP. XXII.

a He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousnes. 9 Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuity. 11 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is propheced.

THus sayd the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, * Execute yee iudgement and a righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shedde innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, *and ride vpon charets and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I b sweare by my selfe, sayth the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah, Thou art c Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wildernesse, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will d prepare destroyers against thee euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe e cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 f And many nations shall passe by this city, and they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 ¶ Weepe not for the dead, and be not mooued for them: but weepe for him g that goeth out: for hee shall returne no more, nor see his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching h Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue ledde him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Who vnto him that buildeth his house by i vnrighteousnesse, and his chambers without equitie: hee vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He sayth, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windowes, and seeling with cedar, and paint them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in Cedar? did not thy k father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, hee prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shall not lament l him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried, as an asse m is buried, euen drawen and cast foorth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Goe vp to n Lebanon, and cry: showte in o Bashan, and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperity: but thou saydest, I will not heare, this hath beene thy maner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The winde shall feede all thy pastors, p and thy louers shall goe into captiuity: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the q cedars, how beautifull shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in trauile?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though r Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee into another countrey, where yee were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole? or as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, hee and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O f earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this t man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for these shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

a Meaning, the Princes, gouernours and false prophets, as Ezek.34,2. b For the which I haue especiall care, and haue prepared good pastures for them.
c Whose charge is to feed the flocke, but they eat the fruit thereof, Ezek.34,3. d Thus the Prophets euer vse to mixe the promises with the threatnings, least the godly should be too much beaten downe, and therefore he sheweth how God will gather his Church after this dispersion.
e This prophecie is of the restitution of the Church in the time of Iesus Christ, who is the true branch, reade Isa.11,1. and 4,2. & 60,8. chap.33,15. dan.9,24. * *Deut.*33,18. * *Chap.*33,16.
§ Read Chap.16,14.

WOe be vnto a the pastours that destroy and scatter the b sheepe of my pasture, sayth the Lord.

2 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastours that c feede my people, Yee haue scattered my flocke, and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your workes, sayth the Lord.

3 And I will gather the d remnant of my sheepe out of all countries, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall grow and increase:

4 And I will set vp shepheards ouer them, which shall feed them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous e branch, and a King shall reigne and prosper, and shall execute iudgement and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saued, and * Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousnesse.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The § Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But the Lord liueth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey, and from all countreyes where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the g prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath † ouercome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of oathes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wildernesse are dried vp, and their h course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest ‖ doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine i House, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery ways in the darkenesse: they shallbe driuen foorth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the prophets of Samaria, that prophecied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophets of Ierusalem k filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all l vnto mee as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hoastes concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feede them with m wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is ‖ wickednesse gone foorth into all the land.

16 Thus sayth the Lord of hoastes, Heare not the words of the prophets that prophecie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne n heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise mee, The Lord hath sayd, Yee o shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For p who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that he hath perceiued, and heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes yee q shall vnderstand it plainely.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, sayth the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophecied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and r had declared my words to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednesse of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, sayth the Lord, and not a God § farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets sayd, that prophecied lyes in my Name, saying, I t haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? † Doe the prophets delight to prophecie lies, euen prophecying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause u my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him x tell a dreame, and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheat, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that z steale my word euery one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweet tongues, and say, a He sayth.

32 Behold, I will come against them that prophecie false dreames, sayeth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lyes, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, sayth the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the b burden of the Lord; thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, sayth the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The c burden of the Lord, I q Both that God hath sent me, and that my wordes shall be true.

* *Chap.*14,13.14. and 27,15. and 29,8.9.
r He sheweth the difference betweene the true Prophets and the false, betweene the hireling and the true minister.
§ Doe not I see your falsehood, howsoeuer you cloke it, and wheresoeuer you commit it?
t I haue a prophecie reuealed vnto me, as Num.12,6.
† Ebr. Is it in the heart of the Prophets?
u He sheweth that Satan raiseth vp false prophets to bring the people from God.
x Let the false prophet declare that it is his owne fantasie, and not flander my word as though it were a cloake to couer his lies.
y Meaning, that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies, and to speake the word of God, but that there be iudgement in allegging it, and that it may appeare to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezek.3,17. 1.cor. 2,13. and 4,1. 2.tim.2,15. 2.pet.4,10.11.
z Which set forth in my Name that which I haue not commanded.
a To wit, the Lord.
b The Prophets called their threatnings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to sustaine, therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, You speake nothing else, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reiected the word of God, as a grieuous burden. c Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, hee will teach them another manner of speech, and will cause this word burden to cease, and teach them to aske with reuerence, what sayth the Lord?

CHAP. XXIV.

1 The vision of the baskets of figges, 5 Signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe out of captiuitie, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

THe Lord shewed mee, and beholde, two [a] baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and the cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe, and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto mee, What seest thou, Ieremiah? And I said, Figges: the good figges very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whom I haue sent out of this [b] place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out.

7 And I will giue them [c] an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they shalbe * my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 * And as the naughty figges which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell [d] in the land of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for [a] terrible plague to all the kingdoms of the earth, and for a reproch and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them, and to their fathers.

[a] The good figges signified them that were gone into captiuitie, and so fauired their life, as Chap. 21, 8 and the naughty figges them that remained, which were yet subiect to the sword, famine and pestilence.

[b] Whereby he approueth the yeelding of Ieconiah and his company, because they obeyed the Prophet, who exhorted them thereunto.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Hee prophecieth that they shall be in captiuitie seuenty yeeres, 12 And that after the seuenty yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophecied.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the people of Iudah, in the [a] fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, euen vnto [b] this day (that is the three & twentieth yeere) ỹ word of the Lord hath come vnto mee, and I haue spoken vnto you [c] rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor encline your eares, to obey.

5 They [d] sayd, Turne againe now euery one from his euill way, and from the wikednesse of your inuentions, and yee shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuertheless, yee would not heare mee, sayeth the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hoasts, Because ye haue not heard my words, 9 Behold, I will send and take to me all the [e] families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my [f] seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and [g] continuall desolation.

10 * Moreouer, I will ‖ take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride, the noise of the [h] millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel seuenty yeeres.

12 And when the [i] seuenty yeeres are accomplished, I will visit [k] the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetuall desolation.

13 And I will bring vpon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, euen all that is written in this booke, which Ieremiah hath prophecied against all nations.

uen I serue themselues of them: thus will I recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, [m] Take the cup of wine of this mine indignation at mine hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drinke it.

16 And they shall drinke, and be mooued, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord hath sent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem and the cities of Iudah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, [n] as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaoh also, King of Egypt, and his seruants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all sorts of people, and all the Kings of the land [o] of Vz: and all the kings of the land of the Philistims, and [p] Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

21 [q] Edom, and Moab, and the Ammonites.

22 And all the kings of Tyrus, & all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the [r] Ies, that are beyond the sea,

23 And [s] Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the vtter most corners, 24 And all the Kings of Arabia, and all the Kings of Arabia that dwell in the [t] desert,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of [u] Elam, and all the kings of the Medes, 26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of [u] Sheshach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hoastes, the God of Israel, Drinke and be drunken, and spewe and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 [x] But if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Ye shall certainly drinke.

29 For loe, [x] I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free? Ye shall not goe quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saieth the Lord of hoastes.

30 Therefore prophecie thou against them all these words, and say vnto them, The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: hee shall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sounds shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, and hee will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Behold, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a * great whirlewind shall be raised vp from the coastes of the earth.

33 And [y] the slaine of the Lord shall be at that day, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall be as the dongue vpon the ground.

34 Howle, [z] ye shepheards, and cry, and wallow your selues in the ashes, yee principall of the flocke: for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your dispersion, and yee shall fall like [a] precious vessels.

35 And the [b] flight shall faile from the shepheards, and the escaping from the principal of the flocke.

36 A voyce of the cry of the shepheards, and an howling of the principall of the flocke, shall be heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the † best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

38 He hath forsaken his couert, as the lyon: for their land is waste, because of the wrath of the oppressour, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Ieremiah mooueth the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the false prophets & priests, and brought to iudgment. 13 Vrijah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the [a] court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lords House, all the words that I commaund thee to speake vnto them: keepe not [b] a word backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turne euery man from his euill way, that I may [c] repent mee of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the words of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like [d] Shiloh, and will make this citie [e] a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Ieremiah speaking these words in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophecied in the Name of the Lord, saying, [f] This House shalbe like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Ieremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the kings house into the House of the Lord, and sate downe in the entrie of the [g] new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, † This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophecied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Ieremiah vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath [h] sent mee to prophecie against this House and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

your works, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, b behold, I am in your hands: doe with me as ye thinke good and right:

15 But know ye for certaine, if that ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this city, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then said the Princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite * prophecied in the dayes of Hezekiah, king of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Zion shalbe plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shalbe an heape, and the mountaine of the c house shalbe as the hie places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did he not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the d plague, that he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophecied in the Name of the Lord, one Vrijah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-iarem, who prophecied against this city, and against this land, according to all the words of Ieremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the king sought to slay him. But when Vrijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the king e sent men into Egypt, euen Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Vrijah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the king, who slew him with the sword, and f cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam g the sonne of Shaphan was with Ieremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Ieremiah at the commaundement of the Lord sendeth bondes to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were neere, whereby they are monished to be subiect vnto Nebuchadnezzar. 9 He warneth the people, and the kings & rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of a Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee b bonds and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah,

4 And command them to say vnto their maisters, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my c seruant, and the beasts of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his d sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntill the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great kings shall e serue themselues of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your sorcerers which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophecy a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their necks vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your necks vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets that speake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophecy a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not * sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophecy a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, & that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophecy vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophecy vnto you, saying, Behold, * the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be f brought againe from Babel: for they prophecy a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this city be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them g intreate the Lord of hosts, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, go not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, concerning the * pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this city,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when he caried * away captiue Ieconiah naih the ſonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah from Ieruſalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah, and Ieruſalem.

21 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael, concerning the veſſels that remaine in the houſe of the Lord, and in the houſe of the king of Iudah, and at Ieruſalem, 22 They ſhall be brought to Babel, and there they ſhalbe vntill the day that I viſit [h] them, ſaith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and reſtore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The falſe prophecie of Hananiah. 12 Ieremiah reproueth Hananiah, and prophecieth.

AND that ſame yeere in the beginning of the [a] reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah, in the [b] fourth yeere, and in the fift moneth, Hananiah the ſonne of Azzur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, ſpake to me in the houſe of the Lord in the preſence of the Prieſts, and of all the people, and ſaid,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoaſtes, the God of Iſrael, ſaying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 † Within two yeeres ſpace I will bring into this place all the veſſels of the Lords Houſe, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Iecohniah the ſonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, ſayeth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah ſayd vnto the [d] prophet Hananiah in the preſence of the prieſts, and in the preſence of all the people that ſtood in the Houſe of the Lord,

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah ſaid, So be it: the [e] Lord ſo do, the Lord confirme thy words which thou haſt prophecied, to reſtore the veſſels of the Lords houſe, and all that is caried captiue from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this word that I will ſpeake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue beene before mee, and before thee in time paſt, [f] prophecied againſt many countreys, and againſt great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of peſtilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophecieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet ſhall come to paſſe, then ſhall the Prophet be knowen that the Lord hath truely ſent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and [g] brake it.

11 And Hananiah ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Euen ſo will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the ſpace of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) ſaying, 13 Goe and tell Hananiah, ſaying Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael, I haue put a [a] yoke of yron vpon the necke of all theſe nations, that they may ſerue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they ſhall ſerue him, and I haue giuen him the [i] beaſts of the field alſo.

15 Then ſayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lye.

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord, Behold, I will caſt thee from off the earth: this yeere thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken rebelliouſly againſt the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet [k] died the ſame yeere in the ſeuenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuity in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne after ſeuentie yeeres. 16 Hee prophecieth the deſtruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ieruſalem. 21 He threatneth the prophets that ſeauce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is prophecied.

NOw theſe are the words of the ‖ booke that Ieremiah the Prophet ſent from Ieruſalem vnto [a] the reſidue of the Elders, which were caried away captiues, and to the Prieſts, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ieruſalem to Babel:

2 (After that Iecohniah the King, and the [b] Queene, and the eunuches, the * princes of Iudah, and of Ieruſalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ieruſalem.)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the ſonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah [c] ſent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) ſaying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael ſpoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue [d] cauſed to be caried away captiues from Ieruſalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houſes to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruits of them

6 Take you wiues, and beget ſonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your ſonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare ſonnes and daughters, that yee may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeeke the proſperity of the city, whither I haue cauſed you to be caried away captiues, and [e] pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſayeth the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael, Let not your prophets and your ſoothſayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue care to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophecie you a lye in my Name: I haue not ſent them, ſaith the Lord.

10 But thus ſaith the Lord, that after ſeuentie yeeres be accompliſhed at Babel, I will viſit you, and [f] performe my good promiſe toward you, and cauſe you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, ſayth the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then ſhall you cry vnto mee, and yee ſhall goe and pray vnto me, and I will heare you, cause ye shall seeke me with all f your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, sayeth the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be carried away captiue.

15 ¶ Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp g Prophets in Babel, 16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone foorth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus sayeth the Lord of hoastes, Behold, I will send vpon them the h sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs that can not be eaten, they are so naughtie.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and k a curse, and astonishment, & an hissing and a reproach among all the nations whither I haue cast them,

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the § Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hoastes the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for o Iehoiada the Priest, that yee should be officers in the House of the Lord, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stockes.

27 Now therefore, why hast thou not reproued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophecied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lye, 32 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not haue a man p to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 and comforteth the Church.

THE word, that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, sayth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a b terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund now and behold, if man trauell with childe: wherefore doe I behold euery man with his hands on his loynes as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into a paleneſſe?

7 Alas, for this c day is great: none hath beene like it: it is euen the time of Iaakobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that d day, saith the Lord of hoastes, I will breake e his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy boands, and strangers shall no more serue themselues f of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and g Dauid their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iaakob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iaakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, sayth the Lord, to saue thee: though I vtterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet I will not vtterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not h vtterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and i thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy k louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue striken thee with the wound of an enemie, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

p He and his seede shalbe destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliuerance, a Because they should be assured of their posterity confirmed to the hope of this deliuerance promised.

16 [l] Therefore all they that deuoure thee, shall be deuoured, and all thine enemies euery one shall go into captiuity: and they that spoile thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that robbe thee, will I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shalbe builded vpon her owne heape, [m] and the palace shall remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceed [n] thanksgiuing, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as afore time, and their congregation shalbe established before me: and I will visit all that vexe them.

21 And their [o] noble ruler shall be of themselues, and their gouernour shall proceed from the midst of them, and I will cause him to draw neere and approach vnto mee: for who is this that directeth his [p] heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shallbe my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, [q] the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlewind that hangeth ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the [r] latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He rehearseth Gods benefits after their returne from Babylon. 23 And the spirituall ioy of the faithfull in the Church.

A T the [a] same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which [b] escaped the sword, found grace in the wildernesse: [c] he walketh before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me [d] of old, saying: [e] Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercy I haue drawen thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgin Israel: thou shalt still [f] be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt goe forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of [g] Samaria, and the planters that plant them, [h] shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come, that the [i] watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall crie, Arise, and let vs go vp vnto [k] Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iaakob, and shoute for ioy among the chiefe of the [l] Gentiles: publish, praise and say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the North countrey, and gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deliuered also: a great company shall returne hither.

9 They shall come [m] weeping, and with mercy will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of [n] water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is [o] my first borne.

10 ¶ Heare the word of the Lord, O yee Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre off, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him, and will keepe him, as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and ransomed him from the hand [p] of him, that was stronger then hee.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifulnesse of the Lord, euen for the [q] wheate and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe and bullocks: and their soule shallbe as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorow.

13 Then shall the virgin reioyce in the [r] dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & will comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I will replenish the soule of the Priests with [s] fatnes, and my people shallbe satisfied with my goodnes, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning, and bitter weeping: [t] Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, say th the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard [u] Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an [x] vntamed calfe: [y] conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented, and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my [z] thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproach of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim [a] my deare sonne or pleasant child? yet since I spake vnto him, I still [b] remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him. I will surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp [c] signes: make thee heaps: set thine heart toward the path & way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgin of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compasse a man.

23 Thus sayth the Lord of hoastes the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of t To declare the greatnes of Gods mercy in deliuering the Iewes, hee sheweth them that they were like to the Beniamites, or Israelites, that is, vtterly destroyed and caried away, in so much, that if Rahel, the mother of Beniamin could haue risen againe to seeke for her children, she should haue found none remaining.

u That is, the people that were led captiue.

x Which was wanton, and could not be subiect to the yoke.

y He sheweth how the faithfull vse to pray: that is, desire God to turne them as forasmuch as they cannot turne of themselues.

b To wit, in playing him for my promise sake.

c Marke by what way thou diddest go into captiuity, & thou shalt turne againe by the same.

d Because their deliuerance from Babylon, was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ, whom a woman should conceiue and beare in her wombe. Which is a strange thing in earth, because hee should be borne of a virgin without man, or hee meaneth that Ierusalem, which was like a barren woman in her captiuity, should be fruitfull as shee, that is, ioyned in mariage, and whom God blesseth with children.

Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captiuity, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that go foorth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the weary soule, and I haue replenished euery sorowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe [c] was sweet vnto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah [f] with the seede of man, and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to builde and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall die for his owne iniquity, euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a [h] new couenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah, 32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they [i] brake, although I was ‖ an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After [k] those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

34 And they shall [l] teach no more euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgiue their iniquity, and will remember their sinnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giueth [m] the sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hosts.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, [n] or the foundations of ☿ earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the [o] city shalbe built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shall compasse about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all ☿ fields vnto the brook of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the horsgate toward the East shalbe holy vnto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked vp, nor destroyed any more for euer.

CHAP. XXXII.

Ieremiah is cast into prison because hee prophecied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon. 7 Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

THE word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the [a] tenth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the king of Babels hoaste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou prophecie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, * Behold, I will giue this city into the hands of the King of Babel, and hee shall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the king of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face.

5 And he shall leade Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, vntill [b] I visit him, saith the Lord: though yee fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Ieremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee & say, [c] Buy vnto thee my fielde, that is in Anathoth for the ‖ title by kindred appertaineth vnto thee [d] to buy it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, came vnto mee in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & said vnto me, Buy my [e] field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Beniamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, euen seuen [f] shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the booke and signed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed [g] according to the Law, and custome, with the booke that was open, 12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hoasts the God of Israel, Take the writings, euen this book of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen [h] vessell, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hoastes, the God of Israel, saith thus, Houses and fieldes, and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah

17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy ſtretched out arme, and there is nothing ‖ hard vnto thee.

‖ Or, hid.

18 * Thou ſheweſt mercy vnto thouſands, and recompenſeſt the iniquitie of the fathers into the boſome of their i children after them: O God the great & mighty, whoſe name is the Lord of hoaſts,

* Exod. 34. 7. deut. 5. 9.

i Because the wicked are ſubiect to the curſe of God, he ſheweth that their poſteritie which by nature are vnder this malediction, ſhall be punished both for their owne wickedneſſe, and that the iniquitie of their fathers, which is likewiſe in them, ſhall be alſo reuenged on their head.

19 Great in counſell, and mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the ſons of men, to giuen to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his works)

20 Which haſt ſet ſignes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this k day, and in Iſrael and among all men, and haſt made thee a Name, as appeareth this day, k Meaning, that his miracles in deliuering his people, ſhould neuer be forgotten.

21 And haſt brought thy people Iſrael out of the land of Egypt with ſignes, and with wonders, and with a ſtrong hand, and a ſtretched out arme, and with great terrour,

22 And haſt giuen them this land, which thou didſt ſweare to their fathers to giue them, euen a land that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in, and poſſeſſed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedſt them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou haſt cauſed this whole plague to come vpon them.

‖ The word ſignifieth any thing that is caſt vp, as a mount or rampart, and is alſo vſed for engins of warre, which were layd on an hie place to ſhoote into a citie before that gunnes were in vſe.

24 Beholde, the ‖ mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight againſt it by the meanes of the ſword, and of the famine, and of the peſtilence, and what thou haſt ſpoken, is come to paſſe, and behold, thou ſeeſt it.

25 And thou haſt ſaid vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the field for ſiluer, and take witneſſes: for the citie ſhalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, ſaying, 27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all m fleſh: is there any thing too hard for me?

m That is, of euery creature: who as they are his worke, ſo doth he gouerne and guid them as pleaſeth him, whereby he ſheweth that as he is the author of this their captiuitie for their ſinnes, ſo will hee for his mercies be their redeemer to reſtore them againe to libertie.

28 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and he ſhall take it.

29 And the Caldeans ſhall come and fight againſt this citie, and ſet fire on this citie, and burne it with the houſes, vpon whoſe rooffes they haue offered incenſe vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee vnto anger.

n From the time that I brought them out of Egypt, and made them my people, and called them my firſt borne.

30 For the children of Iſrael, and the children of Iudah haue ſurely done euill before me; from their n youth: for the children of Iſrael haue ſurely prouoked mee to anger, with the workes of their hands, ſaith the Lord.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I will g cleanse them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against me: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee, and whereby they haue rebelled against mee.

9 And it shall be to mee a name, a[h] ioy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this citie.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shall be heard in this place (which ye say shall be desolate, without man, and without beast, euen in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitants, and without beast)

11 The voyce of ioy and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that shall say, i Prayse the Lord of hoastes, because the Lord is good: for his mercie endureth for euer, and of them that offer the sacrifice of prayse in the house of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first saith the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Againe in this place, which is desolate, without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepheards to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the [k] mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, & in the land of Beniamin and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes, and at that time will I cause the Branch of righteousnesse to growe vp vnto Dauid, and he shall execute iudgement and righteousnesse in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saued, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and hee that shall call [m] her, is the Lord our [n] righteousnes.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Leuites want a man before me to offer [o] burnt offrings, and to offer meat offrings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my couenant of the [p] day, and my couenant of the night, that there should not be day and night in their season,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what [q] this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath euen cast them off? thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth, 26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iaakob and Dauid my seruant, and not take of his seed to be rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 He threatneth that the citie, and the King Zedekiah shall be giuen vnto the hands of the king of Babylon. 11 He rebuketh their cruelnie toward their seruants.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when [a] Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and all his hoaste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, * I will giue this citie into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the king of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Iudah, thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in [b] peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burne odours for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh [c] Lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah, that were left, euen against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, [d] to proclaime libertie vnto them,

9 That euery man should let his seruant go free, and euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, and that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a Iew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that euery one should let his seruant goe free, and euery one his handmaid, and that none should serue themselues of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they † repented and caused the seruants and the handmaides, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaids.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying, couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of ‖ seruants, saying, 14 * At the terme of seuen yeeres, let ye go euery man his brother an Ebrew which hath beene sold unto thee: and when he hath serued thee sixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed mee not, neither enclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming liberty, euery man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in e the house, wherevpon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue caused euery man his seruant, and euery man his handmaid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to returne, and hold them in subiection to be vnto you as seruants and as handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeied me, in proclaiming freedome euery man to his brother, and euery man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a liberty for you, saith the Lord, to g the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I will giue those men that haue broken my Couenant, and haue not kept the words of the Couenant, which they had made before me, when they h cut the calfe in twaine, and passed betweene the parts thereof.

19 The princes of Iudah, and the princes of Ierusalem, the Eunuches, and the Priests, and all the people of the land, which passed betweene the parts of the calfe.

20 I will euen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes will I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke their life, and into the hand of the king of Babels hoast, which i are gone vp from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this city, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He proposeth the obedience of the Recabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the daies a of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, saying.

2 Go vnto the house of the b Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iaazaniah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites.

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan the sonne of Igdaliah a man c of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the ‖ treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cuppes, and d said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for e Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, f Ye shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your daies ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be: strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeied the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our daies, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field, nor seed,

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeied, and done according to g all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoast of the Caldeaus, and from the hoast of Aram: so we h dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hoasts, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, From the hoast of the Caldeaus, and from the hoast of Aram: so we h dwell at Ierusalem.

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that he cõmanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, k rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, * Returne now euery man from his euill way, and amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not encline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hoasts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue ‖ spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah said vnto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hoasts, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeied the commandement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hoasts, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall m not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

14 He is called before the rulers, and readeth it before them also. 23 The King casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

AND in the fourth [a] yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen [b] from the daies of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgiue their iniquity and their sinnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote [c] at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am [d] shut vp, and cannot goe into the House of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule wherein thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords House vpon the [e] fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will [f] pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger and the wrath that the Lord hath declared against his people.

8 So Baruch the Sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the words of the Lord in the Lords house.

9 ¶ And in the fift [g] yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the words of Ieremiah in the House of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretary in the higher court at the entry of the [h] new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Saphan had heard out of the booke all the words of the Lord, 12 Then he went downe to the kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes sate there, euen Elishama the Chancellor, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Cushi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were [i] afraid, both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these words.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, How diddest thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ynke in the booke.

19 Then said the princes to Baruch, Go, [k] hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they laid vp the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour, and told the king all the words, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and hee tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi reade it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.

22 Now the king sate in the winter house, in the [l] ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, he cut it with the pen-knife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent [m] their garments, neither the king, nor any of his seruants that heard all these words.

25 Neuertheleste, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the king, that he would not burne the roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord [n] hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the king had burnt the roule and the words that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe [o] another roule and write in it all the former words that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah hath burnt, 29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim king of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roule, saying, [p] Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the king of Babel shall certainely come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, He shall haue [q] none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his [r] dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquity, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it to Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the booke which Iehoiakim king of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like words.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Zedekiah succeedeth Ieconiah. 3 He sendeth vnto Ieremiah to pray for him. 11 Ieremiah going into the land of Beniamin, is taken. 15 He is beaten and put in prison.

A N1* king Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah reigned for a Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel b made king in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey the words of the Lord, which he spake by the ‖ ministery of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king c sent Iehucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiah went d in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaohs hoast was e come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they † departed from Ierusalem)

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoast, which is come foorth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this city, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, ‖ Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole hoast of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should euery man raise vp in his tent, and burne this city with fire.

11 ¶ When the hoast of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs army, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to go into the f land of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when he was in the g gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irijah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou † fleest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flie not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Irijah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to ỹ princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the Scribe: for they had made that the h prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time.

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly, in his house, and said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, saith he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreouer, Ieremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 * Where are now your prophets, which prophecied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be † accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, least I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giuen him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers streete, vntill all the i bread in the city were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 14 At the request of Ebed-melech the King commandeth Ieremiah to be brought foorth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the King how hee might escape death.

THen Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, & Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of a Malchiah, heard the words that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth foorth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for b a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This city shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said vnto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus he ‖ weakeneth the hands of the men of warre c that remaine in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can deny d you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coards: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah stucke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the ‖ blacke Moore, one of the Eunuches which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the king sate in the e gate of Beniamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, f these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and hee dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take from hence thirty men † with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, & went to the house of the king vnder the treasury, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and old worne clouts, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore said vnto Ieremiah, Put now these old rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine arme-holes, betweene the coards. And Ieremiah did so.

13 So they drew vp Ieremiah with coards, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremiah remained in the g court of the prison.

g Where the king had set him before to beat more liberty, as Chap. 37. 21.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Ieremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the third entry that is in the House of the Lord, and the king said vnto Ieremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiah said to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt thou not slay me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sweare secretly vnto Ieremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then said Ieremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hoastes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe foorth vnto the king of Babels h princes, then thy soule shall liue, & this city shall not be burat vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

h And yeeld thy selfe vnto them.

18 But if thou wilt not goe foorth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this city be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king said vnto Ieremiah, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, least they deliuer me into their hands, and they i mocke me.

i Which declareth that he more feated the reproach of men, then the threatnings of God.

20 But Ieremiah said, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe foorth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are k left in the king of Iudahs house, shalbe brought foorth to the king of Babels princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, & haue preuailed against thee: thy feet are sastened in the myre, and they are turned backe.

k When Ieconiah and his mother, with others, were caried away, these women of the kings house were left: which shalbe taken, saith the Propher, and tell the king of Babel how Zedekiah hath beene seduced by his familiar friend and false prophets, which haue left him in the myre.

23 So they shall bring out all the wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this city shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Ieremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, & say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the king, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the king said vnto thee.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly l besought the king that he would not cause me to returne to Iehonathans house, to die there.

l Herein appeareth the infirmity of the Prophet, who did dissemble to saue his life, albeit it was not to the denial of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Ieremiah and asked him, And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Ieremiah aboade still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchadnezzar besegeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing, is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Ieremiah is prouided for. 16 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuity.

IN * the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel and his hoaste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

*2 King. 25, 1. Chap. 52, 4.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the city was broken a vp.

a The gates and walles were broken dowae.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, euen Neregal, Sharezer, Shamgarnebo, Sarsechim, Rab-saris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the city by night, through the kings garden, and by the b gate betweene the two wals, and he went toward the wildernes.

b Which was a posterne doore, reade 2 King. 25, 5.

5 But the Caldeans hoast pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto c Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

c Which is called Antiochia in Syria.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the wales of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the ‖ chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

‖ Or, captaine of the guard.

10 But Nebuz-r-adan the chiefe steward left the d poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fields at the same time.

d For the rich and the mighty which put their trust in their shifts and meanes, were by Gods iust iudgements most rigorously handled.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Ieremiah † vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying, † Eb. by the hand of.

12 Take him, and † looke well to him, and doe him no harme, but do vnto him e euen as he shall say vnto thee.

e Thus God preserued his Prophet by his meanes, whom he made the scourge to punish the king, and them that were his enemies.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebushaz-ban, Rabsaris, and Neregal, Sharezar, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes, 14 Euen they sent and tooke Ieremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto f Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should cary him home, so he dwelt among the people.

f Whom the king of Babel had now appointed gouernour ouer the rest of the Iewes that he left behind.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying, 16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hoattes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words vpon this city for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shalbe for a pray vnto thee, because thou g hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

g Thus God recompensed his zeale and fauour, which he shewed to his Prophet in his troubles.

CHAP. XL.

4 Ieremiah hath licence to goe whither he will. 6 Hee dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

THe worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward had let him go from Ramath , when he had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caried away captiue of Ieruſalem and Iudah , which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 [a] And the chiefe ſteward tooke Ieremiah, and ſayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it , and done according as he hath ſaid : becauſe ye haue [b] ſinned againſt the Lord , and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I looſe thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands : if it pleaſe thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee : but if it pleaſe thee not to come with mee into Babel , †tarie ſtill: beholde , all the land is ‖ before thee : whither it ſeemeth good , and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned : therefore hee ſayd , Returne to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan , whom the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people , or goe whereſoeuer it pleaſeth thee to goe. So the chiefe ſteward gaue him vitailes and a reward , and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam , to [c] Mizpah , and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaines of the hoaſte, [d] which were in the fieldes , euen they and their men heard , that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land , and that he had committed vnto him men, and women , and children , and of the poore of the land , that were not caried away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen [e] Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan,and Ionathan the ſonnes of Kareah , and Seraiah the ſonne of Tanehumeth , and the ſonnes of Ephai,the Netophathite,and Iehaziah the ſonne of Maachathi,they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam , the ſonne of Shaphan * ſware vnto them,and to their men , ſaying , Feare not to ſerue the Caldeans: dwell in the land,and ſerue the king of Babel,and it ſhall be well with you:

10 As for me, Behold , I will dwell at Mizpah to ‖ ſerue the Chaldeans,which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine,and ſummer fruits , and oyle , and put them in your veſſels , and dwell in your cities that ye haue ‖ taken.

11 Likewiſe when all the Iewes that were in [f] Moab,and among the Ammonites,and in Edom, and that were in all the countryes , heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah , and that hee had ſet ouer them Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah , and gathered wine and ſummer fruits, very much.

13 Moreouer Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoaſt , that were in the fields,came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And ſayd vnto him , Knoweſt thou not that [g] Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath ſent Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam beleeued them nôt.

15 Then Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah ſpake to Gedaliah in Mizpah ſecretly , ſaying , Let mee goe, I pray thee, and I will ſlay Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah , and no man ſhall know it. Wherefore ſhould he kill thee , that all the Iewes,which are gathered vnto thee , ſhould be ſcattered , and the remnant in Iudah periſh?

16 But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam ſayd vnto Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, Thou ſhalt [h] not do this thing : for thou ſpeakeſt falſly of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

a Iſhmael killeth Gedaliah guileſully , and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Iſhmael.

NOw in the [a] ſeuenth moneth came Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah , the ſonne of Eliſhamah of the ſeede royall , and the princes of the [b] king and ten men with him , vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam to Mizpah , and there they did [c] eate bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then aroſe Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah with theſe ten men that were with him , and ſmote Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan with the ſword, and ſlew him , whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Iſhmael alſo ſlew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah , and all the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the ſecond day that he had ſlaine Gedaliah,and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem,from Shiloh, and from Samaria , euen foureſcore men hauing their beards ſhaued , and their cloathes rent and cut,with [d] offrings and incenſe in their hands to offer in the houſe of the Lord.

6 And Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah went foorth from Mizpah to meete them , weeping as hee went : and when he met them,hee ſayd vnto them , Come [e] to Gedaliah, the ſonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midſt of the citie , Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah ſlew them, and caſt them into the midſt of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them , that ſaid vnto Iſhmael , Slay vs not : for we haue treaſures in the field , of wheate , and of barley,and of oyle , and of hony : ſo hee ſtayed, and ſlew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſhmael had caſt the dead bodies of the men (whom he had ſlaine becauſe of Gedaliah) is it , which Aſa the king had [f] made becauſe of Baſha king of Iſrael. and Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were ſlaine.

10 Then Iſhmael caried away captiue all the reſidue of the people that were in Mizpah , euen the Kings daughters , and all the people that remained in Mizpah , whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward had committed to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam , and Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue , and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

z Which had bin captaines vnder Zedekiah.

all the z captaines of the hoaſte that were with him, heard of all the euill that Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah had done, 12 Then they all tooke their men, and went to fight with Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Iſhmael caried away captiue, ſaw Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoaſte, that were with him, they were glad.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captaines aske counſell of Ieremiah what they ought to doe. 7 Hee admoniſheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

THen all the captaines of the hoaſte, and Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the ſonne of Hoſhaiah, and all the people from the leaſt vnto the moſt, came,

2 And ſayd vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, † Heare our prayer we beſeech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes doe behold.)

† Ebr. Let our prayer fall before thee, as Chap. 36. 7.

4 Ten Ieremiah the Prophet ſayd vnto them, I haue heard you behold I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatſoeuer thing the Lord ſhall anſwere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing back from you.

5 Then they ſayd to Ieremiah, b The Lord be a witneſſe of trueth, and faith betweene vs, if we doe not euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God ſhall ſend thee to vs.

b There are none more ready to abuſe the Name of God and take it in vaine, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falſehood vſe it without all reuerence, and make it a meanes for them to deceiue the ſimple and the godly.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom wee ſend thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ c And ſo after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah.

c Here is declared the viſion and the occaſion thereof, where of mention was made, Chap. 32. 1.

8 Then called hee Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoaſt, which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt to the moſt,

9 And ſayd vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, vnto whom yee ſent me to preſent your prayers before him, 10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not deſtroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I d repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

d Reade Chap. 18. 8.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you, to ſaue you, and to deliuer you e from his hand, e Becauſe all kings hearts and wayes are in his hands, he can turne them and diſpoſe them as it pleaſeth him, and therefore they needs not to feare man, but onely obey God, Prou. 21. 1.

12 And I will grant you mercy that hee may haue compaſſion vpon you, and he ſhall cauſe you to f dwell in your owne land.

f Or, returne.

13 But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no warre, nor heare the ſound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes, the God of Iſrael, If yee ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there,)

16 Then the ſword that ye feared, ſhall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, ſhall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there ſhall ye die.

f Thus God turneth the policie of the wicked to their owne deſtruction: for they thought themſelues ſure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzar deſtroyed them and the Egyptians, Chap. 46. 25.

17 And all the men that ſet their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, and none of them ſhall remaine, nor eſcape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, the God of Iſrael, As mine anger and my wrath hath beene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalem: ſo ſhall my wrath be powred foorth vpon you, when ye ſhall enter into Egypt, and ye ſhalbe a deteſtation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a g curſe, and a reproach, and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

g Reade Chap. 25. 6. and 44. 12. ſhewing that this ſhould come vpon them for their infidelity and ſtubburnneſſe.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath ſayd concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainely that I haue admoniſhed you this day

20 Surely ye h diſſembled in your hearts when ye ſent me vnto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God ſhall ſay, and we will doe it.

h For ye were fully minded to goe into Egypt, whatſoeuer God ſpake to the contrary.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath ſent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence i in the place whither ye deſire to goe and dwell.

i To wit, in Egypt.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the minde of Ieremiah. 8 Ieremiah propheſieth the deſtruction of Egypt.

NOw when Ieremiah had made an ende of ſpeaking vnto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had ſent him to them, euen all theſe words,

2 Then ſpake a Azariah the ſonne of Hoſhaiah, and Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the b proud men, ſaying vnto Ieremiah, Thou ſpeakeſt falſly: the Lord our God hath d not ſent thee to ſay, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there, a Who was alſo called Iezaniah. Chap. 42. 1.

b This declareth that pride is the cauſe of rebellion, and contempt of Gods miniſters.

3 But Baruch the ſonne of Neriah e prouoketh

Iſa. 30. 10. d He ſheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites that they would obey God and imbrace his word, if they meſſengers ſpake the truethe though indeede they be moſt falſe.

c When the hypocriſie of the wicked is diſcouered, they braſt forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flattery, reade Iere: 20 wit, to faine were aſſured that hin from all obedience. e Thus the wicked doe not onely contemne and hurt the meſſengers of God, but ſlander, and ſpeake wickedly of all them that ſupport or fauour the godly.

thee againſt vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might ſlay vs, and cary vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoaſte, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoaſte tooke all the remnant of Iudah that were returned from all [f] nations, whither they had beene driuen, to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 Euen men and women, and children, and the kings daughters, and euery perſon, that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe ſteward had left with Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan, & Ieremiah the [g] Prophet, and Baruch the ſonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they to [h] Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, ſaying, 9 Take great ſtones in thine hand, and [i] hide them in the clay in the bricke kill, which is at the entry of Pharaohs houſe in Tahpanhes in the ſight of the men of Iudah,

10 And ſay vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſend and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel [k] my ſeruant, and will ſet his throne vpon theſe ſtones that I haue hid, and he ſhall ſpread his pauilion ouer them.

11 And when he ſhall come, he ſhall ſmite the land of Egypt: [l] ſuch as are appointed for death, to death, and ſuch as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and ſuch as are for the ſword, to the ſword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houſes of the gods of Egypt, and he ſhall burne them and cary them away captiues, & he ſhall aray himſelfe with the land of Egypt, as a [m] ſhepheard putteth on his garment, and ſhall depart from thence in peace.

13 He ſhall breake alſo the images of ‖ Beth-ſhemeſh, that is in the land of Egypt, & the houſes of the gods of the Egyptians ſhall he burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIV.

Hee reproueth the people for their idolatry. 15 They that ſet light by the threatning of the Lord, are chaſtened. 26 The deſtruction of Egypt, and of the Iewes therein, is propheciеd.

THe word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at [n] Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathros, ſaying,

2 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoaſtes the God of Iſrael, Yee haue ſeene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ieruſalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are deſolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Becauſe of their wickedneſſe which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burne incenſe, and to ſerue other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I ſent vnto you all my ſeruants the Prophets [o] riſing early, and ſending them, ſaying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no more incenſe vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore [p] my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth, and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem, and they are deſolate, and waſted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus ſayth the Lord of hoaſts the God of Iſrael, Wherefore commit ye this great euill againſt your ſoules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and ſuckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incenſe vnto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither yee be gone to dwell: that ye might bring deſtruction vnto your ſelues, and that ye might be a curſe and a reproach among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickedneſſe of your fathers, and the wickedneſſe of the [q] kings of Iudah, and the wickedneſſe of their wiues, and your owne wickednеſſe, and the wickednеſſe of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem?

10 They are not ‖ humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my law nor in my ſtatutes, that I ſet before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſet my face againſt you * to euill, and to deſtroy all Iudah, 12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah that [r] haue ſet their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they ſhall all be conſumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they ſhall euen be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine: they ſhall die from the leaſt vnto the moſt, by the ſword, and by the famine, and they ſhall be a deteſtation and an aſtoniſhment, and a [s] curſe and a reproach.

13 For I will viſit them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue viſited Ieruſalem, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, ſhall eſcape or remaine, that they ſhould returne into the land of Iudah to the which they † haue a deſire to returne to dwell there: for none ſhall returne, but ‖ ſuch as ſhall eſcape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wiues had burnt incenſe vnto other gods, and all the women that ſtood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, anſwered Ieremiah, ſaying,

16 The word that thou haſt ſpoken vnto vs in the Name of ♆ Lord, we will [t] not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whatſoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incenſe vnto [u] the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offrings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem: for then [x] had wee plenty of vitailes and were well and ‖ felt none euill.

18 But ſince we left off to burne incenſe to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had ‖ ſcarceneſſe of all things, and haue beene conſumed by the ſword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incenſe vnto the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did wee make her cakes ‖ to make her glad, and powre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answere, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, both you and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbeare, because of the wickednes of your inuentions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because you haue burnt incense, and because yee haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreouer Ieremiah said vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hoasts, the God of Israel, saying, Yee and your wiues haue both spoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your [m] hand, saying, We will performe our vowes that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings to her: yee will performe your vowes, and doe the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I haue sworne by my great Name, sayth the Lord, that my Name [n] shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liueth.

27 Behold, I will watch ouer them for euill, and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, & by the famine, vntill they be vtterly destroyed.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the [e] North by the riuer Perath.

7 Who is this that commeth vp as [f] a flood, whose waters are mooued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and his waters are mooued like the riuers, and he saith, I will goe vp, and will couer the earth: I will destroy the city with them that dwell therein.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and cruelitie.

COncerning Moab, thus sayeth the Lord of hoastes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto a Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue deuiſed euill against it. b Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt be destroyed, c O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shalbe from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of d Luhith, the mourners shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and saue your liues, and be like vnto the e heath in the wilderneſſe.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy f works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and g Chemosh shall go forth into captiuity with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 h Cursed be he that doeth the worke of the Lord ‖ negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath beene at rest from his youth, and hee hath setled on his lees, and hath not beene i powred from vessell to vessell, neither hath hee gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore behold, the deyes come, saith the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall emptie his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shalbe ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of k Bethel their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroied, & his cities † burnt vp, & his chosen yong men are gone down to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hoasts.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that know his name, say, l How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirſt: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 m Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed, howle and cry, tell yee it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste,

21 And

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrey, vpon Holon and vpon Iahazah, and vpon Mephaath, 22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth-gamul, and vpon Beth-meon, 24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of the land of Moab far or neere.

25 The [n] horne of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him [o] drunken: for hee magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall ‖ wallow in his vomite, and hee also shall be in derision.

27 For diddest not thou deride Israel, as though hee had beene found among theeues? for when thou spakest of him, thou art [p] mooued.

28 O yee that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the doue that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 * We haue heard the pride of Moab (hee is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the hautinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord, [q] but it shall not be so: and his diffimulations, for they doe not right.

31 [r] Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab; mine heart shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea of Iazer: the destroyer is fallen vpō thy summer fruits, & vpon thy vintage.

33 And ioy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepresse: none shall treade with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh and vnto Iahaz haue they made their noyse: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, [t] as heifer of three yeere old soall goe lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shalbe wasted.

35 Moreouer, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offreth in the hie places, and him that burneth incense to his gods:

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a [u] shaume, and mine heart shall sound like a shaume for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 * For euery head shall be ‖ balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackecloath.

38 And mourning shall be vpon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is hee destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord. Behold, [x] he shall flee as an eagle, and shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shalbe as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shallbe destroyed from being a people, because hee hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 [y] Feare, and pit, and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, and he that getteth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, euen vpon Moab, the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow [z] of Heshbon, because of the force: for [a] the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of [b] Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the [c] latter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus farre of the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites. 7 Idumea. 23 Damascus. 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

VNto the children of Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their king [b] possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in [c] his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noise of warre to be heard in [d] Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cry yee daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackecloath: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Priests, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore glorieſt thou in the [e] valleyes? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: thee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Behold, I will bring [f] a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hoastes, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered euery man [g] right forth, and none shal gather him that fleeth.

6 And [h] afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Is wisdome no more in [i] Teman? is counsel perished from their children, is their wisdome vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (for they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the [l] grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? if theeues come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discoured Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say.

11 Leaue thy [m] fatherles children, and I will preserue them aliue, and let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, [n] Beholde, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not go free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that [o] Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproach, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an [p] embassadour ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against P her, and rise vp to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy ‖ feare, and the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, and keepest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as hie as the egle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lord.

17 ¶ Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shalbe astonished, and shall hisse at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the ouerthrow of Sodom and of Gomorah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, q he shall come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euen I will make r him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoynt against her? for who is like mee? and who will appoynt me the time? and who is the s shepheard that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Edom, & his purpose that he hath conceiued against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least t of the flocke shall draw them out: surely u he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at the noise of their fall: the cry of their voyce is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come vp, and fly as the egle, x and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

23 ¶ Vnto y Damascus hee sayeth, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth her selfe to flight, z and feare hath seised her: anguish & sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauaile.

25 How is the glorious a citie not reserued, the citie of my ioy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streetes, and all her men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of b Benhadad.

28 ¶ Vnto c Kedar, and to the kingdomes of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel shall smite, thus saith the Lord, Arise, and goe vp vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tents and their flockes shall they take away: yea, they shall take to themselues their d curtaines and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry vnto them, Feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you farre off, e they haue consulted to dwell, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath taken counsell against you, and hath deuised a purpose against you.

31 f Arise, and get you vp vnto the wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the Lord, which haue neither gates nor barres, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a bootie, and the multitude of their cattell a spoyle, and I will scatter them into all windes, and to the vtmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, saith the Lord.

33 And Hazor shalbe a dwelling for dragons, and desolation for euer: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.

34 ¶ The wordes of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, concerning g Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah king of Iudah, saying, 35 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will breake the h bow of Elam, euen the chiefe of their strength.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them towards all these windes, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitiues of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, euen the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

CHAP. L.

Hee prophecieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel which was in captiuitie.

THe word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the † ministerie of Ieremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standart, proclaime it and conceale it not: say, a Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, b Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

3 For out of the North c there commeth vp a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall d come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and e weeping shall they go, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetuall couenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 ¶ My people hath beene as lost sheepe: their f shepheards haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from g mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that found them haue deuoured them, and their enemies said, Wee offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, h the habitation of iustice, euen the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 ¶ Flee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be yee as the hee goates i before the flocke.

9 For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mightie nations from the North country, and they shall set themselues in aray against her, whereby shee shall be taken: their arrowes shalbe as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

her, shalbe satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because yee were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are growen fat, as the calues in the grasse, [m] and neyed like strong horses, 12 Therefore your mother shalbe sore confounded, and she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the vttermost of the nations shalbe a desert, a drie land, and a wildernes.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shalbe wholy desolate: euery one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, [n] and hisse at all her plagues.

14 [o] Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bowe, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath [p] sinned against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: she hath ‖ giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as she hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the [q] sower from Babel, and him that handleth the sieth in the time of harueſt: because of the sword of the oppressor they shal turne euery one to his people, and they shall flee euery one to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the lions haue dispersed them: first the king of [r] Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath broken his [s] bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hoasts the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the king of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the King of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: hee shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shalbe satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shalbe sought for, and there shall be none: and the sinnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whom I reserue.

21 Goe vp against the land of the [t] rebels, euen against it, and against the inhabitants * of ‖ Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A cry of battell is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the [u] hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue snared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striuen against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought foorth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hoasts in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her † from the vtmost border: open her store houses, tread on her as on sheaues, and destroy her vtterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her [x] bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Woe vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voyce of them that y flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: * recompense her according to her worke, and according to all that she hath done, doe vnto her: for she hath beene proud against the Lord, euen against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shalbe destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I come vnto thee, O proude man, saith the Lord God of hoasts: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shal deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hoasts, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hoasts, he shall maintaine their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, [x] and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the † soothsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their charets, and vpon all the multitude that are in the midst of her, and they shalbe like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoyled.

38 [a] A drought is vpon her waters, and they shalbe dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore the [b] Ziims with the Iims shall dwell there, and † the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shalbe no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed * Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, sayeth the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 ¶ Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised vp from [c] the coasts of the earth.

draw them on: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the winning of Babel the earth is mooued, and the crie is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

6 Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vanity of idolaters. 59 Jeremiah giueth his booke to Seraiah.

THus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, & against the inhabitants ‖ that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying wind,

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, and shall empty her land, for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on euery side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her hoaste.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust thorow in her streets.

5 For Israel hath beene no [b] widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lord of hoasts, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 [c] Flee out of the middes of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: hee will render vnto her a recompense.

7 Babel hath beene as a golden cup in the [d] Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations [e] rage.

8 * Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would haue cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, & [f] let vs go euery one into his owne countrey: for her iudgment is come vp vnto heauen, and is lifted vp to the clouds.

10 The Lord hath brought foorth our [g] righteousnesse: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: ‖ gather the shieldes: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the [h] vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen, prepare the skouts: for the Lord hath both deuised, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many [i] waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, euen the ‖ end of thy couetousnes.

14 The Lord of hoastes hath sworne by † him * sayse, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall cry and shout against thee.

15 * He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisedome, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the endes of the earth, he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Euery man is a beast by his owne [k] knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanity, and the worke of errours: in the time of their [l] visitation they shall perish.

19 The [m] portion of Iaakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, & Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hoastes is his Name.

20 Thou art mine [n] hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes, 21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee will I breake the charet and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake old & yong, and by thee will I breake the yong man and the maid.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euill, that they haue done in Zion, euen in your sight, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O destroying [o] mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and roll thee downe from the [p] rockes, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, saith the Lord.

27 Set vp a standard in the land: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of [q] Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her; appoint the prince against her, cause horses to come vp as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorow: for the deuise of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight, they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling place, and her barres are broken.

31 A poste shall runne to meete the poste, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shewe the King of Babel, that a citie is taken on a [r] side thereof, 32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus saith the Lord of hoastes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore; the time of her threshing is come: yet a little while, and the time of her harueste [s] shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel hath [t] deuoured me, and destroyed mee; he hath made me an emptie vessell; hee swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoyle of me, and that which was left of mee, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will maintaine thy [u] cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will drie vp the sea, and drie vp her springs.

37 And Babel shall be as heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roare together like lions, and yell as the lions whelps.

39 In their [x] heat I will make them feasts, and I will make them drunken that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambs to the slaughter, and like rams and goats.

41 How is [y] Sheshach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The [z] sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is couered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is drie and a wildernes, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I will also visit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which [a] he hath swallowed vp, and the nations shall runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, go out of the mids of her, and deliuer yee euery man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord.

46 Least your heart faint, and ye feare the rumour that shall be heard in the land; the rumour shall come this yeere, and after that in the other [b] yeere shall come a rumour, & cruelty in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore, behold, the dayes come, that I will visit the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her slaine shall fall in the mids of her.

48 Then the heauen and [c] the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the [d] slaine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that [e] haue escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord a farre off, and let Ierusalem come into your mind.

51 Wee are [f] confounded, because wee haue heard reproch: shame hath couered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords house.

52 Wherefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to [g] heauen, and though she should defend her strength on hie, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a cry commeth from Babel: and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans.

55 Because the Lord hath laid Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a sound was made by their noyse:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenceth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will [h] make drunke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleep a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saieth the King, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The [i] thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shalbe weary.

59 The word which Ieremiah the Prophet commaunded Seraiah the sonne of Neriiah, the sonne of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Iudah into Babel, in the [k] fourth yeere of his reigne; and this Seraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel, euen all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Seraiah, When thou commest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say; O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an ende of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a [l] stone to it, and cast it in the mids of Euphrates, 64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall [m] be weary. Thus farre are the words of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ierusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The city is burned. 31 Iehoiachin is brought forth of prison, and set like a king.

ZEdekiah * was one & twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem; and his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 * Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4 * But in the ninth yeere of his raigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-rezzar King of Babel, hee and all his hoast against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the king Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the [b] way of the gate betweene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the wilderneſſe.

8 But the army of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all the hoaſte was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the King and caried him vp vnto the king of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, [c] where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then hee put out the eyes of Zedekiah,and the king of Babel bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fift moneth in the d tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yeere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which e stoode before the king of Babel in Ierusalem, 13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the f pillars of brasse that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasse of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the g besoms, and the instruments of musicke, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse where with they ministred, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the sfhpans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cuppes, and all that was of gold, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away,

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen bulles, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without h weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubites did compasse it, and the thicknesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of brasse was vpon it, and the height of one chapiter was fiue cubites with network, and pomegranates vpon the chapiters, round about, all of brasse: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were nineties and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an i hundreth round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah k the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and l seuen men that were in the Kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoaste, who mustered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the middes of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slewe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the m seuenth yeere, euen three thousand Iewes, and three and twentie.

29 In the n eighteenth yeere of Nebuchadnezzar, he caried away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundreth thirtie and two † persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Iewes seuen hundreth fourty and fiue persons: all the persons were foure thousand and sixe hundreth.

31 And in the seuen and thirtieth yeere of the captiuitie of Ieboiachin King of Iudah, in the twelfth moneth, in the fiue and twentieth day of the moneth, Euil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yeere of his reigne, o lifted vp the head of Ieboiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison, 32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne aboue the throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel,

CHAP. I.

The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem. 9 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second Chapter begin euery verse according to the letters of the Ebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for euery letter, and the fourth is as the first.

n The Prophet wondreth at the great iudgement of God, seeing Ierusalem, which was so rich, and so full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate.

HOw doeth a the citie remaine solitary that was full of people? she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, b and princesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

3 Iudah is caried away captiue, because e of affliction, and because of great seruitude: shee dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straits.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man commeth f to the solemne feasts, all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomforted, and she his in g heauinesse.

5 Her aduersaries g are the chiefe, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemie.

§ That is, they died for hunger,

[b] like harts that finde no pasture, & they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembred the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that shee had in times past, when her people [s] fell into the hand of the enemie, and none did helpe her: the aduersarie sawe her, and did moke at her [k] Sabbaths.

8 Ierusalem hath grieuously sinned, therefore she is [t] in derision: all that honoured her, despise her, because they haue seene her filthines: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 [l] Her filthinesse is in her skirts: she remembred not her last end, therefore shee came downe wonderfully: shee had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemie [†] is proud.

10 The enemie hath stretched out his hande vpon all her pleasant things: for she hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whom [m] thou diddest command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue yee no regard, all yee that passe by this way? behold and see, if there be any [n] sorow like vnto my sorowe, which is done vnto mee wherewith the Lord hath afflicted mee in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboue hath [o] hee sent fire into my bones, which preuaileth against them: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned mee backe: he hath made me desolate, and dayly in heauinesse.

14 The [p] yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to fall; the Lord hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of mee; hee hath called an assembly against me to destroy my yong men: the Lord hath troden [q] the winepresse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 * For these things I weepe: mine eye, euen mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemie preuailed.

17 Zion stretched out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iaakob round about him: Ierusalem is [r] as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous; for I haue rebelled against his † commandement: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorow: my virgins and my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceiued me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the citie, while they [§] sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauines: the sword spoileth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 [t] Let all their wickednes come before thee: ‖ do vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heauy.

CHAP. II.

HOw hath the Lord [a] darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast downe from [b] heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembred not his [c] footestoole in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iaakob: & not spared: he hath thrown downe in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: he hath cast them downe to the ground: hee hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 [e] He hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the [d] horne of Israel: he hath drawen back his [e] right hand from before the enemie, and there was kindled in Iaakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 He [f] hath bent his bowe like an enemie: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersary, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion, he powred out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemie: he hath deuoured Israel and consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holdes, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden he hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath caused the Feastes and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath, the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: hee hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the walles of her palaces: they haue made a [g] noise in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawen his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart, [h] and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: hee hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets ‖ receiue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the ground, and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpon their heades: they haue girded themselues with sackecloath: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heades to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell; my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings ‖ swoone in the streets of the citie.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is † bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streetes of the city, and when they † gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 [i] What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter

[s] Of desiring vengeance against the enemie, read Ier. 11.20 and 18.21.

[b] Hath giuen her a most sore fall.

[c] Alluding to the Temple, or to the Arke of the couenant, which was called the footstoole of the Lord, because they should not set their mindes so low, but lift vp their hearts toward the heauens.

[d] Meaning, the glory and strength, as 1. Sam. 2.1.

[e] That is, his fauour, which he was wont to send vs, when our enemies oppressed vs.

[f] Shewing that there is no remedy but destruction, where God is the enemie.

[g] As the people were accustomed to praise God in the solemne feasts with a loud voyce, so now the enemies blaspheme him with shouting and cry.

[h] This is a figurative speech, as that was, when he said, the waues did lament, Chap. 1.4. meaning that this sorowe was so great, that the insensible things had their part thereof.

[i] Meaning, that her calamitie was so euident, that it needed no witnesse.

daughter Ierusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue k looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discouered thine iniquity, to turne away thy captiuity, but haue looked out for thee false ‖ prophecies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call, The perfection of beauty, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 * The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that hee had determined of old time: he hath throwen downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart * cried vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares run downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches, powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a span long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The yong and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my yong men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my ‖ terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene a affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darknes, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe old, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath b builded against me, and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hath hedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chaines heauy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my c prayer.

9 He hath d stopped vp my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my paths.

10 e He was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and made me a marke for the arrow.

13 He caused † the arrowes of his quiuer to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitternes, and made me drunken with f wormewood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, & hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace; I forgat prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my g hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembring mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled h in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords i mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed k euery morning; great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The Lord is my l portion, saith my soule; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his m youth.

28 He sitteth alone, n and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his o mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 He giueth his cheeke to him that smiteth him; he is full with reproaches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will he haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doeth not p punish † willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 To stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth, 35 To ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High.

36 In subuerting a man in his cause; the Lord q seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, & it commeth to passe, and the Lord r commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not s euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the liuing t man sorowfull? man suffereth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and try our waies, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp u our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs; thou hast slaine, and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloud, that our prayer should not passe thorow.

k Because the false prophets called themselues Seers, as the other were called, therefore he sheweth that they sawamisse, because they did not reprooue the peoples faults, but flattered them in their sinnes, which was the cause of their destruction.

* Leuit. 26. 17. 2 Deut. 28. 15. 25.

* Ier. 14. 17. chap. 2. 18.

‖ Or, brought vp in these mine hands.

a The Prophet complaineth of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets & hypocrites when he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Ier. 20. 1.

b He speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauy iudgements, which he greatly feared, and therefore setteth them out with this diuersity of words.

c This is a great temptation to the godly, when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and causeth them to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God diseth to doe, that they might pray more earnestly & the oftner.

d And keepeth me in hold as a prisoner.

e He hath no pity on me.

f With great anguish and sorrow he hath made me to lose my sense.

g Thus with paine he was driuen to and fro betweene hope and despaire, as the godly oft times are, yet in the end the spirit getteth the victory.

h He sheweth that God thus vseth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselues, and feele his mercies.

i Considering the wickednes of man, it is marueil that any remaineth aliue: but onely that God for his owne mercies sake, and for his promise will euer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so few in number, Isa. 1. 9.

k We feele thy benefits daily.

l The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore looke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 16. 5.

m He sheweth that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the afflictions grow greater, our patience also by experience, may be stronger.

n He murmureth not against God, but is patient.

o He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe with their face to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour.

p He taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of necessity for our amendment, when he suffereth the wicked to oppresse the poore.

q He doeth not delight therein.

r He sheweth that nothing is done without Gods prouidence.

s That is, aduersity and prosperity, Amos 3. 6.

t When God afflicted him.

u That is, both hearts and hands: for else to lift vp the hands, is but hypocrisie.

Ger.4.13.

45 Thou haſt made vs as the * off-ſcowring and refuſe in the mids of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth againſt vs.

47 Feare, and a ſnare is come vpon vs with deſolation and deſtruction.

48 Mine eye caſteth out riuers of water, for the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without ſtay, and ceaſeth not.

50 Till the Lord looke downe, and behold from heauen.

z I am ouercome with ſore weeping for all my people.

51 Mine eye x breaketh mine heart becauſe of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chaſed me ſore, like a bird, without cauſe.

y Reade Ier.37.16. how he was in the miry dungeon.

53 They haue ſhut vp my life y in the dungeon, and caſt a ſtone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, then thought I, I am deſtroyed.

55 I called vpon thy name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou haſt heard my voyce: ſtop not thine eare from my ſigh, and from my cry.

57 Thou dreweſt neere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou ſaideſt, Feare not.

z Meaning, the cauſe wherefore his life was in danger.

58 O Lord, thou haſt maintained the cauſe of my z ſoule, and haſt redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou haſt ſeene my wrong, iudge thou my cauſe.

60 Thou haſt ſeene all their vengeance, and all their deuices a gainſt me.

61 Thou haſt heard their reproach, O Lord, and all their imaginations againſt me.

62 The lips alſo of thoſe that roſe againſt me, & their whiſpering againſt me continually.

63 Behold, their ſitting downe, and their riſing vp, how I am their ſong.

64 * Giue them a recompenſe, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Giue them ‖ ſorrow of heart, euen thy curſe to them.

66 Perſecute with wrath and deſtroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

CHAP. IV.

a By the gold, he meaneth the princes, as by the ſtones he vnderſtandeth the Prieſts.
‖ Or, bid.
b Which are of ſmall eſtimation, and haue none honour.
c Though the dragons be cruell, yet they pity their yong and nouriſh them: which thing Ieruſalem doth not.
d The women forſake their children, as the Oſtrich doth her egges, Iob 39. 17.

HOw is the a gold become ſo ‖ dimme! the moſt fine gold is changed, and the ſtones of the Sanctuary are ſcattered in the corner of euery ſtreet.

2 The noble ‖ men of Zion comparable to fine gold, how are they eſteemed as earthen b pitchers, euen the worke of the hands of the porter!

3 Euen the dragons c draw out the breaſt, and giue ſucke to their yong: but the daughter of my people is become cruell like the d Oſtriches in the wilderneſſe.

4 The tongue of the ſucking childe cleaueth to the roofe of his mouth for thirſt: the young children aske bread, but no man breaketh it vnto them.

5 They that did feed delicately, periſh in the ſtreets: they that were brought vp in ſcarlet, embrace the dunghe.

6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is become greater then the ſinne of Sodom, that was * deſtroyed as in a moment, and ‖ none pitched camps againſt her.

* Gen.19.25.

9 They that be ſlaine with the ſword, are better then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade away as they were ſtricken thorow for the f fruits of the field.

f For lacke of food they pine away and conſume.

10 The hands of the pitifull women haue ſodden their owne children, which were their meat in the deſtruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: he hath powred out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundation thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not haue beleeued that the aduerſary and the enemy ſhould haue entred into the gates of Ieruſalem:

13 For the ſinnes of her prophets, and the iniquities of her prieſts, that haue ſhed the blood of the iuſt in the mids of g her.

g He meaneth that their things are come to paſſe therefore, contrary to all mens expectations.

14 They haue wandred as blind men h in the ſtreets, and they were polluted with blood, ſo that i they would not touch their garments.

h Some referre this to the blind men, which as they went, ſtumbled on the blood, whereof the city was full.
i Meaning, the heathen which came to deſtroy them, could not abide them.

15 But they cried vnto them, Depart ye polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue ſaid among the heathen, They ſhall no more dwell there.

k That is, the enemies.

16 The ‖ anger of the Lord hath ſcattered them, he will no more regard them: k they reuerenced not the face of the Prieſt, nor had compaſſion on the Elders.

l He ſheweth two principall cauſes of their deſtruction, their cruelty and their vaine confidence in man: for they truſted in the helpe of the Egyptians.
m Our king Ioſiah, in whom ſtood our hope of Gods fauour, and on whom depended our ſtate, and life, was ſlaine, whom he calleth Anointed, becauſe he was a figure of Chriſt.
n This is ſpoken by deriſion.
‖ Or, ſhew thy nakednes.
o He conforteth the Church, by that after ſeuenty yeeres their ſorowes ſhall haue an end, wherein the wicked ſhould be tormented for euer.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine helpe, our eyes failed: for in our waiting we looked for l a nation that could not ſaue vs.

18 They hunt our ſteps, that we cannot go in our ſtreets: our end is neere, our daies are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our perſecuters are ſwifter then the e-agles of the heauen: they purſued vs vpon the mountaines, and laid wait for vs in the wildernes.

20 The m breath of our noſtrels, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom we ſaid, Vnder his ſhadow we ſhalbe preſerued aliue among the heathen.

21 Reioyce and be glad, n O daughter Edom: that dwelleſt in the land of Vz, the cup alſo ſhall paſſe thorow vnto thee: thou ſhalt be drunken ‖ and vomit.

22 Thy puniſhment is accompliſhed, O daughter Zion: he o will no more cary thee away into captiuity, but he will viſit thine iniquity, O daughter Edom, he will diſcouer thy ſinnes.

CHAP. V.

The prayer of Ieremiah.

a This prayer as is thought, was made when ſome of the people were caried away captiue, others as the pooreſt remained, and ſome went into Egypt, and other places for ſuccour: albeit it foreneth that the Prophet foreſeeing their miſeries to come, thus prayed.
b Meaning, their extremitie and bondage.
c We are ioyned in league or haue ſubmitted our ſelues vnto them.

REmember, O Lord, what is come vpon vs: a conſider, and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the ſtrangers, our houſes to the aliants.

3 We are fatherleſſe euen without father, and our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue drunken our b water for money: & our wood is ſold vnto vs.

5 Our neckes are vnder perſecution: we are weary, and haue no reſt.

6 We haue giuen our c hands to the Egyptians, and to the Aſſyrians, to be ſatisfied with bread.

d As our fathers haue bin punished for their sinnes: so we that are culpable of the same sinnes, are punished.

e Because of the enemie that came from the wildernesse, and would not suffer vs to go and seeke our necessary food.

f That is, by the enemies hand.

g Their slauery was so great, that they were not able to abide it.

h There were no more lawes nor forme of commonwealth.

tians, and to Assur, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, and we haue borne d their iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, none would deliuer vs out of their hands.

9 We gate our bread with the perill of our liues, because of the sword e of the wildernes.

10 Our skinne was blacke like as an ouen because of the terrible famine.

11 They defiled the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Iudah.

12 The princes are hanged vp by f their hand: the faces of the Elders were not had in honour.

13 Thy tooke the yong men to grind, and the children fell vnder g the wood.

14 The Elders haue ceased from the h gate, and the yong men from their songs.

15 The ioy of our hearts is gone, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crowne of our head is fallen: wo now vnto vs, that we haue sinned.

17 Therefore our heart is heauy for these things, our i eyes are dimme.

18 Because of the mountaine of Zion, which is desolate: the foxes run vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lord, remainest for k euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore doest thou forget vs for euer, and forsake vs so long time?

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yeelded himselfe to Nebuchadnezzar, and so went into captiuity with his mother, and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the things which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the city should most certainely be destroyed, and the people grieuously tormented by Gods plagues, insomuch that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage. And least the godly should despaire in these great troubles, he assured them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies, which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should be chiefly performed vnder Christ, of whom in this booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glory of the new Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophecied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophecied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Iehoiachins captiuity.

CHAP. I.

a After that the booke of the Law was found, which was the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosiah, so that hue and twenty yeeres after this booke was found, Ieconiah was led away captiue with Ezekiel and many of the people, who the first yeere after saw these visions.

b Which was a part of Euphrates so called.

c That is, notable and excellent visions, for that it might be knowen, it was no naturall dreame, but came of God.

d That is, the spirit of prophecy, as Cha. 3, 22 and 37, 1.

e By this diuersity of words he signifieth the fearefull iudgement of God, and the great affliction that should come vpon Ierusalem.

2 In the fift day of the moneth (which was the fift yeere of king Iehoiachins captiuity.)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the d hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a e whirlewind came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnes was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the mids of the fire came out as the likenesse of ‖ amber.

5 Also out of the mids thereof came the likenes of f foure beasts, and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feet were streight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the soles of a calues foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were g ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went foorth, they returned not, but euery one went streight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as h the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lion on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out aboue: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went streight forward: they went whither their † spirit led them, and they returned not when they went foorth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and i returned like vnto lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the beasties, behold, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beasts, hauing foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a k Chrysolyte: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also ‖ rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

g The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

h Euery Cherubim had foure faces, the face of a man, and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an Eagle on the left side.

† Ebr. whither their spirit or will was to goe.

Midy, Or the South.

19 And when the beaſts went, the wheeles went with them; and when the beaſts were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither their ſpirit led them, they went, and thither did the ſpirit of the wheeles lead them, & the wheeles were lifted vp beſides them; for the ſpirit of the beaſts was in the wheeles.

21 When the beaſts went, they went, and when they ſtood, they ſtood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp beſides them; for the ſpirit of the beaſts was in the wheeles.

22 And the ſimilitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beaſts was wonderfull, like vnto cry ſtall ſpread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings ſtreight the one toward the other; euery one had two which couered them, and euery one had two which couered their bodies.

24 And when they went foorth, I heard the noiſe of their wings like the noiſe of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, euen the voyce of ſpeach, as the noiſe of an hoaſt; and when they ſtood, they [m] let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament that was ouer their heads, when they ſtood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the faſhion of a throne like vnto a Saphir ſtone, and vpon the ſimilitude of the throne was by appearance, as the ſimilitude of a man aboue vpon it.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is ſent to call the people from their errour.

A Nd a he ſaid vnto me, b Sonne of man, ſtand vp vpon thy feete, and I will ſpeake vnto thee.

a That is, the Lord.
b Meaning, man which is but earth and aſhes, which was to humble him, and cauſe him to conſider his owne ſtate, and Gods grace.

2 c And the ſpirit entred into mee, when hee had ſpoken vnto me, and ſet me vpon my feete, ſo that I heard him that ſpake vnto me.

c So that he could not abide Gods preſence, till Gods Spirit did enter into him.

3 And he ſayd vnto me, Sonne of Man, I ſend thee to the children of Iſrael, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled againſt me; for they and their fathers haue rebelled againſt me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are † impudent children, and ſtiffe hearted; I do ſend thee vnto them, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto them, thus ſaith the Lord God.

d This declareth on the one part Gods great affection toward his people, that notwithſtanding their rebellion, yet he will ſend his Prophets among them, and admoniſheth his miniſters on the other part that they ceaſe not to doe their duetie, though the people be neuer ſo obſtinate: for the word of God ſhalbe either to their ſalvation or greater condemnation.

5 But ſurely they will not heare, neither in deede will they ceaſe; for they are a rebellious houſe; yet ſhall they know that d there hath beene a Prophet among them.

e Reade Ieſa. 1. 17. he ſheweth that for none affliction they ſhould ceaſe to doe their duties.

6 And thou ſonne of man, e feare them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels and thornes be with thee, and thou remaineſt with ſcorpions: feare not their words, nor be afraid at their lookes, for they are a rebellious houſe.

7 Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeake my words vnto them, but ſurely they will not heare, neither will they indeede ceaſe: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou ſonne of man, heare what I ſay vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious houſe: open thy mouth, and f eate that I giue thee.

f Hee doeth not onely exhort him to his duetie, but alſo giueth him the meanes wherewith he may be able to execute it.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was ſent vnto me, and lo, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he ſpread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, g lamentations and mourning, and woe.

g Hee ſheweth what were the contents of this booke: to wit, Gods iudgements againſt the wicked.

CHAP. III.

1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God and with the conſtant boldneſſe of the ſpirit, is ſent vnto the people that were in captiuity. 17 The office of true miniſters.

MOreouer he ſaid vnto me, Sonne of man, eate that thou findeſt: a eate this roule, and goe and ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſrael.

a Whereby is meant that none is meete to be Gods meſſenger before he haue receiued the word of God in his heart, as verſe 10. and haue a zeale therevnto, and delight therein, as Iere. 15. 16. Reuel. 10. 10.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he ſaid vnto mee, ſonne of man, cauſe thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate, and it was in my mouth as ſweete as hony.

4 And he ſaid vnto me, Sonne of man, goe and enter into the houſe of Iſrael, and declare them my words.

5 For thou art not ſent to a people of an † vnknowen tongue, or of an hard language, but to the houſe of Iſrael.

6 Not to many people of an vnknowen tongue, or of an hard language, whoſe words thou canſt not vnderſtand: yet if I ſhould ſend thee to them, they would obey thee.

7 But the houſe of Iſrael will not obey thee: for they will not obey mee: yea, all the houſe of Iſrael are impudent and ſtiffe hearted.

8 Beholde, I haue made thy b face ſtrong againſt their faces, and thy forehead hard againſt their foreheads.

b God promiſeth his aſſiſtance to his miniſters, and that he will giue them boldneſſe and conſtancie in their vocation, Iſa. 50. 7. Iere. 1. 18. Mich. 3. 8.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither be afraid at their lookes: for they are a rebellious houſe.

10 He ſaid moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, c receiue in thine heart all my words that I ſpeake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares, c Hee ſheweth what is meant by the eating of the booke, which is, that the miniſters of God may ſpeake nothing as of themſelues, but that onely, which they haue receiued of the Lord.

11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of thy people, and ſpeake vnto them, and tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord God: but ſurely they will not heare, neither will they indeede ceaſe.

d Whereby he ſignifieth, that Gods glory ſhould not be diminiſhed, although he departed out of his Temple, for this declared that the citie and Temple ſhould be deſtroyed.

12 Then the ſpirit tooke me vp, and I heard behinde mee a noyſe of a great ruſhing, ſaying, d Bleſſed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

e This ſheweth that there is euer an infirmity of the fleſh which can neuer be ready to render full obedience to God, and alſo Gods grace wher euer afflicteth him, and ouercometh their rebellious affections.

13 I heard alſo the noyſe of the wings of the beaſts, that touched one another, and the rating of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyſe of a great ruſhing.

14 So the ſpirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I e went in bitternеſſe and indignation of my ſpirit, but the hand of the Lord was ſtrong vpon mee.

f Which was a place by Euphrates, where the Iewes were priſoners.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to f Tel-abib, that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I ſate where they ſate, and remained there aſtoniſhed among them g ſeuen dayes.

g Declaring hereby that Gods miniſters muſt with aduiſement and deliberation vtter his iudgements.

16 And at the ende of ſeuen dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, ſaying, 17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a h watchman vnto the houſe of Iſrael: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from mee.

h Of this reade Chap. 33. 2.

18 When I ſhall ſay vnto the wicked, Thou ſhalt ſurely die, and thou giueſt not him warning, nor ſpeakeſt to admoniſh the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the ſame wicked man ſhall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet, if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednеſſe, nor from his wicked way, hee ſhall die in his iniquitie, but thou haſt delinered thy ſoule.

20 Likewiſe if a i righteous man turne from his righteouſneſſe, and commit iniquity, I will lay a k ſtumbling blocke before him and hee ſhall die, becauſe thou haſt not giuen him warning, he ſhall die in his ſinne, and his l righteous deedes which hee hath done, ſhall not be remembred: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

mee vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto mee, and sayd vnto mee, Come, and p shut thy selfe within thine house.

p Signifying, that not onely he should not profit, but they should grieuously trouble and afflict him.

25 But thou, O sonne of man, behold, they shall put bandes vpon thee, and shall binde thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue q cleaue to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumbe, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

q Which declareth the terrible plague of the Lord, when God stoppeth the mouthes of his ministers, and that all such are the rods of his vengeance that doe it. * Reuel. 22.11.

27 But when I shall haue spoken vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, He that heareth, let him heare, and hee that leaueth off, * let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The besieging of the citie of Ierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 An hunger is prophecied to come.

THou also sonne of man, take thee a bricke, and lay it before thee, and pourtray vpon it the citie, euen Ierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an a yron pan, and set it for a wall of yron betweene thee and the citie, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe vnto the house of Israel.

a Which signified the stubbornnesse and hardnesse of their heart.

4 Sleepe thou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the b house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue laide vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundreth and ninetie dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

b Hereby he repreſented the idolatry and sinne of the ten tribes (for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon) and how they had remained therein three hundreth and ninetie yeeres.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy c right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iudah fourtie dayes: I haue appointed thee a day for a yeere, euen a day for a yeere.

c Which declared Iuda, who had now from the time of Iosiah slept in their sinnes fourty yeeres.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, and thine d arme shall be vncouered, and thou shalt prophecie against it.

d In token of a speedy vengeance.

8 And behold, I will lay e bands vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

e Meaning, that the famine should be so great, that they should be glad to eate whatsoeuer they could get.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheate, and barley, and beanes, and lentiles, and millet, f and fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: euen g three hundreth and ninetie dayes shalt thou eat thereof.

f Meaning, that the famine should be so great, that they should be fayne to eate horſe and mans dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

g Which were fourteene moneths that the citie was b ſieged, and this was as many dayes as Israel sinned yeeres.

10 And the meate, whereof thou shalt eate shalbe by weight, euen h twentie shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

h Which make a pound.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, euen the sixt part of i an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

i Reade Exod. 29.40.

12 And thou shalt eate it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it k in the dung that commeth out of man, in their sight.

k Signifying here by the great scarcitie of fuell and matter to burne.

13 And the Lord sayd, So shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then sayd I, Ah, Lord God, behold, my soule hath not beene polluted: for from my youth vp, euen vnto this houre, I haue not eaten of a thing dead or torne in pieces, neither came there any l vncleane flesh in my mouth.

l Much lesse such vile corruption.

15 Then he sayd vnto me, Loe, I haue giuen thee bullockes m dung for mans dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

m To be as fire to bake thy bread with.

16 Moreouer, he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, behold, I will breake n the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, and they shall eate bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment, n That is, the force and strength wherewith it should nourish, Isa. 3.1. chap. 5.16, and 14.13.

17 Because that bread and water shall faile, they shall be astonied one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquitie.

CHAP. V.

The signe of the haires, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

AND thou sonne of man, take thee a sharpe knife, or take thee a barbours rasor, and cause it a to passe vpon thine head, and vpon thy beard: then take thee ballances to weigh, and diuide the haire.

a To shaue thine head and thy beard, b To wit, of that city which he had pourtrayed vpon the bricke, Chap. 4. c. By the fire and pestilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part perished during the siege of Nebuchadnezzar. By the sword, those that were slaine when Zedekiah fled, and those that were caried away captiue. And by the scattering into the winde, those that fled into Egypt, and into other parts after the citie was taken.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the mids of the b city, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and binde them in thy c lappe.

c Meaning, that a very few should be left, which the Lord would preserue among all these stormes, but not without troubles and triall.

4 Then take of them againe and cast them into the mids of the fire, and burne them in the fire: d for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

d Out of that fire which thou kindlest, shall a fire come, which shall signifie the destruction of Israel.

5 Thus sayth the Lord God, This is Ierusalem, I haue set it in the mids of the nations and countreys, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my e iudgements into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys, that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements, and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

e My word and law into idolatry and superstitions.

7 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Because your f multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yee haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue yee kept my iudgements: no, yee haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you, f Because your idols are in greater number, and your superstitions more then among the professed idolaters, reade Isa. 65.11. or he condemneth their ingratitude in respect of his benefits.

8 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold I, euen I come against thee, and will execute iudgement in the mids of thee, euen in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that I neuer did before, neither will doe any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

Hee sheweth that Ierusalem shall be destroyed for their idolatrie. 8 He prophecieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their deliuerance.

AGaine the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the * mountaines of Israel, and prophecie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the a mountaines and to the hils, to the riuers and to the valleys, Beholde, I, euen I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your hie places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the b Sunne shall be broken: and I will cast downe your slaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their c idols, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the hie places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idoles shalbe broken and cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in pieces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the slaine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, d that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered thorow the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shalbe in captiuitie, because I am grieued for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they e shall be displeased in themselues for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would do this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, f Smite with thine hand, and stretch foorth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Hee that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then g ye shall knowe, that I am the Lord, when their slaine men shall be among their idols round about their altars, vpon euery hie hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweete sauour to all their idoles.

14 So will I * stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste and desolate h from the wildernesse vnto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The ende of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

MOreouer the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all a thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, ‖ Behold, one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An ende is come, the ende is come, it b watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The c morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the d sounding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pity, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone foorth, the e rod flourisheth: f pride hath budded.

11 g Cruelty is risen vp into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be h lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the buyer i reioyce, nor let him that selleth mourne:

a An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezekiel is brought to Ierusalem in the spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatries of the house of Israel.

AND in the a sixt yeere, in the b sixt moneth, & in the fift day of the moneth, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon me.

2 Then I beheld, and loe, there was a likenesse, as the appearance of c fire, to looke too, from his loynes downeward, and from his loynes vpward, as the appearance of brightnesse, and like vnto amber.

3 And hee stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an hairy locke of mine head, and the spirit lift me vp betweene the earth and the heauen, and brought mee † by a Diuine d vision to Ierusalem, into the entrie of the inner e gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the idole of f indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I saw g in the field.

5 Then sayd hee vnto me, Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and behold, Northward, at the gate of the h altar, this idole of indignation was in the entry.

6 He sayd furthermore vnto mee, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they do? euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from i my Sanctuary? but yet turne thee and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And hee caused mee to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, behold, a hole was in the wall.

8 Then sayd he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, there was a doore.

9 And he sayd vnto me, Goe in, and behold the wicked abominations that they doe here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, there was euery similitude of creeping things, and k abominable beasts, and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stoode before them seuentie l men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stood Iaazzaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euery man his censor in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like m a cloude.

12 Then sayd he vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel n doe in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagerie? for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Againe he sayd also vnto me, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they doe.

14 And hee caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and behold, there sate women mourning for o Tammuz.

15 Then sayd he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lordes house, and behold, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betweene the porch and the altar were about fiue and twentie men with their backes toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then hee sayd vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they doe here? for they haue filled the land with cruelty, and haue returned to prouoke me: and loe, they haue cast out p stinke before their noses.

CHAP. IX.

1 The destruction of the city. 4 They that shalbe saued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

HE cried also with a loud voyce in mine eares, saying, The visitations of a the city draw neere, and euery man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

a The time to take vengeance.

2 And behold, sixe b men came by the way of the hie gate, which lieth toward the c North, and euery man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was cloathed with linnen, with a writers d ynkehorne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brasen altar.

b Which were Angels in the similitude of men.
c Signifying, that the Babylonians should come from the North to destroy the city and the Temple.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was e gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was and stood on the ‖ doore of the house, and he called to the man cloathed with linnen, which had the writers ynkhorne by his side.

d To make them that should be saued.
e Which declared that he was not bound thereunto, neither would remaine any longer, then there was hope that they would returne from their wickednes and worship him aright.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Goe through the mids of the city, euen through the mids of Ierusalem, and ‖ set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that f mourne, and cry for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

‖ Or, Threshold.

f He sheweth what is the maner of Gods children, whom he marketh to saluation: to wit, to mourne and cry out against the wickednes, which they see committed against Gods glory.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him through the city, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pity.

g Thus in all his plagues the Lord preserueth his small number, which he marketh, as Exo.12, 22. Reu.7,3 but the chiefe marke is the Spirit of adoption, wherewith the heart is sealed vp to life euerlasting.

6 Destroy vtterly the old, and the young, and the maids and the children, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whom g the marke, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the h ancient men, which were before the house.

h Which were the chiefe occasion of all these euils, as Chap 8,11.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slaine, then go forth: and they went out and slew them in the city.

i This declareth that the seruants of God haue a compassion, when they see his iudgements executed.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cryed, saying, i Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of k blood, and the city full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

k That is, with all kind of wickednes, reade Isa.1,15.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity, but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

* Chap.11,22.

11 And behold, the man cloathed with linnen which had the ynkehorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. 8 A rehearsall of the vision of the wheeles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

AND as I looked, behold, in the * firmament that was aboue the head of the a Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

a Which in the first Chap.ver.5. he called the foure beasts.

2 And he spake vnto the man cloathed with linnen, and said, Goe in betweene the wheeles, euen vnder the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coales of fire from between the Cherub, and scatter them ouer b the city. And he went in my sight.

b This signified, that the city should be burnt.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court, 4 Then the glory of the Lord c went vp from the Cherub, and stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was filled with the brightnesse of the Lords glory.

c Meaning, that the glory of God should depart from the Temple,

5 And the d sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, as the voyce of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

d Reade Chap.1,24.

6 And when he had commanded the man cloathed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betweene the wheeles, and from betweene the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was cloathed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, behold, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a e Chrysolite stone.

e Reade Chap.1,16.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one fashion) was as if one wheele had beene in another wheele.

11 When they went foorth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they f turned not as they went.

f Vntill they had executed Gods iudgements.

12 And their whole body, and their ‖ rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, euen in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cried to theses wheeles in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp; * this is the beasts that I saw at the riuer Chebar.

* Chap.1,5.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherub, lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherub, stood, they stood: & when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselues vp also: for the g spirit of the beasts was in them.

g There was one consent betweene the Cherubims and the wheeles.

18 h Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

h Reade Chap.9,3.

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were besides them: and euery one stood at the entry of the gate of the Lords House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

20 * This is the i beast that I saw vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

* Chap.1,15.
i That is, the whole body of the foure beasts or Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likeneese of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likenes of their faces was the selfe same faces, which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubim was the selfe same, and they went euery one straight forward.

a Who they were that seduced the people of Israel. 5 Against these he prophecith, shewing them how they shall be dispersed abroad. 19 The renewing of the heart promiseth of God. 21 He threatneth them that leane vnto their owne counsels.

MOreouer, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought me vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which lieth Eastward, and behold, at the entry of the gate were fiue and twenty men: among whom I saw Iaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Peletiah the sonne of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischiefe, and deuise wicked counsel in this city.

3 For they say, [a] It is not neere, let vs build houses: this city is the [b] caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophecy against them, sonne of man prophecy.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I know that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Many haue ye murthered in this city, and ye haue filled the streetes thereof with the slaine.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue laid in the mids of it, they are [c] the flesh, and this city is the caldron, but I will bring you foorth of the mids of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, and deliuer you into [d] the hands of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will iudge you in the border of [e] Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the mids thereof, but I will iudge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the maners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophecied, Palatiah the sonne of Benaiah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loud voyce, and said, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy [g] brethren, euen thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart ye farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little [b] Sanctuary in the countries were they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreis where ye haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 * And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: & I will take the [i] stony heart out of their bodie, and will giue them an heart of flesh.

20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them: & they shalbe my people, and I will be their God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, & the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

23 And the glory of the Lord went vp from the mids of the city, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the city.

24 Afterward the Spirit tooke me vp, & brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were [k] led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

1 The parable of the captiuity. 18 Another parable whereby the distresse of hunger and thirst is signified.

THe word of the Lord also came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the mids of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, † prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuity, and goe foorth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring foorth thy stuffe by day in their sight, as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuity: and thou shalt go forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe foorth into captiuity.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, and cary it forth in the darke: thou shalt coner thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a [b] signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was cõmanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuity: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the dark, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What [c] doest thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, This ‖ burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall goe into bondage and captiuity.

12 And the chiefest that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shall goe a Thus the wicked deride the Prophets as though they preached but errors, and therefore gaue themselues still to their pleasures.

b We shall not be pulled out of Ierusalem, till the heate of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be sodde.

c Contrary to their vaine confidence he sheweth in what sense the city is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that haue beene murthered therein, and so lie as flesh in the caldron.

d That is, of the Caldeans.

e That is, in Riblah, reade 2 Kng. 25,6.

f It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God toward the rest of the people.

g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproched them that were gone into captiuity, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God.

h They shalbe yet a little Church shewing that the Lord will euer haue some to call vpon his Name, whom he will preserue and restore, though they be for a time afflicted.

i Meaning, the heart wherevnto nothing can enter, and regenerate the new, so that their heart may be soft, and ready to receiue my graces.

k When Ieconiah was led away captiue.

a That is, they receiue not the fruit of that which they see and heare.

b That at that doeth, so shall they doe, and therefore in the they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

c Doe not they deride thy doings.

goe foorth: they shall digge through the wall, to cary out thereby: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread vpon him, and he shalbe taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward euery wind all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, & disperse them in the countreis.

16 But I will leaue a [e] little number of them from the sword, from the famine, & from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with trembling, and drinke thy water with trouble, and with carefulnesse.

19 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with carefulnes, and drinke their water with desolation: for the land shalbe desolate from her abundance, becaufe of the cruelty of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shalbe left void, and the land shalbe desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 * And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes [f] are prolonged, and all visions [g] faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The daies are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shalbe any more in vaine, neither shall there be any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your daies, O rebellions house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for [g] many daies to come, and he prophecieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my words shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shalbe done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

The word of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecy against the prophets of * Israel, that prophecy, and say thou vnto them, that prophecy out of their [a] owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes [b] in the wastes places.

5 [c] Ye haue not risen vp in the gaps, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanity, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made others to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophecy.

7 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? [d] ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because you haue spoken vanity and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saieth the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shalbe vpon the Prophets that see vanity, and diuine lies, they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the [e] writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: & one built vp a [g] wall, and behold the others dabbed it with vntempered morter.

11 Say vnto them, which daube it with vntempered morter, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great showre, and I will send hailestones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormy wind shall breake it.

12 Loe, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to breake foorth in my wrath, and a great showre shalbe in mine anger, & hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered morter, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discouered, and it shall fall, and ye shalbe consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with [h] vntempered morter, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophecy vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophecy out of their owne heart: and prophecy thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that sow [i] pillows vnder all arme holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: will ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfull of [k] barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the soules that should not liue, in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will haue to doe with your pillowes, wherewith [f] Becuse they did not immediatly see the prophesies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled. ‖ Or, take none effect.

[g] That is, it shall not come to passe in our daies, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked euer abuse Gods patience and benignity.

with ye hunt the m soules to make them to flee, & I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules go, euen the soules that yee hunt to make them to flee.

21 Your vailes also will I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, and they shalbe no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies yee haue made the heart of the n righteous sadde, whom I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life.

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor diuine diuinations: for I will deliuer my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIIII.

4 The Lord sendeth false prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 21 He reserueth a small portion for his Church.

THen came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and a sate before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their b heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquity before their face: should I, being required, answere them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquity before his face, and commeth to the c Prophet, I the Lord will answere him that commeth, according to the multitude d of his idoles:

5 That e I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that soiourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquity before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord will answere him f for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and prouerbe, & I will cut him off from the mids of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be g deceiued, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceiued that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the mids of my people of Israel

10 And they shall beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him that asked.

11 That the house of g Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinned against me by committing a trespasse, then will I stretch out mine hand vpon it, & will breake the staffe of the bread there of, and will send famine vpon it, and I will destroy man and beast foorth of it.

14 Though these three men, i Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they should deliuer but their owne soules by their k righteousnes, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noysome beasts into the land and they spoyle it, so that it be desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts, 16 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shalbe deliuered, but the land shalbe waste.

17 Or if I bring a sword vpon this land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beasts out of it.

18 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shalbe deliuer themselues.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in bloud, to destroy out of it man and beast.

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Iob were in the mids of it, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall but deliuer their owne soules by their righteousnesse.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my * foure sore iudgements vpon Ierusalem, euen the sword and famine, and the noysome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet behold, therein shalbe left l a remnant of them that shalbe caried away both sonnes and daughters: behold, they shall come foorth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprises: and ye shalbe comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their enterprises: and ye shall know, that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

2 As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shalbe burnt.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree aboue all other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the a trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast into the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the mids of it is burnt. Is it meet for any worke?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meete for no worke: how much lesse shall it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, as the vine tree, that is among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall goe out from one b fire: and another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord, m That is, to cause them to perish, and that they should depart from the body.

n By threatning them that were godly, and vpholding the wicked.

a He sheweth the hypocrisie of the idolaters, who will dissemble to beare the Prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing lesse then their admonitions, and also how by one meanes or other, God doeth discouer them.

b They are not onely idolaters in heart, but also worship their filthy idoles openly, which leade them in blindnes, and cause them to stumble, and cast them out of Gods fauour, so that he will not heare them when they call vnto him, reade Ier. 20, 5.

c To inquire of things which the Lord hath appointed to come to passe.

d As his abomination hath deserued: that is, he shalbe led with lies according as he delighted therein, 2 Thes. 2. 10.

e That is, to conuince them by their owne conscience.

f Or, by my selfe.

g The prophet declareth that God doth of mans ingratitude raiseth vp false Prophets to seduce them that delite in lies rather then in the truth of God, and thus he punisheth sinne by sinne, 1 Kin. 22. 20. 21. and destroyeth as well those Prophets as that people.

g Thus Gods iudgements against the wicked, are admonitions to the godly, to cleaue vnto the Lord, and not to defile themselues with like abominations.

h Reade Chap. 4, 16. and 5, 17 Isa. 3, 1.

i Though Noah and Iob were now aliue, which in their time were most godly men (for at this time Daniel was in captiuity with Ezekiel) and so these three together should pray for this wicked people, yet would I not heare them, reade Ier. 15, 1.

k Meaning, that a very few (which he calleth the remnant, verse 22.) should escape these plagues, whom God hath sanctified and made righteous, so that this righteousnesse is a figure that they are the Church of God, whom he would preserue for his owne sake.

* Chap. 5, 17.

a Which bringeth foorth no fruit, no more then the other trees of the forrest doe: meaning, that if Ierusalem, which bare the name of his Church, did not bring foorth fruit, it should be vtterly destroyed.

b Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue greatly offended, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet declareth the benefits of God toward Ierusalem. 15 Her vnkindnes. 46 He iustifieth the wickednes of other people in comparison of the sinnes of Ierusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fell. 60 Mercy is promised to the repentant.

AGaine, the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation and thy kinred is of the land [a] of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy nativity when thou wast [b] borne, thy nauell was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swadled in cloutes.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open fielde to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine [c] owne blood, and I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine haire is growen, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spred my skirts ouer thee, and couered [d] thy filthines: yea, I sware vnto thee, and entred into a couenant with [e] thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with [f] water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I [g] anoynted thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered worke, and shod thee with badgers skin: and I girded thee about with fine linnen, & I couered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine handes, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and eare-rings in thine eares, and a beautifull [h] crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy raiment was of fine linnen, and silke, and broydered worke: thou didst eate fine floure, and hony and oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vp into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfite through my [i] beautie which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst [k] trust in thine owne beauty, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renowme, and hast powred out [l] thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou didst take thy garments, and deckedst thine hie places with diuers colours, [m] and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shal not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels made of my golde and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and [n] madest to thy selfe images of men, and diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And tookest thy broydered garments, and coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them, 19 My meate also, which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle and hony, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast euen set it before them for a sweete sauour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreouer thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto mee, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to [o] be deuoured: is this thy whoredome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them to cause them to passe thorow fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God.)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an high place in euery street.

25 Thou hast built thine high place at euery [p] corner of the way, and hast made thy beautie to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the [q] Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Behold, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and will diminish thine ordinary, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the [r] daughters of the Philistims, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast plaied the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreouer multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, sayth the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a [s] presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery street, and hast not beene as an harlot [t] that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They giue gifts to all other whores, but thou giuest gifts vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shalbe after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord,

36 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Because thy [u] shame was powred out, and thy filthinesse discouered through thy fornications with thy louers, a Thou boastest to be of the seed of Abraham, but thou art degenerate and followest the abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children do the maners of their fathers. Ezec. 4. an. 57 3.

b When I first brought thee out of Egypt, and planted thee in this land to be my Church.

c Being thus in thy filthinesse and forsaken of all men, I tooke thee, and gaue thee life: whereby is meant that before God wash his Church, and giue life, there is no hing but filthines and death

d These words, as blood, pollution, nakednes, and filthines, are oftentimes repeated to dect downe their pride, and to cause them to confesse what they were before God receiued them to mercy, fauoured them and couered their shame.

e That thou shouldest be a chaste wife vnto me, and that I should maintaine thee & endue thee with all graces.

f I washed away thy sinnes.

g I sanctified thee with mine holy Spirit.

h Hereby he sheweth how he saued his Church, enriched it, and gaue it power and dominion to reigne.

i He declareth wherein the dignity of Ierusalem stood: to wit, in that that the Lord gaue them of his beauty and excellency.

k In abusing my gifts, and in putting thy confidence in thine owne wisdom and dignity, which were the occasions of thine idolatry.

l There was none idolatry to vile wherewith thou diddest not pollute thy selfe.

m This declareth how the idolaters put their chiefe delight in those things, which please the eyes and outward senses.

n Thou hast conuerted my vessels and instruments, which I gaue thee to serue me with, to the vse of thine idoles.

o Meaning, by fire, made Leu. 18. 21. 2. Kings. 23. 10.

p He noteth the great impiety of this people, who first falling from God to seeke help at strange nations, did also at length embrace their idolatry, thinking thereby to make their vanity more strong.

q Or, Sitiacs.

r Or, that will beare vse.

s Meaning, that some harlots contemne small rewards, but no louers gaue a reward to Israel, but they gaue to all others, signifying that the idolaters bestow all their substance, which they receiue of God for his glory, to serue their vile abominations.

t Or, neither parles.

u Thou hast powred out thy fornications, and hast not remembred thy youth, but hast committed whoredome with all that passed by, and hast not remembred my benefits.

and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them, 37 Behold, therefore I will gather all r thy louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filthines vnto them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are s harlots, and of them that shead blood, and I will giue thee the blood of wrath, and ielousie.

39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie place, and shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall strip thee also out of thy cloathes, and shall take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring vp a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they * shall burne vp thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in ỹ sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my t ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease, and be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, beholde, therefore I also haue u brought thy way vpon thy head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that vse prouerbs, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, x so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy y sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her z daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and † thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou a not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had beene a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, b pride, fulnesse of bread & abundance of idlenes was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needy.

50 But they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I tooke them away as pleased me.

51 Neither c hath Samaria committed halfe of thy sinnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast d iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy sinnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe e their captiuity, with the captiuity of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters, euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the mids of them.

54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast f comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodome and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, g when thou and thy daugaters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom † was not heard of h by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickednes was i discouered, as in the same time of the reproch of ỹ daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about k her, which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne there fore thy wickednesse and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou diddest despise ỹ l oath, in breaking the couenant.

60 Neuertheles, I will m remember my couenant made with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an euerlasting Couenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue n thy sisters both thy elder & thy yonger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not o by thy couenant.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

63 That thou mayest remember, and be P ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

r Egyptians, Assyrians and Caldeans, whom thou tookest to be thy louers, shall come and destroy thee, Chap. 23. 9.

s I will iudge thee to death, as the adulteresses and murtherers.

* 2. King. 25. 9.

t I will vtterly destroy thee, and so my ielouse shall cease.

u I haue punished thy faults, but thou wouldest not repent.

x As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites and others your predecessors, so are you their successors.

y That is, of Samaria and Sodome.

z That is, her cities. † Or, thy sister younger then thou.

a But done farre worse.

b He alleadgeth these foure vices, pride, excesse, idlenesse and contempt of the poore, as foure principall causes of such abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished, Gene. 19. 24.

c Which worshipped the calues in Both el and Dan.

d Thou art so wicked, yt aria respect of thee Sodom and Samaria were iust.

e This he speaketh in comparison, seeing, that he would restore Ierusalem when Sodome should be restored, that is, neuer: and this is meant of the greatest part of the Iewes.

5 Hee tooke also of the c seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground: hee placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like d a spreading vine of e low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot foorth buds.

7 There was also f another great Eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turne her rootes toward it, & spred forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

beare fruit, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall [b] he not pull vp the roots thereof and destroy the fruit thereof, and cause them to dry? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it out by the roots thereof.

10 Behold, it was planted: but shall it prosper? shall it not be dried vp, & wither? [i] when the East wind shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not what these things meane? tell them, behold, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken [k] the King thereof and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel.

13 And had taken one of the Kings seed, and made a couenant with him, and hath taken [l] an oath of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land.

14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? or shall he breake the couenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the mids of Babel, in the place of the king that had made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose couenant made with him, he brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mightie host, and great multitude of people, maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons, 18 For he hath despised the oath, and broken the couenant (yet loe, he hath giuen [m] his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I will surely bring mine oath that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 [*] And I will spread my net vpon him, and he shalbe taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel, and will enter into iudgement with him there for his trespasse that he hath cõmitted against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine shalbe scattered toward all the winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take of the top [n] of his high cedar, and will set it, and cut off the [o] top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an high mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the high mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and beare fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery [p] foule shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the [q] trees of the field shall know that I the Lord haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the low tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the dry tree to florish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

a How sheweth that euery man shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, saluation is promised. 24 Death is prophecied to the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

THe word of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

2 What meane ye that ye speake this prouerbe concerning the land of Israel, saying, [a] The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, ye shall vse this prouerbe no more in Israel.

4 Behold, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be iust, and doe that which is lawfull and right, 13 Or hath giuen foorth vpon vsury, or hath taken increase, shall he liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, and his blood shalbe vpon him.

14 ¶ But if he beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife, 19 Yet say ye, Wherefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquity of the father? because the sonne hath executed iudgement and iustice, and hath kept all my statutes, and done them, he shall surely liue.

be vpon him, and the wickednes of the wicked shalbe vpon himselfe.

21 But if the wicked will returne from all his sinnes that he hat committed, and keepe all my d statutes, & do that which is lawfull and right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed they shall not be ‖ mentioned vnto him, but in his e righteousnes that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 f Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? ‖ or shall he not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equall. O house of Israel, are not my waies equall? or are not your waies vnequall?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore, and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquity shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God, cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

1 The captiuity of the kings of Iudah signified by the lions whelps, and by the lion. 10 The prosperity of the city of Ierusalem that is past, and the misery thereof that is present.

THou also take vp a lamentation for the a princes of Israel,

4 The c nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their net, & they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited and her hope was lost, she tooke another of her d whelps, and made him a lion,

6 Which went among the lions, and became a lion, and learned to catch the pray, and he deuoured e men.

7 And he knew their widowes, and he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the f nations set against him on euery side of the countreies, and layed their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison in chaines, and brought him to the king of Babel, and they put him in holds, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy g mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought foorth fruit and branches by the abundant waters, 11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked vp in wrath: she was cast downe to the ground, and the h East wind dried vp her fruit: her branches were broken and withered: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now she is planted in the wildernes in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 And fire is gone out i of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shalbe for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

1 The Lord denieth that he will answer them when they pray, because of their vnkindnesse. 33 He promiseth that his people shall returne from captiuity. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

AND in the k seuenth yeere, in the fift moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and sate before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause l them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers.

6 In the day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them foorth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, flowing with milke and hony, which is pleasant among all lands.

7 Then said I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, & and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, & would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of e their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, & to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

10 Now I caried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, * which if a man doe, he shall liue in them.

12 Moreouer I gaue them also my * Sabbaths to be a signe betweene me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against mee in the wildernes: they walked not in my statutes, & they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them * in the wildernes to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my name, that I should not be polluted before the g heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheles, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wildernes, that I would not bring them into the land, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and honie, which was pleasant aboue all lands.

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my h Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Neuertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroid them, neither would I consume them in the wildernes.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wildernes, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your i fathers, neither obserue their maners, nor defile your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements and do them.

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shalbe a signe betweene me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, not kept my iudgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wildernes.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrew mine hand and had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wildernes, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countreis.

24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eies were after k their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue l them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they should not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne m gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had before grieuously transgressed against me.

28 n For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it to them, then they saw euerie high hill, and all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prouocation: there also they made their sweet sauour, and powred out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I said vnto them, What is the high place whereunto ye goe? And the name thereof was called o Bamah vnto this daie.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted † after the maner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe thorow the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idols vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lord God, p I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that be done that commeth into your mind: for ye say, we will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreies, and serue wood and q stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

34 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countreies, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, & with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the r wildernes of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wildernes of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into the bond of the couenant.

38 And I will s chuse out from among you the rebels, & them that transgresse against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, t Goe you, and serue euery one his idole, seeing, that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holie Name no more with your gifts, and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine, euen in the hie mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all the land serue mee: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offrings, and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holie things.

41 I will accept your sweet sauour, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreyes, wherein ye haue beene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your waies, and all your workes, wherein ye haue bin defiled, and yee shall iudge your selues worthie to be cut off, for all your euils that ye haue committed.

Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

46 Sonne of man, Set thy face toward the way of Teman, and drop thy word toward [x] the South, and prophecie toward the foreſt of the field of the South,

47 And say to the foreſt of the South, Heare the word of the Lord, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it ſhall deuoure all the y greene wood in thee, and all the dry wood: the continuall flame ſhall not be quenched, and, euery face from the South to the North ſhall be burnt therein.

48 And all fleſh ſhall ſee, that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it ſhall not be quenched. Then ſaid I, Ah Lord God, they ſay of me, Doeth not hee ſpeake [z] parables?

CHAP. XXI.

3 He threatneth the ſword and deſtruction to Ieruſalem. 23 He ſheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He is commanded to prophecy the deſtruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to deſtroy Nebuchadnezzar.

THe word of the Lord came to me againe, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face toward Ieruſalem, [a] and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophecy againſt the land of Iſrael,

3 And ſay to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I come againſt thee, and will draw my ſword out of his ſheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous & wicked, therefore ſhall my ſword goe out of his ſheath againſt all fleſh from the South to the [c] North.

5 That all fleſh may know that I the Lord haue drawen my ſword out of his ſheath, and it ſhall not returne any more.

6 Mourne therefore thou ſonne of man, as in the paine of thy [d] reines, and mourne bitterly before them.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherefore mourneſt thou? Then anſwer, Becauſe [e] of the bruit: for it commeth, and euery heart ſhall melt, and all hands ſhalbe weake, and all minds ſhall faint, and all knees ſhall fall away as water: behold, it commeth, and ſhalbe done, ſaith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

9 Sonne of man, prophecy, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, ſay, A ſword, a ſword both ſharpe and fourbiſhed.

10 It is ſharpened to make a fore ſlaughter, and it is fourbiſhed that it may [f] glitter: how ſhall we reioyce? for it contemneth the [g] rod of my ſonne, as [h] all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbiſhed, that he may handle it: this ſword is ſharp, & is fourbiſhed that he may giue it into the hand of the [i] ſlayer.

12 Cry and howle, ſonne of man: for this ſhall come to my people, and it ſhall come vnto all the princes of Iſrael: the terrors of the ſword ſhalbe vpon my people, [k] smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a triall, and what ſhall this be, if the ſword contemne euen the rod? It ſhalbe no more, ſaith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, ſonne of man, prophecy and ſmite [m] hand to hand, and let the ſword be doubled: let the ſword that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the ſword of the great ſlaughter entring into their priuy chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the ſword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiply their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dreſſed for the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee [n] alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy ſelfe to the left hand, whitherſoeuer thy face turneth.

16 I will alſo ſmite mine hands together, and will cauſe my wrath to ceaſe, I the Lord haue ſaid it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto me againe, ſaying, 19 Alſo thou ſonne of man, appoint thee [o] two waies, that the ſword of the King of Babel may come, both twaine ſhall come out of one land, and chuſe a place, and chuſe it in the corner of the waie of the citie.

20 Appoint a waie, that the ſword may come to Rabbah of the Ammonites, and [p] to Iudah in Ieruſalem the ſtrong citie.

21 And the King of Babel ſtood at the [q] parting of the waie, at the head of the two wayes, conſulting by diuination, and made his arrowes bright: he conſulted with idoles, and looked in [r] the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ieruſalem to appoint captains to open their mouth in the ſlaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with ſhouting, to lay engines of warre againſt the gates, to caſt among, and to build a fortreſſe.

23 And it ſhalbe vnto them [s] as a falſe diuination in their ſight for the oathes made vnto them: [t] but he will call to remembrance their iniquity, to the intent they ſhould be taken.

24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in diſcouering your rebellion, that in all your works your ſinnes might appeare: becauſe I ſay, that ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhalbe taken with the hand

25 And thou [u] Prince of Iſrael polluted, and wicked, whoſe day is come, when iniquitie ſhall haue an end, 26 Thus ſaith the Lord God, I will take away the [x] diademe, and take off the crowne: this ſhall be no more the ſame: I will exalt the humble, and will abaſe him that is high.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it ſhalbe no more vntill he y come, whoſe right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou ſonne of man, prophecie, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blaſphemy: ſay thou, I ſay, The ſword, the ſword is drawen foorth and fourbiſhed to the ſlaughter, to conſume, becauſe of the glittering.

29 Whiles they ſee [z] vanity vnto thee, and prophecied a lye vnto thee to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are ſlaine, whoſe day is come, when their iniquitie ſhall haue an end.

30 Shall I cauſe it to returne into his ſheath? I will iudge thee in the place were thou was created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powre out mine indignation vpon thee, and will blow againſt thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beaſtlie men, and skilfull to deſtroy.

32 Thou ſhalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood ſhalbe in the mids of the land, and thou ſhalt be no more remembred: for I the Lord haue ſpoken it.

CHAP.

[x] For Iudah Rood South from Babylon.

[y] Both ſtrong and weake in Ieruſalem.

[z] The people ſaid that the Prophet ſpake darkly: therefore he deſireth the Lord to giue them a plaine declaration thereof.

[a] Speake ſenſibly, that all may vnderſtand.

[b] That is, ſuch which ſeeme to haue an outward ſhew of righteouſnes, by obſeruation of the ceremonies of the Law. Meaning, thorow all the land.

[c] As though thou were in extreme anguiſh.

[d] Becauſe of the great noiſe of the army of the Caldeans.

[e] And ſo cauſe a feare.

[f] Meaning, the ſcepter: ſhewing that it will not ſpare the King, who ſhould be as the ſonne of God, and in his place.

[g] That is, the reſt of the people.

[h] To wit, vnto the army of the Caldeans.

[i] Reade Ier. 31, 19.

[k] Ezekiel mooued with compaſſion, thus complaineth, feating the deſtruction of the kingdome which God had confirmed to Dauid and his poſterity by promiſe, which promiſe God performed, although heere it ſeemed to many eye that it ſhould vtterly periſh.

[m] That is, encourage the ſword.

[n] Prouide for thy ſelfe: for thou ſhalt ſee Gods plague of all parts in this countrey.

[o] This was ſpoken, becauſe that when Nebuchad-nezzar came againſt Iudah, his purpoſe was alſo to goe againſt the Ammonites: but doubting in the way, which enterpriſe to vndertake firſt, he conſulted with his ſoothſayers, and ſo went againſt Iudah.

[p] That is, to the tribe of Iudah that kept themſelues in Ieruſalem.

[q] To know whether he ſhould goe againſt the Ammonites or them of Ieruſalem.

[r] He vſed coniuring and ſorcery.

[s] Becauſe there was a league betweene the Iewes and the Babylonians, they of Ieruſalem ſhall thinke nothing leſſe, then that this thing ſhould come to paſſe.

[t] That is, Nebuchad-nezzar will remember the rebellion of Zedekiah, and ſo come vpon them. Meaning, Zedekiah, who practiſed with the Egyptians to make himſelfe free and ſo to reſiſt the Babylonians.

[u] Some referre this to the Prieſts attire: for Iehoiadah the Prieſt went into captiuity with the King.

[x] That is, vnto the comming of Meſſiah: for though the Iewes had ſome figne of gouernment afterward vnder the Perſians, Greekes and Romanes, yet this reſtitution was not till Chriſts comming, and at length ſhould be accompliſhed, as was promiſed, Gen. 49. 10.

[z] Though the Iewes and Ammonites would not beleeue that thou, to wit, the ſword, ſhouldeſt come vpon them, and ſaid, that the Prophets, which threatned, ſpake lies, yet, thou ſhalt as ſurely come, as though thou weareſt already vpon their neckes.

CHAP. XXII.

Ierusalem is reproued for cruelty. 25 Of the wicked doctrine of the false prophets and priests, and of their vnsatiable couetousnesse. 27 The tyranny of rulers. 29 The wickednesse of the people.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, wilt thou [a] iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloody city? wilt thou shew her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The city sheddeth blood in the mids of it, that her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe, to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thy selfe in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy daies to draw neere, and art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproach to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreis.

5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which art vile in [d] name and sore in affliction.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel euery one in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the mids of thee [e] haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vexed the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that cary tales to shedde blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in the mids of thee they commit abomination.

10 * In thee haue they discouered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.

11 And euery one * hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsury and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Behold, therefore I haue [f] smitten mine hands vpon thy couetousnesse, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath beene in the mids of thee, 14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands [g] be strong, in the daies that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreis, and will cause thy [h] filthinesse to cease from thee, 16 And thou shalt take thine [i] inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as [k] drosse: all they are brasse, and tinne, and yron, and lead in the mids of the fornace: they are euen the drosse of siluer.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as drosse, behold, therefore I will gather you in the mids of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and lead, and tinne into the mids of the fornace, to blow the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there [l] and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shalbe melted in the mids thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the midst of the fornace, so shall yee be melted in the mids thereof, and ye shall know that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land that is vncleane, [m] and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracy [n] of her prophets in the mids thereof like a roaring lyon, rauening the pray: they haue deuoured soules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the mids thereof.

26 Her Priests haue broken my Law, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betweene the holy & prophane, neither discerned betweene the vncleane and the cleane, and haue hid their [o] eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in * the mids thereof are like wolues, rauening the pray to shed blood, and to destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her [p] Prophets haue dawbed them with vntempered morter, seeing vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy: yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should [q] make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before mee for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their owne waies haue I rendred vpon their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the Idolatry of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one [a] mother.

3 And they committed fornication in [b] Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of [c] them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria is Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot † when [d] shee was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were cloathed with blew silke, both captaines and princes they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

a Art thou ready to execute thy charge, which I commit vnto thee against Ierusalem, that murdereth the Prophets and them that are godly?
b That is, the time of her destruction.
c To her owne vndoing.
d Whose very name all men hate.
e He meaneth hereby that there was no kind of wickednesse which was not committed in Ierusalem, and therefore the plagues of God should speedily come vpon her.
* Leuit. 20, 11, 18.
* Ierem. 5, 8.
f In token of my wrath and vengeance.
g That is, able to defend thy selfe.
h I will thus take away the occasion of thy wickednesse.
i Thou shalt be no more the inheritance of the Lord, but forsaken.
k Which before was most precious.
l Meaning, hereby that the godly should be tried, and the wicked destroyed.
m Thou art like a barren land which the Lord plagueth with drought.
n The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.
o They haue neglected my seruice.
* Mich. 3, 11. Zeph. 3, 3. p They which should haue reproued them, flattered them in their vices, and couered their doings with lyes. Chap. 13, 10.
q Which would shew himselfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice. Isa. 59, 16. and 63, 5. and also pray vnto me to withhold my plagues, Psal. 106, 23.
a Meaning, Israel and Iudah, which came both out of one family.
b They became idolaters after the maner of the Egyptians.
c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in her selfe, meaning Samaria, which was the royall city of Israel: and Aholibah signifieth my mansion in her, whereby is meant Ierusalem, where Gods Temple was.
† Ere, vnder me.
d When the Israelites forsooke God, and put were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and their trust in the Assyrians.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, euen with all them that were the chosen men of Assur, and with all on whom she doted, & defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they e lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an euill name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she marred her selfe with inordinate loue more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaines and princes cloathed with diuers suites, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort.

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when she saw men g painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermilion.

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loines, & with died attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the maner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuitie.)

16 Assoone, I say, as she saw them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discouered her fornication, and discloſed her shame: then mine heart forsooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the daies of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou callest to remembrance the wickednesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise vp thy louers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on euery side, 23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, h Peked, and Shoah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant young men, captaines and princes: all they were valiant and renowned, riding vpon horses.

24 Euen these shall come against thee with charets, wagons, and wheeles, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and † I will leaue the punishment vnto them, & they shall iudge thee according to their ‖ iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy i nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall cary away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy cloathes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest, euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy k labour, and shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications l shalbe discouered, both thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I will do these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I giue her m cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with n drunkennesse and sorrow, euen with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and wring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah and Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, & blood is in their hands, & with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whom they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their o meat.

38 Moreouer, thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same daie, and haue prophaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they haue slaine their children to their idoles, they came the same daie into my Sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the midst of my house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from p farre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came? for whom thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eies, & deckedst thee with ornaments.

41 And sattest q vpon a costlie bed, and a table prepared before it, wherevpon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the companie great, were brought men of r Saba from the wildernes, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her that was old in adulteries, Now shal she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And

e The holy Ghost vseth these termes which seeme strange to chaste eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatry so to be abhorred, that vnneth any should abide to beare the name thereof mentioned.

f Meaning, the Assyrians.

g This declareth what no words are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging loue and filthy lusts dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whom they lust.

h These were the names of certaine princes and captaines vnder Nebuchadnezzar.

† Ebr. I will giue iudgement before them.

‖ Or, lawes.

i They shall destroy the princes and priests with the rest of thy people.

k All the treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

l All the world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serue idoles.

m I will execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, and that with greater feuerity.

n Meaning, that the afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to lose their senses and reason.

o That is, to be sacrifices to their idoles, reade Chap. 16, 20.

p They sent into other countries to haue such as should teach the seruice of their idoles.

q He meaneth the altar that was prepared for the idoles.

r Which should teach the maner of worshipping their gods.

44 And they went in vnto her as they goe to a common harlot: so went they to Aholah and Aholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them after the manner of [f] harlots, and after the maner of murtherers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude vpon them, and will giue them vnto the tumult and to the spoyle, 47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them with their swords: they shall slay their sonnes, and their daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednesse to cease out of the land, that all [g] women may be taught not to doe after your wickednesse.

49 And they shall lay your wickednesse vpon you, and ye shall beare the sinnes of your idoles, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIIII.

He sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot. 16 The parable of Ezekiels wife being dead.

AGaine in the [a] ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day [c] of the [b] moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, euen of this same day: for the King of Babel set himselfe against Ierusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a [c] pot, prepare it, and also powre water into it.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euen euery good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefest ones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and [‖] burne also the [e] bones vnder it, and make it boyle well, and seeth the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Woe to the bloodie city, euen to the pot, [i] whose skum is therein, & whose skum is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece: let no [h] lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her: she set it vpon an high [i] rocke, and powred it not vpon the ground to couer it with dust,

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: euen I haue set her blood vpon an hie rocke that it should not be couered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God,* Woe to the bloody city, for I will make [‖] ŷ burning great,

10 Heape on much wood: [k] kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it emptie vpon the coales thereof, that [‖] the brasse of it may be hot, and may burne, and that the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and that the skum me of it may be consumed.

12 [l] She hath wearied herselfe with lies, and her great skum me went not out of her: therefore her skum me shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remaines in thy filthinesse and wickednesse: because I would [m] haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthinesse, till I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shall come to passe, and I will doe it: I will not goe backe, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, and according to thy workes shall [n] they iudge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ Also the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, beholde, I take away from thee the [o] pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shall thy teares runne downe.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and binde the tire of thine head vpon thee, [p] and put on thy shooes vpon thy feete, and couer not thy lips, and eat [q] not the bread of men.

18 So I spake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wife died: and I did in [r] the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto mee, Wilt thou not tell vs what these things meane toward vs that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, 21 Speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will [s] pollute my Sanctuary, euen the [t] pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts desire, and your sonnes, and your daughters whom yee haue left, shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall doe as I haue done: yee shall not couer your lippes, neither shall yee eate the bread of men.

23 And your tire shalbe vpon your head, and your shooes vpon your feet: ye shall not mourne nor weepe, but yee shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is vnto you a signe: according to all that he hath done, yee shall doe: and when this commeth, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honor, the pleasure of their eyes, & the [†] fire of their heart, their sonnes and their daughters, 26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come vnto thee to tell thee that which hee hath heard with his eares?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speake, and be no more dum be, and thou shalt be a signe vnto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

hast clapped the hands, and stamped with the feet, and reioyced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel,

7 Beholde, therefore I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and will deliuer thee to be spoyled of the heathen, and I will root thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countries, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir doe say, Behold, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholde, I will open the side of Moab, euen of the cities [e] of his cities, I say, in his frontiers with the pleasant countrey, Beth-ieshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim.

10 I will call the men of the East against the Ammonites, and will giue them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, because that Edom hath done euill by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, and hath committed great offence, and reuenged himselfe vpon them, 13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, & they shall doe in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselues with a despitefull heart, to destroy it for the old hatred, 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will stretch out mine hand vpon the Philistims, and I will cut off the [f] Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance vpon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. 15 The wondring and astonishment of the marchants for the destruction of Tyrus.

AND in the [a] eleuenth yeere in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because thath Tyrus hath said against Ierusalem, Aha, the [b] gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: for seeing she is desolate, I shalbe [c] replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyrus, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as the sea mouneth vp with his waues.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyrus and breake downe her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nets in the mids of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be a spoile to the nations.

6 And her [d] daughters which are in the field, shall be slaine by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nebucad-nezzar king of Babel, a king of kings from the North, with horses and with charets, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engines of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude: thy wals shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheeles, and of the charets, when he shall enter into thy gates as into the entry of a citie that is broken downe.

11 With the hooues of his horses shall he tread downe all thy streetes: he shall slay the people by the sword, and the [e] pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy plesant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

13 * Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harpes shalbe no more heard.

14 I will lay thee like the toppe of a rocke: [f] thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, shall not the yles tremble at the sound of thy fall? and at the cry of the wounded, when they shall be slaine and murthered in the mids of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the [g] sea shall come downe from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: and shall cloathe themselues with astonishment: they shall sit vpon the ground and be astonished at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited [h] of the Sea men, the renowmed citie which was strong in the sea, both thee and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shall the yles be astonished in the daie of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate citie, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people [i] of old time, and shall set thee in the lowe parts of the earth, like the old ruines, with them, I say, which goe downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall shew my glorie in the land of the [k] liuing.

21 I wil ‖ bring thee to nothing, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Tyrus,

3 And say vnto Tyrus that is situate at the entry of the sea, which is the mart * of the people for many yles, Thus sayeth the Lord God, O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfite beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the † mids of the sea, and thy builders haue made thee of perfit beautie.

5 They haue made all thy ship boards of firre trees of [b] Shenir: they haue brought cedars from Lebanon, to make masts for thee.

6 Of the okes of Bashan haue they made thine ores: the company of the Assyrians haue made thy banks of yuory brought out of the yles of [c] Chittim.

7 Fine linnen with broydered worke, brought from Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy saile, blew silke and purple, brought from the yles of Elishah was thy couering.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon, and Aruad were thy mariners, O Tyrus: thy wise men that were in thee, they were thy ‖ pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy [d] calkers, all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy marchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud and of Phut were in thine armie: thy men of warre they hanged the shield and helmet in thee: they set foorth thy beautie.

11 The men of Aruad with thine armie were vpon thy walles round about, and the [e] Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields vpon thy walles round about: they haue made thy beauty perfit.

12 They of Tarshish were thy marchants for the multitude of all riches, for siluer, yron, tinne, and lead, which they brought to thy faires.

13 They of [f] Iauan, Tubal and Meshech were thy marchants, [g] concerning the liues of men, and they brought vessels of braise for thy marchandise.

14 They of the house of [h] Togarmach brought to thy faires, horses and horsemen, and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy marchants: and the marchandise of many yles were in thine hands: they brought thee for a present, [i] hornes, teeth, and peacockes.

16 They of Aram were thy marchants for the multitude of thy ‖ wares: they occupied in thy faires, with ‖ emeraudes, purple, and broydred worke, and ‖ finne linnen, and corall, and pearle.

17 They of Iudah and of the land of Israel were thy marchants: they brought for thy marchandise wheate of [k] Minnith, and Pannag, and hony, and oyle, and ‖ balme.

18 They of Damascus were thy marchants in the multitude of thy wares, for the multitude of all riches, as in the wine of Helbon and white wooll.

19 They of Dan also and of Iauan, going to and fro, occupied in thy faires: yron worke, cassia and calamus were among thy marchandise.

20 They of Dedan were thy marchants in precious cloathes for the chaires.

21 They of Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar ‖ occupied with thee, in lambes, and rammes and goates: in these were they marchants.

22 The marchants of Sheba, and Raamah were thy marchants: they occupied in thy fayres with the chiefe of all spices, and with all precious stones and gold.

23 They of Haran and Canneh and Eden, the marchants of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad were thy marchants.

24 These were thy marchants in all sorts of things, in rayment of blew silke, and of broydered worke, and in coffers for the rich apparell, which were bound with coardes: chaines also were among thy marchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish ‖ were thy chiefe in thy marchandise, and thou wast replenished and made very glorious in the mids of the sea.

26 Thy ‖ robbers haue brought thee into great waters: the [l] East winde hath broken thee in the mids of the sea.

27 Thy riches and thy faires, thy marchandise, thy mariners and pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy marchandise, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, and all thy multitude which is in the mids of thee, shall fall in the mids of the sea in the day of thy ruine.

28 The [m] suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oare, the mariners and all the pilots of the sea shall come downe from their ships, and shall stand vpon the land.

30 And shall cause their voyce to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast dust vpon their heads, and wallow themselues in the ashes.

31 They shall plucke off their haire for thee, and gird them with a sackecloth, and they shall weepe for thee with sorow of heart and bitter mourning.

32 And in their mourning, they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus so destroyed in the mids of the sea?

33 When thy wares went foorth of the seas, thou filledst many people, and thou diddest enrich the Kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy marchandise.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy marchandise and all thy multitude which was in the mids of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the yles shalbe astonished at thee, and all their Kings shall be sore afraid and troubled in their countenance.

36 The marchants among the people shall hisse at thee: thou shalbe a terrour, and neuer shalt be [n] any more.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The word of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride. 21 The word of the Lord against Zidon. 25 The Lord promiseth that he will gather together the children of Israel.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say vnto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God, because thine heart is exalted, and thou hast said, [a] I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in the mids of the sea, yet thou art but a man & not God, & † though thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equall with God,

3 Behold, thou art wiser then [b] Daniel: there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisedome and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and siluer into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisedome and by thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted vp because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, because thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equall with God,

7 Behold

7 Behold, therefore I will bring ſtrangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations: and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt the beautie of thy wiſdome, and they ſhall defile thy brightneſſe.

8 They ſhall caſt thee downe to the pit, and thou ſhalt die the death of them, that are ſlaine in the mids of the ſea.

9 Wilt thou ſay then before him that ſlayeth thee, I am a god: but thou ſhalt be a man, and no god, in the hands of him that ſlaieth thee.

10 Thou ſhalt die the death of the [c] vncircumciſed by the hands of ſtrangers: for I haue ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord God.

11 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, 12 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the King of Tyrus, and ſay vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Thou ſealeſt vp the ſumme, and art full of [d] wiſedome, and perfite in beauty.

13 Thou haſt beene in Eden the garden of God: euery precious ſtone was in thy garment, the ruby, the topace, and the ‖ diamond, the chryſolite, the onix, and the iaſper, the ſaphir, ‖ emerauld, and the carbuncle and golde: the workemanſhip of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou waſt created.

14 Thou art [e] the anoynted Cherub, that couereth, and I haue ſet thee [f] in honour: thou waſt vpon the holy mountaine of God: thou haſt walked in the mids of the [g] ſtones of fire.

15 Thou waſt perfit in thy waies from the day that thou waſt [h] created, till iniquitie was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy marchandiſe, they haue filled the middes of thee with crueltie, and thou haſt ſinned: therefore I will caſt thee as prophane out of the [i] mountaine of God: and I will deſtroy thee, O couering Cherub, from the mids of the ſtones of fire.

17 Thine heart was liſted vp becauſe of thy beautie, and thou haſt corrupted thy wiſedome by reaſon of thy brightneſſe: I will caſt thee to the ground. I will lay thee before kings that they may behold thee.

18 Thou haſt defiled thy [k] ſanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, and by the iniquitie of thy merchandiſe: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the mids of thee, which ſhall deuoure thee: and I will bring thee to aſhes vpon the earth, in the ſight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee: thou ſhalt be ‖ a terrour, and neuer ſhalt thou be any more.

20 ¶ Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

21 Sonne of man, ſet thy face againſt Zidon, and prophecie againſt it,

22 And ſay, Thus ſayeth the Lord God, Behold, I come againſt thee, O Zidon, and I will be [l] glorified in the mids of thee: and they ſhall know that I am the Lord, when I ſhall haue executed iudgements in her, and ſhalbe ſanctified in her.

23 For I will ſend into her peſtilence, and blood into her ſtreetes, and the ſlaine ſhall fall in the mids of her: [m] the enemy ſhall come againſt her with the ſword on euery ſide, and they ſhall knowe that I am the Lord.

24 And they ſhalbe no more a pricking thorne vnto the houſe of Iſrael, nor any grieuous thorne of all that are round about them, & deſpiſed them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus ſayth the Lord God, When I ſhall haue gathered the houſe of Iſrael from the people where they are ſcattered, and ſhall be [n] ſanctified in them in the ſight of the heathen, then ſhall they dwell in the land, that I haue giuen to my ſeruant Iaakob.

26 And they ſhall dwell ſafely therein, and ſhall build houſes, and plant vineyards: yea, they ſhall dwell ſafely, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all round about them that deſpiſe them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

He prophecieth againſt Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promiſeth that he will reſtore Egypt after fourtie yeeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nezzar for the labour which he tooke againſt Tyrus.

IN the [a] tenth yeere and in the tenth moneth, in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, 2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face againſt Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophecie againſt him, and againſt all Egypt.

3 Speake, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I come againſt thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great [b] dragon, that lieth in the mids of his riuers, which hath ſaid, The riuer is mine, and I haue made it for my ſelfe.

4 But I will put [c] hookes in thy iawes, and I will cauſe the fiſh of the riuers to ſticke vnto thy ſcales, and I will draw thee out of the midſt of thy riuers, and all the fiſh of thy riuers ſhall ſticke vnto thy ſcales.

5 And I will leaue thee in the wildernes, both thee and all the fiſh of thy riuers: thou ſhalt fall vpon the open field: thou ſhalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meate to the beaſts of the field, and to the foules of the heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt ſhall know that I am the Lord, becauſe they haue bin a ſtaffe of [d] reede to the houſe of Iſrael.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou diddeſt breake and rent all their ſhoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakeſt and madeſt all their loynes to ‖ ſtand [e] vpright.

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a ſword vpon thee, and deſtroy man and beaſt out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt ſhalbe deſolate, and waſte, & they ſhall know ſ I am the Lord: becauſe he hath ſaid, [f] The riuer is mine, & I haue made it.

10 Behold, therefore I come vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, and I will make ſ land of Egypt vtterly waſte & deſolate from the towre of Seueneh, euen vnto the borders of the † blacke Moores.

11 No foote of man ſhall paſſe by it, nor foote of beaſt ſhall paſſe by it, neither ſhall it be inhabited fortie yeeres.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt deſolate in the midſt of the countreyes that are deſolate, and her cities ſhall be deſolate among the cities that are deſolate for fortie yeeres: and I will ſcatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will diſperſe them through the countreyes.

13 Yet thus ſaith the Lord God: [*] At the ende of fortie yeeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were ſcattered, 14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and will cauſe them to returne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they ſhall be there a [g] ſmall kingdome.

15 It shalbe the smalest of the kingdomes, neither shall it exalt it selfe any more aboue the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shalbe no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their b iniquity to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the i seuen and twentieth yeere also in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel caused his army to serue a great k seruice against Tyrus: euery head was made balde, and euery shoulder was made bare: yet he had no wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the service that hee serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoyle her spoyle, and take her pray, and it shalbe the wages for his army.

20 I haue giuen him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he serued ‖ against it, because they wrought ‖ for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause the horne of the house of Israel to grow, and I will giue thee an open mouth in the mids of them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Howle and cry, Woe be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudy day, and it shalbe the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt, and feare shalbe in Ethiopia, when the slaine shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, and when her foundations shalbe broken downe.

5 a Ethiopia, and Phut, and Lud, and all the common people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that maintaine Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come downe: from the tower of b Seuene shall they fall by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shalbe desolate in the mids of the countreis that are desolate, and her cities shalbe in the mids of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers go foorth from me in ships, to make the careles Moores afraid, and feare shall come vpon them, as in the day of Egypt, for loe, it commeth.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, euen the terribles nations shalbe brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slaine.

12 And I will made the riuers dry, and sell the land into the hands of the wicked, and I will make the land wast, and all that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idoles, and I will cause their idoles to cease out of ‖ Noph, and there shalbe no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in ‖ Zoan, and I will execute iudgement in No.

15 And I will powre my wrath vpon ‖ Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of ‖ No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt, Sin shall haue great sorrow, and No shalbe destroyed, and Noph shall haue sorrowes daily.

17 The yong men of ‖ Auen, and of ‖ Phibeseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captiuity.

18 At Tehaphnehes the day c shall restraine his light, when I shall breake there the d barres of Egypt: and when the pompe of her power shall cease in her, the cloud shall couer her, and her daughters shall go into captiuity.

19 Thus will I execute iudgements in Egypt, & they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the e eleuenth yeere, in the first moneth, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, f I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, neither shall they put a roule to bind it, and so make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will breake g his arme that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

24 And I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babel, and put my sword in his hand, but I will breake Pharaohs armes, and he shall cast out sighings, as the sighings of him that is wounded before him.

25 But I will strengthen the armes of the king of Babel, & the armes of Pharaoh shall fall downe, and they shall know, that I am the Lord, h when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

exalted him on his with her riuers running round about his plants, and sent out her [e] little riuers vnto all the trees of the ‖ field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the field, and his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which the deeps sent out.

6 All the foules of the heauens made their nestes in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beastes of the field bring foorth their young, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mighty nations.

7 Thus was he faire in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his root was neere great waters.

8 The cedars in the garden [d] of God could not hide him: no fire tree was like his branches and the chesnut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beauty.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so for all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ‖ he is lift vp on high, and hath shot vp his toppe among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height, 11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the [e] mightiest among the heathen: hee shall handle him, for I haue cast him away for his wickednesse.

12 And the strangers haue destroied him, euen the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaines, and in all the valleis his branches are fallen, and his boughes are [f] broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forsaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine shall all the foules of the heauen remaine, and all the beastes of the field shalbe vpon his branches.

14 So that none of all the trees by the water shalbe exalted by their height, neither shall shoot vp their top among the thicke boughes, neither shall their feaues stand vp in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether parts of the earth in the mids of the children of men: among them that go downe to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hell, I caused them to mourne, and I [g] couered the deepe for him, and I did restreine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell, with them that descend into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: euen all that are nourished with waters, shall [h] be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that were slaine with the sword, & his arme, and they that dwelt vnder his shadow in the mids of the heathen.

18 To whom [i] art thou thus like in glory and in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden vnto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the mids of the [k] vncircumcised, with them that be slaine by the sword, this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

a The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharaoh King of Egypt. 12 Hee prophecieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

AND [a] in the twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a [b] lion of the nations, and art as a ‖ dragon in the sea: thou castedst out thy riuers, [c] and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and stampedst in their riuers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, * I will therefore [c] spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come vp into my net.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I will cast thee vpon the open field, and I will cause all the foules of the heauen to remain vpon thee, and I will fill all the beasts of the land with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh vpon the mountaines, and fill the valleies [d] with thine height.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou [e] swimmest, euen to the mountains, and the riuers shalbe full of tuee.

7 And when I shall [f] put thee out, I will couer the heauen, and make the starres thereof darke: * I will couer the sunne with a cloud, and the moone shall not giue her light.

8 All the lights of the heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring [g] darknes vpon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, and vpon the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make my people amazed at thee, and their Kings shall be astonished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces, and they shalbe afraid at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babel shall come vpon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shalbe terrible nations, and they shall destroy the [h] pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shalbe consumed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from the great waters sides, neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make [i] their waters deep, and cause their riuers to runne like oyle, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country with all that is therein, shall be laid waste: when I shall smite all them which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

27 And they shall not lie with the valiant r of the vncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone downe to the graue with their weapons of warre, and haue laid their swords vnder their heads, but their iniquity shall be vpon their bones: because they were the feare of the mighty in the land of the liuing.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the middes of the vncircumcised, and lie with them that are slaine by the sword.

29 There is Edom, his kings, and all his princes, which with their strength are layd by them that were slaine by the sword: they shall sleepe with the vncircumcised, and with them that goe downe to the pit.

CHAP. XXXIII.

a The office of the gouernours and ministers. 14 He strengtheneth them that despaire, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercy. 30 The word of the Lord against the mockers of the Prophets.

AGaine the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and say vnto them, When I bring the sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their a watchman,

3 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warne the people,

4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and will not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be admonished: therefore his blood shall be vpon him: but he that receiueth warning shall saue his life.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away for his b iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 * So thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my c mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou doest not speake and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquitie, but his blood will I d require at thine hand.

9 Neuerthelesse, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, if he doe not turne from his way, hee shall die for his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus yee speake and say, If our transgressions and our sinnes be vpon vs, and wee are consumed because of them, e how should wee then liue?

11 Say vnto them, As I liue, saith the Lord God, f I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way and liue: turne you, turne you from your euil wayes, for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, say vnto the children of thy people, The g righteousnesse of the righteous shall not deliuer him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickednesse of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the day that hee returneth from his wickednesse, neither shall the righteous liue for his righteousnesse in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say vnto the righteous, that he shall surely liue, if hee trust to his owne righteousnesse, and commit iniquitie, all his righteousnesse shall be no more remembred, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shall die for the same.

14 Againe when I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt die the death, If he turne from his sinne, and doe that which is lawfull and h right, 15 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge, and giue againe that he had robbed, and walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he shall surely liue, and not die.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed, shalbe mentioned vnto him, because he hath done that 28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the * pompe of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall passe through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I haue laid the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations, that they haue committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that p talke of thee by the walls and in the doores of houses and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the word that commeth from the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIV.

a Against the shepheards that deuoured the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaine. 7 The Lord saith that hee will visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 23 Hee promiseth the true shepheard Christ, and with him peace.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecie against the shepheards of Israel, prophecie and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God vnto the shepheards, * Who be vnto the a shepheards of Israel, that feede themselues, should not the shepheards feede the flockes?

3 Ye eate the b fat, and ye cloathe you with the woll: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The c weake haue ye not strengthened: the sicke haue yee not healed, neither haue yee bound vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, neither haue yee sought that which was lost, but with cruelty, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepheard: and when they were dispersed, they were d deuoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheepe wandered thorow all the mountaines, and vpon euery hie hill: yea, my flocke was scattered thorow all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepheards, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As I liue, saith the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoyled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beasts of the field, hauing no shepheard, neither did my shepheards seeke my sheepe, but the shepheards fedde themselues, and fedde not my sheepe, 9 Therefore, heare ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepheards.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepheards, and will require my sheepe at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shall the shepheards feede themselues any more: for I will deliuer my sheepe from e their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepheard searcheth out his flocke, when he hath bin among his sheepe that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe & will deliuer them out of all places, where they haue bin scattered in f the cloudy and darke day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their owne land, and feed them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the riuers, and in all the in inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, and vpon the hie mountaines of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in fat pasture shall they feede vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feed my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was driuen away, and will bind vp that which was broken, and will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the fat and the g strong, and I will feed them with h iudgement.

17 Also you my sheepe, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I iudge betweene sheepe & sheepe, betweene the rams and the goats.

1 The destruction that shall come on mount Seir, because they troubled the people of Israel.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face against mount Seir, and prophecie against it,

3 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, O mount Seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetuall hatred, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamitie, when their [b] iniquitie had an end.

6 Therefore as I liue, saieth the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou [c] hate blood, euen blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaines with his slaine men: in thine hils, and in thy valleyes, and in all thy riuers shall they fall, that are slaine with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, and thy cities shall not [d] returne, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, [e] These two nations and these two countries shalbe mine, and we will possesse them (seeing the Lord was [f] there)

11 Therefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, I will euen doe according to thy [g] wrath, and according to thine indignation, which thou hast vsed in thine hatred against them: and I will make my selfe knowen among [h] them, when I haue iudged thee.

12 And thou shalt know, that I the Lord haue heard all the blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They lie waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouths ye haue boasted against me, and I haue multiplied your words against me: I haue heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the world reioyce, when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou didst reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I doe vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholy, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

1 Hee promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. 21 The benefits done vnto the Iewes, are to be ascribed to the mercy of God, and not vnto their deservings. 26 God reneweth our hearts that wee may walke in his commandements.

4 Therefore ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hils, to the riuers and to the valleys, & to the waste and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoyled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about.

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which haue [d] taken my land for their possession, with the ioy of all their heart: and with despitefull minds to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and say vnto the mountaines and to the hils, to the riuers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I haue spoken in mine indignation and in my wrath, because ye haue suffered the [e] shame of the heathen.

9 For beholde, I come vnto you, and I will turne vnto you, and ye shall be tilled and sowen.

10 And I will multiply the men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shalbe inhabited, and the desolate places shallbe builded.

11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and beast, and they shall increase, and bring fruit, and I will cause you to dwell after your old estate, and I will bestow benefites vpon you more then h at the first, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

h Which was accomplished vnder Christ, to whom all these temporall deliuerances did direct them.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon i you, euen my people Israel, and they shall possesse ‖ you and ye shall be their inheritance, and ye shall no more henceforth depriue them of men.

i That is, vpon the mountaines of Ierusalem.

‖ Or, thee.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, Because they say vnto you, Thou k land deuourest vp men, and hast beene a waster of thy people.

k This the enemies imputed as the reproach of the land, which God did for the sinnes of the people according to his iust iudgements.

14 Therefore thou shalt deuoure men no more, neither waste thy people henceforth, saith the Lord God.

15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou beare the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt cause thy folke to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

16 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their owne land, they defiled it by their owne wayes, and by their deedes: their way was before me as the filthinesse of the menstruous.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrath vpon them, for the blood that they had shed in the land, and for their idoles, where with they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were disperſed through the countreys: for according to their wayes, and according to their deeds, I iudged them.

20 * And when they entred vnto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holy Name, when they said of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone out of his land.

* Isa. 52. 5. rom. 2. 24.

21 But I fauoured mine holy l Name, which the house of Israel had polluted among the heathen, whither they went.

l And therefore would not suffer my Name to be had in contempt, as the heathen would haue reproached me, if I had suffred my Church to perish.

22 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine m holy Names sake, which ye polluted among the heathen, whither ye went.

m This excluderh from man all dignity, and meane to deserue any thing by, seeing that God referreth the whole to himselfe, and that onely for the glory of his holy Name.

23 And I will sanctifie my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whom you haue polluted it, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before ‖ their eyes.

‖ Or, you.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreys, and will bring you into your owne land.

n That is, his spirit, whereby he reformeth the heart, and regenerateth his. Mat. 3. 11. * Ier. 32. 39. chap. 11. 19.

26 * A new heart also will I giue you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your body, and I will giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and yee shall keepe my iudgements and doe them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthinesse, and I will call for o corne, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

o Vnder the abundance of temporall benefits he concludeth the spirituall graces.

30 For I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shall beare no more the reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your deeds that were not good, & shall iudge your selues worthy to haue bin p destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

p Ye shall come to true repentance, and thinke your selues vnworthy to be of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude against him.

32 Be it knowen vnto you that I doe not this for your sakes, saith the Lord God: therefore, O ye house of Israel, be ashamed and confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall haue cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste, and desolate, and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen, that are left round about you, shall q know that I the Lord build the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

q He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the soyle or plentifulnesse of the earth that any countrey is rich and abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues and curses declare, when he maketh it barren.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I will yet for this be lought of the house of Israel, to performe it vnto them: I will increase them with men like a flocke.

38 As the holy flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemne feasts, so shall the desolate cities be filled with flockes of men, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

3 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Againe he said vnto mee, Prophecie vpon these bones, and say vnto them, O yee dry bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God vnto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall liue.

6 And I will lay sinewes vpon you, and make flesh grow vpon you, and couer you with skinne, and put breath in you, that yee may liue, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophecied as I was commanded: and as I prophecied, there was a noyse, and beholde, there was a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinewes, and the flesh grew vpon them, and aboue the skinne couered them, but there was no breath in them.

winde: prophecie, sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from the foure [b] winds, O breath, and breathe vpon these slaine, that they may line.

10 So I prophecied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they liued, and stood vp vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

11 Then he said vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my people, I will open your graues, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And yee shall knowe that I am the Lord, [c] when I haue opened your graues, O my people, and brought you vp out of your sepulchers.

14 And shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shall liue, and I shall place you in your owne land: then ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

16 Moreouer, thou sonne of man, take thee a piece of wood, and write vpon it, Vnto Iudah, and to the children of Israel his companions: then take [d] another piece of wood, and write vpon it, Vnto Ioseph the tree of Ephraim, and to all the house of Israel his companions, 17 And thou shalt ioyne them one to another into one tree, and they shall be as one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Thou shalt answere them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the tree [e] of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and will put them with him euen with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 And the pieces of wood whereon thou writest, shalbe in thine hand, in their sight.

21 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on euery side, & bring them into their owne land.

22 And I will make them one people in the land, vpon the mountains of Israel, * and one king shallbe king to them all: and they shallbe no more two peoples, neither be diuided any more hencefoorth into two kingdomes.

23 Neither shall they be polluted any more with their idoles, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will saue them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they haue sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And Dauid my * seruant shall be king ouer them, and they shall all haue one shepheard: they shall also walke in my iudgements, and obserue my statutes, and doe them.

25 And they shall dwell in the [f] land, that I haue giuen vnto Iaakob my seruant, where your fathers haue dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, euen they, and their sonnes, and their sonnes sonnes for euer, and my seruant Dauid shall be their prince for euer.

26 Moreouer, I will make * a couenant of peace with them: it shall be an euerlasting couenant with them, and I will place them, and multiplie them, and will set my sanctuarie among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

28 Thus the heathen shall know, that I the Lord doe sanctifie Israel, when my Sanctuary shall be among them for euermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

2 He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shall fight with great power against the people of God. 11 Their destruction.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against [a] Gog and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophecie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince, of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will destroy thee, and put hookes in thy iawes, and I will bring thee forth and all thine hoaste, both horses and horsemen, all cloathed with all sorts of armour, euen a greate multitude with bucklers and shields, all [b] handling swords.

15 And come from thy place out of the North parts, thou and much people with thee? all such ride vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mighty armie.

16 And thou shalt come vp against my people of Israel, as a cloud to couer the land, thou shalt be in the [k] latter dayes, and I will bring thee vpon my land, that the heathen may know mee, when I [l] shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

19 For in mine indignation, and in the fire of my wrath haue I spoken it: surely at that time there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel.

20 So that the fishes of the Sea, and the foules of the heauen, and the beasts of the fielde, and all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, and all the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, & the mountains shall be ouerthrowen, and the [n] stayres shall fall, and euery wall shall fall to the ground.

21 For I will call for a sword against him o throughout all my mountaines, saith the Lord God: euery mans sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him and vpon his bands, and vpon the great people that are with him, a sore raine, and haile-stones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I be * magnified, and sanctified, and knowen in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

a He foreweth the destruction of Gog, and Magog. 11 The graues of Gog and his hoste. 17 They shall be deuoured of birdes and beastes. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie is promised.

THerefore thou sonne of man, prophecie against Gog & say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will destroy thee, and leaue but the sixe part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North parts, and will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I will cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou [b] shalt fall vpon the mountaine of Israel, and all thy bands and the people, that is with thee: for I will giue thee vnto the birds, and to euery feathered foule and beast of the field to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the [c] yles, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So will I make mine holy Name knowen in the mids of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, [d] it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall goe forth, and shall burne and set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shields, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staues in their hands, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut downe any out of the forrests: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, sayth the Lord God.

11 And at the same time will I giue vnto Gog [e] a place there for buriall in Israel, euen the valley, whereby men goe toward the East part of the sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stop their [g] noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of [‖] Hamon-Gog.

12 [h] And seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name, when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to go continually thorow the [i] land with them that trauaile, to bury those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seuen moneths.

15 And the trauailers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set vp a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the citie shall be [‖] Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speake vnto euery feathered foule, and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble your selues, and come: gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I doe sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that yee may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambes, and of the goats, and of bullocks, euen of all beasts of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drinke blood till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hand, which I haue laid vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so foorth.

23 And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for [l] their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their vncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 There-

a Or, destroy thee with six plagues, as Chap. 38. 22.

b Meaning, that by the vertue of Gods word the enemie shall be destroyed wheresoeuer he assaileth his Church.

c That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, & euen they neuer so farre separate.

k Meaning, in the last age and from the comming of Christ vnto the end of the world.

l Signifying, that God will be sanctified in his Church, and deliuering his enemies as Chap. 36 23 and 37. 28.

m He shew he declareth that no affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not beene a foretold & foretime, to teach them to ensure all things with a preparation, when they know that God hath so ordeined.

n All meanes whereby man should thinke to saue himselfe, shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great, and the enemies destruction shall be so terrible.

o Against the people of Gog and Magog.

* Chap. 36 23. and 37 28.

d That is, this plague is fully determined, in my counsell, and cannot be changed.

e After this destruction the Church shall haue great peace and tranquilitie and burne all their weapons because they shall no more feare the enemies, and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christs kingdome, when by their head Christ, all enemies shall be ouercome.

f Which declareth that the enemies shall haue an horrible fall.

g For the stinke of the carkeises.

h Meaning a long time.

i Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the commission that the children of God haue, euen of their enemies.

k Whereby he signifieth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the enemies of his Church.

l The heathen shall know that they ouercame not my people by their strength neither yet by the weakenes of mine armie, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now will I bring againe the captiuity of Iaakob, and haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and will be iealous for mine holy Name,

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any,

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies lands, and am * sanctified in them in the sight of many nations.

* Chap. 36, 23.

28 Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne land, and haue left none of them any more there, 29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

IN the fiue and twentieth yeere of our being in captiuitie, in the [a] beginning of the yeere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lord was vpon mee, and brought me thither.

a The Iewes counted the beginning of the yeere after two sorts: for their feasts, they began to count in March, and for their other affaires in September: so that this is to be vnderstood of September.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by ‖ a diuine vision, and set me vpon a very high mountaine, whereupon was as the building of a citie, toward the South.

‖ Or, visions of God.

3 And he brought mee thither, and beholde, there was a [b] man, whose similitude was to looke to, like brasse, with a linnen threed in his hand, and a reed to measure with: and hee stood at the gate.

b Which was an Angel in forme of a man, that came to measure out this building.

4 And the man said vnto me, Sonne of man, behold with thine eyes, & heare with thine eares, and set thine heart vpon all that I shall shewe thee: for to the intent that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest vnto the house of Israel.

5 And behold, I saw a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand was a reed to measure with, of sixe cubits long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, and the height with one reed.

6 Then came he vnto the gate which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staires thereof, and measured the ‖ post of the gate, which was one reed broad, and ‖ the other post of the gate, which was one reed broad.

‖ Or, threshold.
‖ Or, vpper post.

7 And euery chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and betweene the chambers were fiue cubits: and the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within with one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate of eight cubits: and the ‖ postes thereof, of two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

‖ Or, pentises.

10 And the Chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the postes had one measure on this side, and one on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the height of the gate thirteene cubits.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, & the space was one cubite on that side, and the chambers were sixe cubites on this side, and sixe cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roofe of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was fiue and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made also postes of threescore cubites, and the posts of the court, and of the gate, had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entry of the gate vnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were fifie cubits.

16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chambers, and in their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes went round about within: and vpon the posts were palme trees.

17 ¶ Then brought hee me into the outward court, and loe, there were chambers, and a pauement made for the court round about, and thirtie chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates, and the pauement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured hee after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the postes thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubits, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes, and their arches with their palme trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going vp vnto it had seuen steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and hee measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 After that, hee brought mee toward the South, and loe, there was a gate toward the South, and hee measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windowes: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubits.

26 And there were seuen steps to goe vp to it, and the arches thereof were before them, & it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side vpon the postes thereof.

27 ¶ And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate, according to these measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad.

30 And the arches round about were fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter Court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ Againe hee brought mee into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the posts thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ After hee brought mee to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the postes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therein round about: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were toward the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And euery chamber, and the entrie thereof was vnder the posts of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slewe the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entrie of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables whereupon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broad, and one cubite high: wherevpon also they laide the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offring and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and vpon the tables lay the flesh of the offring.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

THE FIGVRE OF THE TEMPLE.

45 And he said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South is for the Priestes, that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that haue the charge to keepe the Altar: these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leui, which may come nere to the Lord to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court an hundreth cubites long, and an hundreth cubites broad, euen foure square: likewise the Altar that was before the house.

48 And hee brought mee to the porch of the house, and measured the postes of the porch, fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

CHAP. XLI.

1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple, and the other things thereto belonging.

AFterward, hee brought mee to the Temple and measured the postes, fixe cubites broad on the one side, and fixe cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie were fiue cubites, on the one side, and fiue cubites on the other side, and he measured the length thereof forty cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the postes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie sixe cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seuen cubites.

4 So he measured the length thereof twenty cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple, and he said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, hee measured the wall of the house, sixe cubites, and the breadth of euery chamber foure cubites round about the house, on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, three and thirtie foote high, and they entred into the wall made for the chambers which was round about the house, that the postes might be fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large, and went round mounting vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting vpward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the loweſt chamber to the hieſt by the mids.

8 I saw also the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reede of sixe great cubits.

9 The thickenesse of the wall which was for the chamber without, was fiue cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the widenesse of twentie cubits round about the House on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was fiue cubites round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seuentie cubits broad, and the wall of the building was fiue cubits thicke round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundreth cubits long, and the separate place and the building with the walles thereof were an hundreth cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundreth cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place, which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundreth cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The postes and the narrow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides ouer against the postes, sieled with cedar wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes and the windowes were sieled.

17 And from aboue the doore, vnto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within, and without it was sieled according to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palme trees, so that a palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub: and euery Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one side, and a face of a lion toward the palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground vnto aboue the doore were Cherubims, and palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The posts of the Temple were squared, and thus to looke vnto was the similitude and forme of the Sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said vnto me, This is the Table that shall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, euen two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles, and there were thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrowe windowes and palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke plankes.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

THen brought he me into the vtter court by the way toward the North, and he brought mee into the chamber that was ouer against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the lenght of an hundreth cubits, was the North doore, and it was fifty cubits broad.

3 Ouer against the twenty cubites which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber against chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubits wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

5 Now the chambers aboue were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp these, to wit, the lower, and those that were in the midst of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemost, euen from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fifty cubits long.

8 For the lenght of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fifty cubits, and loe, before the Temple were an hundreth cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entry on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thickenesse of the wall of the court toward the East, ouer against the separate place, and ouer against the building.

11 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fashions, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers, that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the way, euen the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entreth.

13 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, wherein the Priests that approach vnto the Lord, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offring, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offring: for the place is holy.

14 When the Priests entet therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and so shall approach to those things, which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

CHAP. XLIII.

a He seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 He mentioneth the idolatrie of the children of Israel, for the which they were consumed and brought to nought. 9 He is commanded to call them againe to repentance.

AFterward he brought me to the gate, euen the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel, came from out of the East, whose voyce was like a noyse of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

3 And the vision which I saw was * like the vision, euen as the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell upon my face.

4 And the b glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me vp and brought mee into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto mee out of the house: and there stood a man by me,

7 Which said vnto mee, Sonne of man, this place is my throne, & the place of the soles of my feete, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israell for euer, & the house of Israel shall no more c defile my holy Name, neither they, nor their kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeises of d their kings in their hie places.

8 Albeit they set their thresholds by my thresholds, and their postes by my postes (for there was but a wall betweene mee and them) yet haue they defiled mine holy Name with their abominations, that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carkeises of their kings far from me, and I will dwell among them for euer.

10 ¶ Thou sonne of man, shew this House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednes, & let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they haue done, shew them the forme of the house, and the paterne thereof, and the going out thereof, and the comming in thereof, & the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the lawes thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion therof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the † description of the house, It shalbe vpon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

Verse 1. The East gate D. in the great figure.

Then hee brought me toward the gate of the outward Sanctuarie, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, This gate shall be a shut, and shall not be opened, and no man shal enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entred by it, and it shall be shut.

a Meaning, from the common people, but not from the Prince, reade Chap. 46. 8, 9.

3 It appertaineth to the Prince: the Prince himselfe shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: hee shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall goe out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he mee toward the North gate before the house: and when I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, † marke well & behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, all ỹ I say vnto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the lawes thereof, & marke well ỹ entring in of the house with euery going forth of the Sanctuarie.

† Ebr. set thine heart.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, euen to the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, O house of Israel, yee haue enough of all your abominations.

b For they had brought idolaters which were of other countreys, to teach them their idolatry, Chap 23. 40.

7 Seeing that ye haue brought into my Sanctuary b strangers vncircumcised in heart, and vncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, euen fat, and blood: and they haue broken my couenant, because of all your abominations.

c Ye haue not offered vnto mee according to my Law.

8 For yee haue not kept the c ordinances of mine holy things: but you your selues haue set other to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

d The Leuites which had committed idolatry, were put from their dignitie and could not be receiued into the Priests office, although they had beene of the house of Aaron, but must serue in the inferiour offices, as to watch and to keepe the doores, reade 2. King 23. 9.

11 And they shall serue in my Sanctuary, and keepe the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stand before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idoles, and caused ỹ house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore haue I lift vp mine hand against them, sayth the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they shall not come neere vnto me to doe the office of the Priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall beare their shame, and their abominations, which they haue committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

e Which obserued the Law of God, and fell not to idolatrie.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and shall come neere to my table, to serue mee, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be cloathed with linnen garmens, & no wool shall come vpon them while they serue in the gates of ỹ inner court, & within.

18 They shal haue linne bonets vpon their heads, and shall haue linnen breeches vpon their loynes; they shall not gird themselues in the sweating places.

19 But when they goe foorth into the vtter court, euen to the vtter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherein they ministred, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments: for they shall not sanctifie the people with their garments.

20 They shall not also f shaue their heads, nor suffer their lockes to grow long, but round their heads.

f As did the infidels and heathen.

21 * Neither shall any Priests drinke wine when they enter into the inner court.

* Leuit. 10. 9.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference betweene the holy and prophane, and cause them to discerne betweene the vncleane and the cleane.

1 Out of the land of promise are three separate foure portions, of which the first is giuen to the Priestes and to the Temple, the second to the Leuites, the third to the city, the fourth to the prince. 9 An exhortation vnto the heads of Israel. 10 Of iust weights and measures. 14 Of the first fruits, &c.

MOreouer, when yee shall diuide the land for inheritance, yee shall offer an oblation vnto the Lord an [a] holy portion of the land, fiue and twentie thousand reeds long, and ten thousand broad: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

a Of all the land of Israel the Lord onely requireth this portion for the Temple and for the Priests, for the citty and for the Prince.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary fiue hundreth in length, with fiue hundreth in breadth, all square round about, and fifty cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of fiue and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priestes, which ministers in the Sanctuary, which come neere to serue the Lord: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the fiue and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Leuites that ministers in the house, haue their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Also ye shall appoint the possession of the city, fiue thousand broad, and fiue and twenty thousand long ouer against the oblation of the holy portion: it shalbe for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shalbe for the prince of the one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, euen before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shalbe by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppresse my people, and the rest of the land shall they giue to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Let it [b] suffice you, O princes of Israel: leaue off crueltie and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayeth the Lord God.

10 Ye shall haue iust balances, and a true [c] Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equall: a Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equality thereof shalbe after the Homer.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, euen of the Bath of oyle, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer)

15 And one Lambe of two hundreth sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offering, and for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande shall giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shalbe the princes part to giue burnt offings, and meate offrings, and drinke offerings in the solemne feasts and in the new moones, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the fie feastes of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offring, and the meate offering, and the burnt offring and the peace offrings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first moneth, in the first day of the e moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuary.

e Which was Nisan, conteining part of March and part of April.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure ‖ corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner court.

shall worship at the threshold of the gate: after he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut till the euening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the entry of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the new moones.

4 And the burnt offring that the prince shall offer unto the Lord on the Sabbath day, shall be sixe lambes without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offring shall be an Ephah for a ram: and the meat offering for the lambes [a] a gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moone it shall be a yong bullocke without blemish, and sixe lambs and a ram: they shalbe without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offring, euen an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ram, and for the lambs [b] according as his hand shall bring, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall goe in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemne feasts, he ỹ entreth in by the way of the North gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the South gate: and he that entreth by the way of the South gate, shal go forth by the way of the North gate: he shall not returne by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but they shall go forth ouer against it.

10 And the prince shalbe in the midst of them: he shall go in when they go in, and when they go forth, they shall go forth together.

11 And in the feastes, and in the solemnities the meate offring shall be an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambes, the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall make a free burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord, one shal then open him the gate ỹ turneth toward the East, and he shall make his burnt offring and his peace offrings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after he shall go forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offring vnto the Lord of a lambe of one yeere, without blemish: thou shalt doe it euery morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offring for it euery morning, the sixt part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with the fine flowre: this meat offring shalbe continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, and the meate offring, and the oyle euery morning, for a continuall burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saieth the Lord God, If the prince giue a gift of his inheritance vnto any of his sons, it shall be his sonnes, and it shalbe their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he giue a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruants, then it shalbe his to the [c] yeere of liberty: after, it shall returne to the Prince, but his inheritance shall remaine to his sonnes for them.

18 Moreouer the prince shall not [d] take of the peoples inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sonnes to inherite of his owne possession, that my people be not scattered euery man from his possession.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests which stood toward the North: and behold, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then sayd he vnto me, This is the place where the Priests shall seeth the trespasse offring and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meat offring, that they should not beare them into the vtter court, [e] to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the vtter court, and caused me to goe by the foure corners of the court: and behold, in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ioyned of fourtie cubits long, and thirtie broad: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall about them, euen about those foure, and kitchins were made vnder the walles round about.

24 Then sayd he vnto me, This is the kitchin where the ministers of the house shall seethe the sacrifice of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the Temple. 13 The coasts of the land of promise, and the diuision thereof by tribes.

AFterward he brought mee vnto the doore of the house: and behold, [a] waters issued out from vnder the threshold of the house Eastward: for the foresront of the house stoode toward the east, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, at the Southside of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out toward the North gate, and let me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by the way that turneth Eastward: and behold, there came forth waters in the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me thorow the waters the waters were to the ancles.

4 Againe he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: againe he measured a thousand, and brought me through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was a [b] riuer, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a riuer that could not be passed ouer.

6 And he sayd vnto mee, Sonne of man, hast thou seene this? Then he brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the riuer.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the riuer were very many [c] trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then sayd he vnto me, These waters issue out toward the East countrey, and runne downe into the plaine, and shall goe into one [d] sea: they shall runne into another sea, and the [e] waters shall be wholesome.

9 And euery thing that liueth, which mooueth, whersoeuer the riuers shall come, shall liue, and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be wholesome, and euery thing shall liue whither the riuer commeth.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: * concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land shall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border k of the land toward the North side, from the maine sea toward Hethlon, as men go to Zedadah:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is betweene the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazzar, Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shalbe Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North Northward, and the border of Hamath: so shalbe the North part.

18 But the East side shall ye measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Iorden, and from the border vnto the East sea, and so shalbe the East part.

19 And the South side shall be toward Teman, from Tamar to the waters of ‖Meriboth in Kadesh, and the riuer to the maine sea: so shalbe the South part toward Teman.

20 The West part also shalbe the great sea from the border, till a man come ouer against Hamath: this shalbe the West part.

21 So shall ye diuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shalbe vnto you, as borne in the country among the children of Israel, l they shall part inheritance with you in the mids of the tribes of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shall ye giue him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The lots of the tribes. 9 The parts of the possession of the Priests, of the Temple, of the Leuites, of the citie, and of the Prince are rehearsed.

NOw these are the names of the a tribes. From the North side, to the coast toward Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus Northward the coast of Hamath, euen from the East side to the West shalbe a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan from the East side vnto the West side, a portion for Asher.

3 And by the border of Asher from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali from the East quarter vnto the West side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the East side vnto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East quarter vnto the West quarter, a portion for Iudah.

8 And by the border of Iudah from the East part vnto the West part b shalbe the offring which they shall offer of fiue and twenty thousand reedes broad, and of length as one of the other parts, from the East side vnto the West side, and the Sanctuary shalbe in the mids of it.

9 The oblation that yee shall offer vnto the Lord, shalbe of fiue and twenty thousand long, and of ten thousand the breadth.

10 And for them, euen for the Priests shalbe this holy oblation, toward the North fiue and twentie thousand long, and toward the West ten thousand broad, and toward the East ten thousand broad, and toward the South fiue and twenty thousand long, and the Sanctuary of the Lord shalbe in the mids thereof.

11 It shalbe for the Priests that are sanctified of the sonnes of * Zadok, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray, when the children of Israel went astray, as the Leuites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered shalbe theirs, as a thing most holy by the border of the Leuites.

13 And ouer against the border of the Priests the Leuites shall haue fiue and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broad: all the length shall be fiue and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither change it, nor alienate the first fruits of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the fiue thousand that are left in the breadth ouer against the fiue and twenty thousand, shalbe a prophane place for the citie, for housing, and for suburbs, and the citie shall be in the mids thereof.

16 And these shalbe the measures thereof, the North part fiue hundreth and foure thousand, and the South part c fiue hundreth and foure thousand, and the East part fiue hundreth and foure thousand, and the West part fiue hundreth and foure thousand.

17 And the suburbs of the citie shalbe toward the North two hundreth and fifty, and toward the South two hundreth and fifty, and toward the East two hundreth and fifty, and toward the West two hundreth and fifty.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand Eastward, and ten thousand Westward: and it shall be ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for foode vnto them that serue in the city.

19 And they that serue in the city, shall be of all the tribes of Israel that shall serue therein.

DANIEL.

THE ARGVMENT.

THE great prouidence of God, and his singular mercie toward his Church are most liuely here set forth, who neuer leaued his destitute, but now in their greatest miseries and afflictions giueth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whom he adorned with such graces of his holy Spirit, that Daniel aboue all other had most speciall reuelations of such things as should come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuity, to the last end of the world, and to the generall resurrection, as of the foure Monarchies and Empires of all the world, to wit, of the Babilonians, Persians, Grecians and Romanes. Also of the certaine number of the times euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because he should be the accomplishment thereof: moreouer he sheweth Christs office and the cause of his death, which was by his sacrifice to take away sinnes, and to bring euerlasting life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the croße, so hee teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he will still leaue this exercise to his Church, vntill the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

1 The captiuity of Iehoiakim King of Iudah. 4 The King chuseth certaine yong men of the Iewes to learne his law. 5 They haue the kings ordinary appointed, but they abstaine from it.

IN the a third yeere of the reigne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Ierusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gaue Iehoiakim king of Iudah into his hand with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he caried into the land of b Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods treasurie.

3 And the King spake vnto c Ashpenaz the master of his d Eunuches, that hee should bring certaine of the children of Israel, of the e Kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well f fauoured, and instruct in all wisedome, and well seene in knowledge, and able to vnderstand knowledge, and such as were able to stand in the kings palace, and whom they might teach the g learning, and tongue of the Caldeans.

5 And the King appointed them prouision euery day of a h portion of the kings meate, and of the wine, which he dranke, for nourishing them i three yeere, that at the end thereof, they might stand k before the King.

6 Now among these were certaine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

a Reade 2 King 24. 1. and Ier. 25. 1.

b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

c Who was as maister of the wardes.

d He calleth them Eunuches whom the King nourished, and brought vp to be rulers of other countries afterward.

e His purpose was to keepe them as hostages, and that hee might shew himselfe victorious, and also by their good intreaty and learning of his religion they might fauour rather him then the Iewes, and so to be able to serue him as gouernours in their land: moreouer by this meanes the Iewes might be better kept in subiection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men.

f The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, and that they should be of a strong and comely nature, that they might doe him better seruice: this he did for his owne commodity, therefore it is not to praise his liberalitie: yet in this hee is worthy prayse, that he esteemed learning, and knew that it was a necessary meane to gouerne by. g That they might forget their owne religion and countrey fashions to serue him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused the abuse of things and superstition, insomuch that hee would not eate the meate which the King appointed him, but was content to learne the knowledge of naturall things. h That by their good entertainment they might learne to forget the mediocrity of their owne people. i To the intent that in this time they might both learne the maners of the Caldeans, and also their tongue. k Aswell to serue at the table, as in other offices.

l That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Iewes gaue their children names, which might euer put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great tentation and a signe of seruitude, which they were not able to refist.

m Not that hee thought any religion to be in the meate or drinke, (for afterward he did eate) but because the king should not entise him by this sweet poyson to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meate and drinke he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shew how God from the beginning sanctified him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.

n He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore betelu he representeth them, which are of no religion: for neither he would condemne theirs, nor maintaine his owne.

o Meaning, that within this space he might haue the triall, and that no man should be able to discerne it: and thus he spake, being mooued by the Spirit of God.

p Not that it was a thing abominable to eate dainty meates, and to drinke wine, as both beforeand after they did, but if they should haue bereby beene drawne to the King, and haue refused their owne religion, that meate and drinke had beene accursed.

q This bare feeding and that also of Moses, when he fled from the court of Egypt, declareth that wee must liue in such sobriety as God doeth call vs vnto, seing he will make it more profitable vnto vs, then all dainties: for bicause one only sufficeth.

r Meaning, in the liberall sciences, and naturall knowledge, and not in the magicall arts which are forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.

s So that he onely was a Prophet and none of the other: for by dreames and visions God appeared to his Prophets, Numb. 12. 6.

t Of the three yeeres aboue mentioned, verf. 5.

u That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet so long as that common-wealth stood.

7 Vnto whom the chiefe of the Eunuches gaue other names: for hee called Daniel Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Misha el, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel had determined in his heart that hee would not [m] defile himselfe with the portion of the kings meat, nor with the wine which hee dranke: therefore hee required the chiefe of the Eunuches that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue with the chiefe of the Eunuches.)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches said vnto Daniel, [n] I feare my lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drinke: therefore if he see your faces worse liking then the other children which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head vnto the King.

11 Then sayd Daniel to Melzar, whom the chiefe of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniel, Hananiah, Misha el, and Azariah.

12 Prooue thy seruants, I beseech thee, [o] ten dayes, and let them giue vs [p] pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the Kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and prooued them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes, their [q] countenances appeared fairer, and in † better liking then all the childrens, which did eate the portion of the Kings meat.

16 Thus Melzar tooke away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning [r] and wisedome: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all [s] visions and dreames.

18 Now when the time [t] was expired, that the King had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuches brought them before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the King communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Misha el, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the King.

20 And in all matters of wisedome, and vnderstanding that the King enquired of them, hee found them ten times better then all the inchaunters and astrologians that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto [u] the first yeere of King Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchadnezzar. 13 The king commandeth all the wise men of Babylon to be slaine, bicause they could not interpret his dreame. 16 Daniel requireth some to solute the question. 24 Daniel is brought vnto the king, and sheweth him his dreame, and the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

AND in the [a] second yeere of the reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed [b] dreames wherewith his spirit was [c] troubled, and his [d] sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the King commanded to call the inchanters, and the astrologians, and the sorcerers, and the [e] Caldeans for to shew the King his dreames: so they came and stood before the King.

3 And the King sayd vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in the [f] Aramites language, O king, liue for euer: shew thy seruants thy dreame, and wee shall shew the interpretation.

5 And the King answered and sayd to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me. If ye will not make mee vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye [g] shall be drawen in pieces, and your houses shall be made a iakes.

6 But if yee declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts and rewards, and great honour: therefore shew mee the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and sayd, Let the King shew [h] his seruants the dreame, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the King answered and sayd, I know certainly that ye † would gaine the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if yee will not declare me the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for yee haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before mee till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may know, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Caldeans answered before the King, and sayd, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the Kings matter: yea, there is neither King, nor Prince, nor Lord that asked such things at an inchanter, or astrologian, or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the King requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the King, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the King was angry and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slaine: and they [i] sought Daniel and his fellowes to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisedome to Arioch the Kings ‖ chiefe steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, he answered and sayd vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that hee would giue him leisure, and that hee would shew the king the interpretation thereof.

17 ¶ Then

a The father and the sonne were both called by this name, so that this is meant of the sonne when he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort with his father.

b Not that he had many dreames, but because many matters were contained in this dreame.

c Because it was so rare and strange a dreame: that he had not had the like.

d He was so heauy with sleepe, that he began to sleepe againe. Some reade, and his sleepe was broken from him.

e For all these Astrologers and sorcerers called themselues by this name of honour, as though all the wisedome and knowledge of the countrey depended vpon them, and that all other countreys were voide of the same.

f That is, in the Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans: saue it seemed to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned vsed to speake it, as the Iewish writers doe to this day.

g This is a iust reward of their arrogancy (which vanted of themselues that they had the knowledge of all things) that they should be proouoked fooles, and that to their perpetuall shame and confusion.

h Herein appeared their ignorance, that notwithstanding their brags, yet were they not able to tell the dreame, except he ensued them into the matter, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was but meere ignorance, and so as deluders of the people, they were worthy to die.

i Which declareth that God would not haue his seruant ioyned in the company of these sorcerers and astrologers, whose artes were wicked, and therefore iustly ought to die, though the King did it vpon a rage and no zeale.

‖ Or, the captaine of the guards.

17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house, and declared the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions.

18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellowes should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heauen.

20 And Daniel answered and said,* Let the Name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisedome and strength are his.

21 And hee changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisedome vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He discouereth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darknes, and the k light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my l fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdome and m strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that wee desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.

24. ¶ Therefore Daniel went vnto Arioch, whom the King had ordeined to destroy the wise men of Babel: hee went and said thus vnto him, Destroy not n the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the King, and I will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the King in all haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudah that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

26 Then answered the King, and sayd vnto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shew mee the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the King, and said, The secret which the King hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the inchanters, nor the soothsayers declare vnto the King.

28 But there is a God in o heauen that reuealeth secrets, and sheweth the King Nebuchadnezzar what shalbe in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this:

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come to passe hereafter, and hee that reuealeth secrets, telleth thee what shall come.

30 As p for me, this secret is not shewed mee for any wisedome that I haue more then any other liuing, but onely to shew the King the interpretation, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O King, thou sawest, and behold, there was a great image: this great image whose glory was so excellent, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine q gold, his breast, and his armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of braße.

33 His legs of yron, and his feete were part of yron, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feete, that were of yron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the braße, the siluer and the gold broken all together, and became like the chaffe of the summer floures, and the wind caried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and we will declare before the king the interpretation thereof.

37 ¶ O King, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the foules of the heauen hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler ouer them all: thou art r this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdome s inferiour to thee, of siluer, and another t third kingdome shalbe of braße, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strong as yron: for as yron breaketh in pieces, and subdueth all things, and as yron bruiseth all these things, so shall it breake in u pieces, and bruise all.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron: the kingdome shall be x diuided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the yron, as thou sawest the yron mixt with the clay, and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of yron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdome be partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest yron mixt with clay, and earth, they shall mingle themselues with y the seede of men: but they shall not ioyne one with another, as yron cannot be mixed with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings, shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which z shall neuer be destroyed: and this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Whereas thou sawest, that the a stone was cut off the mountaine without hands, and that it brake in pieces the yron, the braße, the clay, the siluer, and the gold: so the great God hath shewed the King, what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 ¶ Then the King Nebuchad-nezzar fell vpon his face, and b bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meate offrings, and sweet odours vnto him.

47 Also the King answered vnto Daniel, and

* Psal. 113. 2. and 115. 18.

k He sheweth that man hath neither wisedome nor knowledge, but very darke blindnes and ignorance of himselfe: for it commeth onely of God, that man vnderstandeth any thing.

l To whom thou madest thy promise, and who liued in thy feare: whereby he excludeth all other gods.

m Meaning, power to interprete it.

n Whereby appeareth that many were slaine, as vers. 13. and thereit as Daniel's offer were presented on condition: not that Daniel fauoured their wicked profession, but that he had respect to equity, because the King proceedeth according to his wicked affection, and not considering if their science were lawful or no.

o He affirmeth that man by reason and art is not able to attaine to the cause of Gods secrets, but the vnderstanding onely thereof must come of God: whereby he smiteth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, that he might be the more apt to receiue the his misteries, that should be reuealed.

p Because he had said that God onely must reueale the signification of this dreame, the King might haue asked, why Daniel did enterprise to interprete it, and therefore he sheweth that he was but Gods minister, and had no gifts, but such as God had giuen him to set forth his glory.

q By gold, siluer, braße, and yron, are meant the Caldean, Persian, Macedonian and Romane kingdome, which should successiuely rule all the world till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe and destroy the last: & this was to assure the Iewes, that their affliction should not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth Monarchy.

r Daniel leaueth out the kingdome of the Assyrians, which was before the Babylonian, both because it was not a Monarchy and generall Empire, and also because hee would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderfull alterations, and he calleth the Babylonian kingdome the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet it was of leese wicked and cruell.

s Meaning, the Persians which were not inferiour in dignity, power, and riches, but were worse touching ambition, cruelty, and all kind of vice, shewing that the world should grow worse and worse, till it was restored by Christ.

t That is, of the Macedonians shalbe of braße, not alluding to the hardenes thereof, but to the vilenesse in respect of siluer.

u That is, the Romane empire shall subdue all these other aforenamed, which after Alexander were diuided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.

x They shall haue ciuill wars and continuall discords among themselues.

y They shall by marriages and affinities thinke to make themselues strong: yet shall they neuer be ioyned in hearts.

z His purpose is to shew that all the kingdomes of the world are transitory, and that the kingdome of Christ shall only remaine for euer.

a Meaning, Christ, who was sent of God, and not set vp by man, whose kingdome at the beginning should be small & without beauty to mans iudgement, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountaine, as vers. 35. And this kingdome, which is not onely referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to euery member thereof, shalbe eternall: for the spirit that is in them is life eternall, Rom. 8. 10. b Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserue commendation, yet because he ioyned Gods honour with the Prophets, it is to be reprooued, and Daniel herein erred, if he suffred it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it.

said, I know of a truth that your c God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and the reuealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest open this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many, and great d gifts. Hee made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, and chiefe of the rulers, and aboue all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel e made request to the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel sate in the f gate of the king.

c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exo 9 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soone after ward.

d Not that the Prophet was desirous of gift or honour, but because by this meanes he might releeue his poore brethren, which were grieuously oppressed in this their captiuity, and also he receiued them, least he should offend this cruel king, which willingly gaue them. e He did not this for their priuate profit, but that the whole Church, which was then there in affliction might haue some releafe and ease by this benefit. f Meaning, that either he was a iudge, or that hee had the whole authority, so that none could be admitted to the kings presence, but by him.

CHAP. III.

1 The king setteth vp a golden image. 8 Certaine are accused because they despised the kings commandement, and are put into a burning ouen. 15 By beliefe in God they are deliuered from thefire. 25 Nebuchad-nezzar confesseth the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

NEbuchad-nezzar the king made a an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof sixe cubits: he set it vp in the plaine of Dura in the prouince of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchad-nezzar the king sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces, that they should come to the b dedication of the image, which Nebuchad-nezzar the c King had set vp.

3 So the nobles, princes, and dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image that Nebuchad-nezzar the King had set vp, and they stood before the image which Nebuchad-nezzar had set vp.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, Be it known to you, O people, d nations and languages,

5 That when yee heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, ye fall downe, and worship the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king hath set vp.

6 And whosoeuer falleth not downe, and worshippeth, shall the same houre be cast into the mids of an hote fiery fornace.

7 Therefore as soone as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psalterie, and all instruments of musicke, all the people, nations, and langues feell downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king had set vp.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Caldeans, and grieuously accused the Iewes.

9 For they spake and sayd to the king Nebuchad-nezzar, O King liue for euer.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musick, shall fall down, and worship the golden image.

11 And whosoeuer falleth not downe, and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the mids of an hote fiery fornace.

12 There are certaine Iewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel, f Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O king, haue not regarded thy commandement, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, so these men were brought before the king.

14 And Nebuchad-nezzar spake and said vnto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, serue my god, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 ¶ Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psaltery and dulcimer, and all instruments of musick, to fall downe, and worship the image which I haue made? for if yee worship it not, ye shall be cast immediatly into the mids of an hot fiery fornace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of mine hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and sayde to the King, O Nebuchad-nezzar, wee g are not carefull to answere thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whom we serue, is h able to deliuer vs from the hote fiery fornace, and he will deliuer vs out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it knowen vnto thee, O king, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nezzar full of rage, and the forme of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they should heate the fornace at once seuen i times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And hee charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his army, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fiery fornace.

21 So these men were bound in their coates, their hosen, and their clokes, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fiery fornace.

22 Therefore, because the kings commandement was straite, that the fornace should be exceeding hoate, the flame of the fire slew those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell downe bound into the mids of the hote fiery fornace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar the king was astonied, & rose vp in haste, and spake, & said vnto his counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the mids of the fire? Who answered, and said vnto him, It is true, O king.

25 And he answered, and said, Loe, I see foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt, and the forme of the fourth is like the k sonne of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchad-nezzar came neere to the mouth of the hote fiery fornace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, a Vnder prete nce of religion, and holinesse in making an image to his idole Bel, hee sought his owne ambition and vaine glory: and this declareth that he was not touched with the true feare of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion as the wicked, when they are ouercome with the greatnesse of his works. The Greeke interpreters write, that this was done eighteen yeeres after the dreame, and as may appeare, the King feared least the Iewes by their religion, should haue altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kinde of religion, and so to ther fought his owne quietnesse then Gods glory.

b Shewing that the idole is not knowen for an idole so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customes are recited and vsed, and the consent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god.

c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approoue their religion, if the kings authority were alleadged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the meane season what Gods word did permit.

d These are the two dangerous weapons, wherewith Satan vsed to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude, and the cruelties of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickednesse, astonied them: and heere the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Iewes might by little and little learne to forget their true religion.

e It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if these three had beene destroyed, they might haue had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policy of seeding this image was inuented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

f Signifying that he would receiue them to grace if they would now at the length obey his decree.

g For they should haue done iniury to God, if they should haue doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolued to die for Gods cause.

h They ground on two points, first on the power and prouidence of God ouer them, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

i This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more witty they shew themselues in inuenting strange and cruell punishments, the more is God glorified by his seruants to whom he giueth patience and constancy to abide the cruelty of their punishment: for either he deliuereth them from death, or else for this life giueth them a better.

k For the Angels were called the sonnes of God, because of their excellency: therefore the king called this Angel whom God sent to comfort his in their great torments, the sonne of God.

the seruants of the hie God, goe foorth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came forth of the mids of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the kings counsellers came together to see these men, because the fire had no power ouer their bodies: for not an haire of their head was burnt, neither were their coats changed, nor any smell of fire came vpon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchad-nezzar spake and sayd, [m] Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the kings commandement, & yeelded their bodies rather then they would serue or worship any god, saue their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree that euery people, nation, and language, which speake any [n] blasphemy against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shallbe drawen in pieces, and their houses shall be made a iakes, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzar king vnto all people, nations & languages, that dwell in all the [o] world, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signes and wonders, that the hie God hath wrought toward mee.

33 How great are his signes, and how mighty are his wonders! [p] his kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

[n] This commendeth their obedience vnto God, that they would not for any feare depart out of this fornace, till the time appointed, as Noah remained in the arke, till the Lord called him forth.

[m] He was mooued by the greatnes of the miracle to prayse God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to conuert men to God: but that doctrine must chiefly be adioyned, without the which there can be no faith.

[n] If this heathen king mooued by Gods spirit would not see blasphemy vnpunished, but made a law and set a punishment to such transgressors, much more ought all they that professe religion, take order that such impietie reigne not, least according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

[o] Meaning, so far as

a Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth now of a proud King, he should become as a beast. 31 After he confesseth the power of God, and is restored to his former dignity.

I Nebuchad-nezzar being at [a] rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Saw [b] a dreame, which made me afraid, and the thought vpon my bedde, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before mee, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the inchanters, the astrologians, the Caldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I told the dreame, but [c] they could not shew me the interpretation thereof.

5 Till at the last Daniel came before mee, (whose name was [p] Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy Gods in him) and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

6 O Belteshazzar, [e] chiefe of the inchanters, because I know, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tel me the visions of my dreame, that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus were the visions of my head in my bed, and behold, I saw a [f] tree in the mids of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto heauen, and the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof were faire, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: it made a shadow vnder it for the beasts of the field, & the foules of the heauen dwelt in the boughes thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I saw in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and behold, a [g] watchman and an holy one came downe from heauen, 11 And cried aloud, and said thus, Hew downe the tree, and breake off his branches: shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruite, that the beastes may flee from vnder it, and the foules from his branches.

12 Neuertheless, leaue the stumpe of his rooses in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the fielde, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the field.

13 [h] Let his heart be changed from mans nature, and let a beasts heart be giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 [i] The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demaund was answered, to the intent that liuing men may knowe, that the most High hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoeuer he will, and appointeth ouer it the most abiect among men.

15 This is the dreame, that I king Nebuchad-nezzar haue seene: therefore thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shew me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

16 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) helde his [k] peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him, and the King spake & said, Belteshazzar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through all the world,

18 Whose leaues were faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meat for all, vnder the which the beastes of the field dwelt, and vpon whose branches the foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O King, that art great and mighty: for thy greatnes is growen, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

20 Whereas the King sawe a watchman, and an holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayd, Hew downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasse binde it among the grasse of the fielde, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the fielde, [l] till seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the most High, which is come vpon my lord the king,

22 That

[a] There was no trouble that might cause me to dreame, and therefore it came only of God.

[b] This was another besides that which he saw of the foure Empires, for Daniel both declared what that dreame was and what it meant, and here he onely expoundeth the dreame.

[c] In that that he sent abroad to others, whose ignorance in times past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was euer ready at hand, it declareth the nature of the vngodly, which neuer seeke to the seruants of God, but for very necessity, and then they spare no flatterings.

[d] This no doubt was a great griefe to Daniel not only to haue his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idole, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

[e] Which also was a great griefe to the Prophet to be numbred among the sorcerers and men whose practises were wicked and contrary to Gods word.

[f] By the tree is figured the dignity of a King whom God ordeineth to be a defence for all kind of men, and whose state is profitable for mankind.

[g] Meaning the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor sleepeth, but is euer ready to do Gods will, and is not infected with mans corruption, but is euer holy: and in that that he commandeth to cut downe this tree, he knew that it should not be cut downe by man, but by God.

[h] Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchadnezzar should not onely for a time lose his kingdome, but be like a beast. God hath decreed this iudgement and the whole army of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they desire the execution of his decree against all them that lift vp themselues against God.

[k] He was troubled for the great iudgement of God, which he saw ordeined against the king, and so the Prophets vsed on the one part to denounce Gods iudgements for the zeale they bare to his glory: and on the other part to haue compassion vpon man, and also to consider that they should be subiect to Gods iudgements, if he did not regard them with pity.

[l] Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seuen yeeres. Some interpret seuen moneths and others seuen weeks, but it seemeth he meant of yeeres.

22 That they ſhall driue thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field: they ſhall make thee to eate graſſe as the[m] oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heauen: and ſeuen times ſhall paſſe ouer thee, till thou know, that [n] the moſt High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomſoeuer he will.

23 Whereas they ſaid, that one ſhould leaue the ſtumpe of the tree rootes, thy kingdome ſhall remaine vnto thee after that, thou ſhalt know, that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counſell be acceptable vnto thee, and [o] breake off thy ſinnes by righteouſneſſe, and thine iniquities by mercy towards the poore: loe, let there be a [p] healing of thine errour.

25 All theſe things ſhall come vpon the king Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 ¶ At the end of twelue [q] moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel, 27 And the king ſpake, and ſaid, Is not this great Babel that I haue build for the houſe of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maieſty?

28 While the word was in the kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, ſaying, O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it ſpoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee.

29 And they ſhall driue thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field: they ſhall make thee to eate graſſe, as the oxen, and ſeuen times ſhall paſſe ouer thee, vntill thou know-eſt, that the moſt High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whomſoeuer he will.

30 The very ſame houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and he was driuen from men, and did eate graſſe as the oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his haires were growen as Eagels feathers, and his nailes like birds clawes.

31 And at the end of theſe [r] daies, I Nebuchadnezzar lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderſtanding was reſtored vnto me, & I gaue thanks vnto the moſt High, and I praiſed and honoured him, that liueth for euer, * whoſe power is an euerlaſting power, and his kingdome is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his [ſ]will he worketh in the army of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth; and none can ſtay his hand, nor ſay vnto him, What doeſt thou?

33 At the ſame time was mine vnderſtanding reſtored vnto me, and I [t]returned to the honour of [u] y kingdome: my glory and my beauty was reſtored vnto me, and my counſellers and [t] my princes ſought vnto me, and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchad-nezzar [u] praiſe, and extoll and magnifie the king of heauen, whoſe works are all truth, and his waies iudgements: and thoſe that walke in pride, he is able to abaſe.

CHAP. V.

5 Belſhezzar king of Babylon ſeeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The ſouthſayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it alſo. 30 The king is ſlaine. 31 Darius ouergeth the kingdome.

KIng [a] Belſhazzar made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his princes, and dranke wine [b] before the thouſand

2 And Belſhazzar [ll] whiles he taſted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and ſiluer veſſels, which his [c] father Nebuchad-nezzar had brought from the Temple in Ieruſalem, that the king and his princes his wiues & his concubines might drinke therein.

3 Then were [b] ought the golden veſſels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords houſe at Ieruſalem, and the king and his princes, his wiues and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praiſed the [d] gods of gold, and of ſiluer, of braſſe, of yron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 At the ſame houre appeareth fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer [e] againſt the candleſtick vpon the plaiſter of the wall of the kings palace, and the king ſaw the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the ioynts of his loynes were looſed, and his [f] knees ſmote one againſt the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried lowd, that they ſhould bring [g] the aſtrologians, the Caldeans and the ſoothſayers. And the king ſpake, and ſaid to the Wiſe men of Babel, Whoſoeuer can reade this writing, & declare me the interpretation thereof, ſhalbe cloathed with purple, & ſhall haue a chaine of gold about his necke, and ſhalbe the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the kings wiſe men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor ſhew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balſhazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were aſtonied.

10 Now the [h] Queene by reaſon of the talke of the King and the princes, came into the banquet houſe, and the Queene ſpake and ſaid, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the ſpirit of the holy Gods, and in the daies of thy father, light and vnderſtanding and wiſedome like the wiſdome of the gods, was found in him: whom the king Nebuchad-nezzar thy father, the king, I ſay, thy father, made chiefe of the [i] enchanters, aſtrologians, Caldeans, and ſoothſayers.

12 Becauſe a more excellent ſpirit, and knowledge and vnderſtanding (for he did expound dreames, and declare hard ſentences, and diſſolued doubts) were found in him, euen in Daniel, whom the King named Belteſhazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king ſpake and ſaid vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuity of Iudah, whom my father the king brought out of Iewry?

14 Now I haue heard of thee, that [k] the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and vnm Not that his ſhape or forme was changed into a beaſt, but that he was either ſtricken mad, and ſo auoyded mans company, or was caſt out for his tyranny, and ſo wandered among the beaſts, and ate herbes and graſſe.

n Daniel ſheweth the cauſe why God thus punished him.

o Ceaſſe from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy ſinnes, that he may mitigate his puniſhment, if thou ſhew by thine vpright life that thou haſt true faith and repentance.

p Suffer the errors of thy former life to be redreſſed.

q After that Daniel had declared this viſion: and this his pride declareth that it is not in man to conuert to God, except his Spirit moue him: ſeeing that theſe terrible threatnings could not moue him to repent

Chap. 7. 14.
Mich 4. 17.
Luke 1. 33.

* He confeſſeth God will to be the rule of all iuſtice, and a moſt perfect law, whereby he gouerneth both man and Angels and deuils, ſo that none ought to murmure or aske a reaſon of his doings, but onely to ſtand content therewith and glue him the glory.

t By whom it ſeemeth that he had beene put from his kingdome before.

u He doth not onely praiſe God for his deliuerance, but alſo confeſſeth his fault, that God may onely haue the glory, and man the ſhame, and that he may be exalted and man caſt downe.

a Daniel reciteth this hiſtory of king Belſhazzar, But meruelleth how Gods iudgements in his houſe, ſo ſhew Gods iudgements againſt the wicked for the deliuerance of his Church: and how the prophecy of Iermiah was true, that they ſhould be deliuered after ſeuenty yeeres.

b The kings of the Eaſt parts then vſed to ſit alone commonly, and diſdained that any ſhould ſit in their company: and now to ſhew his power, and how little he fee[a]red by his enemy, which then beſieged Babylon, he made a ſolemne banket, and vſed exceſſe in their company, which is meant here by drinking wine: thus the wicked are moſt diſſolute and negligent, when their deſtruction is at hand.

ll Or, ouercome with wine.

c Meaning, his grandfather.

d In contempt of the true God, they praiſe their idols, not that they thought that the gold or ſiluer were gods, but that Baal was a certaine vertue and power in them, to doe them good, which is alſo the opinion of all idolaters.

e That it might the better be ſeene.

f So he that before commaunded God, was mooued by this ſight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgements.

g Thus the wicked in their troubles ſeeke many meanes, who draw them from God, becauſe they ſeeke not to him who is the onely comfort in all afflictions.

h To wit, his grandmother Nebuchad-nezzars wife, which for her age was not before at the feaſt, but came thither when ſhe heard of theſe ſtrange matters.

i Reade Chap. 2. 6. and this declare h that both this name was odious vnto him, and alſo he did not vſe theſe vile practiſes: beſi[k]des the idolaters had them in like eſtimation, as they had God, thinking that the ſpirit of prophecy and vnderſtanding cauſe hee was not among them when all were called. thought that the Angels had power as God, and therefore came of them.

derstanding, and excellent wisdome is found in thee.

15 Now therefore, wise men and Astrologians haue beene brought before me, that they should reade this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, and dissolue doubts: now if thou canst reade the writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be cloathed with purple, and shalt haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, Keepe thy rewards to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O king, heare thou, The most high God gaue vnto ‖ Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdome, and maiesty, and honour, and glory.

‖ Before he read the writing, he declareth to the king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be mooued to giue him the glory, considering his wonderfull worke toward his grandfather, and so sheweth that he doeth not sinne of ignorance, but of malice.

19 And for the maiesty that he gaue him, all people, nations and languages trembled, & feared before him: he put to death whom he would: he smote whom he would: whom he would he set vp, and whom he would he put downe.

20 But when his heart was puft vp, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And he was driuen from the sonnes of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till he knew that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointeth ouer it, whomsoeuer hee pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things, 23 But hast lift thy selfe vp against the Lord of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his House before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wiues and thy concubines haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of siluer and gold, of brasse, yron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy waies, him hast thou not glorified.

24 ᵐ Then was the palme of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, n MENE, MENE, TEKEL VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weyed in the balance, and art found ‖ too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is diuided and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandement of Belshazzar, they cloathed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the king of the Caldeans slaine.

31 And Darius o of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres old.

ᵐ After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for mine amendment.

n This word is twife written for the certainty of the thing: shewing that God had most surely counted: signifying also that God hath appointed a terme for all king domes, and that a miserable end shall come on all that raise themselues against him.

‖ Or, wanting.

o Cyrus his sonne in law gaue him this title of honour, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

CHAP. VI.

1 Daniel is made ruler ouer the gouernours. 5 An accusation against Daniel. 16 He is put into a denne of lions by the commandement of the king. 23 He is deliuered by faith in God. 24 Daniels accusers are put vnto the lions. 25 Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome a an hundreth and twenty gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome, a Reade Ester, Chap. 1, 1.

2 And ouer these, three rulers (of whom Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accomps vnto them, and the king ‖ should haue no damage.

‖ Or, not be troubled.

3 Now this Daniel b was preferred aboue the rulers, and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the king thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

b This heathen king preferred Daniel a stranger to all his nobles and familiars, because the graces of God were more excellent in him then in others.

4 ¶ Wherefore the rulers and gouernours c sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could find none occasion nor fault, for he was so faithfull that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

c Thus the vnbeleeuer cannot abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them, therefore against such assaults there is no better remedy then to walke vpright in the feare of God and to haue a good conscience.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find an occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the king, and said thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellers & dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, that whosoeuer shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirty daies saue of thee, O king, he shalbe cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius d sealed the writing and the decree.

d Herein is condemned the wickednesse of the king, who would be set vp as a god, and passed not what wicked lawes he approued for the maintenance of the same.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel vnderstood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his e window being open in his chamber toward Ierusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees three times a day, and prayed and praised his God, as he did afore time.

e Because he would not by his silence shew that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes toward Ierusalem, when he prayed: both to liue vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people, when they should pray toward that Temple, and also that others might see that he would neither consent in heart nor deed for these few daies to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came and spake vnto the king concerning the kings decree, Hast thou not sealed the decree that euery man that shall make request to any god or man within thirty daies, saue to thee, O king, shalbe cast into the denne of lions? The king answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captuity of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these words, he was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and he laboured till the Sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and said vnto the King, Vnderstand, O King, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king confirmeth, may be f altered.

16 ¶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denne of lions: now the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and layd vpon the mouth of the denne, and the King sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went vnto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musicke brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king arose early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the denne of lions.

20 And when he came to the denne, he cryed with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God (whom thou alway seruest) g able to deliuer thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the King, O king, liue for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the lions mouthes, that they haue not hurt me: for h my iustice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O king, I haue done i no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because he k beleeued in his God.

24 And by the commandement of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were l cast into the denne of lions, euen they, their children, and their wiues: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones apieces, or euer they came at the ground of the denne.

25 ¶ Afterward king Darius wrote, Vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble & feare m before the God of Daniel: for he is the n liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome shall not perish, and his dominion shall be euerlasting.

27 He resceueth and deliuereth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

f That the wicked maintaine euill lawes by constancie and authority, which is oftentimes either lightnesse, or stubbornesse, vnseen as the innocents thereby perish, and therefore gouernours neither ought to feare, nor be ashamed to breake such, g That declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power. h My iust cause and vprightnes in this thing wherein I was charged, is approoued of God i For he did disobey the kings wicked commandement to obey God, & so did no iniurie to the king, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonoured. k Because he committed himselfe wholy vnto God who he did defend, he was assured that nothing but good could come vnto him: wherein we see the power of faith, as Hebr. 11 33. l This is a terrible exam. against all the Wicked which doe against their conscience make cruell lawes to destroy the children of God and also admonisheth Princes how to punish such when their wickednes is come to light: though not in euery point, or with like circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them. m This prooueth not that Darius did worship God aright, or els was conuerted: for then he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatry: and not onely giuen God the chiefe place, but also haue set him vp, and caused him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderful miracle. n which hath not onely life in himselfe, but is the onely fountaine of life and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

CHAP. VII.

3 A vision of foure beasts is shewed vnto Daniel. 8 The tenne hornes of the fourth beast. 27 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

IN the first yeere of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dreame, and there were visions in his head, vpon his bedde: a then he wrote the a Whereas the people of Israel looked for continuall quietnesse after their seuentie yeers as Ieremiah had declared, he sheweth that this rest shal not be a deliuerance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encourageth them to looke for a continuall affliction, till the Messiah be vttered & reuealed by whom they should haue a spirituall deliuerance, and all the promises be fulfilled: whereof they should haue a certaine token in the destruction of the Babylonicall kingdome, dreame, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the foure windes of the heauen strooue vpon b the great sea:

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea one diuers from another.

4 The first was as c a lion, and had eagles wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were pluckt off, and it was lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his feet as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And behold, another beast which was the second, was like a d beare, & stood vpon the e one side, and he had three ribs in his mouth betweene his teeth, f and they said thus vnto him, Arise, and deuoure much flesh.

6 After this, I beheld, and loe, there was another like a b leopard, which had vpon his backe g foure wings of a foule: the beast had also foure heads, and k dominion was giuen him.

7 After this, I saw in the visions by night, and behold, the fourth beast was fearefull and terrible and very strong. It had great m yron teeth: it deuoured and brake in pieces, & stamped n the residue vnder his feet, and it was vnlike to the beasts that were before it: for it had o ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little p horne, before whom there were q three of the first hornes pluckt away: and behold, in this horne were r eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the s thrones were set vp, and the t Ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll, his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheeles, as burning fire.

10 A fierie streame issued, and came foorth from before him: thousand thousands ministred vnto him, and ten thousand u thousands stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the x bookes opened.

b which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in all corners of the world, and at sundry times. c Meaning, the Assyrian and Caldean empire, which was most strong and fierce in power, and most soone come to their authority, although they had wings to flie: yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, and they went on their feete, and were made like other men, which is here meant by mans heart. d Meaning, the Persians which were barbarous and cruell. e They were small in the beginning and were lifte vp in the mountaines and had no brute. f That is, destroyed many kingdomes, and was insatiable. g To wit, the Angels by Gods commandement, who by this meanes punished the ingratitude of the world. h Meaning, Alexander the king of Macedonia. i That is, his foure chiefe captaines, which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the lesse, Cassander and after him Antipater was king of Macedonia, & Ptolemeus had Egypt. k It was not of himselfe nor of his owne power that he gate all these countreys: for his armie conteined but thirty thousand men, and he ouercame in one battell Darius which had ten hundreth thousand, when he was to resiste with fewer, that his eyes were farre open, as the stories report: therefore this power was giuen him of God. l That is, the Romane Empire which was a monster, & could not be compared to any beasts, because the nature of none was able to expresse it. m Signifying, the tyranny and greedinesse of the Romanes. n, That which the Romanes could not quietly enioy in other countreys, they would giue it to other Kings and rulers, that at all times when they would, they might take it againe: which liberalitie is here called the stamping of the rest vnder the feete. o That is, sundry and diuers prouinces which were gouerned by deputies and procosuls, where of euery one might be compared to a King. p Which is meant of Iulius Cæsar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as kings in effect, but because they could not rule but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horne. For Mahomet came not of the Romane Empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of gouernement: therefore this cannot be applied vnto them, & also in this prophecie the Prophets purpose is chiefly to comfort the Iewes vnto the reuelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Antichrist. q Meaning, a certaine portion of the teene hornes that is, a part from the whole estate was taken away. For Augustus tooke from the Senate the libertie of chusing the deputies & rulers in the prouinces, & tooke the gouernement of certeine countreyes to himselfe. r These Romane Emperours at the first vsed a certaine humanitie and gentlenesse, and were content that others, as the Consuls, and Senate, should beare the names of dignity, so that they might haue the profite, and therefore in elections and consules would behaue themselues according as did other Senatours: yet against their enemies and those that would resist them, they were fierce & cruel, which is here meant by y proud mouth. s Meaning the places where God and his Angels should come to iudge these Monarchies, which iudgement should beginne at the first comming of Christ. t That is, God which was before all times, and is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory. u That is, an infinite number of Angels which were ready to execute his commandement. x This is meant of the first comming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainely reuealed by his Gospel.

y Meaning, that he was astonied when he saw these Emperours in such dignitie and pride, and so suddenly destroyed as the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchie was subiect to man of other nations.
z As the three former Monarchies had an end at the time that God appointed, although they flourished for a time, so shall this fourth haue, and they that patiently abide Gods appointment, shall enioy the promises.
a Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken vpon him mans nature, neither was the sonne of Dauid according to the flesh, as he was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the clouds: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signes of his diuinity.
b To wit, when he ascended into the heauens, and his diuine maiestie appeared, and all power was giuen vnto him, in respect of that that he was our Mediatour.
c This is meant of the beginning of Christs kingdom, when God the Father gaue vnto him all dominion, as to the Mediatour, to the intent that he should gouerne here his Church in earth continually, till the time that he should bring them to eternall life.
d Through the strangenesse of the vision.
e Meaning, of the Angels, as verse 10.

11 Then I beheld, y because of the voyce of the presumptuous words which the horne spake: I beheld, euen till the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire, 12 As z concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.
13 ¶ As I beheld in visions by night, behold, a one like the sonne of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and b approached vnto the Ancient of dayes, and they brought him before him.
14 And he gaue him c dominion, and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations and languages should serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away: and his dominion shall neuer be destroyed.
15 ¶ I Daniel was d troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraid.
16 Therefore I came vnto e one of them that stood by, and asked him the trueth of all this: so he told me, and shewed me the interpretation of these things.
17 These great beasts which are foure, are foure kings, which shall arise out of the earth,
18 And they shall take the f kingdome of the Saints of the g most High, which shall possesse the kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.
19 ¶ After this, I would know the trueth of the fourth beast, which was h so vnlike to all the others, very fearefull, whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse: which deuoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the i residue vnder his feet.
20 Also to know of the ten hornes that were in his head, and of the other which came vp, before whom three fell, and of the horne that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose k looke was more stout then his fellowes.
21 I beheld, and the same l horne made battell against the Saints, yea, and preuailed against them.
22 Vntill m the Ancient of dayes came, and iudgement was giuen to the Saints of the most High: and the time approached, that the Saints possessed the kingdome.
23 Then he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes, and shall deuoure the whole earth, and shall tread it downe and breake it in pieces.
24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome are ten Kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be vnlike to the first, and he shall subdue n three Kings, 25 And shall speake words against o the most f Because Abraham was appointed heire of all the world, Rom. 4. 13. and in him all the faithfull, therefore the kingdome thereof is theirs by right, which these foure beastes or tyrants should inuade, and vsurpe vntill the world were restored by Christ, and this was to confirme them that were in troubles, that their afflictions should haue an end at length.

g That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world, that they should looke vp to the heauens, whereon all their hope dependeth.
h For the other three Monarchies were gouerned by a King, and the Romane Empire by Consuls. Their estates changed their gouernours yeerely, and the other Monarchies retained them for terme of life: also the Romanes were the strongest of all the other, and were neuer quiet among themselues.
i Reade verse 7.
k This is meant of the fourth beast, which was more terrible then the other.
l Meaning the Romane Emperours, who were most cruell against the Church of God both of the Iewes and of the Gentiles.
m Till God shewed his power in the person of Christ, and by the preaching of the Gospel gaue vnto his same rest, and so obtained a famous Name in the world, and were called the Church of God, or the kingdome of God.
n Reade the exposition hereof, verse 8.
o That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against Gods word, and send throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did professe it.

High, and shall consume the Saints of the most High, and thinke that he may p change times and lawes, and they shalbe giuen into his hand vntill a q time, and times and the dividing of time.
26 But the r iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume and destroy it vnto the end.
27 And the s kingdome, and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen shall be giuen to the holy people of the most High, whose Kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all t powers shall serue and obey him.
28 Euen this is the ende of the matter, I Daniel had many u cogitations which troubled mee, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

p These Emperors shall not consider that they haue their power of God, but thinke it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and mans, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octauius, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c.
q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time and times, the time for his elect time.
r God by his holy spirit in his time shall destroy this little horne, that is the deuil, and the beast shall be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnes, which though they do not fully enioy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enioy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes: Vnder the heauen: and therefore here here speaketh of the beginning of Christes kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head.
s That is, some of euery sort that beare rule.
t Though he had many motions in his heart which mooued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously, yet he was content with that which God reuealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

but at length he will affwage these troubles, and shorten the same, Matth. 24. 22. which is here meant by the dividing of time. u God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horne, that it shall neuer rise vp againe. f He sheweth wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnes, which though they do not fully enioy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enioy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes: Vnder the heauen: and therefore here here speaketh of the beginning of Christes kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head.

CHAP. VIII.

A vision of a battell betweene a ramme and a goate.
2 The vnderstanding of the vision.

IN the third yeere of the reigne of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto mee, euen vnto mee Daniel, a after that which appeared vnto mee at the first.
2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is the province b of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuer of Vlai.
3 Then I looked vp and saw, and behold, there stood before the riuer a c ramme which had two hornes, and these two hornes were high: but one was d higher then another, and the highest came vp last.
4 I saw the ramme pushing against the West, and against the North, and against the South: so that no e beasts might stand before him, nor could deliuer out of his hand, but he did what he lifted, and became great.
5 And as I considered, behold, a goat came from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goate had an g horne that appeared betweene his eyes.
6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, whom I had seene standing by the riuer, and ran vnto him in his fierce rage.
7 And I saw him come vnto the ramme, and being mooued against him, he h smote the ramme and brake his two hornes: and there was no power in the ramme to stand against him, but he cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, and there was none that could deliuer the ramme out of his power.
8 Therefore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great i horne was broken: and for it came vp foure that c Which represented the kingdome of the Persians and Medes, which were ioyned together.

d Meaning, Cyrus, which after grew greater in power then Darius his vncle and father in law.
e That is, no kings or nations.
f Meaning, Alexander that came from Grecia with great speed and expedition.
g Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet hee bare the title and dignity of the generall captaine, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this borne. h Alexander ouercame Darius in two sundry battels, and so had the two kingdomes of the Medes and Persians. i Alexanders great power was broken: for when he had ouercome all the East, he thought to returne toward Grecia to subdue them that had rebelled, and so died by the way.

k That is, which were famous for almost in the space of fifteene yeere there were fifteene diuers successours before this monarchie was diuided to these foure, whereof Cassander had Macedonia, Seleucus Syria, Antigonus Asia the lesse and Ptolemeus Egypt.
l Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who was of a seruile and flattering nature, and also there were other betweene him and the kingdome, and therefore is here called the little horne, because neither princely conditions, nor any other thing was in him, why he should obtaine this kingdome.
m That is, toward Egypt.
n Where by he meaneth Ptolemais.
o That is, Iudea.
p Antiochus raged against the elect of God, and trode his precious starres vnder fert, which are so called, because they are separated from the vile.
q That is, God, who gouerneth and maintaineth his Church.
r He laboured to abolish all religion, and therefore cast Gods seruice out of his Temple, which God had chosen as a little corner from all the rest of the world to haue his Name there truely called vpon.
s He sheweth that their sinnes are the cause of these horrible afflictions: and yet comforteth them, in that he appointeth his tyrant a time, whom he would not suffer vtterly to abolish his religion.
t This horne shall abolish for a time the true doctrine, and so corrupt Gods seruice. u Meaning, that he heard one of the Angels asking this question of Christ, whom he called a certaine one, or a secret one, or a maruellous one. x That is, the Iewes sinnes, which were cause of his destruction. y That is, which suppresseth Gods religion, and his people. z Christ answered me for the comfort of the Church. a That is, vntill so many naturall dayes be past, which make 6 yeeres 3. moneths and an halfe: for so long vnder Antiochus was the Temple prophaned. b Which was Christ who in this maner declared himselfe to the olde fathers, how he would be God manifest in flesh. c This power to command the Angel, declared that he was God. d The effect of this vision shall not yet appeare, but a long time after. e Meaning, that great rage which Antiochus should shew against the Church. f That is, out of Grecia. g They shall not haue like power as had Alexander. h Noting that this Antiochus was impudent and cruell, and also craftie that he could not be deceiued. i That is, not like Alexanders strength. k Both the Gentiles that dwelt about him, and also the Iewes.

k appeared toward the foure windes of the heauē.
9 And out of one of them came forth a l little horne, which waxed very great toward the m South, and toward the n East, and toward the o pleasant land.
10 Yea, it grew vp vnto he p hoste of heauen, and it cast downe some of the hoste, and of the starres to the ground, and trode vpon them,
11 And extolled himselfe against the q prince of the hoste, from whom the r dayly sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuarie was cast downe.
12 And a time shall be giuen him ouer the dayly sacrifice for the iniquitie: and it shall s cast downe the trueth to the ground, and thus shall it doe, and prosper.
13 Then I heard one of the t Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake vnto a certaine one, saying, How long shall endure the vision of the dayly sacrifice, and the iniquitie of the x desolation to tread both the Sanctuary and the y armie vnder foote?
14 And z he answered me, vnto the a euening and the morning, two thousand and three hundreth: then shall the Sanctuary be cleansed.
15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had seene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde, there stood before me b like the similitude of a man.
16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene the banks of Vlai, which called, and saide, Gabriel, c make this man to vnderstand the vision.
17 So he came where I stood: and when hee came, I was afraid, and fell vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, O sonne of man: for d in the last time shall be the vision.
18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being asleepe fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.
19 And he said, Behold, I will shew thee what shall be in the last e wrath: for in the ende of the time appointed it shall come.
20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.
21 And the goate is the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betweene his eyes, is the first king.
22 And that that is broken, and foure stood vp for it, are foure kingdomes, which shall stand vp f of that nation, but not g in his strength.
23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the rebellious shall be consumed, a King of h fierce countenance, and vnderstanding darke sentences, shall stand vp.
24 And his power shall be mightie, but not i in his strength: and hee shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the k mightie, and the holy people.
25 And through his l policie also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and hee shall extoll himselfe in his heart, and by m peace shall destroy many: hee shall also stand vp against the n prince of princes, but he shall be broken downe o without hand.
26 And the vision of the b euening and the morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou vp the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.
27 And I Daniel was stricken and sicke q certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I did the kings businesse, and I was astonished at the vision, but none vnderstood it.

the seruant of God, because we haue sinned against him.

12 And he had confirmed his words, which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that ‖ iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not beene the like, as hath beene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Law of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that wee might turne from our iniquities and vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord † made ready the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 * And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renowme, as appeareth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy [k] righteousnes, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath bee turned away from the city Ierusalem thine holy Mountaine: because of our sinnes, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem and thy people are a reproach to all that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to [l] shine vpon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the [m] Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare and heare: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city whereupon thy Name is called: for wee doe not present our supplications before thee for our owne [n] righteousnes, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O Lord forgiue, O Lord [o] consider, and do it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy city, and vpon thy people.

20 ¶ And whiles I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy Mountaine of my God, 21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, euen the man [p] Gabriel, whom I had seene before in the vision, came flying, and touched me about the time of the euening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with mee, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seuenty [p] weekes are determined vpon [q] thy people, and vpon thine holie citie, to finish the wickednes, and to seale vp the [r] sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bring in euerlasting righteousnes, and to seale vp the vision, and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and vnderstand that from [s] the going foorth of the commandement to bring againe the people, and to build Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the Prince, shall be seuen [t] weekes and [u] threescore and two weekes, and the streete shalbe built againe, and the wall euen in a [†] troublous time.

26 And after threescore and two [x] weekes, shall Messiah be slaine, and shall [y] haue nothing, and the people of the [z] prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shalbe with a flood: and vnto the end of the battell it shalbe destroyed by desolations.

27 And he [a] shall confirme the couenant with many for one weeke: and in the mids of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to [b] cease, [c] and for the ouerspreading of the abominations hee shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall be powred vpon the desolate.

CHAP. X.

1 There appeared vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen, 11 which sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

IN the [a] third yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reuealed vnto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the word was true, but the time appointed was [b] long, and hee vnderstood the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

2 At the same time I Daniel was in heauines for three weekes of daies.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my selfe at all, till three weekes of daies were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure and twentieth day of the [c] first moneth, as I [d] was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel,

5 And I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there [e] was a man [e] cloathed in linnen, whose loynes were girded with fine gold of * Vphaz.

6 His body also was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to looke vpon) like the lightning, and his eyes as lampes of fire, and his armes and his feete were like in colour to polished brasse, and the voyce of his words was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid themselues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no [f] strength in me: for [f] my strength was turned in mee into corruption, and I retained no power.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his words: and when I heard the voyce of his words, I slept on my face, and my face was toward the ground.

10 And behold, an [g] hand touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the palmes of mine hands.

11 And said vnto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloued, vnderstand the words that I speake vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this word vnto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words a He noteth this third yeere, because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus sonne, when the Samaritanes made warre in Asia vnder against the Scythians, which was a discouraging to the godly and a great feare to Daniel b Which is to declare that the godly should not hasten too much, but patiently to abide the issue of Gods promise.

13 But the [a] prince of the kingdome of Persia withstood mee one and twenty daies: but loe, [i] Michael one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to shew thee what shall come to thy people in the latter daies: for yet the [k] vision is for many daies.

15 And when he spake these words vnto me, I set my face toward the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And behold, [l] one like the similitude of the sonnes of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and say vnto him that stood before me, O my Lord, [m] by the vision my sorrowes are returned vpon mee, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For how can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord being such one? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in mee, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came againe and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, and hee strengthened me, 19 And said, O man, greatly beloued, feare not: [n] peace be vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken vnto mee, I [o] was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speake: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Ten said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? but now will I returne to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, loe, [p] the Prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: [q] and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your Prince.

CHAP. XI.

A prophecie of the kingdomes, which should bee enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Grece, 5 Of Egypt, 28 of Syria, 36 and of the Romanes.

ALso I, in the first yeere of Darius of the Medes, euen I [a] stood to incourage, and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand vp yet [b] three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength, and by his riches hee shall stirre vp [c] all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a [d] mighty King shall stand vp, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stand vp, [e] his kingdome shalbe broken, [f] and shalbe diuided toward the [g] foure winds of the auen: and not to his [h] posterity, nor according to his dominion, which he ruled: for his king-dome shalbe plucked vp euen to be for others besides [k] those.

5 And the 1 king of the South shalbe mighty, and one of [m] his princes, and shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shalbe a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeeres they shalbe ioyned together: for the kings [n] daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but he shall not retaine the power of the [o] arme, neither shall [p] he continue, nor his [q] arme: but she shalbe deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begate her, and hee that comforted her, in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her [r] rootes shall one stand vp in his stead, [s] which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortresse of the King of the North, and doe with them at he list, and shall preuaile.

8 And shall also cary captiues into Egypt their gods with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of siluer and of gold, and he shall continue moe [u] yeres then the king of the North.

9 So the King of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his [x] sons shalbe stirred vp, and shall assemble a mighty great army, and one [y] shall come, and ouerflow and passe through: then shall he [z] returne, and be stirred vp at his fortresse.

11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth, and fight with him, euen with the king of the North: for he shall set forth a great [a] multitude, and the multitude shall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shalbe proud, and their heart shalbe lift vp: for he shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North [b] shall returne and shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeeres) with a mighty army, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall [c] many stand vp against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of thy [d] people shall exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the North shall come, and cast vp a mount, and take the [e] strong city: and the armes of the South shall [f] not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that shall come, shall doe vnto him as he list, and none shall stand against him: and hee shall stand in the [g] pleasant land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.

17 Againe he shall [z] set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him: thus shall he do, & he shall giue him the [b] daughter of women to destroy her: but

h Meaning, Cambises who reigned in his fathers absence, and did not onely for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would haue farther raged, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore haue I stayed for the profit of the Church.

i Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his loue, he sendeth foorth double power, euen Michael, that is, Christ Iesus the head of Angels.

k For though the Prophet Daniel should ende and cease, yet his doctrine should continue till the comming of Christ for the comfort of his Church.

l This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man.

m I was ouercome with feare and sorrow, when I saw the vision.

n He declareth hereby that God would be mercifull to the people of Israel.

o Which declareth that when God smiteth downe his children, he doth not immediatly lift them vp at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by little and little.

d Meaning, that hee would not onely himselfe bridle the rage of Cambyses, but also the other Kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia.

q For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

a The Angel assureth Daniel that God hath giuen him power to performe these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius when he ouercame the Caldeans.

b Whereof Cambyses that now reigned, was the first, the second Smerdes, the third Darius the sonne of Hystaspis, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God, and stood against them.

c For he raised vp all the East countryes to fight against the Grecians, and albeit hee had in his army nine hundreth thousand men, yet in foure battels hee was discomfited and fled away with shame.

d That is, Alexander the great.

e For when his estate was most flourishing, he ouercame himselfe with drinke, & so fell into a disease: of the some were, was poysoned by Cassander.

f For his twelue chief princes first diuided his kingdome among themselues.

g After this his Monarchy was diuided into foure: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the king dome of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus Egypt.

h That God reuenged Alexanders ambition and cruelty in causing his posterity to be murthered, partly of the fathers chiefe friends, and partly one of another.

i None of these foure shalbe able to be compared to the power of Alexander.

k That is, his posterity hauing no part thereof.

1 To wit, Ptolemeus king of Egypt in Thatis, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus, and one of Alexanders princes shall be more mighty, for he should haue both Asia and Syria.

m That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolomeus Philadelphus shalbe giuen in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinity that Syria and Egypt should haue a continual peace together.

n That force and strength shall not continue: for soone after Berenice and her yong sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Callinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.

o Neither Ptolomeus nor Antiochus.

q Some reade, meaning, the childe begotten of Berenice.

r Some reade, the that begate her, and thereby vnfortunate her nurse, which brought her vp: for so all they that were occasion of this marriage were destroyed.

f Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus should succeede in the kingdome being of the same stocke that Berenice was.

s To reuenge the sisters death against Antiochus Callinicus king of Syria.

t For this Ptolomeus reigned fiue & fourty yeeres.

x Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the great, the sons of Callinicus shall make war against Ptolomeus Philopater the son of Philadelphus.

y For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slaine while the warres were preparing.

z That is, Philopater when he shall see Antiochus to take great dominions from him in Syria, and afterward to inuade Egypt.

a For Antiochus had fiue thousand horsemen and three score thousand footmen.

b After the death of Ptolomeus Philopater, who left Ptolomeus Epiphanes his heire.

c For not onely Antiochus came against him, but also Philip king of Macedonia and these two brought great power with them.

d For vnder Onias which falsely alledged that place of Isa. 19. 19. certaine of the Iewes returned with him into Egypt to fulfill this prophecy.

e also the Angel sheweth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the prouidence and counsell of God.

f The Egyptians were not able to resist Scopas Antiochus captaine.

g He sheweth that he shall not onely afflict the Egyptians, but also the Iewes, and shall enter into their country, whereof hee admonisheth them before, that they may know that all these things come by Gods prouidence.

h This was the second battell that Antiochus fought against Ptolomeus Epiphanes.

i To wit, a beautifull woman, which was Cleopatra Antiochus daughter.

k For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdome of Egypt.

k She shall not age e coms vic-kedness: it shall not stand well, but shall lose her husband as her destiny requireth, and not for his destruction.

l That is, toward Asia Greca, and the seyles which are in the sea called Mediterranean: for the Iewes called all countreyes yles which were diuided from them by sea.

m For whereas Antiochus was wont to counsell the Romanes, and put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Actilius the Consull, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight and caused his shame to turne on his owne head.

n By his wicked life, and obeying of foolish counsell.

o For feare of the Rommes he shall fleete his holds.

p For when as vnder the presence of pouerty he would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Dodoneus, the countrey men flew him.

q That is Seleucus shall succeede his father Antiochus.

r Not by foreen enemies, or battell, but by treason.

s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, and was of a vile, cruell, and flattering nature and defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdome, and vsurped the kingdom without the consent of the Senate.

t He sheweth that great forreine powers shall come to helpe the yong sonne of Seleucus against his vncle Antiochus: and yet shall be ouerthrowen.

u Meaning, Ptolemeus Philometor Philopaters sonne, who was this childes cosin germine, and is here called the prince of the couenant, because he was the chiefe, and all other followed his conduct. x For after the battell Philometor and his vncle Antiochus made a league.

y For he came vpon him at vnawares, and when he suspected his vncle Antiochus nothing.

z Meaning, in Egypt. a He will content himselfe with the small holds for a time, but euer labour by craft to attaine to the chiefest.

b He shall be ouercome with treason.

c Signifying his princes and the chiefe about him.

d Declaring that his souldiers shall braft out and venture their life to slay and to be slaine for the safegard of their prince.

e The vncle and the nephew shall take truce, and banket together, yet in their hearts they shall imagine mischiefe one against the other.

f Signifying, that it shall not lie in the counsell of men to bring things to passe, but in the prouidence of God, who ruleth the Kings by a secret bridle, that they cannot doe what they list themselues.

g Which he shall take of the Iewes is spoyling Ierusalem and the Temple, and this is told them before to moue them to patience, knowing that all things are done by Gods prouidence.

h That is, the Romane power shall come against him: for P. Popilius the Ambassadour appointed him to depart in the Romanes name, to which thing he obeyed, although with griefe, and to reuenge his rage he came against the people of God the second time.

i With the Iewes which shall forsake the couenant of the Lord: for first he was called against the Iewes by Iason the Bie Priest, and this second time by Menelaus.

k She shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto the yles, & shall take many, but a prince m shall cause his shame to light vpon him, besides that hee shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon n himselfe.

19 For he shall turne his face toward the fortes of o his owne land: but he shalbe ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more p found.

20 q Then shall stand vp in his place in the glory of the kingdome, one that shall raise taxes: but after few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in r wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shall stand vp a s vile person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but hee shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdome by flatteries.

22 And the t armes shalbe ouerthrowen with a flood before him, and shalbe broken: and also the prince of the u couenant.

23 And after x the league made with him, hee shall worke deceitfully: for he shall come vp, and ouercome with a y small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers z haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: hee shall diuide among them the pray and the spoyle, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his deuises against the strong holds, euen for a a time.

25 Also hee shall stirre vp his power, and his courage against the King of the South, with a great army, and the King of the South shalbe stirred vp to battell with a very great and mighty armie: but he shall not b stand: for they shall forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of c his meate, shall destroy him: and his army d shall ouerflow: and many shall fall, and be slaine.

27 And both these Kings hearts shall be to doe e mischiefe, and they shall talke of deceit at one table: but it shall not auaile: for f yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall hee returne into his land with great g substance: for his heart shalbe against the holy couenant: so shall he doe and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed he shall returne, and come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the shippes h of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shalbe sorie and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shall he doe, he shall euen returne i and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes k shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary l of strength, and shall take away the dayly sacrifice, and they shall set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly m breake the couenant, shall hee cause to sinne by flattery: but the people that doe know their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 And they that vnderstand among the n people, shall instruct many: o yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captiuitie, and by spoyle many daies.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shalbe holpen with a p little helpe: but many shall cleaue vnto them q fainedly.

35 And some of them r of vnderst anding shal fall to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the s King shall doe what him list: he shall exalt himselfe, and magnifie himselfe against all that is God, and shall speake marueillous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper, till the wrath t be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall he regard the u God of his fathers, nor the desires x of women, nor care for any God: for he shall magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the y god Mauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with z gold and with siluer, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he doe in a the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whom hee shall acknowledge: he shall increase his glory, and shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall diuide the land for gaine.

40 And at the end of time shall the king of the b South push at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlewind with charets, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and hee shall enter into the countreies, and shall ouerflow and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the c pleasant land, and many countreyes shalbe ouerflowen: but these shall escape out of his hand, euen Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hands also vpon the countreyes, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things g of Egypt, and of the Libyans, and of the blacke Mores where he shall passe.

k A great faction of the wicked Iewes shall hold with Antiochus.

l So called because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set vp in the Temple the image of Iupiter Olympius, and so began to corrupt the pure seruice of God.

m Meaning, such as bare the name of Iewes, but in deed were nothing lesse, for they sold their soules, and betrayed their brethren for gaine.

n They that remaine constant among the people shall reach others by their example, and edifie many in the true religion.

o Whereby he exhorteth the godly to constancy, although they should perish a thousand times, and though their miseries endure neuer so long.

p As God will not leaue his Church destitute, yet will he not deliuer it all at once, but helpe, as they may still seeme to fight vnder the crosse, as he did in the time of the Maccabees, whereof he here prophecieth.

q That is, there shall be euen of this small number many hypocrites.

r To wit, of them that feare God and will lose their life for the defence of true religion. Signifying also that the Church must continually be tryed and purged, and ought to looke for one perfection after another, for God hath appointed the time: therefore we must obey. s Because the Angels purpose is to shew the whole course of the persecutions of the Iewes vnto the comming of Christ, he now speaketh of the Monarchy of the Romanes which he noteth by the name of a King, who were without all religion and contemned the true God.

t So long the tyrants shall prouaile as God hath appointed to punish his people: but he shewes that it is but for a time.

u The Romans shall obserue no certaine forme of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemne them and preferre themselues to their gods.

x Signifying that they should be without all humanity: for the loue of women is taken for singular or great loue, as 2 Sam. 1, 26.

y That is, the god of power and riches, they shall esteeme their own power aboue all their gods and worship it.

z Vnder pretence of worshipping their gods, they shall enrich their city with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power and riches: although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, least they should haue been despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they gate any countrey, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit euer came to the Rommes.

a That is, both the Egyptians & the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shall be ouercome.

b The Angel forewarneth the Iewes that when they should see the Romanes inuade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods prouidence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preserue them, 44 But the tidings out of the East & the North shall d trouble him: therefore hee shall goe forth e with great wrath to destroy and roote out many.

45 And hee shall plant the tabernacles f of his palace betweene the seas in the glorious and holy mountaine, yet he shall come to his end, and none shall helpe him.

d Hearing that Crassus was slaine, and Antonius discomfited.
e For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recouered that which Antonius had lost.
f The Romanes after sea to sea, and in Iudea this reigned quietly throughout all countreyes, and from : but at length for their cruelty God shall destroy them.

CHAP. XII.

1 Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

AND at that a time shall Michael stand vp, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shalbe a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered, euery one that shall be found written in the booke.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shalbe in great affliction and trouble at Christs comming, and next that God will sent his Angel to deliuer it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.

2 And many b of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetuall contempt.

b Meaning, all shal rise at the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth because the faithfull should haue euer respect to that: for in the earth there shalbe no sure comfort.

3 And they that be c wise, shall shine as the brightnes of the firmament: and they that d turne many to righteousnesse, shall shine as the starres, for euer and euer.

c Who haue kept the true feare of God and his religion. d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods word, and next all the faithfull which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God. e Though the most part despise this prophecy, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure. f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things: and then many shall runne to and fro, to search the knowledge of these mysteries, which things they obtaine now by the light of the Gospel.

4 But thou, O Daniel, e shut vp the words, and seale the booke f till the end of ỹ time: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shalbe increased.

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the brinke of the g riuer, and the other on that side of the brinke of the riuer.

6 And one said vnto the man cloatheth in linen, which was vpon the waters of the riuer, When shalbe the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man cloatheth in linen which was vpon the waters of the riuer, when he held vp his h right hand and his left hand vnto heauen, and swore by him that liueth for euer, that it shall tary for i a time, two times and an halfe: and when he shall haue accomplished k to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shalbe finished.

8 The I heard it, but I vnderstood it not: the said I, O my Lord, what shalbe the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way Daniel: for ỹ words are closed vp, and sealed till the end of the time.

10 Many shalbe purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall doe wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding: but the wise shall vnderstand.

11 And from the time that the l daily sacrifice shalbe taken away, and the abominable desolation set vp, there m shalbe a thousand two hundred and ninety dayes.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth & commeth to the thousand, three hundreth and n fiue & thirty daies.

13 But goe o thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stand vp in thy lot, at the end of the dayes.

g Which was Tygris.
h Which was as it were a double oath and did the more confirme the thing.
i Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and as length & short time signifying that their troubles should haue an end.
k When the Church shallbe scattered and diminished in such sort as it shall seeme to haue no power.
l From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the law.
m Signifying that the time shalbe long of Christs second comming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred.
n In this number he addeth a moneth and an halfe to the former number, signifying that it is not in man to appoint the time of Christs comming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing. o The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying that hee should depart this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

HOSEA.

THE ARGVMENT.

AFter that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtill councell of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in stead of his true seruice commanded by his word, worshipping him according to their owne fantasies and traditions of men, giuing themselues to most vile idolatry and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grew euer worse & worse and still abused Gods benefits. Therefore now when their prosperity was at the highest vnder Ieroboam, the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Isaiah and Micah to them of Iudah) to codemne them of their ingratitude: and whereas they thought themselues to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adultery: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdom, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuenty yeers, though they remained still in their vices and wickednesse and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatning only, nor yet flatter themselues by the sweetnes of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principall parts of the Law, which are the promises of saluation, & the doctrine of life: for the first part he directeth the faithfull to Messiah, by whom only they should haue true deliuerance: and for the second, he vsed threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked maners and vices, and this is the chiefe scope of all the Prophets, either by Gods promises to allure them to be godly, or else by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Law conteine these two points, yet the Prophets moreour note peculiarly both the time of Gods iudgements and the maner.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Hosea prophecied. 2 The idolatry of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

THE word of the Lord that came vnto Hosea the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes a of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, b kings of Iudah, and in the daies of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash king of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said vnto Hosea, Goe, take vnto thee a wife c of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went, & tooke d Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceiued and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Call his name e Izreel: for yet a little, and I will visite the blood of Izreel vpon the house of f Iehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

a Called also Azariah, who being a leper was deposed from his kingdom. b So that it may be gathered by the reigne of these foure kings, that he preached about threescore yeeres.
c That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or else was commanded by God to set foorth vnder this parable or figure, the idolatry of the more called Israelites of the which name they boasted, because Israel did preuaile with God: but that they were as bastards, and therefore should be called Izreelites, that is, scattered people, alluding to Izreel, which was the chiefe city of the ten tribes vnder Ahab where Iehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings 10. 8. He will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that hee shed in Izreel, for albeit God vse him vp to execute his iudgements: yet he did them for his owne ambition & not for the glory of God as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatry which he had ouerthrowen.
d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.
e Meaning, that they should be no more.

5 And at that g day will I also breake the bow of Israel in the valley of Izreel.

6 She conceiued yet againe, and bare a daughter, and God said vnto him, Call her name h Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more haue pity vpon the house of Israel, but I will vtterly i take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercy vpon the house of Iudah, and will k saue them by the Lord their God, and will not saue them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battell, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had wained Lo-ruhamah, she conceiued, and bare a sonne.

9 Then said God, Call his name l Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, therfore will I not be yours.

10 Yet the number of the m children of Israel shalbe as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor told: and in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shalbe said vnto them, Ye are the sonnes of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iudah, and the children of Israel be n gathered together, and appoint themselues one head, and they shall come vp out of the land: for great is the o day of Izreel.

CHAP. II.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 He sheweth their idolatry, and threatneth them except they repent.

SAy vnto your a brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

2 Plead with your b mother: plead with her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, and her adulteries c from betweene her breasts,

3 Least I strip her naked, and d set her as in the day that she was e borne, and make her as a wildernes, and leaue her like a dry land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the f children of fornication.

5 For their mother hath plaied the harlot: she that conceiued them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my g louers that giue mee my bread and my water, my wooll and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore behold, I will stoppe h thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that shee shall not finde her paths.

7 Though she follow after her louers, yet shall she not come at them: though she seeke them, yet shall she not finde them: then shall she say, i I will goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now she did not know that I k gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore will I returne, and take away l my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recouer my wooll and my flaxe lent, to couer her shame.

10 And now will I discouer her m lewdnesse in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her new moones, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her figtrees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my louers haue giuen mee: and I will make them as a foreſt, and the wilde beastes shall eate them.

13 And I will visit vpon her the dayes of n Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked her selfe with her o earerings and her iewels, and she followed her louers, and forgate mee, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore behold, I will p allure her, and bring her into the wildernesse, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 And I will giue her her vineyards from thence, and the valley q of Achor for the doore of hope, and shee shall r sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came vp out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me s Ishi, and shalt call me no more t Baali, 17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shalbe no more remembred by their u names.

18 And in that day will I make a couenant for them with the x wild beasts, and with the foules of the heauen, and with that that creepeth vpon the earth: and I will breake the bow, and the sword, and the battell out of the earth: and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marry thee vnto me for euer: yea, I will marry thee vnto mee in righteousnes, and in iudgement, and in mercy, and in compassion.

20 I will euen marry thee vnto me in y faithfulnesse, and thou shalt know the Lord.

21 And in that day I will heare, saith the Lord, I will euen heare z the heauens, and they shall heare the earth, 22 And the earth shall heare the corne, and the wine, and the oyle, and they shall heare Izreel.

23 And I will sow her vnto me in the earth, and I will haue mercy vpon her, that was not pitied, and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people: And they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

1 The Iewes shalbe cast off for their idolatry. 5 Afterward they shall returne to the Lord.

THen said the Lord to me, a Goe yet, and loue a woman (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel: yet they looked to other gods, and b loued the wine bottels.

2 So c I bought her to me for fifteene pieces of siluer, and for an Homer of barley, and an halfe Homer of barley.

3 And I said vnto her, Thou shall abide with d me many dayes: thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt be to none other man, and I will be so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall e remaine

g When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force.
h That is, for obtaining mercy: whereby he signifieth, that Gods fauour was departed from them.
i For the Israelites neuer returned after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians.
k For after their captiuity he restored them miraculously by the meanes of Cyrus. Ezr. 1. v. 1.
l That is, not my people.
m Because they thought that God could not haue beene true to his promise except he had preserued them, he declareth, though they were deade yet they should be without number, which stand both of the Iewes and the Gentiles. Rom. 9. 26.
n To wit, after the captiuity of Babylon when the Iewes were restored, but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles.
o The calamity and destruction of Izreel shall be so great, that to restore them shalbe as a miracle.

Seeing that I haue promised you deliuerance, it remaineth that you encourage one another to embrace the same, considering that ye are my people on whom I will haue mercy.
b God sheweth that the fault was not in him, but in their Synagogue, and their idolatries, that he forsooke them. Ie. 50. 1.
c Meaning, that their idolatry was so great, that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it. Ezek. 16. 25.
d For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparell and doowry and certaine signes of his fauour, but if they continued still, he would vtterly destroy them e When I brought her out of Egypt. Ezek. 16. 4.
f That is, bastards and begotten in adultery.
g Meaning, the Idoles which they serued & by whom they thought they had wealth and abundance.
h I will punish thee that then thou mayest try whether thine idoles can helpe thee and bring thee into such sufficiencie, that thou shalt haue no lust to play the whoore.
i This he speaketh of the faithfull, which are truely conuerted, and also sheweth the vse and profit of Gods rods.
k This declareth that idolaters do not God et his honour, when they attribute his benefits to their idoles.
l Signifying that God will take away his benefits when many by their ingratitude deserue them.
m That is, all her seruice, ceremonies and inuentions, whereby shee worshipped her idoles.

n I will punish her for her idolatry.

f That is, they should neither haue policy nor religion, and their idoles also wherein they put their confidence, should be destroyed.
g This is meant of Christs kingdome, which was promised many daies without a king & without a f prince, and without an offring, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel conuert and seeke the Lord their God, and g Dauid their king, and shall feare the Lord and his goodnesse in the latter daies.

vnto Dauid to be eternall, Psal. 72, 17.

CHAP. IIII.

A complaint against the people and the priests of Israel.

HEare the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord a hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no trueth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring, they breake out, and b blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, and euery one that dwelleth therein shall be cut off, with the beasts of the field, and with the foules of the heauen, and also the fishes of the sea shalbe taken away.

4 Yet c let none rebuke, nor reproue another: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the d day, and the Prophet shall fal with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy e mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because f thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing g thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were h increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 i They eate vp the sinnes of my people, and lift vp their mindes in their iniquity.

9 And there shalbe like people like k Priest: for I will visit their wayes vpon them, and reward them their deeds.

10 For they shall eat, and not haue enough, they shall l commit adultery, and shall not increase, because they haue left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 m Whoredome, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My n people aske counsell at their stockes, & their staffe teacheth them: for the o spirit of fornications hath caused them to erre, and they haue gone a whoring from vnder their God.

13 p They sacrifice vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hils vnder the okes, and the poplar tree, and the elme, because the shadow thereof is good: therfore your daughters shall be P harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not q visit your daughters when they are harlots, nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselues are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

a Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he citeth them before the iudgement seat of God, against whom they chiefly offended, Isa. 7, 13. Zech. 12, 10. Mich. 6, 1, 2.
b In euery place appeareth a liberty to most hainous vices, so that one followeth in the necke of another.
c As though he would say that it were in vaine to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yet, they will speake against the prophets and priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.
d Ye shall perish all together: the one because he would not obey, and the other because he would not admonish.
e That is, the Synagogue wherein thou boastest.
f That is, the Priests shalbe cast off, because that for lacke of knowledge they are not able to execute their charge, and instruct others, Deut. 33, 3. Mal. 2, 7.
g Meaning, the whole body of the people, which were weary with hearing the word of God.
h The more I was beneficiall vnto them.
i To wit, the Priests seeke to eate the peoples offerings, and flatter them in their sinnes.
k Signifying, that as they haue sinned together, so shall they be punished together.
l Shewing that their wickednesse shalbe punished on all sorts: for though they thinke by the multitude of wiues to haue many children, yet they shalbe deceiued of their hope.
m In giuing themselues to pleasures, they become like brutish beasts.
n Thus he speaketh by derision in calling them his people, which now for their sinnes they were not: for they sought helpe of stockes and stickes.
o They are carried away with a rage.
p Because they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles: therefore he will giue them vp to their lusts, that they shall dishonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1, 28.
q I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendement, but let you runne headlong to your owne damnation.

15 Though thou Israel, play the harlot, yet r let not Iudah sinne: come not ye vnto s Gilgal, neither goe ye vp to t Beth-auen, nor sweare, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an vntuly heifer. Now the Lord will feede them as a u lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is ioyned to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stinketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, x Bring ye.

19 The wind hath y bound them vp in her wings, and they shalbe ashamed of their sacrifices.

r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and willeth them to learne by their example to repent in time.
s For after the Lord had honoured this place in time past by his presence, yet because it was abused by their idolatry, he would not that his people should resort thither.
t Hee calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquity, because of their abominations set vp there, signifying that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped.
u God will so disperse them, that they shall not remaine in any certaine place.
x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, that they will command men to bring them vnto them.
y To carry them suddenly away.

CHAP. V.

1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vaine.

OYe Priests, heare this, and hearken ye, O house of Israel, and giue ye eare, O house of the King: for iudgement is toward you, because you haue beene a a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread vpon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profound to decline to b slaughter, though I haue beene a c rebuker of them all.

3 I know d Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not giue their minds to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the mids of them, & they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the e prid of Israel doeth testifie to his face: therfore shall Israel & Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Iudah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their sheepe, and with their bullockes, to seeke the Lord: but they shall not finde him; for he hath withdrawen himselfe from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord; for they haue begotten f strange children: now shall a moneth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the trumpet in Gibeah, and the shaume in Ramah: cry out at Beth-auen, after thee, O b Beniamin.

9 Ephraim shalbe desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel haue I caused to i know the trueth.

10 The princes of Iudah were like them that k remooue the bound: therefore will I power out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because hee willingly walked after the l commandement.

12 Therefore will I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iudah as a rottennesse.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickenes, and Iudah his wound, then went Ephraim vnto m Asshur, and sent vnto king n Iareb: yet could he not heale you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be vnto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lions whelpe, to the house of Iudah: I, euen I will spoyle and goe away: I will take away, and none shall rescue it.

15 I will go, and returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seeke me: in their affliction, they will seeke me diligently.

a The Priests and princes catched the poore people in their snares, as the foulers did the birds, in these two high mountaines.
b Notwithstanding they seemed to be giuen altogether to holinesse, and to sacrifices, which here he calleth slaughter in contempt.
c Though I had admonished them continually by my Prophets.
d They boasted themselues not onely to be Israelites, but also Ephraimites, because their king Ieroboam came of that tribe.
e Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions.
f That is, their children are degenerate, so that there is no hope in them.
g Their destruction is not farre off.
h That is, all Israel comprehended vnder this part, signifying, that the Lords plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed.
i By the successe they shall know that I haue surely determined this.
k They haue turned vpside downe all politicall order and all maner of religion.
l To wit, after king Ieroboams commandement, and did not rather follow

CHAP. VI.

2 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 9 The wickednesse of the Priests.

COme, and let [a] vs returne to the Lord: for he hath spoyled, and he will heale vs: he hath wounded vs, and he will bind vs vp.

2 After two daies will [b] he reuiue vs, and in the third day he will raise vs vp, and we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall we haue knowledge, and indeuour our selues to know the Lord: his going foorth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come vnto vs as the raine, & as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I doe vnto thee? O Iudah, how shall I intreat thee? for [c] your goodnesse is as a morning cloud, and as the morning dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I [d] cut downe by the Prophets: I haue slaine them by the words of my mouth, and thy [e] iudgements were as the light that goeth foorth.

6 For I desired [f] mercy, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more then burnt offrings.

7 But they [g] like men haue transgressed the couenant: there haue they trespassed against me.

8 [h] Gilead is a city of them that worke iniquity, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues wait for a man, so the company of Priests murther in the way by consent: for they worke [i] wickednesse.

10 I haue seene villeny in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, Iudah hath set a [i] plant for thee, whiles I would returne the captiuity of my people.

CHAP. VII.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

WHen I would haue healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discouered, and the wickednesse of Samaria: for they haue dealt falsly: and the a thiefe commeth in, and the robber spoyleth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickednesse: now their owne inuentions haue beset them about: they are in my sight.

3 They make the [b] king glad with their wickednes, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a very [c] ouen heated by the baker, which ceaseth from raising vp, and from kneading the dough vntill it be leauened.

5 This is the [d] day of our king: the princes haue made him sicke with flagons of wine: he stretcheth out his hands to scorners.

6 For they haue made ready their heart like an ouen whiles they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are all hote as an ouen, and haue deuoured their iudges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth vnto me.

8 Ephraim hath [e] mixt himselfe among the people: Ephraim is as a cake on the hearth not turned.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray haires are here, & there vpon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they doe not returne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a doue deceiued without [h] heart: they call to Egypt: they go to Asshur.

12 But when they shall goe, I will spreed my net vpon them, and draw them downe as the fowles of the heauen: I will chastise them as their [i] Congregation had heard.

13 Woe vnto them: for they haue fled away from me, destruction shalbe vnto them, because they haue transgressed against me: though I haue [k] redeemed them, yet they haue spoken lies against me.

14 And they haue not cried vnto me with their hearts, [l] when they howled vpon their beds: [m] they assemble themselues for corne and wine, and they rebell against me.

15 Though I haue bound and strengthened their arme, yet doe they imagine mischiefe against me.

16 They returne, but not to the most hie: they are like a deceitfull bow: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage [n] of their tongues: this shalbe their derision in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of Iudah and Israel, because of their idolatry.

SEt the trumpet to thy [a] mouth, he shall come as an eagle against the House of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my couenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall [b] cry vnto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They haue set vp a [c] king, but not by me: they haue made princes, and I knew it not: of their siluer and their gold haue they made them idols: therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against them: how long will they be without [d] innocency?

6 [e] For it came euen from Israel, the workeman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calfe of Samaria shalbe broken in pieces.

7 For they haue [f] sowen the wind, and they shall reape the whirlewind: it hath no stalke: the bud shall bring forth no meale: if so be it bring forth, the strangers shall deuoure it.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessell wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone vp to Asshur: they are as a [g] wilde asse alone by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 Yet though they haue hired among the nations, now will I gather them and they shall sorow a little for the [h] burden of the king and the princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, his altar shalbe to sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a [i] strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offrings, and eat it: but the [k] Lord accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visite their sinnes: they shall returne to Egypt.

14 For

a Hee sheweth the people how they ought to turne to the Lord, that hee might call backe his plagues.
b Though he correct vs from time to time, yet his helpe will not be farre off, if we returne to him.
c You seeme to haue a certaine holinesse and repentance, but it is vpon the sudden and as mourning cloud.
d I haue still laboured by my Prophets, and as it were framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vaine: for my word was not food to feed thē, but a sword to slay them.
e My doctrine which I taught thee, was most euident.
f He sheweth to what scope his doctrine tended, that they should ioyne the obedience of God, and the loue of their neighbour with outward sacrifices.
g That is, like light and weake persons.
h Which was the place where the Priests dwelt, and which should haue shine idolatry, and bath a Meaning, that there was no one kind of vice among them, but that they were subiect to all wickednes, both secret and open.

b They esteeme their wicked king Ieroboam about God, and seeke but how to flatter & please him.
c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning ouen which the baker heateth, still till his dough be leauened and raised.
d They vsed all riot and excesse in their feasts and solemnities, whereby their king was ouercome with surfet, and brought into diseases, and delighted in flatteries.
e By their occasion God hath depriued them of all good rulers.
f That is, he counterfeited the religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on the other, that is, neither thorow hote, nor thorow cold, but partly a Iew, and partly a Gentile, g Which are a token of his manifold afflictions.

h That is, without all iudgement, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleaue onely to God, or to seeke the helpe of man.
i According to my curses made to the whole Congregation of Israel.
k That is, diuers times redeemed them, and deliuered them from death.
l When they were in affliction, & cried out for paine, they sought not vnto me for helpe.
m They onely seeke their owne commoditie and wealth, and passe not for me their God.
n Because they boast of their owne strength, and passe not what they speake against me and my seruants, Psal. 73. 9.

a God encourageth the Prophet to signifie the speedy coming of the enemy against Israel, which was once the people of God.
b They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.
c That is, Ieroboam by whom they sought their owne liberty, and not to obey my will.
d That is, vpright iudgement and godly life.
e Meaning, the calfe was inuented by themselues, and of their fathers in the wildernes.
f Shewing that their religion hath but a shew, and in it selfe is but vanity.
g They neuer cease, but runne to and fro to seeke helpe.
h That is for the tribute which the king and the princes shall lay vpon them, which meanes the Lord vseth to bring them to repentance.
i Thus the idolaters count the word of God as strange in respect of their owne inuentions.
k Saying that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no seruice, which he himselfe hath not appointed.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth Tempels, and Iudah hath increased strong cities: but I will send a fire vpon his cities, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

Of the hunger and captiuity of Israel.

REioyce not, O Israel for ioy [a] as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loued [b] a reward vpon euery corne floore.

2 [c] The floore, and the wine presse shall not feed them, and the new wine shall faile in her.

3 They will not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they will eate vncleane things in Assiur.

4 They shall not offer [d] wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: but they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof shall be polluted: for their bread [e] for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will ye doe [f] then in the solemne day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For loe, they are gone from [g] destruction: but Egypt shall gather them vp, and Memphis shall bury them: the nettle shall possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, and the thorne shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come: the dayes of recompense are come: Israel shall know it: [h] the Prophet is a foole: the spirituall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [i] should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in al his waies, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They [k] are deepely set: they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like [l] grapes in the wildernesse: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselues vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to [m] their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth [n] and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring vp their children, yet I will deprive them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw, is as a tree [o] in Tyrus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murtherer.

14 O Lord, giue them: what wilt thou giue them? giue them a [p] barren wombe and drie breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is in [q] Gilgal; for there doe I hate them: for the wickednesse of their inuentions, I will cast them out of mine House; I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried vp: they can bring no fruite: yea, though they bring foorth, yet will I slay euen the deareſt of their body.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.

CHAP. X.

1 Against Israel and his idoles. 14 His destruction for the same.

ISrael is an [a] emptie vine, yet hath it brought foorth fruit vnto it selfe, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof hee hath increased the altars: according to the [b] goodnesse of their land they haue made faire images.

2 Their heart is [c] diuided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall breake downe their altars, he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shall say, We haue no [d] King because we feared not the Lord: and what should a King doe to vs?

4 They haue spoken words, swearing falsly in making a [e] couenant: thus [f] iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the fielde.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall [g] feare because of the calfe of Beth-auen; for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, and the [h] Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also brought to Assiur, for a present vnto king Iareb: Ephraim shall receiue shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his owne counsell.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed, as the fome vpon the water.

8 The high places also of [i] Auen shall be destroyed, euen the sinne of Israel: the thorne and the thistle shall grow vpon their altars, and they shall say to the mountaines, * Couer vs, and to the hils, Fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast [k] sinned from the dayes of Gibeah: there they stood: the battell in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not [l] ouertake them.

10 It is my desire [m] that I should chastise them, and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall gather themselues in their two [n] sorrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vsed to delight in [p] threshing: but I will passe by her [q] faire necke: I will make Ephraim to ride: Iudah shall plowe, and Iaakob shall breake his clods.

12 Sowe to your selues in righteousnesse, reape after the measure of mercy: [r] breake vp your fallow ground: for it is time to seeke the Lord, till he come and raine righteousnesse vpon you.

13 But you haue plowed wickednes: ye haue reaped iniquity: you haue eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thine owne waies, and in the multitude of thy strong men,

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as [s] Shalman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day a For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.

b Thou hast committed idolatry in hope of reward, and to haue thy barnes filled, Iere. 44.17. as an harlot that had rather liue by playing the whore, then to be intertained of her owne husband.

f When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of seruing him, which shall be the most grieuous point of your captiuitie, when ye shall see your selues cut off from God.

g Though they thinke to escape by fleeing the destruction that is at hand, yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succour.

h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them, who challenged to themselues to be their prophets and spirituall men.

i The Prophets duety is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God.

k This people is so reformed in their wickednesse, that Gibeah which was like to Sodom, was neuer more corrupte, Iudg. 19. 22.

l Meaning, that he so esteemed them, and delited in them.

m They were as abominable vnto me, as their louers the idoles.

n Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry meanes, and so consume them by little and little.

o As they kept tender plants in their houses in Tyrus to preserue them from the cold ayre of the sea, so was Ephraim at the first vnto mee, but now I will giue him to the slaughter.

p The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God to-ward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather then that this great slaughter should come vpon their children.

q The chiefe cause of their destruction is, that they commit idolatry, and corrupt my Religion in Gilgal, a Whereof though the grapes were gathered, yet euer as it gathered more strength, it increased new wickednesse, so that the correction which should haue brought them to obedience, did but euer their stubburnesse.

of battel: the mother with the children was dashed in pieces.

15 So shall Beth-el doe vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed.

CHAP. XI.

1 The benefits of the Lord toward Israel. 5 Their ingratitude against him.

WHen Israel a was a child, then I loued him, and called my sonne out of Egypt.

2 They called them, but they b went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baalim, and burnt incense to images.

3 I led Ephraim also, as one should beare them in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I ledde them with coards c of a man, euen with bands of loue, and I was to them, as he that taketh off the yoke from their iawes, and I layde the meat vnto them.

5 He shall no more returne into the land of Egypt: but Assiur shall be his d King, because they refused to conuert.

6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his barres, and deuoure them, because of their owne counsels.

7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though e they called them to the most hie, yet none at all would exalt him.

8 f How shall I giue thee vp, Ephraim? how shall I deliuer thee, Israel? how shall I make thee, as g Admah? how shall I set thee, as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within mee: h my repentings are rouled together.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath: I will not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the mids of thee, and I will not i enter into the city.

10 They shall walke after the Lord: he shall roare like a lion: when hee shall roare, then the children of the West shall feare.

11 k They shall feare as a sparow out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the land of Assiur, and I will place them in their houses, sayth the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth mee about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Iudah yet ruleth with l God, and is faithfull with the Saints.

k The Egyptians and the Assyrians shalbe afraid when his people. l Gouerneth their state according to Gods word, and doeth not degenerate.

CHAP. XII.

Hee admonisheth by Iaakobs example to trust in God, and not in man.

EPhraim is fed a with the wind, and followeth after the East winde: he increaseth dayly lies and destruction, and they doe make a couenant with Assiur, and b oyle is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath also a controuersie with c Iudah, and will visite Iaakob, according to his wayes: according to his workes, will he recompense him.

3 Hee tooke his brother by the heele in the wombe, and by his strength he had d power with God.

4 And had e power ouer the Angel, and preuailed; he wept and prayed vnto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with vs.

5 Yea the Lord God of hoastes, the Lord is himselfe his memoriall.

6 Therefore turne thou to thy God: keepe mercy and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 Hee is g Canaan: the balances of deceit are in his hand, he loueth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim sayd, Notwithstanding I am rich, I haue found mee out riches in all my labours: they shall find none iniquitie in me, h that were wickednesse.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the tabernacles, as in i the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I haue also spoken by the Prophets, and I haue multiplied visions, and vsed similitudes by the ministery of the Prophets.

11 Is there k iniquitie in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal, and their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

12 l And Iaakob fled into the countrey of Aram, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheepe.

13 And by a m Prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was hee reserued.

14 But Ephraim prouoked him with high places: therefore shall his blood be powred vpon him, and his reproach shall his Lord reward him.

l If you boast of your riches and nobilitie, yee seeme to reproch your father, who was a poore fugitiue and seruant. m Meaning, Moses, whereby appeareth, that whatsoeuer they haue, it commeth of Gods free goodnesse.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The abomination of Israel, 9 and the cause of their destruction.

WHen Ephraim spake, there was a trembling: hee b exalted himselfe in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, & and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and haue made them molten images of their siluer, and idoles according to their owne vnderstanding: they were all the worke of the craftesmen: they say one to another whiles they sacrifice a d man, Let them kisse the calues.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the morning dew that passeth away, as the chaffe that is driuen with a whirlewinde out of the floore, and as the smoake that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God e from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but mee: for there is no Sauiour beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wildernesse, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten me.

7 And I will be vnto them as a very lion, and as a leopard in the way of Assiur.

8 I will meete them, as a beare that is robbed of her whelps, and I will breake the kall of their heart, and there will I deuoure them like a lion: the wilde beasts shall teare them.

9 O Israel, one hath destroyed thee, but in me is thine helpe.

10 g I am: where is thy king that should helpe thee in all thy cities? and thy iudges, of whom thou saydest, Giue me a king and princes?

11 I gaue thee a king in mine anger, and I tooke him away in my wrath.

a While the Israelites were in Egypt, and did not prouoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude. b They rebelled and went a contrary way when the Prophets called them to repentance. c That is, friendly: and not as beasts or slaues. d Seeing they contemne all this kindnesse, they shalbe led captiue into Assyria. e To wit, the Prophets. f God considereth with himselfe, and that with a certaine griefe, how to punish them. g Which were two of the cities that were destroyed with Sodom, Deut. 29.23. h Meaning, that his loue wherewith he first loued them, made him beswcene doubt and assurance what to do: and herein appeareth his Fatherly affection, that his mercy toward his shall ouercome his iust iudgements, as he declareth in the next verse. i To consume thee, but will cause thee to yeeld, and so receiue thee to mercy: and this is meant of the small number who shall walke after the Lord. the Lord maintaineth his word, and doeth not a That is, flattereth himselfe with vaine confidence. b Meaning, presenteth to get friendlihip c Which in these points was like to Ephraim, but not in idolatries. d Seeing that God thus preferre Iaakob their father, Iudahs ingratitude was the more to be abhorred. e Reade Gen. 32.31. f God found Iaakob as hee lay sleeping in Bethel, Gen. 28.12. and so spake with him there, that the fruite of that speach appertained to the whole body of the people, whereof we are.

g As for Ephraim he is more like the wicked Canaanites, then godly Abraham or Iaakob. h Thus the wicked measure Gods fauour by outward prosperitie, and like hypocrites cannot abide that any should reproue their doings. i Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefits, I will bring thee againe to dwell in tents, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou doit now contemne. k The people thought that no man durst haue spoken against Gilead, that holy place, and yet the Prophet sayeth, that all their religion was but vanitie.

a Hee sheweth the excellencie and authoritie that this tribe had about all the rest. b He made a king of his tribe. c The Ephraimites are not farre from destruction, and haue lost their authoritie. d The false prophets perswaded the idolaters to offer their children after the example of Abraham, and he sheweth how they would exhort one another to the same, and to kisse and worship these calues which were their idoles. e He calleth them to repentance, and reproueth their ingratitude. f Thy destruction is certaine, and my benefits toward thee declare that it commeth not of me: therefore thine owne malice, idolatry and vaine confidence in men must needs be the cause thereof. g I am all one, Iames 1.17.

h It is surely laid vp to be punished, as Ier. 17.1.
i But would come out of the wombe, that is out of this danger wherein he is, and not tary to be stifled.
k Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he will deliuer his, but euen in death will he giue them life.
l Because they will not turne to me, I will not change my purpose.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is h bound vp: his sinne is hid.

13 The sorrowes of a trauailing woman shall come vpon him: he is an vnwise sonne, else would he not stand still at the time, euen at the i breaking foorth of the children.

14 I will redeeme them from the power of the graue: I will deliuer them from death, O k death, I will be thy death: O graue, I will be thy destruction: Repentance is hid from mine eyes.

15 Though he grow vp among his brethren, an East wind shall come, euen the wind of the Lord shall come vp from the wildernes, and dry vp his veine, and his fountaine shalbe dried vp: he shall spoyle the treasure of all pleasant vessels.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The destruction of Samaria. 2 He exhorteth Israel to turne to God, who requireth praise and thanks.

SAmaria shalbe desolate: for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shalbe dashed in pieces, and their women with child shalbe ript.

a He exhorteth them to repentance to, auoid all these plagues, willing them to declare by words their obedience and repentance.
b He sheweth them how they ought to confesse their sinnes.

2 O Israel, a returne vnto the Lord thy God: for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

3 a Take vnto you words and turne to the Lord, and say vnto him, b Take away all iniquity, and receiue vs graciously, so will we render the calues of our c lips.

4 Asshur shall not saue vs, neither will we ride vpon horses, neither will we say any more to the worke of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherlesse findeth mercy.

5 d I will heale their rebellion: I will loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

6 I will be as the dew vnto Israel: he shall grow as the lily and fasten his rootes, as the trees of Lebanon.

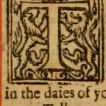
7 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shalbe as the oliue tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

8 They that dwell vnder his shadow, shall returne: they shall reuiue as the corne, and flourish as the vine: the sent thereof shalbe as the wine of Lebanon.

9 Ephraim shall say, What haue I to doe any more with idoles: I g haue heard him, and looked vpon him: I am like a greene firre tree: vpon me is thy fruit found.

10 Who is h wise, and he shall vnderstand these things? and prudent, and he shall know them? for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, and the iust shall walke in them: but the wicked shall fall therein.

c Declaring, that this is the true sacrifice, that the faithfull can offer, euen thanks and praise, Heb. 13.15.
d We will leaue off all vaine confidence and pride.
e He declareth how ready God is to receiue them that doe repent.
f Whosoeuer ioyne themselues to this people, shalbe blessed.
g God sheweth how prompt he is to beate his, when they repent, and to offer himselfe, as a protection, and safegard vnto them, as a most sufficient fruit and profit.
h Signifying, that the true wisedome and knowledge consisteth in this, euen to rest vpon God.



I O E L.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet Ioel first rebuketh them of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaine still obstinate. Secondly, he threateneth greater plagues, because they grew daily to a more hardnesse of heart, and rebellion against God notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly, he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceed from the heart, because they had grieuously offended God. And so doing, he promiseth that God will be mercifull, and not forget his couenant that he made with their fathers, but will send his Christ, who shall gather the scattered sheepe, and restore them to life and liberty, though they seemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

1 A prophecy against the Iewes. 2 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting for the misery that was at hand.

THe word of the Lord that came to Ioel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye this, O a Elders, and hearken ye all inhabitants of the land, whether b such a thing hath beene in your daies, or yet in the daies of your fathers.

3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children shew to their children, and their children to another generation.

4 That which is left of the palmer worme, hath the grashopper eaten, and the residue of the grashopper hath the canker worme eaten, and the residue of the canker worme hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake ye c drunkards, & wheepe, and howle all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine, for it shalbe pulled from your mouth.

6 Yea, d a nation commeth vpon my land, mighty, and without number, whole teeth are like the teeth of a lion, and he hath the iawes of a great lion.

7 He maketh my vine waste, and pilleth off the barke of my figtree: he maketh it bare, and casteth it downe: the branches thereof are made white.

8 Mourne like a virgin girded with sackcloath, for the e husband of her youth.

9 The meat offring, and the drinke offring is f cut off from the house of the Lord: the Priests the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The field is wasted: the land mourneth: for the corne is destroyed: g the new wine is dried vp, and the oyle is decayed.

11 Be ye ashamed, O husbandmen: howle, O ye vine dressers for the wheate and for the barley, because the harueſt of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figtree is decayed: the pomegranate tree and the palme tree, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the field are withered: surely the ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 h Gird your selues and lament, ye Priests; howle ye ministers of the altar; come, and lie all night in sackcloath, ye ministers of my God; for the meat offering and the drinke offering is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctify you a fast; call a solemne assembly; gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and cry vnto the Lord.

15 Alas; for the day, for the i day of the Lord is at hand, and it commeth as a destruction from the Almighty.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes? and ioy, and gladnes from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods; the garners are destroyed; the barnes are broken downe, for the corne is withered.

18 How did the beasts mourne! the heards of cattell pine away, because they haue no pasture, and the flocks of sheepe are destroyed.

19 O Lord, to thee will I cry; for the fire hath a Signifying the Princes, the Priests, and the gouernours.

b He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of Gods iudgements, who had now plagued the fruits of the ground for the space of foure yeere, which was for their sinnes, and to call them to repentance.
c Meaning, that the occasion of their excesse and drunkennes was taken away.
d This was another plague wherewith God had punished them, when he stirred vp the Assyrians against them. e Mourne grieuously, as a woman which hath lost her husband to whom she hath beene maried in her youth.
f The tokens of Gods wrath did appeare in his Temple, insomuch as Gods seruice was left off.
g All comfort and substance for mans refreshment is taken away.
h He sheweth that the onely meanes to auoid Gods wrath, and to haue all things restored, is vnfained repentance.
i We see by these great plagues that vtter destruction is at hand.

devoured the pastures of the wilderneſſe, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the field.

20 The beaſts of the field cry alſo vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dried vp, and the [k] fire hath deuoured the paſtures of the wildernes.

CHAP. II.

He propheſieth of the comming & cruelty of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to mouue them to conuerſi. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

BLow [a] the trumpet in Zion, and ſhout in mine holy mountaine, let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord is come: for it is at hand.

2 A [b] day of darknes, and of blacknes, a day of clouds and obſcurity, as the morning ſpread vpon the mountaines, ſo there a [c] great people, and a mighty: there was none like it from the beginning, neither ſhalbe any more after it, vnto the yeeres of many generations.

3 A fire deuoureth before him, and behind him a flame burneth vp: the land is as the garden of [d] Eden before him, and behind him a deſolate wildernes, ſo that nothing ſhall eſcape him.

4 The beholding of him is like the ſight of horſes, and like the horſemen, ſo ſhall they runne.

5 Like the noyſe of charets in the tops of the mountaines ſhall they leape, like the noiſe of a flame of fire that deuoureth the ſtubble, and as a mighty people prepared to the battell.

6 Before his face ſhall the people tremble: all faces [e] ſhall gather blacknes.

7 They ſhall runne like ſtrong men, and go vp to the wall like men of warre, and euery man ſhall go forward in his waies, and they ſhall not ſtay in his paths.

8 Neither ſhall one [f] thruſt another, but euery one ſhall walke in his path: and when they fall vpon the ſword, they ſhall not be wounded.

9 They ſhall runne to and fro in the city: they ſhall run vpon the wall: they ſhall climbe vp vpon the houſes, and enter in at the windowes like the thiefe.

10 The earth ſhall tremble before him, the heauens ſhall ſhake, the [g] ſunne and the moone ſhalbe darke, & the ſtarres ſhall withdraw their ſhining.

11 And the Lord ſhall [h] vtter his voyce before his hoſt, for his hoſt is very great: for he is ſtrong that doeth his word: * for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 Therefore alſo now the Lord ſaith, Turne you vnto me with all your heart, and with faſting, and with weeping, and with mourning.

13 And [i] rent your heart, and not your cloathes: and turne vnto the Lord your God, for he is gracious and mercifull, ſlow to anger, & of great kindnes, and repenteth him of the euill.

14 Who knoweth if he will returne and repent and leaue a bleſſing behind him, euen a meat offring and a drinke offering vnto the Lord your God?

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, ſanctify a faſt, call a ſolemne aſſembly.

16 Gather the people, ſanctify the congregation: gather the elders: aſſemble the [l] children, and thoſe that ſuck the breaſts: let the bridgrome go foorth of his chamber, and the bride out of her bride chamber.

17 Let the Priеſts, the miniſters of the Lord, weepe betweene the porch and the altar, and let them ſay, Spare thy people, O Lord, and giue not thine heritage into reproach, that the heathen ſhould rule ouer them. * Wherefore ſhould they ſay among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then will the Lord be [m] iealous ouer his land, and ſpare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord will anſwere and ſay vnto his people, Behold, I will ſend you corne and wine, and oyle, and you ſhalbe ſatiſhed therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen.

20 But I will remoone farre off from you the [n] Northran army, and I will driue him into a land, barren and deſolate with his face toward the [o] Eaſt ſea, and his end to the vtmoſt ſea, and his ſtinke ſhall come vp, and his corruption ſhall aſcend, becauſe he hath exalted himſelfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O land, but be glad, and reioyce: for the Lord will doe great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beaſts of the field: for the paſtures of the wildernes are greene for the tree beareth her fruit: the figgetree and the vine doe giue their force.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and reioyce in the Lord your God, for he hath giuen you the raine of [p] righteouſneſſe, * & he will cauſe to come downe for you the raine, euen the firſt raine, and the latter raine in the firſt moneth.

24 And the barnes ſhal be full of wheate, and the preſſes ſhall abound with wine and oyle.

25 And I will render you the yeeres that the graſhopper hath eaten, the canker worme and the caterpiller, and the palmer worme, my great hoaſt which I ſent among you.

26 So you ſhall eat and be ſatiſfied and praiſe the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt marueiloſly with you: and my people ſhall neuer be aſhamed.

27 Ye ſhall alſo know that I am in the midſt of Iſrael, and that I am the Lord your God and none other, and my people ſhall neuer be aſhamed.

28 And afterward will I powre [q] out my Spirit vpon all fleſh, and your ſonnes and your daughters ſhall prophecy: your old men ſhall dreame [r] dreames, and your young men ſhall ſee viſions.

29 And alſo vpon the ſeruants, & vpon the maids in thoſe daies will I powre my Spirit.

30 And I will ſhew [s] wonders in the heauens and in the earth: blood and fire, and pillars of ſmoke.

31 The [t] ſunne ſhalbe turned into darknes, and the moone into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whoſoeuer ſhall call [u] on the name of the Lord ſhalbe ſaued: for in mount Zion and in Ieruſalem ſhalbe deliuerance, as the Lord hath ſaid, & in the [x] remnant, whom the Lord ſhall call.

CHAP. III.

Of the iudgement of God againſt the enemies of his people.

FOr behold, in [a] thoſe daies and in that time, when I ſhall bring againe the [b] captiuity of Iudah and Ieruſalem,

2 I will alſo gather all nations, & will bring them downe into the [c] valley of Ioſhaphat, and will pleade with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Iſrael: whom they haue ſcattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue caſt lottes for my people, x Meaning hereby the Gentiles, Rom. 10. 13.

a When I ſhall deliuer my Church, which ſtandeth of the Iewes and of the Gentiles.
b It appeareth that he alludeth to that great victory of Ioſhaphat, when as God without mans help, deſtroyed the enemies, 2 Chro. 20. 26. alſo he hath reſpect to this word Ioſhaphat, which ſignifieth pleading or iudgement, becauſe God would iudge the enemies of his Church, as he did there, c Which ſignifieth pleading or iudgement, becauſe God would iudge the enemies of his Church, as he did there, and and haue giuen the child c for the harlot, and sold the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 Yea, and d what haue you to do with me, O Tyrus and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestina? will ye render me e a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I render your recompense vpon your head.

5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my gold, and haue caried into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Iudah and the children of Ierusalem haue you sold vnto the Grecians, that ye might send them farre from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place where ye haue sold them, and will render your reward vpon your owne head.

8 And I will sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Iudah, and they shall send them to the Sabeans, to a people farre off, for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, wake vp the mighty men: let all the men of warre draw neere and come vp:

10 g Breake your plowshares into swords, and your sithes into speares: let the weake say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen, and gather your selues together round about: there shall the Lord cast downe thy mighty men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come vp to the valley of Iehoshaphat: for there will I sit to iudge all the heathen round about.

13 Put in your h sithes, for the haruest is ripe, come, get you downe, for the winepresse is full: yea, the winepresses runne ouer, for their wickednesse is great.

14 O multitude, O multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lord is neere in the valley of threshing.

15 The sunne and moone shalbe darkened, & the starres shall withdraw their light.

16 The Lord also shall roare out of Zion, and vtter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the heauens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the i hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, mine holy Mountaine: then shall Ierusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers goe k thorow her any more.

18 And in that day shall the mountaines l drop downe new wine, and the hilles shall flow with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shall runne with waters, and a fountaine shall come forth of the House of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 m Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe a desolate wildernes, for the iniuries of the children of Iudah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Iudah shall dwell for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will a cleanse their blood, that I haue not cleansed, and the Lord will dwell in Zion.

c That which the enemy gate for the sale of my people, he bestowed vpon harlots and drinke.

d He taketh the cause of his Church in hand against the enemy, as though that iniury were done to himselfe.

e Haue I done you wrong, that ye will render me the like?

f For afterward God sold them by Nebuchad-nezzar and Alexander the great, for the loue he bare to his people, and thereby they were comforted, as though the price had beene theirs.

g When I shall execute my iudgement against mine enemies, I will cause euery one to be ready, and to prepare their weapons to destroy one another for my Churches sake.

h That he shall encourage the enemies when their wickednes is full ripe, to destroy one another, which he calleth the valley of Gods iudgement.

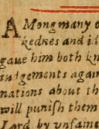
i God assureth his against all trouble, that when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shalbe deliuered.

k The strangers shall no more destroy his Church: which if they doe, it is the people, which by their sinnes make the breach for the enemy.

l He promiseth to his Church abundance of graces, readeEzek. 47, 1. which should water and comfort the most barren places, Amos 9, 13.

m The malicious enemies shall haue no part of his grace.

n He had suffered his Church hitherto to lie in their filthines, but now he promiseth to cleanse them, and to make them pure vnto him.



AMOS.

THE ARGVMENT.

AMong many other Prophets that God raised vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednes and idolatry, he stirred vp Amos, who was an heardman or shepheard of a poore towne, and gaue him both knowledge and constancy to reproue all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spared not the other nations about them, who had liued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes will punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by vnfained repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the comming of the Messiah, by whom they should haue perfect deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. I.

2 The time of the prophecy of Amos. 3 The word of the Lord against Damascus. 6 The Philistims, Tyrus, Idumea, and Ammon.

THe words of Amos, who was among the heardmen of a Tecoa, which he saw vpon Israel, in the daies of Vziah king of Iudah, and in the daies of b Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash king of Israel, two yeeres before the c earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roare from Zion, and vtter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepheards shall perish, and the top d of Carmell shall whither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For e three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue f threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of yron.

4 Therefore will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the g palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will breake also the barres of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bikeath-auen: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth-eden, and the people of Aram shall goe into captiuity vnto h Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they i caried away prisoners the whole captiuity to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistims shall perish, saieth the Lord God.

9 k Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, c Which was a towne fiue miles from Ierusalem in Iudea, but he prophecied in Israel.

b In his daies the kingdome of Israel did most flourish.

c Which as Iosephus writeth, was when Vzziah would haue vsurped the Priests office, and therefore was smitten with the leprosie.

d Whatsoeuer is fruitfull and pleasant in Israel, shall shortly perish.

e He sheweth first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifolds sinnes: which are meant by three and foure, which make seuen, because the Israelites should the more terribly consider Gods iudgements toward them.

f As the Syrians shall not be spared for committing this cruelty against one city, so it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment which hath committed so many and grieuous sinnes against God and man.

g The antiquity of their buildings shall not auoyde my iudgements, readeIer. 49, 27.

h Tiglath Pileser led the Assyrians captiue, and brought them to Cyrene, which he calleth here Kir.

i They ioyned themselues with the Edomites their enemies, which caried them away captiues.

k Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they shut the whole captiuity in Edom, and haue not remembred the k brotherly couenant.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and ‖ did cast off all pity, and his anger spoyled him euermore, and his wrath watched him l alway.

12 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the places of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they m haue ript vp the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewind.

15 And their king shall go into captiuity, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

Against Moab, Iudah and Israel.

THus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because it burnt the a bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Moab, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the iudge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, b I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Law of the Lord, and haue not kept his commandements, and their lies caused them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Iudah, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of c Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they sold the righteous for siluer, and the poore for d shooes.

7 They gape ouer the head of the poore, in the e dust of the earth, and peruert the wayes of the meeke: and a man and his father will goe in to a maid, to dishonour my holy Name.

8 And they lye downe vpon cloathes laid to pledge f by euery altar: and they g drinke the wine of the condemned in the House of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the h Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding I destroied his fruit from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you fourty yeeres thorow the wildernes to possesse the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, & commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecy not.

13 Behold, I am k pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

14 Therefore the flight shall perish from the l swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty saue his life.

15 Nor he that handled the bow shall stand, & he that is swift of foote, shall not escape, neither shall he that rideth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of a mighty courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

CHAP. III.

He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God will punish them.

HEare this word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against the whole family which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You a onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth: therefore will I visit you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together except they be b agreed?

4 Will a c lyon roare in the forrest, when he hath no pray? or will a lions whelpe cry out of his den, if he haue taken nothing?

5 d Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fowler is? or will he take vp the e snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or f shall a trumpet be blowen in the city, & the people be not afraid? or shall there g be euill in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord God will doe nothing, but he h reuealeth his secret to his seruants the Prophets.

8 The lyon hath roared: who will not be afraid? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but i prophecy?

9 Proclaime in the palaces at k Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria: & behold the great tumults in the mids thereof, and the oppressed in the mids thereof.

10 For they know not to doe right, saith the Lord: they store vp violence, and robbery l in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersary shall come euen round about the country, & shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepheard taketh m out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed: and in n Damascus as in a couch.

13 Heare, and testify in the house of Iaakob, saith the Lord God, the God of hoastes, a For the Moabites were so cruell against the king of Edom, that they burnt his bones after that he was dead: which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would reuenge themselues of the dead.

b By seeing the Gentiles that had not so farre knowledge were thus punished, Iudah which was so fully instructed of the Lords will, might not thinke to escape.
c If he spare not Iudah vnto whom his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdome.
d They esteemed most abiebtes more then mens liues.
e When they haue spoyled him and throwen him vnto the ground, they gape for his life.
f Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificing, and being neere mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickednesse.
g They spoyle others and offer thereof vnto God, thinking that he will dispense with them, when he is made partaker of their iniquity.
h The destruction of their enemies and his mercy toward them, should haue caused their hearts to melt for loue toward him.

k For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) and Iaakob were brethren, therefore they ought to haue admonished them of their brotherly friendship, and not to haue prouoked the to hatred.
l He was a continuall enemy vnto him.

m He noteth the great cruelty of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was of the houshold of Abraham.

i Ye contemned my benefits, and abused my graces, and craftily went about to stoppe the mouthes of my Prophets.
k You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isa. 1, 14.
l None shalbe delivered by any meanes.

a I haue onely chosen you to be mine among all other people, and yet you haue forsaken me.
b Hereby the Prophet signifieth that he speaketh not of himselfe, but as God guideth & moueth him, which is called the agreement betweene God and his Prophets.
c Will God threaten by his Prophet, except there be some great occasion.
d Can any thing come without Gods prouidence?
e Shall his threatnings be in vaine?
f Shall the Prophets threaten Gods iudgements and the people not be affraid?
g Doth any aduersity come without Gods appointment? Isa. 45, 7.
h God dealeth not with the Israelites as he doeth with other people: for he euer warneth them before of his plagues by his Prophets.
i Because the people euer murmured against the Prophets, he sheweth that Gods Spirit mooued them so to speake as they did.
k He calleth the strangers, as the Philistims and Egyptians, to be witnesse of Gods iudgements against the Israelites for their cruelty and oppression. l The fruit of their cruelty and theft appeareth by their great riches, which they haue in their houses. m When the lion hath satiate his hunger, the shepheard findeth a legge or a tippe of an eare, to shew that the sheepe haue beene worried. n Whereby they thought to haue had a sure hold, and to haue beene in safety.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the hornes of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of yuorie shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

Against the gouernours of Samaria.

HEare this word, yee [a] kine of Bashan that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, and destroy the needie, and they say to their masters, [b] Bring, and let vs drinke.

2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes shall come vpon you, that hee will take you away with [c] thornes, and your posterity with fish-hookes.

3 And ye shall goe out at the breaches every kone forward: and ye shall cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to [d] Beth-el, and transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your tithes after three [e] yeeres.

5 And offer a thankesgiuing [f] of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this [g] liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 And therefore haue I giuen you [h] cleannesse of teeth in all your cities, and scarcenesse of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet three [i] moneths to the harueſt, and I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another city: one piece was rained vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were [k] not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildew: your great gardens and your vineyards, and your figtrees, and your olive trees did the palmer worme deuoure; yet haue yee not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the maner of Egypt: your yong men haue I slaine with the sword, and haue taken away your horses; and I haue made the stinke of your tents to come vp euen into your nostrels, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 I haue ouerthrowen you, as God ouerthrew Sodom and Gomorah: and ye were as a [m] firebrand pluckt out of the burning, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel: and because I will doe thus vnto thee, prepare to [n] meete thy God, O Israel.

13 For loe, hee that formeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hoastes is his Name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuity of Israel.

HEare ye this word, which I lift vp vnto you, euen a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The [a] virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise; she is left vpon her land, and there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The city which went out by a thousand, shall leaue [b] an hundreth: and that which went forth by an hundreth, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into [c] Gilgal, and go not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall go into captiuity, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and yee shall liue, least hee breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 They turne [d] iudgement to wormewood, and leaue off righteousnes in the earth.

8 Hee [e] maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mighty, and the destroyer shall come against the fortresse.

10 They haue hated him, [f] that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh vprightly.

11 Forasmuch then as your treading is vpon the poore, and [g] ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye haue built houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewards, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore [h] the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good and not euill, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hoastes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hoastes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hoastes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets: and they shall say in all the [i] wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the [i] husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe through thee, saith the Lord.

18 Woe vnto you, that [k] desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkenesse and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lyon, and a beare met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkenesse, and not light, euen darkenesse and no light in it?

21 I hate and abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not smell in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offrings and meat offrings, [l] I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from mee the multitude of thy songs (for I will not heare the melodie of thy viols.)

24 And let iudgement runne downe as [m] waters, and righteousnes as a mighty riuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offrings in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?

a Thus he calleth the princes and gouernours, which being ouerwhelmed with the great abundance of Gods benefits, forgate God, and therefore he calleth them by the name of beasts and not of men.
b They encourage such as haue authoritie ouer the people to powle them, so that they may haue profite by it.
c He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish by hookes and thornes.
d He speaketh this in contempt of them which resorted to those places, thinking that their great deuotion and good intention had beene sufficient to haue bound God vnto them. e Read Deut 14 28.
f As Leuit. 7. 12.
g You onely delight in these outward ceremonies and haue none other respect.
h That is, lacke of bread and meat.
i I stayed the raine til the fruits of the earth were destroyed with drought, and yet you would not consider it to returne to me by repentance.
k They could not find water enough where they had heard say it had rained.
l As I plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9. 10.
m You were almost all consumed, and a few of you wonderfully preserued, 2. king. 14. 26.
n Turne to him by repentance.

a He so calleth them, because they so boasted of themselues, or because they were giuen to wantonnesse and daintinesse.

b Meaning, that the tenth part should scarcely be saued.
c In these places they worshipped new idoles, which aforetime serued for the true honour of God, therefore he saith that these shall not saue them.
d In stead of iudgement and equitie they execute cruelties and oppression.
e He describeth the power of God, Iob 9. 9.

f They hate the Prophets, which reprooue them in the open assemblies.
g Ye take both his money and also his food, wherewith he should liue.

h God will so plague them that they shall not suffer the godly once to open their mouths to admonish them of their faults.

i So that all degrees shall haue matter of lamentation for the great plagues.
k Thus he speaketh, because the wicked and hypocrites said they were content to abide Gods iudgements, whereas the godly then like and feare, Iere. 30. 9. Ioel. 2. 2. 11. Zeph. 1. 15.
l Because ye haue corrupted the true seruice, and remaine obstinate in your vices, Isa. 1. 11. Iere. 6. 20.
m Do your duety to God, and to your neighbour, and so ye shall feele his grace plentifully, if you shew your abundant affections according to Gods word.

n That idole which you esteemed as your king, and caried about as you did Chiun, in which images you thought that there was a certaine diuinity.

26 But you haue borne n Sicouth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which you made to your selues.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captiuitie beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose Name is the God of hosts.

CHAP. VI.

Against the princes of Israel liuing in pleasure.

WOe to a them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, b which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the house of Israel came to them.

a The Prophet threateneth the wealthie, which regarded not Gods plagues nor menaces by his Prophets.

b These two cities were famous by their first inhabitants the Canaanites: and seeing beforetime they did nothing auaile them that were there borne, why should you looke that they should saue you which were b ought in to dwell in other mens possessions?

c If God haue destroyed these excellent cities in three diuers kingdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistims, and hath brought their wide borders into a greater straitnesse then yours: yet are: thinke you to be better, or to escape?

d Ye that continue still in your wickednes, and thinke that Gods plagues are not at hand, but giue your selues to all idlenesse, wantonnesse and riot.

e As he caused diuers kindes of instruments to be made to serue Gods glory, so these did contend to inuent as many to serue their wanton affections and Iustes.

f They pitied not their brethren, where of now many were slaine and caried away captiue.

g Some reade, the ioy of them that stretch themselues, shall depart.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see: and from thence goe you to Hamath the great: then goe downe to Gath of the Philistims: be c they better then these kingdoms? or the border of their land greater then your border,

3 Yee that put farre away the d euill day, and approach to the seate of iniquity?

4 They lie vpon beds of yuorie, and stretch themselues vpon their beds, and eate the lambes of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viole: they inuent to themselues instruments of musicke like e Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and annoint themselues with the chiefe ointments, but no man is f sorie for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shall they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and g the sorow of them that stretched themselues, is at hand.

8 h The Lord God hath sworne by himselfe, saith the Lord God of hoastes, I abhorre i the excellencie of Iaakob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliuer vp the citie with all that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle k shall take him vp and burne him, to cary out the bones out of the house, and shall say vnto him, that is by the l sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And hee shall say, None. Then shall he say, m Hold thy tongue: for wee may not remember the Name of the Lord.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 Shall horses n runne vpon the rocke? or will one plowe there with oxen? for yee haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousnesse into o wormewood.

13 Yee reioyce in a thing of nought: yee say, Haue not wee gotten vs p hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I will raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the Lord God of hoasts: and they shall afflict you from the entring in of q Hamath vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

CHAP. VII.

God sheweth certaine visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amaziah, 12 His craftie counsell.

THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto mee, and behold, hee formed a grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter grouth: and loe, it was in the latter grouth b after the Kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I said, O Lord God: spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iaakob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord c repented for this. It shall not be, saith the Lord.

4 ¶ Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, d and it deuoured the great deepe, and did eat vp a parr.

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iaakob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 ¶ Thus againe he shewed mee, and behold, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by line e with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord said vnto mee, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Izhak shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ f Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the mids of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also g Amaziah said vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Iudah, and there eat thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Beth-el, for it is the kings chappell, and it is the kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no h Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne, but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wilde figs.

15 And the Lord tooke mee as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto me, Goe prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord. Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Izhak.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, i Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be deuided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Against the rulers of Israel. 7 The Lord sweareth. 11 The famine of the word of God.

THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto mee, and behold, a basket of sommer fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A basket of a sommer fruit. Then said the Lord vnto mee, The end is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

3 And the songs of the Temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies a To deuoure the land: and he alludeth to the inuading of the enemies.

b After the publike commandement for mowing was giuen: or as some reade, when the kings fleece were shorne.

c That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

d Meaning, that Gods indignation was inflamed against the stubburnesse of this people.

e Signifying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would deferre his iudgement no longer.

f That is, when Amas had prophecied that the king should be destroyed for the wicked Priest more for hatred he bare to the Prophet, then for loue toward the king, thought this accusation sufficient to condemne him, where as none other could take place.

g When this instrument of Satan was not able to compasse his purpose by the king, he aduised by another practise, that was, to feare the Prophet, that he might depart, and not reprooue their idolatry there openly, and so hinder his profite.

h This he shewed by his extraordinary vocation, that God had giuen him a charge, which he must needes execute.

i Thus God vsed to approoue the authority of his Prophets, by his plagues and iudgements against them, which were malicious enemies, Ier. 28.12. and 29.21.25.

as this day he doeth against them that persecute the ministers of his Gospel.

a Which signified the ripenesse of their sinnes, and the readinnes of Gods iudgements.

Threatnings against the Temple. 2 And against Israel. 11 The restoring of the Church.

a Which was at Ierusalem: for he appeared not in the idolatrous places of Israel.
b Both the chiefe of them and also the common people.

I Saw the Lord standing vpon the a Altar, and he said, Smite the lintel of the doore, that the posts may shake; and cut them in pieces, euen the b heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: hee that fleeth of them, shall not flee away: and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

2 Though they dig into the hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climbe vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselues in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will b I command the c serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hosts shall touch the land, and it shall melt away, and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise vp wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his d spheres in the heauen, and hath laide the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: hee calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians e vnto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistims from f Caphtor, and Aram from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are vpon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth. Neuertheless I will not vtterly g destroy the house of Iaakob, saith the Lord.

9 For loe, I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a sieue: yet shall not the h least stone fall vpon the earth.

OBADIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Idumeans, which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alwayes to the Israelites, which came of Iaakob, and therefore did not onely vexe them continually with sundry kindes of crueltie, but also stirred vp others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised vp his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, for as much as God had now determined to destroy their aduersaries, which did so sore vexe them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set vp the kingdome of Messiah, which he had promised.

THe vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord God against Edom, a Wee haue heard a rumor from the Lord, and an ambassadour is sent among the heathen: arise, and b let vs rise vp against her to battell.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee small among the heathen: thou art vtterly despised.

3 The c pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee: thou that dwellest in the clifts of the rocks, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me downe to the ground?

4 Though thou exalt thy selfe as the eagle, and make thy nest among the starres, thence will I bring thee downe, saith the Lord.

5 d Came theeues to thee or robbers by night? how wast thou brought to silence? would they not haue stollen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leaue some grapes?

6 How are the things of Esau sought vp, and his treasures searched?

7 All the men of thy confederacie e haue driuen thee to the borders: the men that were at peace with thee, haue deceiued thee, and preuailed against thee: they that eate thy f bread, haue laid a wound vnder thee: there is none vnderstanding in him.

8 Shall not I in that day, saith the Lord, euen destroy the wise men out of Edom, and vnderstanding from the mount of Esau?

9 And thy strong men, O Teman, shall be afraid, because euery one of the mount of Esau shall be cut off by slaughter.

10 For thy cruelnie against thy g brother Iaakob, shame shall couer thee, and thou shalt be cut of for euer.

11 When thou stoodest h on the other side, in the day that the strangers caried away his substance, and strangers entred into his gates, and cast lots vpon Ierusalem, euen thou wast as one of them.

12 But thou shouldest not haue beholden the day of thy brother, in the day that hee was made i a stranger, neither shouldest thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Iudah, in the day of their destruction: thou shouldest not haue spoken proudly in the day of affliction.

13 Thou shouldest not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their destruction, neither shouldest thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their destruction, nor haue laid hands on their substance in the day of their destruction.

14 Neither shouldest thou haue stood in the crosse wayes to cut off them, that should escape, neither shouldest thou haue shut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day k of the Lord is neere, vpon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done to thee: thy reward shall returne vpon thine head.

16 For as yee haue l drunke vpon mine holy Mountaine, so shall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they shall drinke and swallow vp, and they shal be m as though they had not beene.

17 But vpon mount Zion shall be deliuerance, and it shalbe holy, and the house of Iaakob shall possesse their possessions.

18 And the house of Iaakob shall be n a fire, and the house of Ioseph a flame, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shall kindle in them and deuoure them: and there shall be no remnant of the house of Esau: for the Lord hath spoken it.

19 And they shall possesse the South side of the o mount of Esau, and the plaine of the Philistims: and they shall possesse the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Beniamin shall haue Gilead.

20 And the captiuitie of this hoast of the children of Israel, which were among the p Canaanites, shall possesse vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Ierusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the South.

21 And they q that shall saue, shall come vp to mount Zion to iudge the mount of Esau, and the kingdome shall be the Lords.

a God hath certainely reuealed to his Prophets that he will raise vp the heathen to destroy the Edomites, whereof the rumour is now published, Ier. 49.14.
b Thus the heathen encourage themselues to rise against Edom.
c Which despiseth all others in respect of his selfe, and yet art but an handfull in comparison of others, and art shut vp among the hills as separate from the rest of the world.
d God will so destroy them that he will leaue none, though theeues when they come, take but till they haue enough, and they that gather grapes, euer leaue some behinde them, Ier. 49.9.
e They in whom thou diddest trust for to haue helpe and friendship of them, shall be thine enemies and destroy thee.
f That is, thy familiar friends and ghests haue by secret practises destroyed thee.
g He sheweth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his Church, whom hee now comforteth by punishing their enemies.
h When Nebuchadnezzar came against Ierusalem, thou toyndest with him, & hadst part of the spoile, and so diddest reioyce when my people, that is, thy brother were afflicted, whereas thou shouldest haue pitied and holpen thy brother.
i When the Lord deprined them of their former dignitie, and gaue them to be caried into captiuitie.
k When he will summon all the heathen, and send them to destroy thee.
l That is, reioyced and triumphed.
m The Edomites shall be vtterly destroyed, and yet in despite of all the enemies I will reserue my Church and restore it.
n God attributeth this power, to consume his enemies, to his Church, which power is onely proper to himselfe, as Isa. 10, 17. deut. 4. 24. heb. 12. 29.
o He describeth how the Church shall be enlarged and haue great possessions, but this chiefly is accomplished vnder Christ, when as the faithfull are made heires and lords of all things by him which is their head.
p By the Canaanites, the Iewes meane the Dutchmen, and by Zarephath, France, and by Sepharad Spaine.
q Meaning that God will raise vp in his Church such as shall rule and gouerne for the defence of the same, and destruction of his enemies vnder Messiah, whom the Prophet calleth here, the Lord and head of this kingdome.

THE ARGVMENT.

When Ionah had long prophecied in Israel and had little profited, God giue him expresse charge to go and denounce his iudgements against Nineueh, the chiefe citie of the Assyrians, because hee had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, should conuert by the mightie power of his word, and that within three dayes preaching, that Israel might see how horribly they had prouoked Gods wrath, which for the space of so many yeeres, had not conuerted vnto the Lord, for so many Prophets and so diligent preaching. He prophecied vnder Ioash, and Ieroboam, as 2. King. 14. 25.

CHAP. I.

3 Ionah fled when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

THe word of the Lord came a also vnto Ionah the sonne of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to b Nineueh, that c great citie, and crie against it: for their wickednesse is come vp before me.

3 But Ionah rose vp to d flee into Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord, and went downe to e Iapho: and he found a shippe going to Tarshish, so he paid the fare thereof, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tarshish, rom the f presence of the Lord.

a After that he had preached a long time in Israel and so Ezekiel, after that for a time he had prophecied in Iuda, he had visions in Babylon, Ezek. 1. v.
b For seeing the great obstination of the Israelites, he sent his Prophet to the Gentiles, that they might prouoke them to repentance, or at least make them inexcusable: for Nineueh was the chiefe citie of the Assyrians.
c For as authours write, it contained in circuit about eight and fortie mile, and had a thousand and fiue hundreth towers, and at this time there were an hundreth and twentie thousand children therein, Chap. 4. 11.
d Whereby he declared his weaknesse, that would not promptly follow the Lords calling, but gaue place to his owne reason, which perswaded him that small good among his people should come vnto him.

the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cryed euery man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the ship, vnto the sea, to lighten it of them: but Ionah was gone downe g into the sides of the ship, and he lay downe, and was fast asleepe.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said vnto him, What meaneth thou, O sleeper? Arise call vpon thy h God, if so be that God will thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.

7 And they said euery one to his fellow, Come, and let vs cast i lots, that we may know for whose cause this euill is vpon vs. So they cast lots, and the lot fell vpon Ionah.

8 Then said they vnto him, Tell vs for whose cause this euill is vpon vs? What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? which is thy countrey? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Ebrew, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceeding afraid, and said vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them.)

11 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? (for the sea wrought, and was troublous.)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea be calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried vnto the Lord, and said, k We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men l feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made vowes.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow vp Ionah: and Ionah was in the m belly of the fish three dayes and three nights.

g As one that would haue cast off this care and solicitude, by seeking rest and quietnesse.

h As they had called on their Gods which declareth that idolaters haue no thy nor certainty, but in their troubles seeke they cannot tell to whom.

i Which declareth that the matter was in great extremity and doubt, which thing was Gods motion in them, for the triall of the cause: and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.

k This declareth that the very wicked in their necessities flee vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a certaine feare to shed mans blood, whereas they know no manifest signe of wickednes I They were touched with a certaine repentance of their life past, and beganne to worship the true God by whom they saw themselues so wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare, and not of pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods word.

m Thus the Lord would challise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and thereby also confirmed him of his fauour and support in this his charge which was enioyned him.

CHAP. II.

1 Ionah is in the fishes belly. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

a Being now swallowed vp of death, and seeing no remedy to escape, his faith burst out vnto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliuer him.

b For he was now in the fishes belly as in a groue or place of darkenesse.

c This declared what his prayer was, and how he laboured betweene hope and despaire, considering the neglect of his vocation, and Gods iudgements for the same: but yet in the end faith gate the victory.

THen Ionah prayed vnto the Lord his God a out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lord, and he heard me: out of the belly b of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the bottome in the midst of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy surges, and all thy waues passed ouer me.

4 Then I said, I am c cast away out of thy sight: yet will I looke againe toward thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed mee about vnto the soule: the depth closed me round about, and the weedes were wrapt about mine head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines: the earth with her barres was about mee for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my d life from the pit, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembred the Lord: and my prayer came vnto thee into thine holy Temple.

8 They that waite vpon lying e vanities, forsake their owne mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thanksgiuing, and will pay that that I haue vowed: saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionah vpon the dry land.

d Thou hast deliuered me from the belly of hell: and all these dangers, as it were raising me from death to life.

e They that depend vpon any thing saue on God alone.

f They refuse their owne felicity and that goodnes which they should receiue of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Ionah is sent againe to Nineueh. 5 The repentance of the king of Nineueh.

ANd the word of the Lord came vnto a Ionah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, goe vnto Nineueh that great city, and preach vnto it the preaching which I bid thee.

3 So Ionah arose, and went to Nineueh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineueh was a b great and excellent city of three dales iourney.

4 And Ionah began to enter into the city a dales c iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fourty dales, and Nineueh shalbe ouerthrowen.

5 So the people of Nineueh d beleeued God, & proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloath, from the greatest of them, euen to the least of them.

6 For word came vnto the king of Nineueh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and couered him with sackcloath, and sate in ashes.

7 And he proclaimed and said thorow Nineueh, (by the counsell of the king and his nobles) saying, Let neither man, nor e beast, bullocke nor sheepe taste any thing, neither feede, nor drinke water.

8 But let man and beast put on sackcloath, and cry mightily vnto God: yea, let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in their hands.

9 f Who can tell if God will turne, and repent and turne away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

10 And God saw their g works that they turned from their euill waies: and h God repented of the euill that he had said that he would doe vnto them, and he did it not.

a This is a great declaration of Gods mercy, that he receiueth him again, and sendeth him foorth as his Prophet, which had before shewed so great infirmity.

b Reade Chap. 1, 2.

c He went forward one day in the city, and preached, and so he continued till the city was conuerted.

d For he declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from God to denounce his iudgements against them.

e Not that the dumb beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be confounded, considering that for his sinne the anger of God hanged ouer all creatures.

f He willed that the men should earnestly call vnto God for mercy.

g For partly by the threatning of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his owne conscience, he doubted whether God would shew them mercy.

h That is, the fruits of their repentance, which did proceede of faith, which God had planted by the ministery of his Prophet.

i Reade Ierem. 18, 8.

CHAP. IIII.

The great goodnesse of God toward his creatures.

THerefore it displeased a Ionah exceedingly, and he was angry.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I preuented it to flee vnto b Tarshish: for I knew, that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindnesse, and repentest thee of the euill.

3 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life c from me: for it is better for me to dye then to liue.

a Becuse hereby he should be taken as a false prophet, and so the Name of God, which he preached should be blasphemed.

b Reade Chap. 1, 3.

c Thus he prayed of griefe, fearing least Gods Name by this forgiuenesse might be blaspheamed, as though he sent his Prophets foorth to denounce his iudgements in vaine.

4 Then

i Meaning, Ierusalem, where the Lords flocke was gathered.
k The flourishing state of the kingdome, as it was vnder Dauid and Salomon, which thing was accomplished to the Church by the comming of Christ.
l In the meane season he sheweth that they should endure great troubles and tentations when they saw themselues neither to haue king nor counsell.
m He sheweth that the faithfull ought not to measure Gods iudgements by the braue and threatnings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift vp their hearts to God to call for deliuerance.
n God giueth his Church this victory, so oft as he ouercommeth their enemies: but the accomplishment thereof shalbe at the last comming of Christ.

Mount Zion, from henceforth euen for euer.

8 And thou, O i towre of the flocke, the strong hold of the daughter Zion, vnto thee shall it come, euen k the first dominion, and kingdome shall come to the daughter Ierusalem.

9 Now why doest thou cry out with lamentation? is there no king in thee? is thy counseller perished? for sorow hath taken thee, as a woman in trauaile.

10 Sorow and mourne, O daughter Zion, like a woman in trauaile: for now shalt thou go foorth of the city, and dwell in the field, and shalt go into Babel, but there shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lord shall redeeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shalbe condemned, and our eye shall looke vpon Zion.

12 But they m know not the thoughts of the Lord: they vnderstand not his counsell, for he shall gather them as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Arise and threth, n O daughter Zion: for I will make thine horne yron, and I will make thine hooues brasse, and thou shalt breake in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their riches vnto the Lord: and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

CHAP. V.

1 The destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The excellency of Beth-leem.

NOw assemble thy garisons, O daughter a of garisons: he hath laid siege against vs: they shall smite the iudge of Israel with a rod vpon the cheeke.

2 And thou Beth-leem Ephrathah art b little to be among the thousands of Iudah, yet out of thee shall he come forth vnto me, that shalbe the ruler in Israel, whose c going forth haue beene from the beginning and from euerlasting.

3 Therefore will he giue them vp, vntill the time that d she which shall beare, shall trauaile: then the remnant of their brethren shall returne vnto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall e stand, and feed in the strength of the Lord, & in the maiestie of the Name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now shall he be magnified vnto the ends of the world.

5 And he f shalbe our peace when Asshur shall come into our land: when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we arise against him seuen shepheards, and eight principall men.

6 And they shall destroy g Asshur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their swords: thus shall he b deliuer vs from Asshur, when he commeth into our land, and when he shall tread within our borders.

7 And the i remnant of Iaakob shalbe among many people, as a dew from the Lord, and as the showres vpon the grasse, that waiteth not for man, nor hopeth in the sonnes of Adam.

8 And the remnant of Iaakob shalbe among the Gentiles in the mids of many people, as the Lion among the beasts of the forest, and as the Lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, who when he goeth thorow, treadeth downe and teareth in pieces, and none can deliuer.

9 Thine hand shalbe lift vp vpon thine aduersaries, and all thine enemies shalbe cut off.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thine k horses out of the mids of thee, and I will destroy thy charets.

11 And I will out off the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow all thy strong holds.

12 And I will cut off thine enchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt haue no more soothsayers.

13 Thine idoles also will I cut off, and thine images out of the mids of thee: and thou shalt no more worship the worke of thine hands.

14 And I will plucke vp thy groues out of the mids of thee: so will I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath and indignation vpon the heathen, l which they haue not heard.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the dumbe creatures to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 6 What maner of sacrifices doe please God.

HEarken ye now what the Lord saith, Arise thou, and contend before the a mountaines, and let the hils heare thy voyce.

2 Heare ye, O mountaines, the Lords quarell, and ye mighty foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarell against his people, and he will pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee? testifie against me.

4 Surely I b brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had deuised, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor had answered him, from c Shittim vnto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteousnes of the Lord.

6 Wherewith e shall I come before the Lord, and bow my selfe before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calues of a yeere old?

7 Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousand riuers of oyle? shall I giue my f first borne for my transgression, euen the fruit of my body, for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: g surely to doe iustly, and to loue mercy, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lords voyce crieth vnto the h city, and the man of wisdome shall see thy name: Heare the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is abominable?

k I will destroy all things wherein thou puttest thy confidence, as thy vaine confidence and idolatry, and so will I helpe thee.

l It shalbe so terrible that the like hath not beene heard of.

a He taketh the high mountaines and hard rockes to witnesse against the obstinacy of his people.
b I haue not burt thee, but beſtowed infinite benefits vpon thee.
c That is, remember my benefits from the beginning how I deliuered you from Balaams curse, and also spared you from Shittim, which was in the plaine of Moab, till I brought you into the land promised.
d That is, the truth of his promise and his manifold benefits toward you.
e Thus the people by hypocrisie take how to please God, and are content to offer sacrifices, but will not change their liues.
f There is nothing so deare to man, but the hypocrites will offer it vnto God, if they thinke thereby to avoyde his anger: but they will neuer be brought to mortifie their owne affections, and to giue themselues wholly to serue God as he commandeth.
g The Prophet in few words calleth them to the obseruation of the second Table, to know if they will obey God aright or no, saying that God hath prescribed them to doe this.
h Meaning, that when God speaketh to any city or nation, the godly will acknowledge his maiesty, and consider not the mortall man that bringeth the threatning, but God that sendeth it.

11 Shall I iustifie the wicked ballances, and the bag of deceitfull weights?

12 For the rich men thereof i are full of crueltie, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitfull in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sicke in smiting thee, and in making thee desolate, because of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eate and not be satisfied, and k thy casting downe shalbe in the middes of thee, and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliuer, and that which thou deliueredst, will I giue vp to the sword.

15 Thou shalt sow, but not reape: Thou shalt treade the oliues, but thou shalt not anoynt thee with oyle, and make sweet wine, but shall not drinke wine.

16 For the m statutes of Omri are kept, and all the maner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore yee shall beare the reproach of my people.

but as I haue shewed you great fauour, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly. Luke 12 47.

CHAP. VII.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 4 The wicked abuse of those times. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

WOe is mee, for I am as the a Summer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eate: my soule desired the first ripe fruits.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there is none righteous among men: b they all lie in wait for blood: euery man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the euill of their hands, the prince asketh, and the iudge iudgeth for a reward: therefore the c great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so d they wrap it vp.

4 The best of them is as e abriar, and the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of f thy watchmen and thy visitation commeth; then shall be their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, neither put ye confidence in a counseller; keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne reuileth the father; the daughter riseth vp against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law, and a mans enemies are the men of his owne house.

7 Therefore g I will looke vnto the Lord: I will waite for God my Sauiour: my God will heare me.

8 Reioyce not against mee, h O mine enemies though I fall, I shall arise: when I shall sit in darknesse, the Lord shalbe a light vnto me.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, because I haue sinned against him, vntill hee pleade my cause, and execute iudgement for me: then will he bring mee foorth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnesse.

10 Then shee that is mine enemie, shall looke vpon it, and shame shall couer her, which said vnto me, Where is the Lord thy God? Mine eyes shall behold her: now shall shee be troden downe as the myre of the streetes.

11 This is i the day that thy walles shall be built: this day shall driue farre away k the decree.

12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from l Asshur, and from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes euen vnto the riuer, and from Sea to Sea, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding the land shalbe desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruits of m their inuentions.

14 n Feed thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwell solitarie in the wood) as in the mids of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in old time.

15 o According to the dayes of thy comming out of the land of Egypt, will I shew vnto him marueilous things.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded for all their power: they shall p lay their hand vpon their mouth: q their eares shall be deafe.

17 They shall r licke the dust like a serpent: they shall moue out of their holes like wormes: they shalbe afraid of the Lord our God, and shall feare because of thee.

18 Who is a God like vnto thee, that taketh away iniquitie, and s passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? Hee retaineth not his wrath for euer, because mercie pleaseth him.

19 He will turne againe, and haue compassion vpon vs: he will subdue our iniquities, and cast all t their sinnes into the bottome of the sea.

20 Thou wilt performe thy u trueth to Iakob, and mercy to Abraham, as thou hast sworne vnto our fathers in old time.

i That is, of Ierusalem.
k Thou shalt be confounded with inward griefe and euill.
l Meaning, that the citie should goe about to saue her men, as they that lay hold on that which they would preserue.
m You haue received all the corruption and idolatry, wherewith the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri and Ahab his sonne: and so excuse your doings, you alledge the Kings authoritie by his statutes, and also wisedome and policie in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment: for a The Prophet taketh vpon him the person of the earth, which complaineth that all her fruits are gone, so that none is left: that is, that there is no godly man remaining: for all are giuen to crueltie and deceit, so that none spareth his owne brother.

b He sheweth that the prince, the iudge, and the rich man are linked together all to doe euill, and to cloake the doings one of another.
c That is, the rich man that is able to giue money, abstaineth from no wickednesse nor iniurie.
d These men agree among themselues and conspire with one consent to doe euill.
e They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among them, are but thornes and briers to pricke.
f Meaning of the Prophets and gouernours.
g But the Prophet sheweth that the onely remedie for the godly in desperate euils, is to flee vnto God for succour.

h This is spoken in the person of the Church, which calleth the malignant Church her enemie.
i To wit, when God shall shew himselfe a deliuerer of his Church, and a destroyer of his enemies.
k Meaning, the cruell empire of the Babylonians.
l When the Church shalbe restored, they that were enemies afore, shall come out of all the corners of the world vnto her, so that neither holds, riuers, sea, nor mountaines shalbe able to let them.
m After this grace appeare, he sheweth how grieuously the hypocrites themselues shall be punished, seeing that the earth it selfe, which cannot sinne, shalbe made waste because of their wickednesse.
n The Prophet prayeth to God to be mercifull vnto his Church, when they should be scattered abroad as in solitary places in Babylon, and to be beneficiall vnto them as in times past.
o God promiseth to be fauorable to his people, as he hath beene afore time.
p They shall be as dumme men and dare bragge no more.
q They shalbe astonished and afraid to heare men speake, least they should heare of their destruction.
r They shall fall flat on the ground for feare.
s As though he would not see it, but winke at it.
t Meaning of his elect.
u The Church is assured, that God will declare in effect the trueth of his mercifull promise, which he had made of old to Abraham, and to all that should apprehend the promise by faith.

NAHVM.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS they of Nineueh shewed themselues prompt & ready to receiue the word of God, at Ionahs preaching and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing themselues to worldly meanes to increase their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begun, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vomite, and prouoked Gods iust iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineueh was destroyed, and Maroch-baladan king of Babel (or as some thinke Nebuchad-nezzar) enioyed the empire of the Assyrians. But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, hee stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth, he prophecied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasseh his sonne, as the Iewes write.

CHAP. I.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

a Reade Isa. 13.1.
b The vision or reuelation which God commanded Nahum to write concerning the Ninenites.
c That is, borne in a poore village in the tribe of Simeon.
d Meaning, of his glory.
e With his he is but angry for a time, but his anger neuer asswageth toward the reprobate, though for a time he deferre it.
f That the wicked would make Gods mercy an occasion to sinne, but the Prophet willeth them to consider his force and iustice.
g If all creatures be at Gods commandement, and none is able to resist his wrath, shall man flatter himselfe, and thinke by any meanes to escape, when he prouoketh his God to anger?
h Least the faithfull should be discouraged by hearing the power of God, he likewise sheweth them that his mercies appertaine vnto them and that he hath care ouer them.
i Signifying, that God will suddenly destroy Nineueh, and the Assyrians, in such sort as they shall lie in perpetuall darkenesse, and neuer recouer their strength againe.
k He sheweth that the enterprises of the Assyrians against Iudah and the Church, were against God, and therefore hee would so destroy them at once, that he should not need to returne the second time.
l Though the Assyrians thinke themselues like thornes that pricke on all sides, yet the Lord will set fire on them, and as drunken men are not able to stand against any force, so they shall be nothing able to resist him.
m Which may be vnderstood either of Sancherib, or of the whole body of the people of Nineueh.
n Though they thinke themselues in most safetie, and of greatest strength, yet when God shall passe by, hee will destroy them: notwithstanding he comforteth his Church, and promiseth to make an end of punishing them by the Assyrians.
o Meaning, Sancherib, who should haue no more children, but be slaine in the house of his gods, 2 King 19 36. 37.
* Isa 25.7 Rom. 10.15. p Which peace the Iewes should enioy by the death of Sancherib.

THE a burden of Nineueh. b The booke of the vision of Nahum the c Elkesh'ite.

2 God is d ielous, and the Lord reuengeth: the Lord reuengeth: euen the Lord is of anger, the Lord will take vengeance on his aduersaries, and he reserueth wrath for his enemies.

3 The e Lord is slow to anger, but he is great in power, and will not surely cleare the wicked: the Lord hath his way in the whirlewinde, and in the storme, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and drieth it, and hee drieth vp all the riuers: Bashan is wasted and Carmel, and the flowre of Lebanon is wasted.

5 The mountaines tremble for him, and the hilles melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 g Who can stand before his wrath? or who can abide in the fiercenesse of his wrath? his wrath is powred out like fire, and the rockes are broken by him.

7 The Lord is good h and as a strong hold in the day of trouble, and hee knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But passing ouer as with a flood, he will vtterly destroy the i place thereof, and darkenesse shall pursue his enemies.

9 What doe ye k imagine against the Lord? he will make an vtter destruction: affliction shall not rise vp the second time.

10 For he shall come as vnto l thornes folden one in another, and as vnto drunkards in their drunkennesse: they shall be deuoured as stubble fully dryed.

11 There m commeth one out of thee that imagineth euill against the Lord, euen a wicked counseller.

12 Thus saith the Lord, Though they be n quiet, and also many, yet thus shall they be cut off when hee shall passe by: though I haue afflicted thee, I will a flict thee no more.

13 For now I will breake his yoke from thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning thee, that no more of thy name be o sowen: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the grauen, and the molten image: I will make it thy graue for thee, for thou art vile.

15 * Behold vpon the mountaines the feete of him that declareth, and publisheth p peace: O Iudah, keep thy solemne feasts, performe thy vowes, for the wicked shall no more passe through thee: he is vtterly cut off.

CHAP. II.

Hee describeth the victories of the Caldeans against the Assyrians.

THe a destroyer is come before thy face: keepe the munition: looke to the way: make thy loynes strong: increase thy strength mightily.

2 For the Lord hath b turned away the glory of Iaakob, as the glory of Israel: for the emptiers haue emptied them out, and c marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mightie men is made red, d the valiant men are in scarlet: the charets shall be as in the fire and flames in the day of his preparation, and e the firre trees shall tremble.

4 The charets shall rage in the streetes: they shall runne to and fro in the high wayes: they shall seeme like lampes: they shall shoot like the lightning.

5 f Hee shall remember his strong men; they shall stumble as they goe: they shall make haste to the walles thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the riuer shall be opened, and the palace shall melt.

7 And Huzzab the Queene shall be led away captiue, and her maides shall lead her as with the voyce of doues, smiting vpon their breasts.

8 But Nineueh is g of old like a poole of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry: but none shall looke backe.

9 h Spoyle ye the siluer, spoyle the golde: for there is none end of the store and glory of all the pleasant vessels.

10 i Shee is emptie and voide and waste, and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and sorow is in all loines, and the faces k of them all gather blackenesse.

11 Where is the l dwelling of the lions, and the pasture of the lions whelpes? where the lion and the lyoneesse walked, and the lions whelpe, and none made them afraid.

12 The lion did teare in pieces enough for his whelpes, and wonied for his lyoneesse, and filled his holes with pray, and his dennes with spoyle.

13 Behold, I come vnto thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burne her charets in the m smoke, and the sword shall deuoure the yong lions, and I will cut of thy spoyle from the earth, and the voyce of thy n messengers shall no more be heard.

a That is, Nebuchad-nezzar is in a readinesse to destroy the Assyrians: and the Prophet deriseth the enterprises of the Assyrians which prepared to resist him.
b Seeing God hath punished his owne people Iudah and Israel, he will now punish the enemies by whom he scourged them, reade Isa. 10.12.
c Signifying, that the Israelites were vtterly destroyed.
d Both to feare the enemy, and also that they themselues should not so soone espie blood one of another to discourage them.
e Meaning, their speares should shake and crash together.
f Then the Assyrians shall seeke by all meanes to gather their power, but all things shall faile them.
g The Assyrians will flatter themselues and say, that Nineueh is so ancient that it can neuer perish, and is as a fishpoole, whose waters they that walke on the bankes cannot touch: but they shall be scattered, and shall not looke backe though men would call them.
h God commandeth the enemies to spoyle Nineueh, and promiseth them infinite riches and he after this sorck Reade Ioel 2.6
i Meaning, Nineueh, whose inhabitants were cruell like the Lions, and giuen to all oppression, and spared no violence or tyrannie to prouide for their wiues and children.
l That is, assoone as my wrath beginneth to kindle.
m Signifying the heralds, which were accustomed to proclaime warre. n Some reade, of thy gumme teeth wherewith Nineueh was wont to bruise the bones of the poore.

i That is, Nineueh, and the men thereof shall

CHAP. III.

WOe to the bloody citie, it is all full of lyes and robbery: a the pray departeth not.

2 The noyse of a whip b and the noyse of the mooning of the wheeles, and the beating of the horses, and the leaping of the charets.

3 The horseman lifteth vp both the bright sword, and the glittering speare, and a multitude is slaine, and the dead bodies are many: there is none end of their corpses; they stumble vpon their corpses, a It neuer ceaseth to spoyle and robbe.

b He sheweth how the Caldeans shall battle, and how couragious their horses shall be in beating the ground when they come against the Assyrians.
c He compareth Nineueh to an harlot, which by her beauty and subtile enticements yong men, and bringeth them to destruction.

her whoredome, and the nations through her witchcrafts.

5 Behold, I come vpon thee, saith the Lord of hoastes, and will discouer thy skirts vpon my face, and will shew the nations thy filthinesse, and the kingdomes thy shame.

6 And I will cast filth vpon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazing stocke.

7 And it shall come to passe, that all they that looke vpon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineueh is destroyed, who will haue pity vpon her? where shall I seeke comforters for thee?

8 Art thou better then [d] No, which was full of people? that lay in the riuers, and had the waters round about it? whose ditch was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and there was none end: Put and Lubim were [‖] her helpers.

10 Yet was shee caried away, and went into captiuitie: her yong children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streetes: and they cast lots for her noble men, and all her mighty men were bound in chaines.

11 Also thou shalt be drunken: thou shalt hide thy selfe, & shalt seeke help because of the enemy.

12 All thy strong cities shalbe like figtrees with the first ripe figs: for if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy people within thee are women: the gates of thy land shalbe opened vnto thine enemies, and the fire shall deuoure thy barres.

14 Draw thee waters for the siege: fortifie thy strong holds: goe into the clay, and temper the morter: make strong bricke.

15 There shall the fire deuoure thee: the sword shall cut thee off: it shall eate thee vp like the [e] locusts, though thou be multiplied like the locusts, and multiplied like the grashopper.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy marchants aboue the starres of heauen: the locust spoileth and flyeth away.

17 Thy princes are as the grashoppers, and thy captaines as the great grashoppers which remaine in the hedges in the cold day; but when the sunne ariseth, they flee away, & their place is not knowen where they are.

18 Thy [f] shepheards do sleepe, O king of Assur: thy strong men lye downe: thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, and no man gathered them.

19 There is no healing of thy wound: thy plague is grieuous: all that beare the bruite of thee, shall clappe the hands ouer thee: for vpon [g] whom hath not thy malice passed continually?

d Meaning, Alexandria, which was in league with so many nations, and yet was now destroyed.

‖ Or, thine.

e Signifying, that Gods iudgements should suddenly destroy the Assyrians, as these vermine are with raine or change of weather.

f Thy princes and counsellers.

g Meaning, that there was no people, to whom the Assyrians had not done hurt.

HABAKKVK.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which endure all kinde of affliction and cruelties, and yet can see none ende. Therefore hee had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none ende of their troubles as yet, because of their stubburnesse and rebellion against the Lord. And least the godly should despaire, seeing this horrible confusion, hee comforteth them by this, that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and cruelties shall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithfull to patience by his owne example, and sheweth them a forme of prayer, wherewith they should comfort themselues.

CHAP. I.

a A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

THe burden, which Habakkuk the Prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not heare! euen cry out vnto thee [a] for violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

3 Why doest thou shew me iniquitie, and cause me to behold sorow? for spoyling, and violence are before me: and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is dissolued, and iudgement doth neuer go forth: for the wicked doeth [b] compasse about the righteous, therefore [c] wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 Behold among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder, and marueile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: d yee will not beleeue it, though it be told you.

6 For loe, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall goe vpon the bredth of the land to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible & fearefull: their iudgement, and their dignitie shall proceed of themselues,

8 Their horses also are swifter then the leopards, and are more fierce then the wolues in the [*] euening: and their horsemen are many: and their horsemen shall come from farre: they shall flie as the eagle hasting to meate.

9 They come all to spoyle: for their faces shalbe an [f] East winde, and they shall gather the captiuitie [g] as the sand.

10 And they shall mocke the Kings, and the princes shalbe a scorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong hold: for they shall gather [h] dust, and take it.

11 Then shall they [i] take a courage, and transgresse & doe wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their god.

12 Art not thou of old, O Lord my God, mine holy One? we shall not [k] die: O Lord, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euill: thou canst not behold wickednes, wherefore doest thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous then he?

14 And makest men as the [l] fishes of the sea, and as the creeping things, that haue no ruler ouer them?

a The Prophet complaineth vnto God, and bewaileth that among the Iewes is left none equitie and brotherly loue: but in stead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, conceuition and strife.

b To suppresse him, if any should shew himselfe zealous of Gods cause.

c Because the iudges which should redresse this excesse, are as euill as the rest.

d As in times past you would not beleeue Gods word, so shall yee not now beleeue the strange plagues which are at hand: and themselues shall be your iudges in this cause, and none shall haue authoritie ouer them to controll them.

* Zeph. 3. 3.

e They hath appointed, and also that their sinnes required such a chastisement: for the great deuoureth the small, and the Caldeans destroy all the world.

f For the Iewes most feared this winde, because it destroyed their fruits.

g They shalbe so many in number.

h They shall cast vp mounts against it.

i The Prophet comforteth the faithfull that God will also destroy the Babylonians, because they shall abuse this victory, and become proud and insolent, attributing the praise hereof to their idoles.

k He confirmeth the godly of Gods protection, shewing that the enemie can doe no more then God hath permitted. 1 So that they 15 They take vp all with the angle: they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, wherefore they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their [m] net, and burne incense vnto their yarne, because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay [n] the nations?

a A vision. 5 Against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatry.

I Will stand vpon my [a] watch, and set mee vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he would say vnto me, and what I shall answere to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and sayd, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne [b] that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the [c] last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tary, waite: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

4 Behold, [d] hee that lifteth vp himselfe, his mind is not vpright in him, but the iust shall liue by his faith.

5 Yea, indeede the proud man is as [e] hee that transgresseth by wine; therefore shall hee not endure, because hee hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shall not all these take vp a parable against him, and a taunting prouerb against him, and say, Ho, he that increaseth that which is not his? how long? and hee that ladeth himselfe with thicke clay?

7 Shall [g] they not rise vp suddenly, that shall bite thee? and awake, that shall stirre thee? and thou shalt be their pray?

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoyle thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 Ho, he that coueteth an euill couetousnesse to his house, that he may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of euill.

10 Thou [h] hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the [i] stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shall answere it.

12 Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a city by iniquitie.

13 Behold, is it not of the [k] Lord of hoasts, that the people shall labour in the very fire? the people shall euen wearie themselues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth shall [l] be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Woe vnto [m] him that giueth his neighbour drinke; thou ioynest thine neate, & makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.

16 Thou art filled with shame [n] for glory; drinke thou also, and be made naked; the cup of the Lords right hand shall be turned vnto thee, and shamefull spuing shall be for thy glory.

17 For the [o] crueltie of Lebanon shall couer thee; so shall the spoyle of the beastes, which made them afraid, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the [p] image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumbe idoles.

19 Woe vnto him that sayth to the wood, Awake, and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, it shall teach thee; [q] behold, it is layed ouer with gold and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lord is in his holy Temple: let all the earth keepe silence before him.

CHAP. III.

a A prayer for the faithfull.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the [a] ignorances.

2 [b] O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afraid; O Lord, reuiue thy [c] worke in the mids of the people, in the middes of the yeeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercy.

3 God commeth from [d] Teman, and the holy One from mount Paran, Selah. His glory couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his prayse.

4 And his brightnesse was as the light; [e] hee had hornes comming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went forth before his feete.

6 Hee stood and measured the earth; hee beheld and dissolued the nations, and the euerlasting mountaines were broken, and the ancient hilles did bow; his [f] wayes are euerlasting.

7 [g] For his iniquity I saw the tents of Cushan, and the curtaines of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the Lord angry against the [h] riuers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ride [i] vpon thine horses? thy charets brought saluation.

9 Thy [k] bowe was manifestly reuealed, and the [l] oathes of the tribes were a sure word, Selah, thou [m] diddest cleaue the earth with riuers.

10 The mountaines saw thee, and they trembled; the streame of the water [n] passed by; the deepe made a noyse, and lift vp his hand on high.

11 The [o] sunne and moone stood still in the ir habitation; [p] at the light of thine arrowes they went, and at the bright shining of thy speares.

12 Thou trodest downe the laude in anger,

ZEPHANIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, hee denounceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their countrey should be vtterly destroyed, and they caried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull he prophecied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians and others, to assure them that God had a continuall care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their sinnes and transgressions: so he exhorteth the godly to patience, and to trust to find mercy by reason of the free promise of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

CHAP. I.

1 Threatnings against Iudah and Ierusalem, because of their idolatry.

THE word of the Lord, which came vnto Zephaniah the sonne of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the dayes of * Iosiah, the son of * Amon king of Iudah.

2 I will surely destroy all things from off the land, saith the Lord.

3 I will destroy man and beast: I will destroy the a foules of the heauen, and the fishes of the sea, and ruines shallbe to the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the b Chemarims with the Priests,

5 And them that worship the hoste of heauen vpon the house tops, and them that worship and sweare by the Lord, and sweare by c Malcham.

6 And them that are turned backe from the Lord, and those that haue not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.

7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath sanctified his ghests.

8 And it shallbe in the day of the Lords sacrifice, that I will visit the princes and the kings children, and all such as are cloathed with d strange apparell.

9 In the same day also will I visit all those that e dance vpon the threshold so proudly, which fill their masters houses by cruelty and deceit.

10 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shallbe a noise, and crie from the f fishgate, and an howling from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hilles.

11 Howle ye inhabitants of g the lowe place: for the company of the merchants is destroyed: all they that beare siluer, are cut off.

12 And at that time will I search Ierusalem with h lights, and visit the men that are frozen i in their dregs, and say in their hearts, The Lord will neither doe good nor doe euill.

13 Therefore their goods shall be spoyled, and their houses waste: * they shall also build houses, but not inhabite them, and they shall plant vineyards, but not drinke the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the Lord is neere: it is neere, and hasteth greatly, euen the voyce of the day of the Lord: k the strong man shall cry there bitterly.

15 * That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauinesse, a day of destruction and desolation, a day of obscurity and darkenesse, a day of clouds and blackenesse, 16 A day of the trumpet and alarme against the strong cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distresse vpon men, that they shal walk like blind men, because they haue sinned against the Lord, and their blood shallbe powred out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 * Neither their siluer nor their gold shallbe able to deliuer them in the day of the Lords wrath, but the * whole land shalbe deuoured by the fire of his iealousie: for he shall make euen a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

chaſſe that paſſeth in a day, and before the fierce wrath of the Lord come vpon you, and before the day of the Lords anger come vpon you.

3 Seeke ye the Lord all the meek of the earth, which [b] haue wrought his iudgment: ſeeke righteouſnes, ſeeke lowlineſſe, if ſo be that ye may be hid in the day of the Lords wrath.

4 For [c] Azzah ſhallbe forſaken, and Aſhkelon deſolate: they ſhall driue out Aſhdod at the noone day, and Ekron ſhall be rooted vp.

5 Who vnto the inhabitants of the ſea [d] coaſt: the nation of the Cherethims, the word of the Lord is againſt you: O Canaan, the land of the Philiſtims, I will euen deſtroy thee without an inhabitant.

6 And the ſea coaſt ſhallbe dwellings and cottages for ſhepheards and ſheepfolds.

7 And that coaſt ſhallbe for the [e] remnant of the houſe of Iudah, to feed thereupon: in the houſes of Aſhkelon ſhall they lodge toward night; for the Lord their God ſhall viſit them, and turne away their captiuitie.

8 I haue heard the reproach of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they vpbraided my people, and [f] magnified themſelues againſt their borders.

9 Therefore as I liue, ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, the God of Iſrael, Surely Moab ſhall be as Sodome, and the children of Ammon as Gomorah, euen the breeding of nettles, and ſalt pittes, and a perpetuall deſolation, the reſidue of my folke ſhall ſpoile them, and the remnant of my people ſhall poſſeſſe them.

10 This ſhall they haue for their pride, becauſe they haue reproached, and magnified themſelues againſt the Lord of hoaſts people.

11 The Lord will be terrible vnto them: [g] for he will conſume all the gods of the earth, and euery man ſhall worſhip him from his place, euen all the yles of the heathen.

12 Ye Morians alſo ſhallbe ſlaine by my ſword with them.

13 And he will ſtretch out his hand againſt the North, and deſtroy Aſſhur, and will make Nineueh deſolate, and waſte like a wildernes.

14 And flocks ſhall lie in the mids of her, and all the beaſtes of the nations, and the [h] pelicane and the [i] owle ſhall abide in the vpper poſts of it: the voyce of birds ſhall ſing in the windowes, and deſolation ſhall be vpon the poſtes, for the cedars are vncouered.

15 This is the [j] reioycing city that dwelt careleſſe, that ſaid in her heart, I am, and there is none beſides me: how is ſhe made waſte, and the lodging of the beaſts! euery one that paſſeth by her, ſhall hiſſe and wag his hand.

CHAP. III.

Againſt the gouernours of Ieruſalem, 8 Of the calling of all the Gentiles. 13 A comfort to the reſidue of Iſrael.

2 She heard not the voyce; ſhee receiued not correction; ſhe truſted not in the Lord; ſhee drew not neere to her God.

3 Her princes within her are as roaring * lyons; her iudges are as * wolues in the euening, which [b] leaue not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light, and wicked perſons; her prieſts haue polluted the Sanctuary, they haue wreſted the Law.

5 The [c] iuſt Lord is in the mids thereof, he will doe none iniquity; euery morning doth he bring his iudgement to light, he faileth not; but the wicked will not learne to be aſhamed.

6 I haue [d] cut off the nations: their towers are deſolate: I haue made their ſtreets waſte, that none ſhal paſſe by, their cities are deſtroyed without man, and without inhabitant.

7 I ſaid, ſurely thou wilt feare me: thou wilt receiue inſtruction; ſo their dwelling ſhould not be deſtroyed howſoeuer I viſited them, but [e] they roſe earely, and corrupted all their works.

8 Therefore [f] wait ye vpon me, ſaith the Lord, vntill the day that I riſe vp to the pray; for I am determined to gather the nations, and that I will aſſemble the kingdomes to powre vpon them mine indignation, euen all my fierce wrath; for all the earth ſhallbe deuoured with the fire of my ielouſie.

9 Surely [g] then will I turne to the people a pure language, that they may all call vpon the name of the Lord, to ſerue him † with one conſent.

10 From beyond the riuers of Ethiopia, the [h] daughter of my diſperſed, praying vnto me, ſhall bring me an offering.

11 In that day ſhalt thou not be aſhamed for [i] all thy works, wherein thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt mee: for then will I take away out of the mids of thee them that reioyce of thy pride, and thou ſhalt no more be proud of mine holy mountaine.

12 Then will I leaue in the middes of thee an humble and poore people; and they ſhall truſt in the Name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Iſrael ſhall do none iniquity, nor ſpeake lies; neither ſhall a deceitfull tongue be found in their mouth: for they ſhall be fed and lie downe, and none ſhall make them afraid.

14 Reioyce, O daughter Zion; be ye ioyfull, O Iſrael; be glad and reioyce with all thine heart, O daughter Ieruſalem.

15 The Lord hath taken away thy [k] iudgements; he hath caſt out thine enemy; the king of Iſrael, euen the Lord is in the mids of [m] thee; thou ſhalt ſee no more euill.

16 In that day it ſhallbe ſaid to Ieruſalem, Feare thou not, O Zion, let not thine hands be faint.

17 The Lord thy God in the middes of thee is mightie; he will ſaue, he will reioyce ouer thee with ioy; he will quiet himſelfe in [n] his loue; he will reioyce ouer thee with ioy.

18 After a certaine time will I gather the aſſiſted that were of thee, and them that bare the reproach for [o] it.

19 Behold, at that time I will bruiſe all that afflict thee, and I will [p] ſaue her that halteth, and gather her that was caſt out, and I will get them praiſe and fame in all the [q] lands of their ſhame.

20 At that time will I bring you againe, and then will I gather you; for I will giue you a name and a praiſe among all people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuity before your eyes, ſaith the Lord.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGVMENT.

When the time of the seuentie yeeres captiuitie prophecied by Ieremiah, was expired, God raised vp Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi, to comfort the Iewes, and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spirituall Temple and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie stood in Christ. And because that all were giuen to their owne pleasures and commodities, hee declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent then among them, was a iust reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Yet hee comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lord, with the promise of great felicitie, forasmuch as the Lord will finish the worke that he hath begun, and send Christ whom hee had promised, and by whom they should attaine to perfect ioy and glory.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of the Prophecie of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

IN the second yeere of king a Darius, in the sixt moneth, the first day of ℣ moneth, came ℣ word of the Lord (by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto b Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hoasts, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come c that the Lords house should be builded.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for your selues to dwell in your d sieled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hoasts, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 e Ye haue sowen much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye haue not enough: ye drinke, but yee are not filled: ye cloathe you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hoasts, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Go f vp to the mountaine, and bring wood, and build this House, and g I will be fauourable in it, and I will h be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blow i vpon it. And why, saith the Lord of hoasts? Because of mine House that is waste, and ye runne euery man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from dew, and the earth stayed her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon all that the ground bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, with all the remnant of the people, heard the k voyce of the Lord their God, and the words of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred vp l the spirit of Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a Prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the House of the Lord of hoasts their God.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth that the glory of the second Temple shall exceede the first.

IN the foure and twentieth day of the sixt moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius,

2 In the seuenth moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministery of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you that sawe this a House in her first glory, and how doe you see it now? is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good courage, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and b doe it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hoasts.

6 According to the word that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remaine among you, feare ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hoasts, c Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and d the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this House with glory, saith the Lord of hoasts.

9 The e siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hoasts.

10 The glory of this last House shall be greater then the first, saith the Lord of hoasts: and in this place will I giue f peace, saith the Lord of hoasts.

11 ¶ In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus saith the Lord of hoasts, Aske now the Priests concerning the Law, and say, 13 If one beare g holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch the bread or the pottage, or the wine, or oile, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

14 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vncleane? And the Priests which of it selfe is good, cannot make another thing so: and not to iustifie themselues by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary hee that is vncleane and not pure of heart, doth corrupt those things and make them detestable vnto God, which else are good and godly.

b Because the building of the Temple began to cease, by reason that the people were discouraged by their enemies: and if these two notable men had neede to be stirred vp and admonished of their duties, what shall wee thinke of other gouernours, whose slothes are either against God, or very cold in his cause?
c Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policie and priuate profit to religion, being content with small beginnings.

Priests answered and said, It shall be vncleane.

13 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the works of their hands, and that which they offer here, is vncleane.

14 And nowe, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this [h] day and afore, euen afore a stone was layd vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

15 [i] Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie measures, there were but ten, when one came to the winepresse, for to draw out fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

16 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you turned not to me, saith the Lord.

17 Consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from [k] this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords Temple was layde: consider it in your minds.

18 Is the [l] seede yet in the barne? as yet [ŷ] vine, and the figge tree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

19 And againe the word of the Lord came vnto Haggai in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

20 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, I [m] will shake the heauens and the earth,

21 And I will ouerthrow the throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the [n] kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrow the charets, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come downe, euery one by the sword of his brother.

22 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a [o] signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

h Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.

i That is, before the building was begun.

k From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would blesse them: and albeit as yet the fruite was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should haue plentie.

l He exhorteth them to patience, and to abide till the haruest came, & then they should see Gods blessings.

m I will make a change, and renue all things in Christ, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

n Hereby hee sheweth that there shall be no let or hinderance, when God will make this wonderfull restitution of his Church.

o Signifying, that his signeire should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Christ.

ZECHARIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

TWo moneths after that Haggai had begun to prophecie, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to helpe him in the labour, and to confirme the same doctrine. First therefore, hee putteth them in remembrance for what cause God had so sore punished their fathers: & yet comforteth them, if they will repent vnfainedly, and not abuse this great benefit of God in their deliuerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the faithfull should haue from death and sinne, by Christ. But because they remained still in their wickednesse, and coldnesse to set foorth Gods glory, and were not yet made better by their long banishment, hee rebuketh them most sharpely: yet for the comfort of the repentant, hee euer mixeth the promise of grace, that they might by this meane be prepared to receiue Christ, in whom all should be sanctified to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

a He exhorteth the people to returne to the Lord, and to eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 16 He signifieth the restitution of Ierusalem and the Temple.

a Who was the sonne of Hykaspis.

b This was not that Zachariah, whereof is mention, 2. Chron. 24. 20. but had the same name, and is called the sonne of Berechiah, as he was, because he came of those progenitours, as of Iehoiada or Berechiah, and Iddo.

c He speaketh this to feare them with Gods iudgements, that they should not prouoke him as their fathers had done, whom he so grieuously punished.

d Let your fruits declare that you are Gods people, and that he hath wrought in you by his Spirit. & mortified you: for else man hath no power to returne to God but God must conuert him, as Ierem. 31, 18. lament. 5. 21. Isa 21, 3. & 31, 6 and 45. 22. * Iere. 3, 12. Ezec. 18. 30. Hose 14, 2. Ioel 2, 12. e Though your fathers be dead, yet Gods iudgements in punishing them ought still to be before your eyes: and though the Prophets be dead, yet their doctrine remaineth for euer. 2. Pet. 1. 15. f Seeing yee fawe the force of my doctrine in punishing your fathers, why doe ye not feare the threatnings contained in the same, and declared by my Prophets? g As men astonished with my iudgements, and not that they were touched with true repentance.

IN the eight moneth of the second yeere of [a] Darius, came ŷ word of the Lord vnto [b] Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath bene [c] sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, [d] Turne ye vnto me, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whom the former * Prophets haue cried, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Turne yee now from your euill wayes, and from your wicked workes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, saith the Lord.

5 Your fathers, where [e] are they? and doe the Prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my words and my statutes, which I commanded by my seruants the Prophets, take hold of [f] your fathers? and [g] they returned, and saide, As the Lord of hostes hath determined to doe vnto vs according to our owne wayes, & according to our works, so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth [h] Shebat, in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

8 I [i] saw by night, and behold, [k] a man riding vpon a red horse, and he stood among the myrrhe trees that were in a bottome, and behind him were there [l] red horses speckled and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with me, said vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrrhe trees, answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to goe thorow the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord that stood among the myrrhe trees, and said, Wee haue gone thorow the world: and behold, all the world sitteth still and is at rest.

12 Then the [m] Angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnmercifull to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeased now these threescore and ten yeeres?

13 And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with mee, with good words and comfortable words.

14 So the Angel that communed with me, said vnto mee, Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the i This vision signifieth the restauration of the Church: but as yet it should not appeare to mans eyes, which is here meant by the night, by the bottome, and by the myrrhe trees which are blacke, and giue a darke shadow, yet hee comforteth God to a King, who hath his posts and messengers abroad by whom he still worketh his purpose, and bringeth his matters to passe.

k Who was the chiefe among the rest of the horsemen.

l These signified the diuers offices of Gods Angels by whom God sometime punisheth and sometime comforteth and bringeth forth his workes for the saluation of his in diuers sorts. m That is, Christ the mediatour prayed about the state of his Church, which was now troubled, when all the countrey rested

Lord of hoastes, I am n ielous ouer Ierusalem and Zion with a great zeale, 15 And am greatly angry against the careleſſe heathen: for I was angry but o a little, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, I will returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercy; mine houſe ſhall be builded in it, ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, and a line p ſhalbe ſtretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Crie yet, and ſpeake, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes, My cities ſhall yet q be broken with plenty: the Lord ſhall yet comfort Zion, and ſhall yet chuſe Ierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and ſaw, and behold r foure hornes.

19 And I ſaid vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be theſe? And he anſwered me, Theſe are the hornes which haue ſcattered Iudah, Iſrael and Ierusalem.

20 And the Lord ſhewed me foure ſ carpenters.

21 Then ſaid I, What come theſe to doe? And he anſwered, and ſaid, Theſe are the hornes, which haue ſcattered Iudah, ſo that a man durſt not lift vp his head; but theſe are come to fray them, and to caſt out the hornes of § Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the land of Iudah to ſcatter it.

n Though for a time God deſerue his help and comfort from his Church, yet this delighteth that he loueth them ſtill moſt dearely, as a moſt mercifull father his children, or an husband his wife, and when it is expedient for them, his helpe is euer ready.

o In deſtroying the reprobate I ſhewed my ſelfe but a little angry toward my church, but the enemie would haue deſtroyed them alſo, and conſidered not the end of my chaſtiſements.

p To meaſure out the buildings.

q The abundance ſhalbe ſo great, that the places of ſtore ſhall not be able to containe theſe bleſſings that God will ſend, but ſhall euen breake for fulneſſe.

r Which ſignified all the enemies of the Church, Eaſt, Weſt, North, South.

ſ Theſe Carpenters or Smiths are Gods inſtruments, which with their mallets and hammers breake theſe hard and ſtrong hornes which ſhould ouerthrow the Church, and declare that none enemies horne is ſo ſtrong, but God hath an hammer to breake it in pieces.

CHAP. II.

The reſtoring of Ieruſalem and Iudah.

I Lift vp mine eyes againe, and looked, and behold, a a man with a meaſuring line in his hand.

2 Then ſayd I, Whither goeſt thou? And he ſayd vnto mee, To meaſure Ierusalem, that I may ſee what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and another Angel went out to meet him,

4 And ſayd vnto him, Runne, ſpeake to this b yong man, and ſay, c Ierusalem ſhalbe inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 For I, ſaith the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of d fire round about, and will e be the glory in the mids of her.

6 Ho, ho, come f forth and flee from the land of the North, ſaith the Lord: for I haue ſcattered you into the foure g windes of § heauen, ſaith the Lord.

7 h Saue thy ſelfe, O Zion, that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, After this i glory hath he ſent mee vnto the nations, which ſpoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the k apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will lift vp mine hand l vpon them: and m they ſhallbe a ſpoyle to thoſe that ſerued them, and yee ſhall know, that the Lord of hoaſts hath n ſent me.

10 Reioyce and be glad, O daughter Zion: for loe, I come, and will dwell in the middes of thee, ſaith the Lord.

11 And many nations ſhall be ioyned to the Lord in that day, and ſhalbe my people: and I will dwell in the mids of thee, & thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoaſts hath ſent me vnto thee.

12 And the Lord ſhall inherit Iudah his portion in the holy land, and ſhall chuſe Ierusalem againe.

13 Let all fleſh be ſtill before the Lord: for he is raiſed vp out of his holy place.

CHAP. III.

A prophecie of Chriſt and of his kingdome.

AND he ſhewed mee Iehoſhua the high Prieſt, a a ſtanding before the Angel of the Lord, and b Satan ſtood at his right hand to reſiſt him.

2 And the c Lord ſaid vnto Satan, The Lord reprooue thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath choſen Ierusalem, reprooue thee. Is not this a d brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Iehoſhua was cloathed with e filthie garments, and ſtood before the Angel.

4 And he anſwered and ſpake vnto thoſe that ſtood before him, ſaying, Take away the e filthy garments from him. And vnto him he ſaid, Behold, I haue f cauſed thine iniquity to depart from thee, and I will cloathe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I ſaid, Let them g ſet a faire diademe vpon his head. So they ſet a faire diademe vpon his head, and cloathed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord ſtood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord teſtified vnto Iehoſhua, ſaying,

7 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes, If thou wilt walke in my waies, and keepe my watch, thou ſhalt alſo h iudge mine houſe, and ſhalt alſo keepe my i courts, and I will giue thee place among k theſe that ſtand by.

8 Heare now, O Iehoſhua the hie Prieſt, thou and thy fellowes that ſit before thee: for they l are monſtrous perſons: but behold, I will bring forth the m Branch my ſeruant.

9 For loe, the n ſtone that I haue laid before Iehoſhua: vpon one ſtone ſhall be ſeuen eyes: behold, I o will cut out the grauing thereof, ſaith the Lord of hoaſts, and I will take p away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, ſaith the Lord of hoaſtes, ſhall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the q vine, and vnder the figtree.

a That is, the Angel who was Chriſt: for in reſpect of his office he is oft times called an Angel, but in reſpect of his eternall eſſence, is God, and ſo called.

b Meaning, himſelfe Zechariah.

c Signifying the ſpirituall Ieruſalem and Church vnder Chriſt, which ſhould be extended by the Goſpel through all the world, and ſhould need no materiall walles nor cruſt in any worldly ſtrength, but ſhould be ſafely preſerued and dwell in peace among all their enemies.

d To defend my Church, to feare the enemies and to deſtroy them if they approach neere.

e In me they ſhall haue their full felicitie and glory.

f He calleth to them, which partly for feare, and partly for their owne eaſe remained ſtill in captiuity, and ſo preferred their owne priuate commodities to the benefits of God promiſed in his Church.

g As it was I that ſcattered you, ſo haue I power to reſtore you.

h By fleeing from Babylon, and comming to the Church.

i Seeing that God hath begun to ſhew his grace among you by deliuering you, he continueth the ſame ſtill toward you, and therefore defendeth me his Angel and his Chriſt to defend you from your enemies, that they ſhall not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home.

k Yee are ſo deare vnto God, that he can no more ſuffer your enemies to hurt you, then a man can abide to be ſtruck in the eye. Pſal. 17.8.

l Vpon the heathen your enemies.

m They ſhall be your ſeruants, as you haue beare theirs.

n This muſt neceſſarily be vnderſtood of Chriſt, who being God equall with his Father, was ſent as he was Mediatour to dwell in his Church and to gouerne them.

a He prayed to Chriſt the Mediatour for the ſtate of the Church.

b Which declareth that the faithfull haue not onely warre with fleſh and blood, but with Satan himſelfe and ſpirituall wickedneſſe. Ephes. 6.12.

c That is, Chriſt ſpeaketh to God as the Mediatour of his Church, that he would rebuke Satan: and here he ſheweth himſelfe to be the continuall preſeruer of his Church.

d Meaning, that Iehoſhua was wonderfully preſerued in the captiuity, and now Satan ſought to afflict and trouble him when he was doing his office.

e In reſpect of the glorious garments and precious ſtones that the Prieſtes did weare before the captiuity: and by this contemptible ſtate the Prophet ſignifieth that theſe ſmall beginnings ſhould be made excellent when Chriſt ſhall make the full reſtitution of his Church.

f He ſheweth of what apparell he ſpeaketh, which is, when our ſinnes are taken away, and we are clad with Gods mercies, which is meant of the ſpirituall reſtitution.

g The Prophet prayeth, that reſtles the raiment, the Prieſt might alſo haue tyre for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Prieſthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Chriſt, who was both Prieſt and King: and here all ſuch are condemned, that can content themſelues with any meane reformation in religion, ſeeing the Prophet deſireth the perfection, and obtaineth it.

h That is haue rule and gouernement in my Church, as they predeceſſors haue had.

i Whereby he meaneth to haue the whole charge and miniſtery of the Church.

k That is, the Angels, who repreſented the whole number of the faithfull: ſignifying that all the godly ſhould willingly receiue him.

l Becauſe they follow my word, they are countemned in the world, and eſteemed as monſters. Iſa. 8.18.

m That is, Chriſt, who did ſo humble himſelfe, that not onely he became the ſeruant of God, but alſo the ſeruant of men: and therefore in him they ſhould haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Iſa. 11.1. Ier. 23.5, and 33.14, 15.

n He ſheweth that the miniſters cannot build before God lay the firſt ſtone, which is Chriſt, who is full of eyes, both becauſe he giueth light vnto all others, and that all ought to ſeeke light at him. Chap. 4.10.

o That is, I will make it perfect in all points, as a thing wrought by the hand of GOD.

p Though I be puniſhed this land for a time, yet I will euen now be pacified, and vſe their ſinnes no more.

q Ye ſhall then liue in peace and quietneſſe, that is, in the kingdome of Chriſt, Iſa. 2.2, micah. 4. haggai 2.10.

CHAP. IV.

The vision of the golden candlestick, and the exposition thereof.

AND the Angel that talked with mee, came againe and waked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleepe,

2 And said vnto mee, What seest thou? And I said, I haue looked, and behold, a [a] candlestick all of gold with a bowle vpon the top of it, and his seuen lampes therein, and seuen [b] pipes to the lampes which were vpon the top thereof,

3 And two oliue trees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, answered and said vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake vnto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord vnto [c] Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by [d] an army nor strength, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.

7 Who art thou, O [e] great mountaine, before Zerubbabel? thou shalt be a plaine, and [f] he shall bring foorth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel haue layed the foundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and [g] thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the [h] small things? but they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of [i] tinne in the hand of Zerubbabel: [k] these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which goe thorow the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and said vnto him, What are these two oliues trees vpon the right and vpon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreouer, and said vnto him, What be these two oliue branches, which thorow the two golden pipes emptie themselues into the gold?

13 And he answered mee, and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two I oliue branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

a Which was euer in the midst of the Temple, signifying that the graces of Gods spirit should shine there in most abundance, and in all perfection.
b Which conueyed the oyle that dropped from the trees into the lamps, so that the light neuer failed: and this vision was to confirme the faithfull that God had sufficient power in himselfe to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe though he had no helpe of man.
c Who was a figure of Christ, and therefore this doctrine was directed to all the Church, who are his body and members.
d He sheweth that Gods power onely is sufficient to preserue his Church, though he vse not mans helpe thereunto.
e He compareth the power of the aduersaries to a great mountaine, who thought the Iewes nothing in respect of them, and would haue hindered Zerubbabel, who represented Christ, whom the enemies day'ly labour to let in the building of his spirituall Temple, but all in vaine.
f Though the enemies think to lay this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace and fauour toward the Temple. g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building and preseruation of my spirituall Temple. h Signifying, that all were discouraged at the small and poore beginnings of the Temple. i Whereby he signifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should goe forward with his building to the ioy and comfort of the godly, though the world be against him, and though his for a while be discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye. k That is, Gods hath seuen eyes, meaning, a continuall prouidence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world can goe about to bring any thing to passe to hinder his worke, chap. 3. 9. l Which were euer greene and full of oyle, so that still they powred foorth oyle into the lampes: signifying, that God will continually maintaine and preserue his Church, and endue it still with abundance and perfection of grace.

CHAP. V.

a The vision of the flying booke, signifying the curse of thernes, and such as abuse the Name of God. b By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudahs afflictions into Babylon.

THEN I turned me, and lifted vp mine eyes and looked, and behold, a flying booke.

2 And he said vnto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying [a] booke: the length thereof is twentie cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for euery one that [b] stealeth, shall be cut off, as well on this [c] side, as on that: and euery one that [d] sweareth, shall be cut off, as well on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, and into the house of him that falsly sweareth by my Name: and it shall remaine in the middes of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went foorth, and said vnto me, Lift vp now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I sayd, What is it? And hee sayd, This is an [e] Ephah that goeth foorth. Hee sayd moreouer, This is the [f] sight of them through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift vp a [g] talent of lead: and this is a [h] woman that sitteth in the mids of the Ephah.

8 And he said, This is [i] wickednes, and he cast it into the middes of the Ephah, and hee cast the weight of lead vpon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came out two [k] women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a storke) and they lift vp the Ephah betweene the earth and the heauen.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither doe these beare the Ephah?

11 And he sayd vnto me, To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall be established and set there vpon her owne place.

a Because the Iewes had prouoked Gods plagues by contemning his word, and casting off all iudgement and equitie, hee sheweth that Gods curses written in this booke had swiftly light forth on them and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Caldeans their enemies.
b That is, vseth any iniurie toward his neighbour.
c Meaning, where soeuer he be in the world.
d He that transgresseth the first table, and seeketh not God aright, but abuseth Gods Name e Which was a measure in drie things, containing about ten pottels.
f That is, all the wickednes of the vngodly is in Gods sight, which hee keepeth in a measure, and can shut it or open it at his pleasure g To couer the measure.
h Which representeth iniquitie, but haue such power against the Iewes to tempt them, as hee had in time past, but that God would shut vp iniquity in a measure as in a prison.
i Signifying, that Satan should not haue such power as in the next verse.
k Which declared that God would execute his iudgements by the meanes of the weake and infirme meanes.
l To remoue the iniquity and affliction that came for the same from Iudah, to place it for euer in Babylon.

CHAP. VI.

By the foure charets he describeth the foure Monarchies.

AGAINE I turned and lift vp mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came foure [a] charets out from betweene [b] two mountaines, and the mountaines were mountaines of brasse.

2 In the first charet were [c] red horses, and in the second charet d blacke horses,

3 And in the third charet [e] white horses, and in the fourth charet, horses of [f] diuers colours, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and sayde vnto the Angel that talked with mee, What are these, my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and sayd vnto mee, These are the foure [g] spirits of the heauen, which goe foorth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into a By charets here, as by horses afore, he meaneth the Gods messengers of God to execute and declare his will.

b By the brasen mountaines he meaneth the exterball counsell, and prouidence of God whereby he hath from before all eternitie decreed what shall come to passe, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter.
c Which signified the great crueltie and persecution that the Church had endured vnder diuers enemies. d Signifying, that they had endured great afflictions vnder the Babylonians. e These represented their state vnder the Persians, which restored them to libertie. f Which signified that God would sometime giue his Church rest, and powre his plagues vpon their enemies, as he did in destroying Nineue, and Babylon and other their enemies. g Meaning, all the actions and motions of Gods Spirit which according to his vnchangeable counsell he causeth to goe or cease through all the world.

the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of diuers colours went foorth toward the [h] South countrey.

7 And the [i] reddish went out, and required to goe, and passe thorow the world, and he said, Go, passe thorow the world. So they went thorowout the world.

8 Then cried he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Behold, these that goe toward the North countrey, haue pacified my [k] spirit in the North countrey.

9 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

10 Take of them of the captiuitie, euen of Heldai, and of Tobiiah, and Iedaiah, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and goe vnto the house of [l] Iosiiah, the sonne of Zephaniah.

11 Take euen siluer, and golde, and make crownes, and set them vpon the [m] head of Iehoshua, the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, 12 And speake vnto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hoasts, and saith, Behold, the man whose name is the [n] Branch, and he shall growe [o] vp out of his place, and he shall [p] build the Temple of the Lord.

13 Euen hee shall build the Temple of the Lord, and he shall beare the [q] glory, and shall sit and rule vpon his throne, and he shall be a Priest vpon his throne, and the counsell of peace shallbe betweene [r] them both.

14 And the crownes shall be to [s] Helem, and to Tobiiah, and to Iedaiah, and to [t] Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a [u] memoriall in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are [x] farre off, shall come and builde in the Temple of the Lord, and yee shall know, that the Lord of hoastes hath sent mee vnto you. And this shall come to passe, if ye will [y] obey the voyce of the Lord your God.

h That is, toward Egypt, and other countreys thereabout.

i That is, they of diuers colours, which take leaue, to signifie that Satan hath no power to hurt or afflict, till God giue it him. Iob 1,12.

k By punishing the Caldeans mine anger ceased, and you were deliuered.

l To receiue of him and the other three, money to make the two crownes: which were men of great authority among the Iewes, and doubted of the restitution of the kingdome, and of the Priesthood, and hurt others by their example.

m Because this could not be attributed to any one according to the Law, therefore it followeth that Iehoshua muste represent the Messiah, who was both Priest and king.

n Meaning Christ, of whom Iehoshua was the figure: for in Greek they were both called Iesus.

o That is, of himselfe without the helpe of man.

p Which declareth, that none could build this Temple whereof Haggai speaketh, but onely Christ: and therefore it was spirituall, and not materiall, Haggai 2.10.

q Whereof Iehoshua had but a shadow.

r The two offices of the kingdome, and of Priesthood shall be so ioyned together, that they shallbe no more diuiseured.

s Who was also called Heldai.

t He was also called Iosiiah.

u That they may acknowledge their vnfruitfie, which looked that all things should haue beene restored incontinently: and of this their infidelity these two crownes shal remaine as tokens, Acts 1,16.

x That is, the Gentiles by the preaching of the Gospe, shall helpe toward the building of the spirituall Temple.

y If yee will beleeue and remaine in the obedience of faith.

CHAP. VII.

f The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

a Which contained part of November and part of December.

b That is, the rest of the people that remained yet in Caldea, sent to the Church at Ierusalem, for the resolution of these questions, because these feasts were consented vpon by the agreement of the whole Church, the one in the moneth that the Temple was destroyed, and the other when Gedaliah was slaine, Iere. 41.1.

c By weeping and mourning appeare what exercises they vsed in their fasting.

d That is, prepare my selfe with all deuotion to this fast.

e Which was now since the time the Temple was destroyed.

AND in the fourth yeere of King Darius, the word of the Lord came vnto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, euen in a Chisleu,

2 For [b] they had sent vnto the House of God Sharezer, and Regem-melech and their men to pray before the Lord,

3 And to speake vnto the Priests, which were in the House of the Lord of hoastes, and to the Prophers, saying, Should I [c] weepe in the fift moneth, and [d] separate my selfe as I haue done these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hoastes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto all the people of the land, and to the Priests, and say, When ye fasted, and mourned in the [e] fift and seuenth moneth, euen these seuentie yeeres, did ye fast vnto me? [x] doe I approoue it?

6 And when yee did eate, and when yee did drinke, did ye not eat [b] for your selues, and drinke for your selues?

7 Should yee not heare the wordes which the Lord hath cried by the ministerie of the former Prophets when Ierusalem was inhabited, and in prosperitie, and the cities thereof round about her, when the South and the plaine was inhabited?

8 And the word of the Lord came vnto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hoastes, saying, [k] Execute true iudgement, and shew mercy and compassion, euery man to his brother,

10 And oppresse not the widow, nor the fatherlesse, [f] stranger nor the poore, and let none of you imagine euill against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and [l] pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, least they should heare the Law and the words which the Lord of hoasts sent in his [m] Spirit by the ministerie of the former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hoasts.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that as he cried, and they would not heare, so they cried, and I would not heare, saith the Lord of hoasts.

14 But I scattered them among all the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate [n] after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land [o] waste.

f For there were both of the people, and of the Priests, which doubted as touching this controuersie, besides them which are yet remained in Caldea, and reasoned of it, as of one of the chiefe points of their religion.

g For they thought they had deserued toward God because of this fast, which they inuented of themselues: and though fasting of it selfe be good, yet because they thought it a seruice toward God, and trusted therein, it is here reproued.

h Did ye not eate and drinke for your owne commoditie and necessitie, and so likewise ye did abstaine according to your owne fantasies, and not after the prescript of my Law.

i Hereby he condemneth their hypocrisie, which thought by their fasting to please God and by such things as they inuented, & in the meane season would not serue him as he had commanded.

k He sheweth that they did not fast with a sincere heart, but for hypocrisie, and that it was not done of a pure religion, because that they lacked these offices of charitie, which should haue declared that they were godly, Matth. 23.23.

l And would not caste the Lords burthen, which was sweete and easie, but would beare their owne, which was heauie and grieuous to the flesh, thinking to merit thereby: which similitude is taken of oxen, which shrinke at the yoke, Nehe. 9.29.

m Which declareth that they rebelled not onely against the Prophets, but against the Spirit of God that spake in them.

n That is, after they were caried captiue, o By their sinnes whereby they prouoked Gods anger.

CHAP. VIII.

a Of the returne of the people vnto Ierusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them. 16 Of good workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

AGaine the word of the Lord of hoastes came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, I was [a] iealous for Zion with great iealousie, and I was iealous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Zion, and will dwell in the mids of Ierusalem: and Ierusalem shall be called a [b] citie of trueth, and the Mountaine of the Lord of hoastes, the holy Mountaine.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, There shall yet old [c] men and old women dwell in the streets of Ierusalem, and euery man with his staffe in his hand for very age.

5 And the streets of the citie shall be full of boyes and girles, playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Though it be [d] vnpossible in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hoastes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Behold, I will deliuer my people from the East countrey, and from the West countrey.

a I loued my citie with a singular loue, so that I could not abide that any should do her any iniury.

b Because she shall be faithfull, and loyall toward me her husband.

c Though their enemies did greatly molest and trouble them, yet God would come and dwell among them, and so preserue them so long as nature would suffer them to liue, and increase their children in great abundance.

d He sheweth wherein our faith standeth, that is, to beleeue that some newes so vnpos-

God can performe that which he hath promised, though it seeme to man, Gen. 18, 14. Rom 4.20.

a So that their returne shall not be in vaine: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperitie shalbe sure and stable.
f Let neither respect of your private commodities neither counsell of others, nor feare of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the Prophets, which encourage you thereunto.
g For God cursed your workes, so that neither man nor beast had profit of their labours.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall e dwell in the mids of Ierusalem, and they shalbe my people, & I wil be their God in trueth, & in righteousnes.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, Let your f hands be strong, yee that heare in these dayes these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hoastes was laide, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no hire for g man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, euery one against his neighbour.

11 But now, I will not entreate the residue of this people as aforetime, saith the Lord of hoastes.

12 For the seede shall be prosperous: the vine shall giue her fruit, and the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue their dewe; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Iudah, and house of Israel, so will I deliuer you, and ye shalbe a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hoastes, As I thought to punish h you, when your fathers prouoked mee vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hoastes, and repented not,

15 So againe haue I determined in these dayes i to doe well vnto Ierusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do, Speake ye euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour: execute iudgement truely, & vprightly in your gates, 17 And let none of you imagine euill in your hearts against his neighbour, and loue no false oathe: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hoastes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, The fast of the fourth moneth, and the fast of the fift, and the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the k tenth, shall be to the house of Iudah ioy and gladnesse, and prosperous high feasts: therefore loue the trueth and peace.

20 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, That there shall yet come l people, and the inhabitants of great cities.

21 And they that dwell in one citie, shall go to another, saying, * Vp, let vs go and pray before the Lord, and seeke the Lord of hoasts: I will goe also.

22 Yea, great people and mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hoastes in Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hoastes, In those dayes shall ten men take hold out of all languages of the nations, euen take hold of the skirt of him that is a Iew, and say, We will goe with you: for we haue heard that God is with you.

CHAP. IX.

The threatning of the Gentiles. The comming of Christ.

THE burthen of the worde of the Lord in the land of a Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his b rest: when the c eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israel shalbe toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border d thereby:

a Whereby he meaneth Syria.
b Gods anger shall abide vpon their chiefe citie, and not pase so much as that. c When the Iewes shall conuert and repent, then God will destroy their enemies. d That is, by Damascus: meaning, that Hamath or Antiochia should be vnder the same rod and plague.

Tyrus also and Zidon, though they be e very wise.

3 For Tyrus did build her selfe a strong hold, and heaped vp siluer as the dust, and golde as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will spoile her, and he will smite her f power in the sea, and shee shall be deuoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very sorrowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shall be athamed; and the king shall perish from Azzah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And the g stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistims.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betweene his h teeth: but he that remaineth, euen he shallbe for our God, and he shallbe as a prince in Iudah, but i Ekron shallbe as a Iebusite.

8 And I will campe about k mine House against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now I haue I seene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion, shout for ioy, O daughter Ierusalem: behold, thy king commeth vnto thee: m he is iust, and saued himselfe, poore and riding vpon an n asse, and vpon a colt the foale of an asse.

10 And I will cut off the o charets from Ephraim, and the horse from Ierusalem: the bowe of the battell shall be broken, and he shall speake peace vnto the heathen, and his dominion shalbe from p sea vnto sea, and from the q Riuer to the end of the land.

11 r Thou also shalt be saued through the blood of thy couenant. I haue loosed thy f prisoners out of the pit wherein s no water.

12 Turne you to the t strong hold, ye u prisoners of hope: euen to day doe I declare, that I will render the x double vnto thee.

13 For Iudah haue I bent as a y bowe for me: Ephraims hand haue I filled, and I haue raised vp thy sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as a gyants sword.

14 And the Lord shallbe seene ouer them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come foorth with the whirlewinds of the South.

15 The Lord of hoastes shall defend them, and they shall deuoure them, z and subdue them with sling stones, and they shall drinke, and make a noise as through wine, and they shallbe filled like bowles, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God shall deliuer them in that day as the flocke of his people: for they

e He secretly sheweth the cause of their destruction, because they deceiued all other by their craft and subtilitie, which they cloaked with this name of wisedome.
f Though they of Tyrus thinke themselues inuincible by reason of the sea that compasseth them round about, yet they shall not escape Gods iudgments.
g Meaning, that all should be destroyed, saue a very few, that should remaine as strangers.
h He promiseth to deliuer the Iewes when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their cruelty and wrongs done to them.
i As the Iebusites had bin destroyed, so should Ekron and all the Philistims.
k He sheweth that Gods power onely shalbe sufficient to defend his Church against all aduersaries be they neuer so cruell, or affensible their power neuer so often.
l That is, God hath now seene the great iniuries and afflictions wherewith they haue bene afflicted by their enemies.
m In this, he shaketh the hope of worldly greatnesse and salutation in himselfe for the vse and commoditie of his Church.
n Which declareth that they should not looke for such a king as should be glorious in the eies of man, but should be poore, and yet in himselfe haue all power to deliuer his: and this is meant of Christ, as Matt. 21.
o No power of man or creature shalbe able to let this kingdome of Christ, and he shall peaceably gouerne them by his word.
p That is, from the red sea, to the sea called Syriacum: and by these places which the Iewes knew, he meant an infinite space and compasse ouer the whole world.
q That is from Euphrates.
r Meaning Ierusalem, or the Church, which is saued by the blood of Christ whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the couenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church, and left it with them for the loue that he bare vnto them.
s God sheweth that he will deliuer his Church out of all dangers, seeme they neuer so great.
t That is, into the holy land where the city and the Temple are: where God will defend you.
u Meaning the faithfull, which seemed to be in danger of their enemies on euery side, and yet liued in hope that God would restore them to libertie.
x That is, double benefits and prosperity in respect of that which your fathers enioyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie.
y I will make Iudah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which bee here meaneth by the Grecians.
z He promiseth that the Iewes shall destroy their enemies, and haue abundance and excesse of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, but to sobriety, and a thankefull remembrance of Gods great liberalitie.

shalbe as the [a] stones of his crowne lifted vp vpon his land.

17 For how great is his goodnesse! and how great is his beautie! corne shall make the young men cheerefull, and new wine the maydes.

a The faithfull shalbe preserued, and reuerenced of all, that the very enemies shalbe compelled to esteeme them: for Gods glory shal shine in them, as Iosephus declareth of Alexander the great when hee mette Iadh the high Priest.

CHAP. X.

1 The vanitie of Idolatrie. 3 The Lord promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

ASke you of the [a] Lord raine in the time of the latter raine: so shall the Lord make white cloudes, and giue you showres of raine, and to euery one grasse in the field.

2 Surely the [b] idoles haue spoken vanitie, and the soothsayers haue seene a lye, and the dreamers haue talde a vaine thing: they comfort in vaine: therefore [c] they went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepheard.

3 My wrath was kindled against the shepheards, and I did visite the [d] goates: but the Lord of hosts will visite his flocke the house of Iudah, and will make them as [e] his beautifull horse in the battell.

4 Out [f] of him shall the corner come foorth: out of him the nayle, out of him the bow of battell, and out of him euery [g] appointer of tribute also.

5 And they shalbe as the mighty men, which tread downe their enemies in the myre of the streetes in the battell, and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, and the riders on horses shalbe confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Iudah, and I will preserue the [h] house of Ioseph, and I will bring them againe, for I pitty them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be as a gyant: and their heart shall reioyce as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad: and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will [i] hisse for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: and they shall increase, as they haue increased.

9 And I will [k] sow them among the people, and they shall remember me in farre countreyes: and they shall liue with their children and [l] turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also out of the land of Egypt, & gather them out of Assur: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he [m] shall goe into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waues in the sea, and all the depths of the riuer shall drie vp: and the pride of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shall deprat away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walke in his Name, saith the Lord.

a The Prophet reprooueth the Iewes because by their owne infidelitie they put backe Gods graces promised, and so famine came by Gods iust iudgement: therefore to auoid this plague, he willeth them to turne to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will giue them abundance.
b He calleth to remembrance Gods punishments in times past, because they trusted not in him, but in their idoles and forcerers who euer deceiued them.
c That is, the Iewes went into captiuitie.
d Meaning, the cruell gouernours which did oppresse the poore sheepe, Ezek. 34. 16. 17.
e He will be mercifull to his Church and cherish them as a king or prince doth his best horse which shalbe for his owne vse in the warre.
f Out of Iudah shall the chiefe gouernour proceede, who shall be as a corner to vphold the building, and as a nayle to fasten it together.
g Ouer their enemies.
h That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered vnder Christ to the rest of the Church.
i Whereby he declareth the power of God, who needeth no great preparation when he will deliuer.
k His: for with a becke or hisse bee can call them from all places suddenly.
l Though they shall yet be scattered and seeme to be lost, yet it shalbe profitable vnto them: for there they shall come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospel, among whom it was first preached.
m Not that they should returne in their country, but be gathered and ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel.
n He alludeth to the deliuerance of the people out of Egypt, where the Angel smote the floods and riuers.

CHAP. XI.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ. 7 A grieuous visitn against Ierusalem and Iudah.

OPen thy doores, O [a] Lebanon, and the fire shall deuoure thy cedars.

2 Howle, [b] firre trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mightie are destroyed: howle ye, Ookes of Bathan, for the [c] defenced forrest is cut downe.

3 There is the voyce of the howling of the shepheards: for their [d] glory is destroyed; the voyce of the roaring of lyons whelpes: for the pride of Iorden is destroyed.

4 Thus sayeth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the [e] slaughter.

5 They that possesse them, slay them [f] and sinne not: and they that sell them, say, [g] Blessed be the Lord: for I am rich, and their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Surely I will no more spare those that dwell in the land, saith the Lord: but loe, [h] I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his [i] king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the [k] poore of the flocke, and I tooke vnto me [l] two staues: the one I called Beautie, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheepe.

8 [m] Three shepheards also I cut off in one moneth, and my soule loathed [n] them, and their soule abhorred me.

9 Then sayd I, I will not feede you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eate, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I tooke my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull my couenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the [o] poore of the sheepe that waited vpon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayd vnto them, If ye thinke it good, giue me [p] my wages: and if no, leaue off: so they weighed for my wages thirtie pieces of siluer.

13 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Cast it vnto the [q] potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie pieces of siluer, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, euen the Bands, that I might dissolue the brotherhood betweene Iudah and Israel.

15 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Take to thee yet [r] the instruments of a foolish shepheard.

16 For loe, I will raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shall not looke for the thing that is lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, nor heale that that is hurt, nor feede that that [s] standeth vp, but he shall eate flesh of the fat, and teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idole shepheard that leaueth the flocke! the sword shalbe vpon his [t] arme, and vpon his a Because the Iewes thought themselues so strong by reason of this mountaine, that no enemy could come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth that when God sendeth the enemies, it shall shew it selfe ready to execute them.

b Shewing, that if the strong men were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist.
c Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the strongest munition, the weaker places could not thinke to hold out.
d That is, the renoume of Iudah and Israel should perish.

i Their gouernors shall execute cruelties ouer them.
k That is, the small remnant, whom he thought worthie to shew mercie vnto.
l God sheweth his great benefits toward his people to conuince them of greater ingratitude, when they would neither be ruled by his most beautifull order of gouernement, neither continue in the bands of brotherly vnitie, and therefore he bre[a]keth both the one and the other. Some reade, for Bands, Destroyers.
m Whereby hee sheweth his rulers, because they should consider his great loue.
n Meaning, the people, because they would not acknowledge the[i]r great benefits of God.
o He sheweth that the least part euer profit by Gods iudgements.
p Beside[s] their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickednesse, which did not onely forget his benefits, but esteemed them as things of nought.
q Shewing that it was too little to pay his wages, which could scarse suffice to make a few tyles for to couer the Temple.
r Signifying that they should haue a certaine kinde of regiment and outward shew of gouernement: but in effect it should be nothing: for they should be wolues, and deuouring beasts in stead of shepheards.

right eye. His arme shall be cleane dried vp, and his right eye shalbe vtterly darkened.

CHAP. XII.

Of the destruction and building againe of Ierusalem.

THE burden of the worde of the Lord vpon [a] Israel, sayth the Lord, which spred the heauens, and layd the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ierusalem a [b] cup of poyson vnto all the people round about: and also with Iudah will hee be in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Ierusalem an heauie stone for all people: all that lift it vp, shall be torne, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will smite euery horse with astonishment, and his rider with madnesse, and I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iudah, and will smite euery horse of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the Princes of Iudah shall say in their hearts, The [c] inhabitants of Ierusalem shalbe my strength in the Lord of hoastes their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Iudah like coales of fire among the woode, and like a firebrand in the sheafe, and they shall deuoure all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Ierusalem shall bee inhabited againe in her owne place, euen in Ierusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preserue the [d] tents of Iudah, as aforetime: therefore the glory of the house of Dauid shall not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ierusalem against Iudah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and he that is feeble among them, in that day shall be as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I seeke to destroy all the nations that come against Ierusalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the house of David, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem the Spirit of [e] grace and of compassion, and they shal looke vpon me, whome they haue [f] pierced, and they shall lament for [g] him as one mourneth for his onely sonne, and bee sorie for him as one is sorie for his first borne.

11 In that day shal there be a great mourning in Ierusalem, as the [h] mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the [k] land shall bewaile euery family apart, the family of the [m] house of David apart, and their wiues apart: the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wiues apart:

13 The family of the house of Leui apart, and their wiues apart: the family of [n] Shemei apart, and their wiues apart:

14 All the families that [o] remaine, euery family apart, and their wiues apart.

a Thatis, the ten tribes, which neglected Gods benefits in deliuering their brethren, and haue rather remaine in captiuitie, then to returne home when God called them.
b Ierusalem shall be defended against all her enemies: so shall God defend all Iudah also, and shall destroy the enemies.
c Euery captaine, that had many vnder him afore, shall now thinke that the small power of Ierusalem shalbe sufficient to defend them against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.
d The people which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, shall be no lesse preserued by my power, then if they were vnder their kings (which is meant by the house of Dauid) or in their defenced cities.
e They shall haue the feeling of my grace by faith, and know that I haue compassion on them.
f That is, whom they haue continually vexed with their obstinacie, and grieued my Spirit, Ioh. 19 37. where it is referred to Christs body, which here is referred to the Spirit of God.
g They shall turne to God by true repentance, whom before they had so grieuously offended by their vngratitude.
h They shall lament and repent exceedingly for their offences against God. i Which was the name of a towne and place neere to Megiddo where Iosiah was slaine, 2 Chron. 35. 22. k That is, all places where the Iewes shall remaine. l Signifying, that this mourning or repentance should not be a vaine ceremonie: but euery one touched with his owne griefes, shall lament. m Vnder these certaine families bee contemeth all the tribes, and sheweth that both the Kings and the Priests had by their sinnes pierced Christ. n Called also Simeon. o To wit, which were elect by grace, and preserued from the common destruction.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the fountaine of grace. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatry. 3 The zeale of the godly against false prophets.

IN that day there a shall bee a fountaine opened to the house of Dauid, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, for sinne and for vncleanesse.

2 And in that day, saith the Lord of hoasts, I will cut off the [b] names of the idoles out of the land: and they shall no more be remembred: and I will cause the [c] prophets, and the vncleane spirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any shall yet [d] prophecie, his father and his mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue: for thou speakest lyes in the name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begate him, e shall thrust him through, when he prophecieth.

4 And in that day shall the prophets [f] bee ashamed euery one of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shal they weare a rough garment to deceiue.

5 But hee shall say, I am no [g] Prophet: I am an husbandman: for man taught me to bee an heardman from my youth vp.

6 And one shall say vnto him, What are these [h] wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answere, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 ¶ Arise, O sword, vpon my [i] shepheard, and vpon the man, that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hostes: smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered: and I will turne mine hand vpon the little ones.

8 And in all the land, sayeth the Lord, [k] two parts therein shal be cut off, and die: but the third shalbe left therein.

9 And I will bring that third part through the fire, and will fine them as the siluer is fined, and will trie them as gold is tried: they shal call on my name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

a He sheweth what shalbe the fruit of their repentance, to wit, remission of sinnes by the blood of Christ, which shall be a continuall running fountaine, and purge them from all vncleanesse.
b Hee promiseth that God will also purge them from all superstition, and that their religion shall be pure.
c Meaning, the false prophets and teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whom the Prophet here calleth vncleane spirits.
d That is, when they shall prophecie lyes, and make God, who is the author of truth, a cloake therevnto.
e Hee sheweth what zeale the godly shall haue vnder the kingdome of Christ. Deut. 13. 6 9.
f God shall make them ashamed of their errours and lyes, and bring them to repentance, and they shall no more weare Prophets apparell to make their doctrine seeme more holy:
g They shall confesse their former ignorance, and be content to labour for their liuing. h Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false prophets, that the markes and signes should remaine for euer. i The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort should come vnder Christ, there should be an horrible distruction among the people: for their gouernours and pastours should be destroyed, and the people should be as scattered sheepe: and the Euangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Matth. 26. 31. k The greatest part shall haue no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enioy them, shalbe tried with greate afflictions, so that it shalbe Gods power and his mercies doe preserue them.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Of the doctrine that shall proceede out of the Church, and of the restauration thereof.

BEhold, the day of the Lord commeth, and thy spoyle shall bee [a] diuided in the middes of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Ierusalem to battel, and the citie shall be taken, and the houses spoyled, and the women defiled, and halfe of the citie shall go into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the citie.

3 Then the Lord shall goe foorth, and fight against those nations, as when he [b] fought in the day of battell.

4 And his feet shall stand in that day vpon the [c] mount of oliues, which is before Ierusalem on the East side, and the mount of oliues shall cleaue in the middes thereof: toward the East and toward the West there shalbe a very great [d] valley, & halfe a He meeteth the godly against the great temptations that should come, before they enioyed this prosperous estate promised vnder Christ, that when these dangers should come, they might know that they were warned of them afore.

b As your fathers, and you haue had experience both at the red sea, and at all other times.
c By this maner of speech the Prophet sheweth as it were by miracle saue it. d So that out of all the parts of the world, they shall see Ierusalem, which was before hid with this mountaine: and this he meaneth of the spirituall Ierusalem the Church.

of the mountaine shall remooue toward the North, and halfe of the mountaine toward the South.

5 And yee shall flee vnto the [e] valley of the mountaines: for the valley of the mountaines shall reach vnto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from the [f] earthquake, in the dayes of Vzziah king of Iudah: and the Lord [g] my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.

6 And in that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 And there shall be a day (it is knowen to the Lord) [h] neither day nor night, but about the euening time it shall be light.

8 And in that day shall there [i] waters of life go out from Ierusalem, halfe of them toward the East sea, and halfe of them toward the vttermost sea, and shalbe, both in summer and winter.

9 And the Lord shall be King ouer all the earth: in that day shall there be one [k] Lord, and his name shall be one,

10 All the land shall be turned [l] as a plaine from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Ierusalem, and it shall be lifted vp, and inhabited in her place: from Beniamins gate vnto the place of the first gate, vnto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananiel vnto the kings winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shalbe no more destruction, but Ierusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shalbe the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that haue fought against Ierusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day [m] a great tumult of the Lord shalbe among them, and euery one shall take [n] the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise vp against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Iudah shall fight also against Ierusalem, and the arme of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with [o] golde and siluer, and great abundance of apparell.

15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camell and of the asse, and of all the beasts that be in these tents at this [p] plague.

16 But it shall come to passe that euery one that is left of all the nations, which came against Ierusalem, shall goe vp from yeere to yeere to worship the King the Lord of hoasts, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And who so will not come vp of all the families of the earth vnto Ierusalem to worship the King the Lord of hoastes, euen vpon them shall come no raine.

18 And if the family of [q] Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not raine vpon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not vp to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shalbe the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there be written vpon the [r] bridles of the horses, The holinesse vnto the Lord, and the [s] pots in the Lords house shall be like the bowles before the altar.

21 Yea, euery pot in Ierusalem and Iudah shall be holy vnto the Lord of hoastes, and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shalbe no more the [t] Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hoastes.

e He speaketh of the hypocrites, which could not abide Gods presence, but should flee into all places, where they might hide them amoog the mountaines.

f Reade Amos 1, 1. g Because they did not credit the Prophets words, hee turneth to God and comforteth himselfe in that that hee knew that these things should come, and sayth, Thou, O God, with thine Angels wilt come to performe this great thing.

h Signifying, that there should be great troubles in the Church, and that the time hereof is in the Lords hands, yet at length (which is here meant by the euening) God would send comfort.

i That is, the spirituall graces of God, which should euer continue in most abundance.

k All idolatry and superstition shall be abolished, and there shalbe one God, one faith and one religion.

l This new Ierusalem shal be seene through all the world, and shall excell the first in excellencie, wealth and greatnesse.

m God will not onely rayse vp warre without, but sedition at home to try them.

n To hurt and oppresse him.

o The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for a pray but to destroy and shed blood.

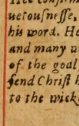
p As the men should be destroyed, verse 12.

q By the Egyptians, which were greatest enemies to true religion, he meaneth all the Gentiles.

r Signifying, that to what seruice they were put now (whether to labour, or to serue in warre) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them.

s As precious the one as the other, because they shall be sanctified.

t But all shall be pure and cleane, and there shall neither be hypocrite, nor any that shall corrupt the true seruice of God.



MALACHI.

THE ARGVMENT.

This Prophet was one of the three, which God raised vp for the comfort of the Church after the captiuitie, & after him there was no more vntill Iohn Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more feruent desires looke for the comming of Messiah. Hee confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former doe, chiefly hee reprooueth the Priests for their couetousnesse, and for that they serued God after their owne fantasies, and not according to the prescript of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wiues, murmurings against God, impatiencie, and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forgeth his promise made vnto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the couenant should be accomplished, whose comming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and ioy to the godly.

CHAP. I.

A complaint against Israel, and chiefly the Priests.

THe [a] burden of the worde of the Lord to Israel by the ministery of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, sayth the Lord: yet yee say, [b] Wherein hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Iaakobs brother, saith the Lord? yet I loued Iaakob.

3 And I [c] hated Esau, and made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wildernesse for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, Wee are impouerished, but we will returne and build the desolate places: yet sayth the Lord of hoastes, They shall build, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickednesse, and the people, with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shal say, The Lord will be magnified vpon the border of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a seruant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hoastes vnto you, O Priests that despise my Name? and ye say, [e] Wherein haue wee despised thy Name?

a Reade Isa. 13, 1.

b Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this loue, which was so euident, in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, and next chose Iaakob the yonger brother of whom they come, and left Esau the elder. c For beside that the signes of mine hatred appeared euen whē he was made seruant vnto his yonger brother, being yet in his mothers belly, & also afterward in that he was put from his birth right, yet euen now before your eyes the signes hereof are euident, in that that his countrey lieth waste, and he shall neuer returne to inhabite it: whereas ye my people, whom he enuied hated more then them, are by my grace and loue toward you deliuered, read Rom. 9, 13.

d Beside the rest of the people hee condemneth the Priests chiefly, because they should haue reproued others for their hypocrisie, and obstinacie against God, and not haue hardened them by their example to would not see their guides.

e He reproueth their grosse hypocrisie, which faults, but most impudently couered them, and so were blind

f Yee receiue all maner offrings for your owne greedinesse, and doe not examine whether they be according to my Law, or no. g Not that they sayd thus, but by their doings they declared no lesse. h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them, that thinke it sufficient to serue God partly as he hath commanded, and partly after mans fantasie: and so come not to the pureneſſe of religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproch he sheweth them that a mortall man would not be content to be so serued. i He deuideth the Priests who bare the people in hand that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasion, that these euils came vpon the people. k. Will God consider your office and state, seeing you are so couetous and wicked? l Because the Lauites who kept the doores did not true whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Law, God witheth that they would rather shut the doores, then to receiue such as were not perfect. m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true seruice shall be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the Prophet that was vnder the Law, framed his wordes to the capacitie of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, which should be vnder the Gospel, when an end should be made to all these legall ceremonies by Christes onely sacrifice. n Both the Priests and the people were infected with this errour, that they passed not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the leane, as with the fat: but in the meane season they shewed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so committed both impiety, and also shewed their contempt of God, and couetousneſſe. o The Priests and people were both weary with serning God, and pissed not what maner of sacrifice and seruice they gaue to God: for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord. p That is, hath abilitie to serue the Lord according to his word, and yet will serue him according to his couetous mind.

7 Ye offer f vncleane bread vpon mine altar, and you say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is not g to be regarded.

8 And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is h not euill: and if ye offer the lame and sicke, it is not euill: offer it now vnto thy prince: will he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hoastes?

9 And now I pray you, i pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will hee regard k your persons, sayth the Lord of hoastes?

10 Who is there euen among you, l that would shut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vaine? I haue no pleasure in you, sayth the Lord of hoastes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is m great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shalbe offered vnto my Name, and a pure offring: for my Name is great among the heathen, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

12 But ye haue polluted it, in that ye say, n The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 Ye said also, Behold, it is o a wearinesse, and ye haue snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hoastes, and ye offered that which was torne, and the lame, and the sicke: thus yee offred an offring: should I accept this of your hand, sayth the Lord?

14 But cursed be the deceiuer, which hath in his flocke p a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth vnto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, sayth the Lord of hoastes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

CHAP. II.

Threatnings against the Priests, being seducers of the people.

a He speaketh vnto them chiefly, but vnder them he conteineth the people also. b To serue mee according to my word. c That is, the abundance of Gods benefits. d Your seede sowen shall come to no profit. e You boast of your holinesse, sacrifices and feasts, but they shall turne to your shame and be as vile as dung, not reprooue them, but he must speake against the Priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but hee sheweth that the office is nothing saundered, when these villaines and doung are called by their owne names.

ANd now, O ye a Priests, this commandement is for you.

2 If ye will not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glory b vnto my Name, sayth the Lord of hoastes, I will euen send a curse vpon you, and will curse your c blessings: yea, I haue cursed them already, because yee doe not consider it in your heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt d your seede, and cast dung vpon your faces, euen the e dung of your solemne feast, and you shall be like vnto it.

4 And yee shall know, that I haue f sent this commandement vnto you, that my couenant, which I made with Leui, might stand, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

5 My g couenant was with him of life and peace, and I h gaue him feare, and hee feared me, and was afraid before i my Name.

6 The Law of k trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lips: he walked with mee in peace and equity, and did turne many away from iniquity.

7 For the Priestes l lippes should preserue knowledge, and they should seeke the Law at his mouth: for hee is the m messenger of the Lord of hoastes.

8 But yee are gone out of the way: yee haue caused many to fall by the Law: yee haue broken the couenant of Leui, sayeth the Lord of hoastes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people, because ye kept not my wayes, but haue beene partiall in the Law.

10 Haue we not all one n father? hath not one God made vs? why doe we transgresse euery one against his brother, and breake the couenant of o our fathers?

11 Iudah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Ierusalem: for Israel hath defiled the holines of the Lord, which hee loued, and hath married the p daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the seruant out of the Tabernacle of Iaakob, and him that q offereth an offring vnto the Lord of hoastes.

13 And this haue ye done againe, and r couered the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

14 Yet yee say, s Wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witnesse betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed: yet is shee thy t companion, and the wife of thy u couenant.

15 And did not x he make one? yet had he y abundance of spirit: and wherfore one? because he sought a godly z seed: therefore keepe your selues in your a spirit, and let none trespasse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hateſt her, b put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he coueteth c the iniury vnder his garment, sayth the Lord of hoastes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17 Yee haue d wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein haue we wearied him? When ye say, Euery one that doeth e euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them. Or where is the God of f iudgement?

f The Priests obiected against the Prophet that he could not reproue them, but he must speake against the Priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but hee sheweth that the office is nothing saundered, when these villaines and doung are called by their owne names.

g Hee sheweth what were the two conditions of the couenant made with the tribe of Leui on Gods part, that hee would giue them long life and felicitie, and on their part, that they should faithfully serue him according to his word. h I prescribed Leui a certaine Law to serue me. i He serued mee and set foorth my glory with all humilitude and submiſſion. k Hee sheweth that the Priestes ought to haue knowledge to instruct other in the word of the Lord. l Hee is as the treasure house of Gods word, and ought to giue to euery one according to their necessitie, and not to reserue it for himselfe. m Shewing that whosoeuer doth not declare Gods will, is not his messenger, and Priest. n The Prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Iewes toward God and man: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God or their brethren. o Whereby they had bound themselues to God to be an holy people. p They haue ioyned themselues in marriage with the n that are of another religion. q That is, the Priest. r Yee cause the people to lament, because they regard not the regard s This is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they brake the lawes of marriage. t As the one halfe of thy selfe. u Shee that was ioyned to thee by a solemne couenant, and by the inuocation of Gods Name. x Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many? y By his power and vertue hee could haue made many women for one man. z Such as should be borne in lawfull and moderate marriage, wherein is no excesse of lustes. a Containe your selues within your bounds, and be sober in minde, and bridle your affections. b Note that hee doeth allow diuorcement, but of the two faults hee sheweth, which is the lesse. c He thinketh it sufficient to keepe his wife still, albeit hee take others, and so as it were couereth his fault. d Yee murmure against God, because hee heard not you assoone as ye called. e In thinking that God fauoured the wicked, and hath no respect to them that serue him. f Thus they blaspheme God in condemning his power and iustice, because he iudged not according to their fantasies.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the messenger of the Lord Iohn Baptist, and of Christs office

BEhold, I will send my a messenger, and he shall prepare the way before mee: and the b Lord whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple: euen the c messenger of the Couenant, whom ye desire: behold, hee shall come, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

2 But who d may abide the day of his comming? and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit downe to trie and fine the siluer: he shall euen fine the sonnes of e Leui and purifie them as golde and siluer, that they may bring offerings vnto the Lord in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the offerings of Iudah and Ierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, as in olde time and in the yeeres afore.

5 And I will come neere to you to iudgment, and I will be a swift witnes against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against falsse swearers, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vexe the widow, and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and yee sonnes of Iaakob f are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept them: g returne vnto me, and I will returne vnto you, sayth the Lord of hosts: but ye sayd, Wherein shall we returne?

8 Will a h man spoyle his gods? yet haue yee spoyled me: but ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In i tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are curssed with a curse: for ye haue spoyled me: euen this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meate in my house, and prooue me now herewith, sayth the Lord of hoastes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessing k without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the l deuourer for your sakes, and hee shall not destroy the fruite of your ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shalbe a pleasant land, sayth the Lord of hosts.

13 Your words haue bene stout m against me, sayth the Lord: yet ye say, What haue we spoken against thee?

14 Yee haue sayd, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profit is it that we haue kept his commandement, and that we walked humbly before the Lord of hoastes?

15 Therefore we count the proude blessed: euen they that worke wickednesse, are set vp, and they that tempt God, yea, they are n deliuered.

16 o Then spake they that feared the Lord, euery one to his neighbour, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a p booke of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought vpon his Name.

17 And they shall be to mee, sayth the Lord of hosts, in that day q that I shall do this, for a flock, and I will r spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne that serueth him.

18 Then shall you returne, and discerne betweene the righteous and wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

a This is meant of Iohn Baptist, as Christ expounded it, Luke 7,27.
b Meaning, Messias, Psal.40.1,7. Dan.9.17,25.
c That is, Christ by whom the couenant was made and ratified, who is called the Angel or messenger of the couenant, because he reconcileth vs to his father, and is Lord ouer king, because hee hath the gouernement of his Church.
d He sheweth that the hypocrites which wish so much for the Lords coming will not abide when hee draweth neere: for he will consume them, and purge his and make them cleane.
e He beginneth at the Priests that they might be lights, and shine vnto others.
f They murmured against God, because they saw not his helpe euer present to defend them: and therefore he accuseth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they are not dayly consumed, it is a token, that he doeth still defend them, and so his mercy toward them neuer changeth.
g Reade Zech.1,3.
h There are none of the heathen so barbarous, that will defraud their gods of their honour or deale deceitfully with them.
i Whereby the seruice of God should haue beene maintained, and the Priests and the poore relieued.
k Not hauing respect how much yee need. but I will giue you in all abundance: so that ye shall lacke place to put my blessings in.
l Meaning, the caterpiller, and whatsoeuer destroyeth corne and fruites.
m The Prophet condemneth them of double blasphemie against God: first, in that they sayd that God had no respect to them that serued him, and next, that the wicked were more in his fauour then the godly.
n They are not onely preferred to honour, but also deliuered from dangers.
o After these admonitions of the Prophet, some were finely touched, and encouraged others to feare God.
p Both because the thing was strange that some turned to God in that great and vniuersall corruption, and also that this might be an example of Gods mercies to all penitent sinners.
q When I shall restore my Church according to my promise, they shall be as mine owne proper goods.
r That is, forgiue their sinnes, and gouerne them with my Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

The day of the Lord before the which Elijah should come.

FOr behold, the day commeth that shall a burne as an ouen, and all the proud, yea, and all that doe wickedly, shall be stubble, and the day that commeth, shall burne them vp, sayth the Lord of hoastes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branch.

2 But vnto you that feare my Name, shall the b sonne of righteousnesse arise, and health shall be vnder his wings, and ye shall go c forth, and grow vp as fat calues.

3 And ye shall tread downe the wicked: for they shall be dust vnder the soales of your feete in the day that I shall doe this, sayth the Lord of hoastes.

4 d Remember the Law of Moses my seruant, which I commaunded vnto him in Horeb for all Israel with the statutes and iudgements.

5 Beholde, I will send you e Eliiah the Prophet before the comming of the great and f fearefull day of the Lord.

6 And he shall g turne the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, least I come and h smite the earth with cursing.

a He propheciseth of Gods iudgements against the wicked, who would not receiue Christ, when as God should send him for the restauration of his Church.
b Meaning, [illegible] who with his wings or beames of his grace shall lighten and comfort his Church. Ephes.5,14. and he is called the sonne of righteousnesse, because in him selfe he hath all perfection and also the iustice of the Father dwelleth in him: wherby he regenerateth vs vnto righteousnesse, cleanseth vs from the filth of this world, and reformeth vs to the image of God.
c Yee shall be set at libertie, and increase in the ioy of the Spirit.
a Cor.3,17.
d Because the time was come that the Iewes should be destitute of Prophets vntill the time of Christ, because they should with more feruent minds desire his comming, the Prophet exhorteth them to exercise themselues diligently in studying the Law of Moses to the meane season, whereby they might continue in the true religion, and also be armed against all tentations.
e This Christ expounded of Iohn Baptist, Matth.11,13,14. who borne for his zeale, and reforming of religion, is aptly compared to Eliiah.
f Which as it is true for the wicked, so doeth it waken the godly, and call them to repentance.
g He sheweth wherein Johns office should stand: in the turning of men to God, and ioyning the father and children in one vnitie of faith: so that the father shall turne to the religion of his sonne which is conuerted to Christ, and y sonne shall embrace the faith of the true fathers, Abraham, Isaak, and Iaakob.
h The second point of his office was to denounce Gods iudgements against them y would not receiue Christ.

The end of the Prophets.

to the diligent Reader.

DEare Christian Reader, to the intent that thou mightest the better enioy the benefit of these notes or expositions vpon the New Testament: I thought it not amisse to declare vnto thee the vse of the same. And first, forasmuch as the quotations or citing of places of the Scriptures in the margent which direct to other places, conteining like phrase or sense, haue beene so placed, that none without great labour could finde out the text alledged, I haue made these sixe seuerall figures or marks, * ⁂ ⁑ ⁂ ⁂ *, and haue set them aswell in the margent as in the text, so that thou mayest easily finde that which thou desirest. For example, in the first word of the first Chapter of Matthew is placed this first marke *: looke out the like marke in the margent, and there thou shalt finde Luke 3, 23. which place agreeth to this of Matthew: and so likewise thou shalt finde in the residue. But if many quotations belong to one place, word, or sentence, the first is onely marked, and those that follow vnmarked, appertaine to the same. And if it fall out that there be more then sixe directions in one columne, then is the first repeated againe, and the residue following in order as at the beginning: as it appeareth in the first columne of Matthew, where both in the text and margent also, they are all two times set downe, and the foure first repeated againe.

The Notes which are directed by figures of Arithmeticke, as 1.2.3.4. &c. throughout the Euangelists and Acts, declare the effect or summe of the doctrine conteriests tweene one of the sayd figures, and the next that followeth: as for example, there figure 1. in the first line and first word of Matthew vnto the figure 2 in the 18 v. the same chapter, the doctrine there gathered is set downe in the margent in this sort: 1 Iesus came of Abraham of the tribe of Iuda, and of the stocke of Dauid as God promised. And in the Epistles in like sort they declare the methode and arte which the Apostles vse, and how euery argument or reason dependeth one vpon another: these figures are begunne againe at the beginning of euery chapter.

Lastly, the Notes which goe by order of the letters of the Alphabet placed in the text, with the like answering vnto them in the margent, serueto expound and lighten the darke words and phrases immediatly following them. As in the first line and second word, the letter a, being referred vnto a, directly against him in the margent sheweth that this word, Booke, signifieth A rehearsall as the Hebrewes vse to speake, as Genes. 5, 1. The booke of the generations. These letters beginne at the beginning euery Chapter, continuing vnto z, and so beginning againe with a, if there be more then the Notes that they doe exceede in number the letters of one Alphabet. This brief, and fully done for thy commodity, reape thou the fruit, and giue the prayse to places mentioned in the foure Euangelists, with other places about the sea coasts, wherein may be seene the wayes and iourneyes of Christ and his Apostles in Iudea, Samaria, and Galile: for into these three parts this Land is diuided.

The places specified in the Mappe, with their situation by the obseruation of the degrees concerning their length and breadth.

Against the deuill tooke him vp into an ex- A Nd when he saw the multitude, he went vp into [illegible] when he was set, his disciples

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

CHAP. I.

1 That Iesus is that Messias, the Sauiour promised to the Fathers. 12 The nativity of Christ.

THE booke of the [b] generation of Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid, the [c] sonne of Abraham.

2 ✠ Abraham begate Isaac. ∴ And Isaac begate Iacob. And ✲ Iacob begate Iudas and his brethren:

3 ✲ And Iudas begate Phares, and Zara of Thamar. And Phares begate Esrom. And Esrom begate Aram.

4 And Aram begate Aminadab. And Aminadab begate Naasson. And Naasson begate Salmon.

5 And Salmon begate Booz of Rachab. And ✠ Booz begate Obed of Ruth. And Obed begate Iesse.

6 And ✠ Iesse begate Dauid the King. And Dauid the King begate Salomon of her that was ∴ the wife of Vrias.

7 And ✲ Salomon begate Roboam. And Roboam begate Abia. And Abia begate Asa.

8 And Asa begate Iosaphat. And Iosaphat begate Ioram. And Ioram begate Hozias.

9 And Hozias begate Ioatham. And Ioatham begate Achaz. And Achaz begate Ezekias.

10 And ✲ Ezekias begate Manasses. And Manasses begate Amon. And Amon begate Iosias.

11 And *Iosias begate Iakim. And Iakim [d] begate Iechonias and his brethren about the time they were caried away to Babylon.

12 And after they were caried away into Babylon, ✠ Iechonias begate Salathiel. And ✠ Salathiel begate Zorobabel.

13 And Zorobabel begate Abiud. And Abiud begate Eliacim. And Eliacim begate Azor.

14 And Azor begate Sadoc. And Sadoc begate Achim. And Achim begate Eliud.

15 And Eliud begate Eleazar. And Eleazar begate Matthan. And Matthan begate Iacob, 16 And Iacob begate Ioseph the husband of Mary, of whom was borne Iesus, that is called Christ.

17 So [e] all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are foureteene generations. And from Dauid vntill they were caried away into Babylon, foureteene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon vntill Christ, fourteene generations.

18 ¶ Now the birth of [f] Iesus Christ was thus, When as his mother Mary was ✲ betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband being a iust man, and not willing to ✲ make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whiles he thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph, the sonne of Dauid, feare not to [g] take Mary thy ✲ wife: for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And she shall bring [h] forth a sonne, and thou shalt ✲ call his name IESVS: for he shall ✠ saue his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled which is spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 ✠ Behold, [k] a virgine shalbe with childe, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 ¶ Then Ioseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angell of the Lord had inioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But he knew her not, [l] till she had brought forth her first borne sonne, and he called his name IESVS.

✠ Luke 3.23.
a Iesus Christ came of Abraham of the tribe of Iuda, and of the stocke of Dauid, as God promised. a Rehearsall. As the Hebrewes vse to speake, as Gen. 5.1.
The booke of the generations.
b Of the ancestors of whom Christ came.
c Which Christ is also the sonne of Abraham.
✠ Gen. 21.12.
✲ Gen. 38.27.
* 1 Chron. 2.5. Ruth 4.18,19.
✠ Ruth 4.21.
✠ 1 Sam. 16.1. and 17.12.
∴ 2 Sam. 12.24.
✲ 1 King. 11.43. 1 Chron. 3.10,11.
✲ 2 King. 20.21. and 21.18. 1 Chron. 3.13,14,15.
* 2 King. 23.34. & 24.1,6. 2 Chron. 36.5,6.
d That is, the captiuity fell in the dayes of Iakim and Iechonias: for Iechonias was borne before their carrying away into captiuity.
✠ 1 Chron. 3.16.
✠ Chron. 3.17. Ezra. 3.2. and 5.2.
e All these which are reckoned vp in this pedegree of Dauids stocke, as they begate one another orderly in their degrees.
f Christ is the true Emmanuel, & therefore, Iesus (that is, Sauiour) is conceiued in the Virgine by the holy Ghost, as it was foretold by the Prophets.
g Receiue her at her parents and kinsfolks hands.
h Which was promised, and made sure to thee to be thy wife.
i Of the mothers substance by the holy Ghost.
3 Christ is borne of the same Virgine which neuer knew man: and is called Iesus of God himselfe, by the Angel.
✠ Acts 4.12.
i Deliuer, and this sheweth vs the meaning of this name Iesus.
✠ Esa. 7.14.
k There is in the Hebrew and Greeke text, an article added, to point out the woman, and set her fourth plainely, as you would say, that Virgine, or a certaine virgine.
l This little word Till, in the Hebrew tongue, signeth vntil to come: as Michol had no children Till her death day, 2 Sam. 6.23. And in the last Chapter of this Euangelist: Behold, I am with you till the end of the world.

CHAP. II.

The wise men, who are the first fruits of the Gentiles, worship Christ. 14 Ioseph fleeth into Egypt with Iesus and his mother. 16 Herod slayeth the Children.

WHen ∴ [1] Iesus then was borne at Bethlehem in [a] Iudea, in the daies of Herod the King, behold, there came [b] Wise men from the East to Hierusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Iewes that is borne? for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When King Herod heard this, he was [c] troubled, and all Hierusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the [d] chiefe Priests and [e] Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 ✲ And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that [f] shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herod priuily called the Wise men, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Beth-leem, saying, Goe, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 ¶ So when they had heard the king, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came & stood ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they saw the starre, they reioyced with an exceeding great ioy.

11 And went into the house, and found the babe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their [g] treasures, and presented vnto him gifts, euen gold, and frankincense, and myrrhe.

12 And after they were [h] warned of God in a dreame, that they should not goe againe to Herod, they returned into their country another way.

∴ Luke 2.6.
1 Christ a poore child, lay downe in a crib, and nothing set by of his owne people, receiueth now withstanding a noble witnesse of his diuinity from heauen, and of his kingly estate of strangers, which his owne also vnwilingly refuse. Although they doe not acknowledge him.
a For there was an other in the tribe of Zabulon.
b Wise and learned men: It is a Persian word which they vse in good part.
c Was much moued, for he was a stranger, and came to the kingdome by force: and the Iewes were troubled for wickednesse is mad and raging.
d The chief Priests, that is, such as were of Aarons family, which were deuided into foure and twenty orders, 1 Chron. 24. and 2 Chron. 36.14.
e They that expound the Law to the people, for the Hebrewes take this word of another, which signifieth as much as to expound and declare.
✲ Mich. 5.2.
John 7.42.
f Though that he is small towne, yet shall there be very famous and notable through the birth of the Messias, who shall be borne in there.
g That shall vse and gouerne: for Kings are fitly called feeders and shepheards of their people.
h A kind of humble and louely reuerence.
i The rich and costly presents, which they brought him.
k God warned and told them of it, when as they asked it not.

14 So he aroſe and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt,

15 And was there vnto the death of Herod , that that might be fulfilled, which is ſpoken of the Lord by the ✣ Prophet, ſaying, Out of Egypt haue I called my ſonne.

16 ¶ Then Herod, ſeeing that he was mocked of the Wiſe men, was exceeding wroth, & ſent forth, and ſlew all the male children that were in Bethleem, and in all the coaſtes thereof from two yeere old and vnder, according to the time which he had diligently ſearched out of the Wiſe men.

17 Then was that fulfilled which is ſpoken [l] by the Prophet Ieremias, ſaying, 18 ✣ In Rhama was [m] a voyce heard, mourning, and weeping, and great howling : [n] Rachel weeping for her children , and would not be comforted, becauſe they were not.

19 [3] And when Herod was dead , behold , an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioſeph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Ariſe, and take the babe and his mother , and go into the land of Iſrael : for they are dead which ſought the babes life.

21 Then he aroſe vp, and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Iſrael.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iudea inſtead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: yet after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aſide into the parts of Galile.

23 And went and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophets , which was , That he ſhould be called a Nazarite.

CHAP. III.

1 Iohn preacheth. 4 His apparell & meate. 5 He baptizeth. 8 The fruits of repentance. 10 The axe at the roote of the tree. 12 The fanne and the chaffe. 13 Chriſt is baptized.

AND [1] in [a] thoſe daies , [1] Iohn the Baptiſt came and preached in the [b] wildernes of Iudea,

2 And ſaid, [2] Repent : for the [c] kingdome of heauen is at hand.

3 For this is he of whom it is ſpoken by the Prophet Eſaias, ſaying, ✣ The voyce of [1] him that crieth in the wildernes, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: [e] make his pathes ſtreight.

4 ✣ And this Iohn had his garment of camels haire, and a girdle of a skin about his loynes , his meate was alſo [f] locuſts and wild [2] hony .

5 *Then went out to him [g] Ieruſalem and all Iudea, and all the region round about Iordan,

6 And they were baptized of him in Iordan, [h] confeſſing their ſinnes .

7 [2] Now when he ſaw many of the Phariſes, and of the Sadduces come to his baptiſme, he ſaid vnto them , ✣ O generation of vipers , who hath forewarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 [3] Bring forth therefore fruit worthy amendment of life,

9 And [i] thinke not to ſay [k] with your ſelues, ✣ We haue Abraham to our father : for I ſay vnto you, that God is able euen of theſe ſtones to raiſe vp children vnto Abraham.

10 And now alſo is the axe put to the root of the trees : ❦ therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruit , is hewen downe, and caſt into the fire.

11 ✣ [5] Indeed I baptize you with water to [l] amendment of life , but he that commeth after me is mightier then I, whoſe ſhooes I am not worthy to beare , he will baptize you with the holy Goſt, and with fire.

12 [6] Which hath his fanne in his hand, and will [m] make cleane his floore , and gather his wheate into his garner , but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire.

13 ¶ ✣ [7] Then came Ieſus from Galile to Iordan vnto Iohn to be baptized of him.

14 But Iohn earneſtly put him backe, ſaying, I haue need to be baptized of thee , and commeſt thou to mee ?

15 Then Ieſus anſwering ſaid to him, Let be now: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill [n] all righteouſneſſe. So he ſuffered him.

16 And Ieſus when he was baptized, came ſtraight out of the water. And lo, the heauens were opened vnto [o] him , and Iohn ſaw the Spirit of God deſcending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

17 [8] And loe, a voyce came from heauen, ſaying , * This is my beloued Sonne, in whom I am [p] well pleaſed.

8 Againe the deuill tooke him vp into an exceeding high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, and the glory of them,

9 And said to him, All these will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe, and worship me.

10 Then said Iesus vnto him, Auoid Satan: for it is written. ✣ Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serue.

11 ✣ Then the deuill left him: and behold, the Angels came, and ministred vnto him.

12 ¶ ✣ And when Iesus had heard that Iohn was committed to prison, he returned into Galile, 13 And leauing Nazareth, went and dwelt in [d] Capernaum, which is neere the sea in the borders of Zabulon, and Nephthalim, 14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

15 ✣ The lande of Zebulon, and the land of Nephthalim by the way of the [e] sea, beyond Iordan, [f] Galile of the Gentiles:

16 The people which sate in darkenesse, sawe great light: and to them which sate in the region and shadow of death, light is risen vp.

17 ✣ From that time Iesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your liues: for the kingdome of heauen is at [g] hand.

18 ¶ ✣ And Iesus walking by the sea of Galile saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.)

19 ✣ And he said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway leauing the nets, followed him.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he saw other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother in a ship with Zebedeus their father, mending their nettes, & he called them.

22 And they without tarrying, leauing the ship and their father, followed him.

23 So ✣ Iesus went about all Galile, teaching in [h] their [i] Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the [k] kingdome, and healing [l] euery sickenesse, and euery [m] disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroad thorow all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people, that were taken with diuers diseases, & [n] torments, and them that were possessed with deuils, & those which were [o] lunatike, and those that had the [p] palsie: and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galile, and Decapolis, and Hierusalem, and Iudea, and from beyond Iordan.

17 But when thou fastest, annoint thine head, and wash thy face, 18 That thou seeme not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, will reward thee openly.

19 ¶ ✣ 6 Lay not vp treasures for your selues vpon the earth, where the mothe and canker corrupt, & where theeues digge through and steale.

20 ✲ But lay vp treasures for your selues in heauen, where neither the mothe nor canker corrupteth, and where theeues neither digge through nor steale.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 ¶ ✣ 7 The light of the body is the eye: if then thine g eye be single, thy whole body shalbe light.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shalbe darke. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darkenesse, how great is that darkenesse?

24 * 8 No man can serue h two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other, or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Yee cannot serue God and i riches.

25 ✣ 9 Therefore I say vnto you, be not carefull for your life, what ye shall eate, or what ye shal drinke: not yet for your bodie, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth then meat? and the bodie then raiment?

26 Behold the foules of the k heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor cary into the barnes, yet your heauenly Father feedeth them. Are yee not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking care is able to adde one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne how the Lilies of the field doe growe: they m are not wearied, neither spin:

29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Salomon in all his glory was not arayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so cloathe the grasse of the field which is to daie, and to morrow is cast into the ouen, shall he not doe much more vnto you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eate? or what shall we drinke? or wherewith shall we be cloathed?

32 (For after all these things seeke the Gentiles) for your heauenlie Father knoweth that ye haue need of all these things.

33 But seeke ye first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shalbe ministred vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morrow, for the morrow shall care for it selfe: the day hath enough with his owne griefe.

CHAP. VII.

1 We may not giue iudgement of our neighbours, 6 Nor cast that which is holy vnto dogges. 13 The broad and straite way. 15 False prophets. 18 The tree and fruit. 24 The house built on a rocke, 26 and on the sand.

IVdge ye not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what ✣ iudgement ye iudge, ye shall be iudged, and with what ✣ measure ye mete, it shalbe measured vnto you againe.

3 And why seest thou the mote, that is in thy brothers eye, and perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

4 ⁘ Or how saiest thou to thy brother, Suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and behold, a beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out that beame out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearelie to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 ¶ a Giue ye not that which is holy to dogges, neither cast ye your a pearles before swine, lest they treade them vnder their feet, and turning againe, all to rent you.

7 ¶ ✲ 3 Aske, and it shalbe giuen you: seeke, and ye shall find: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

8 For whosoeuer asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his sonne aske him bread, would giue him a stone?

10 Or if he aske fish, will he giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then, which are euill, can giue to your children good gifts, how much more shall your Father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aske him?

12 ✲ 4 Therefore whatsoeuer yee would that men should doe to you: euen so doe ye to them: for this is the b Law and the Prophets.

13 ¶ * 5 Enter in at the strait gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad way that leadeth to c destruction: and many there be which goe in thereat.

14 Because the gate is strait, and the way narrow that leadeth vnto life, and few there be that finde it.

15 ¶ ✣ Bewtre of false prophets, which come to you in sheepes cloathing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. ✣ Doe men gather grapes of thornes? or figs of thistles?

17 So euery good tree bringeth foorth good fruite, and a corrupt tree bringeth foorth euill fruite.

18 A good tree cannot bring foorth euill fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring foorth good fruit.

19 ✣ Euery tree that bringeth not foorth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

28 ¶ * And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these words, the people were astonied at his doctrine.

NOw when he was come down from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him.

2 ✣ 1 And loe, there came a Leper and worshipped him, saying, Master, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Iesus putting foorth his hand, touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane: and immediatly his leprosie was cleansed.

4 Then Iesus said vnto him, See thou tell no man, but goe, and shew thy selfe vnto the Priest, and offer the gift that ✣ Moses commaunded, for a witnesse to them.

5 ¶ ∵ 2 When Iesus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him.

6 And said, Master, my seruant lyeth sicke at home of the palsie, and is grieuously pained.

7 And Iesus said vnto him, I will come and heale him.

8 But the Centurion answered, saying, Master, I am not worthie that thou shouldest come vnder my roofe: but speake the word onely, and my seruant shalbe healed.

9 For I am a man also vnder the authoritie of another, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I say to one, Goe, and hee goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

10 When Iesus heard that, hee marueiled, and said to them that followed him, Verely I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, euen in Israel.

11 But I say vnto you, that many shall come from the East and West, and shall a sit downe with Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, in the kingdome of heauen.

12 And the children of the kingdome shall be cast out into b vtter ✣ darkenesse: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 Then Iesus said vnto the Centurion, Go thy way, and as thou hast beleeued, so be it vnto thee. And his seruant was healed the same houre.

14 ¶ ✣ 3 And when Iesus came to Peters house, he saw his wiues mother laid downe, and sicke of a feuer.

15 And he touched her hand, and the feuer left her: so she arose, and ministred vnto them.

16 ∵ When the Euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with deuils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, & healed c all that were sicke, 17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by ✣ Esaias the Prophet, saying, Hee tooke our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ ✣ And when Iesus sawe great multitudes of people about him, he commaunded them to goe d ouer the water.

19 4 Then came there a certaine Scribe, and said vnto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoeuer thou goest.

20 But Iesus said vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen haue e nestes but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to rest his head.

21 ¶ 5 And another of his disciples said vnto him, Master, suffer mee first to goe, and burie my father.

22 But Iesus said vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead burie the dead.

23 ¶ * 6 And when he was entred into the ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the ship was couered with wanes: but he was asleepe.

25 Then his disciples came, and awoke him, saying, Master, saue vs: we perish.

26 And hee said vnto them, Why are ye fearefull, O yee of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea: and so there was a great calme.

27 And the men marueiled, saying, What man is this, that both the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ¶ ✣ 7 And when he was come to the other side into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuils which came out of the graues very fierce, so that no man might go by that way.

29 And behold, they cryed out, saying, Iesus the sonne of God, what haue we to doe with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs before ✣ time?

30 Now there was a farre off from them, a great herde of swine feeding.

31 And the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to go into the herde of swine.

32 And he said vnto them, Goe. So they went out and departed into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran headlong into the sea, and died in the water.

33 Then the herdmen fled: and when they were come into the citie, they told all things, and what was become of them that were possessed with the diuels, 34 And behold, all the citie came out to meet Iesus: and when they saw him, they besought him to e depart out of their coasts.

THen he [1] entred into a ſhip, and paſſed ouer, and came into his [a] owne city.

2 And ✣ loe, they brought to him a man ſicke of the palſie layed on a bed. And Ieſus [b] ſeeing their faith, ſaid to the ſicke of the palſie, Sonne be of good comfort: thy ſinnes are forgiuen thee.

3 And behold, certaine of the Scribes ſaid with themſelues, This man [c] blaſphemeth.

4 But when Ieſus ſaw their thoughts, he ſaid, Wherefore thinke ye euill things in your hearts?

5 For whether is it eaſier to ſay, Thy ſinnes are forgiuen thee, or to ſay, Ariſe, and walke?

6 And that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath authority in earth to forgiue ſinnes (then ſaid he vnto the ſicke of the palſie,) Ariſe, take vp thy bed, and go to thine houſe.

7 And he aroſe, and departed to his owne houſe.

8 So when the multitude ſaw it, they marueiled, and glorified God, which had giuen ſuch authority to men.

9 ¶ ✣ [2] And as Ieſus paſſed foorth from thence, he ſaw a man ſitting at the [d] coſtome, named Matthew, and ſaid to him, Follow me. And he aroſe, and followed him.

10 And it came to paſſe, as Ieſus ſate at meate in [his] houſe, behold, many Publicanes and [e] ſinners that came thither, ſate down at the table with Ieſus and his diſciples.

11 And when the Phariſes ſaw that, they ſaid to his diſciples, Why eateth your Maſter with Publicanes and ſinners?

12 Now when Ieſus heard it, he ſaid vnto them, The whole need not the Phiſician, but they that are ſicke.

13 But goe ye and learne what this is, ✲ I will haue mercy, and not ſacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the ✲ ſinners to repentance.

14 ¶ ✲ [3] Then came the diſciples of Iohn to him, ſaying, Why doe we and the Phariſes faſt oft, and thy diſciples faſt not?

15 And Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Can the [f] children of the marriage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the daies will come, when the bridegrome ſhall be taken from them, and then ſhall they faſt.

16 Moreouer, no man pieceth an old garment with a piece of [g] new cloath: for that that ſhould fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worſe.

17 Neither doe they put new wine into old veſſels: for then the veſſels would breake, and the wine would be ſpilt, and the veſſels ſhould periſh: but they put new wine into new veſſels, and ſo are both preſerued.

18 ¶ ✲ [4] While he thus ſpake vnto them, behold, there came a certaine ruler, and worſhipped him, ſaying, My daughter is now deceaſed: but come & lay thine hand on her, and ſhe ſhall liue.

19 And Ieſus aroſe and followed him with his diſciples.

20 (And behold, a woman which was diſeaſed with an iſſue of blood twelue yeeres, came behind him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For ſhe ſaid in her ſelfe, If I may touch but his garment onely, I ſhalbe whole.

22 Then Ieſus turned him about, and ſeeing her, did ſay, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that ſame moment.)

23 [5] Now when Ieſus came into the rulers houſe, and ſaw the [h] minſtrels and the multitude making noiſe, 24 He ſaid vnto them, Get you hence: for the maid is not dead, but ſleepeth. And they laughed him to ſcorne.

25 And when the multitude were put foorth, he went in and took her by the hand, and the maid aroſe.

26 And this bruit went throughout all that land.

27 [6] And as Ieſus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying, and ſaying, O ſonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into the houſe, the blinde came to him, and Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Beleeue yee that I am able to doe this? And they ſaid vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, ſaying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Ieſus gaue them great charge, ſaying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they ſpread abroad his fame thorowout all that land.

32 ¶ ✣ [7] And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumbe man poſſeſſed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was caſt out, the dumbe ſpake: then the multitude marueiled, ſaying, The like was neuer ſeene in Iſrael.

34 But the Phariſes ſaid, [8] He caſteth out deuils, through the prince of deuils.

35 ¶ And ✧ Ieſus went about all cities and townes, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Goſpel of the kingdome, and healing euery ſickneſſe and euery diſeaſe among the people.

36 [9] But ✲ when he ſaw the multitude, he had compaſſion vpon them, becauſe they were diſperſed, and ſcattered abroad, as ſheepe hauing no ſhepheard.

23 And all the people were amased, and said, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharises heard it, they said, ✣ This man casteth the deuils no otherwise out but through Beelzebub the prince of deuils.

25 5 But Iesus knew their thoughts, and said to them, Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to nought, and euery city or house diuided against it selfe shall not stand.

26 So if Satan cast out Satan, hee is diuided against himselfe: how shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your iudges.

28 But if I cast out deuils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdome of God come vnto you.

29 Els how can a man enter into a strong mans house and spoyle his goods, except hee first binde the strong man, and then spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathered not with me, scattereth.

31 ✣ Wherefore I say vnto you, Euery sinne and blasphemy shalbe forgiuen vnto men: but the blasphemy against the holy Ghost shall not be forgiuen vnto men.

32 And whosoeuer shall speake a word against the sonne of man, it shall be forgiuen him: 6 but whosoeuer shall speake against the holy Goſt, it shall not be forgiuen him, neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruite good: or els make the tree euill, and his fruit euill: for the tree is knowen by the fruit.

34 7 O generations of vipers, how can you speake good things, when ye are euill? For of the ∴ abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth foorth good things: & an euill man out of an euill treasure, bringeth foorth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, that of euery ∴ idle word that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof at the day of iudgement.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be iustified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ 8 ✲ Then answered certaine of the Scribes and of the Pharises, saying, Master, we would see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered and said vnto them, An euill and aduulterous generation seeketh a signe, but no signe shalbe giuen vnto it, saue that signe of the Prophet Ionas.

40 ✣ For as Ionas was three daies and three nights in the whales belly: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 9 The men of Niniue shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and condemne it: for they * repented at the preaching of Ionas: and behold, a greater then Ionas is here.

42 ✣ The Quene of the 8 South shall rise in iudgement with the generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the b vtmost parts of the earth to heare the wisdome of Salomon: and behold, a greater then Salomon is here.

43 ¶ ✣ Now when the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then hee saith, I will returne into mine house from whence I came: and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept and garnished.

45 ¶ Then he goeth, and taketh vnto him seuen other spirits worse then himselfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: ✣ and the end of that man is worse then the beginning. Euen so shall it be with this wicked generation.

46 ¶ 10 ✣ While he yet spake to the multitude, behold, his mother, and his brethren stood without, desiring to speake with thee.

47 Then one said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered, and said to him that told him, Who is my mother, & who are my brethren?

THe same ∵ day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 1 And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, and sate downe: and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

4 And as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the foules came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fell vpon stony ground, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprung vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne was vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting whithered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprung vp, and choaked them.

8 And some againe fell in good ground, and brought forth fruit, one corne an hundreth fold, some sixty fold, and another thirtie fold.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 1 And he answered and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 ✲ For whosoeuer hath, to him shalbe giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shalbe take away euen that he hath.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, doe not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which prophecy saith, ✲ By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing yee shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed fat, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, least they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their hearts, and should returne, that I might heale them.

16 3 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

✣ Mar.4.15. Luke 8. 11.

18 ¶ ✣ Heare ye therefore the parable of the Sower.

19 Whensoeuer any man heareth the word of that kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, that euill one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sowen in his [a] heart: and this is hee which hath receiued the seed by the way side.

20 And hee that receiued seede in the stony ground, is he which heareth the word, and incontinently with ioy receiueth it.

21 Yet hath he no roote in himselfe, and dureth but a season: for assoone as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that receiued the seed among thornes, is hee that heareth the word: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulnesse of riches choke the word, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiued the seed in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, and some thirtie fold.

24 ¶ 4 Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

25 But while men slept, there came his enemy and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of the housholder, and sayde vnto him, Master, sowedst thou not good seede in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he sayd vnto them, Some enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants sayd vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

29 But he sayd, Nay, least while ye goe about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheate.

30 Let both grow together vntill the harueſt, and in time of harueſt I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheaues to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barne.

31 ¶ ✣ Another parable he put foorth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which in deed is the least of all seeds: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbs, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ ∵ Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meale, till all be leauened.

34 ¶ ✣ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not vnto them.

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, ✲ I will open my mouth in parables, and will vtter the things which haue beene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of that field.

37 [6] Then answered he, and sayd to them, Hee that soweth the good seed, is the sonne of man.

38 And the [illegible] good seed are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

39 And the enemy that soweth them, is the deuil, ✣ and the harueſt is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which doe iniquity, 42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shalbe wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 ✣ Then shall the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their father. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ [7] Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, and for ioy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing found a pearle of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

47 ¶ [8] Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shall goe foorth, and seuer the bad from among the iust, 50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire there shalbe wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ [9] Iesus sayd vnto them, Vnderstand yee all these things? They sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then sayd hee vnto them, Therefore euery Scribe which is taught vnto the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto an housholder, which bringeth foorth out of his treasure things both new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, he departed thence.

54 ∵ [10] And came into his owne countrey, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonied, and sayd, Whence commeth this wisedome and great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie, ✲ and his brethren Iames and Ioses, and Simon, and Iudas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus sayd to them, ✲ A Prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefes sake.

3 ✣ For Herod had taken Iohn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn sayd vnto him, It is not ✣ lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, becausse they counted him as a ✧ Prophet.

6 But when Herods birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased [b] Herod.

7 Wherefore hee promised with an oath, that he would giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, sayd, Giue mee here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the king was sory: neuertheles, becausse of the oath, and them that sate with him at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her.

10 And sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the mayd, and shee brought it vnto her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp the body, and buried it, and went and told Iesus.

13 ✲ And when Iesus heard it, hee departed thence by ship into a desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 [2] And Iesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was mooued with compasſion toward them, and he healed their sicke.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, ✲ his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may goe into the townes, and buy them vitailes.

16 But Iesus sayd to them, They haue no need to go away: giue ye them to eat.

17 Then sayd they vnto him, Wee haue here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.

18 And he sayd, Bring them hither to me.

19 And hee commaunded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaues to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, beside women and little children.

22 ¶ And straightway Iesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to goe ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And assoone as he had sent the multitude away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and * when the euening was come, hee was there alone.

24 [3] And the ship was now in the mids of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrary wind.

25 And in the [c] fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a [d] spirit, and cried out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort, It is I: be not afraid.

28 4 Then Peter answered him and sayd, Master, if it be thou, bid mee come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, hee walked on the water to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mightie winde, he was afraid: and as he began to sinke, he cried, saying, Master, saue me.

31 So immediatly Iesus stretched foorth his hand, and caught him, and sayd to him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt.

32 And assoone as they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the Sonne of God.

34 ✣ ✣ And when they were come ouer, they came into the land of [e] Gennezaret.

35 5 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and brought vnto him all that were sicke.

36 And besought him, that they might touch the hemme of his garment onely: and as many as touched it were made whole.

✣ Mark 7,18.

11 ☆ … which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which commeth out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 ¶ Then came his disciples, and sayd vnto him, Perceiuest thou not, that the Phariſes are offended in hearing this saying?

14 Let them alone, they be the ☆ blinde leaders of the blind: and if the blind leade the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ ✣ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then sayd Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue yee not yet, that whatsoeuer entreth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart ☆ come euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, theſis, false testimonies, slanders.

20 These are the things which defile § man: but to eat with vnwashen hands, defileth not the man.

21 * And Iesus went thence, and departed into the [e] coasts of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman a [f] Cananite came out of the same coastes, & cried, saying vnto him, Haue mercy on me, O Lord, the sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserably vexed with a deuil.

23 § But he answered her not a word. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and sayd, I am not sent, but vnto the ✣ lost sheepe of the [g] house of Israel.

25 Yet she came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 And he answered, and said, It is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to whelpes.

27 But she sayd, Trueth, Lord: yet indeede the whelps eate of the crummes, which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 ¶ [h] So Iesus ✣ went away from thence, and came neere vnto the sea of Galile, and went vp into a mountaine and sate downe there.

30 And great multitudes came to him, ☆ hauing with them, halt, [i] lirde, dumme, [k] maimed, and many other, and cast them downe at Iesus feet, and he healed them, 31 In so much that the multitude wondered, to see the dumme speake, the maimed whole, the halt to goe, and the blinde to see: & they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ✣ 7 Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and sayd, I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue [l] continued with me already three dayes, and I haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them depart fasting, least they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples sayd vnto him, Whence should wee get so much bread in the wildernesse, as should suffice so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus sayd vnto them, How many loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen, & a few little fishes.

35 Then hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground,

36 And tooke the seuen loaues, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake them, and gaue to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eate, and were sufficed, & they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, seuen [l] basketfuls full.

38 And they that had eaten, were foure thousand men, beside women, and little children.

39 Then Iesus sent away the multitude that tooke ship, and came into the parts of Magdala.

AND ✠ 1 a after sixe dayes, Iesus tooke Peter & Iames, and Iohn his brother, & brought them vp into an hie mountaine apart.

2 And was b transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the Sunne, and his cloathes were as white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud shadowed them: and behold, there came a voyce out of the cloud, saying, ✠ This is c that my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased: heare him.

6 And when the disciples heard that, they d fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7 Then Iesus came and touched them, & said, Arise, and be not afraid.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, & they could not heale him.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said, O generation faithlesse, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you? how long now shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Iesus rebuked the deuill, and he went out of him, & the childe was healed at that houre.

19 ¶ Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Iesus said vnto them, Because of your vnbeleefe: for* verely I say vnto you if yee haue faith as much as is a graine of mustard seede, yee shall say vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place, and it shall remoue: and nothing shalbe vnpossible vnto you.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The greatest in the kingdome of God. 5 To receiue a little child. 6 To giue offence. 7 Offences. 9 The pulling out of the eye. 10 The Angels. 12 The lost sheepe. 15 The telling of one his fault. 17 Excommunication. 21 We must alwayes pardon the brother that repenteth. 23 The parable of the king that taketh an account of his seruants.

THe* same time the disciples came vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?
2 And Iesus called a a little childe vnto him, and set him in the midst of them,
3 And said, Verely I say vnto you, except yee be b conuerted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen.
4 Whosoeuer therefore shall humble himselfe as this little childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.
5 And whosoeuer shall receiue one such little childe in my Name, receiueth me.
6 ¶ 2 But whosoeuer shall offend one of these little ones which beleeue in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.
7 3 Woe be vnto the world because of offences, for it must needs be that offences shall come, but woe be to that man by whom ŷ offence commeth.
8 * Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foote cause thee to d offend, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two hands, or two feete, to be cast into euerlasting fire.
9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes to be cast into hell fire.
10 4 See that yee despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their ✣ Angels alwayes beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, hee reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray:
14 So is it not ŷ will of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these little ones should perish.
15 ¶ ✣ 5 Moreouer, if thy brother trespasse against e thee, goe and tell him his fault betweene thee and him alone: if hee heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.
16 But if hee heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the ✣ f mouth of two or three witnesses, euery word may be 8 confirmed.
17 6 And if hee h refuse to heare them, tell it vnto the i Church: and if hee refuse to heare the Church also, let him be vnto thee as an k heathen man, and a Publicane.
18 Verely I say vnto you, ✣ Whatsoeuer yee binde on earth, shall be bound in heauen: and * whatsoeuer yee loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.
19 Againe, verely I say vnto you, that if two of you shall l agree in earth vpon any thing, what soeuer they shall desire, it shallbe giuen them of my Father which is in heauen.
20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them.
21 7 Then came Peter to him, and said, Master, how oft shall my brother sinne against mee, and I shall forgiue him? * vnto seuen times?

vnto you, except ye forgiue from your hearts, each one to his brother their trespasses.

CHAP. XIX.

2 The sicke are healed. 3 and 7 A bill of diuorcement. 12 Eunuches. 13 Children brought to Christ. 17 God onely good. The Commandements must be kept. 21 A perfect man. 23 A rich man. 26 Saluation commeth of God. 27 To leaue all and follow Christ.

AND ✣ it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galile, and came into the coasts of Iudea beyond Iordan.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 ¶ Then came vnto him the Pharises tempting him, and saying to him, Is it lawfull for a man to [b] put away his wife vpon euery occasion?

4 And he answered and said vnto them, Haue ye not read, ✣ that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female,

5 And saide, [c] For this cause, shall a man leaue father and mother, and [c] cleaue vnto his wife, and they which were [d] two, shallbe one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that, which God hath [e] coupled together.

7 They said to him, Why did then ✣ Moses command to giue a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away?

8 He sayd vnto them, Moses [f] because of the hardnesse of your heart, [g] suffered you to put away your wiues: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 I say therefore vnto you, ☆ that whosoeuer shall put away his wife, except it be [h] for whoredome, & marry another, committeth adulterie: and whosoeuer marrieth her which is diuorced, doeth commit adulterie.

10 Then said his disciples to him, If the [i] matter be so betweene man & wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said vnto them, All men cannot [k] receiue this thing, saue they to whom it is giuen.

12 For there are some [l] eunuches, which were so borne of their mothers belly: and there be some eunuches, which bee gelded by men: and there be some eunuches, which haue [m] gelded themselues for the kingdome of heauen. He that is able to receiue this, let him receiue it.

13 ¶ 4 * Then were brought vnto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Iesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come to mee: for of such is the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when he had put his hands on them, he departed thence.

16 ¶ 5 ✣ And beholde, one came and said vnto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may haue eternall life?

17 And he said vnto him, Why calleste thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the Commandements.

18 He said vnto him, Which? And Iesus said, ✣ These, Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnesse.

19 Honour thy father, and mother: and, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 The yong man said vnto him, I haue obserued all these things from my youth. What lacke I yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If [n] thou wilt be perfite, goe, sel that thou hast, and giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, and follow me.

22 And when the yong man heard that saying, hee went away sorowfull: for hee had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then Iesus said vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is [o] easier for a [p] camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amased, saying, Who then can bee saued?

26 And Iesus beheld them, and said vnto them, With men this is vnpossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ ✣ Then answered Peter, and said to him, Behold, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee: what therefore shall we haue?

28 7 And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his Maiestie, ye which followed mee in the [q] regeneration, ☆ shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And whosoeuer shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, he shall receiue an hundreth folde more, and shall inherite euerlasting life.

30 ✣ But many that are first, shallbe last, and the last shallbe first.

§ To haue begun well, and not to continue vnto the end, doeth not only not profite, but also hurteth very much. ✣ Chap.26 16. mar.10.32. luke 13.30.

18 3 Behold, we go vp to Hierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the chiefe Priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, 19 4 And ✣ shall deliuer him to the Gentiles, to mocke, and to scourge, and to crucifie him, but the third day he shall rise againe.

20 ✠ 5 Then came to him the mother of Zebedeus children with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21 And he said vnto her, What wouldest thou? She sayd to him, Grant that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

22 And Iesus answered, and sayd, Ye know not what ye aske. Are ye able to d drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the e baptisme that I shall be baptized with? they sayd to him, We are able.

23 And he sayd vnto them, Ye shall drinke indeede of my cup, and shall be batized with the baptisme, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is f not mine to giue: but it shalbe giuen to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 ✣ And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 Therefore Iesus called them vnto him, and sayd, Ye know that the lords of the Gentiles haue g domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authoritie ouer them.

26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoeuer will be great among you, let him be your seruant.

27 And whosoeuer will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant.

28 * Euen as the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ransome of many.

29 ¶ 6 ✣ And as they departed from Iericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, cried, saying, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs, 32 Then Iesus stood still, and b called them, and said, What will ye that I should doe to you?

33 They sayd to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Iesus mooued with compassion, touched their eyes, and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

AND ✣ 1 when they drew neere to Hierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of the Oliues, then sent Iesus two disciples,

2 Saying to them, Goe into the towne that is ouer against you, and anon yee shall finde an asse bound, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them vnto me.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, say ye, that the Lord hath need of them, and straightway a he will let them goe.

23 ¶ [v] 6 And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as hee was teaching, and sayd, By what [k] authority doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authority?

24 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske of you I a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I doe these things.

25 The [m] baptisme of Iohn, whence was it? from [n] heauen, or of men? Then they [o] reasoned among themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, hee will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we feare the multitude, ✣ for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and sayd, We can not tell. And hee sayd vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I doe these things.

28 ¶ 7 But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, and said, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But he answered, and say'd, I will not: yet afterward he repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and sayd likewise. And he answered, and sayd, I will, Sir; yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They sayd vnto him, The first. Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the publicanes and the harlots [p] goe before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the [q] way of righteousnesse, and ye beleeued him not: but the Publicanes and the harlots beleeued him, and ye, though ye saw it, were not moued with repentance afterward, that ye might beleeue him.

33 ¶ 8 Heare another parable, There was a certaine housholder, ✣ which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepresse there in, and [r] built a tower, & let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew neere, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen to receiue the fruit thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his seruants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe he sent other seruants, moe then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all hee sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the sonne, they sayd among themselues, * This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, & let vs [t] take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will hee doe to those husbandmen?

41 They said vnto him, He will [t] cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Iesus sayd vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, ✣ The stone which the [u] builders refused, the same is [x] made the [y] head of the corner? [z] This was the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43 Therefore I say vnto you, The kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and shall be giuen to a nation, which shall bring foorth the [a] fruits thereof.

44 ✣ And whosoeuer shall fall on this stone, he shall be broken: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will [b] dash him in pieces.

45 And when the chiefe Priests and Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that hee spake of them.

and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he said vnto him, Friend, howe cam-thou in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speechlesse.

13 Then said the king to the seruants, Bind him hand and foote: take him away, and cast him into vtter darknesse: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For many are called, but few chosen.

15 Then the Pharises went and tooke counsell how they might entangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truely, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceiued their wickednesse, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shewe mee the tribute money. And they brought him a penye.

20 And he said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They said vnto him, Cesars. Then said he vnto them, Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cesars, and giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they marueiled, and left him, and went their way.

23 The same day the Sadduces came to him, (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, hauing no children, his brother shall marrie his wife by the right of alliance, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Nowe there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife and deceased: and hauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, and the third, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie wiues, nor wiues are bestowed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying, 32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And when the multitude heard it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

34 But when the Pharises had heard, that as it is crossed the Sadduces to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Lawe, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandement in the Law?

37 Iesus said to him, Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandement.

39 And the second is like vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandements hangeth the whole Law and the Prophets.

41 While the Pharises were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? whose sonne is he? They said vnto him, Dauids.

43 He said vnto them, How then doeth Dauid in spirit, call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hande, till I make thine enemies thy foote-stoole?

45 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none could answere him a word, neither durst any from that day foorth aske him any moe questions.

Iesus by subtilty, and kil him.

5 But they sai d, Not on the a feast day, least any vproare be among the people.

6 ¶ ✣ 3 And when Iesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 b There came vnto him a woman, which had a c boxe of very costly ointment, and powred it on his head, as he sate at the table.

8 And when his d disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, What needeth this e waste?

9 For this oyntment might haue beene sold for much, and beene giuen to the poore.

10 4 And Iesus knowing it, sayd vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 ✣ 5 For yee haue the poore alwayes with you, but me shall ye not haue alwayes.

12 For f in that she powred this ointment on my body, she did it to bury me.

13 Verely I say vnto you, Whereſoeuer this Gospel shall be preached throwout all the world, there shall also this that she hath done, be spoken of for a memoriall of her.

14 ¶ ❧ Then one of the twelue, called Iudas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests, 15 And sayd, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie pieces of siluer.

16 And from that time, he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ ❧ 6 Now g on the first day of the feast of vnleauened bread, the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?

18 And he sayd, Goe ye into the citie to such a man, and say to him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keepe the Passeouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen them charge, and made ready the Passeouer.

20 ✲ So when the euen was come, hee h sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he sayd,* Verely, I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding forowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered and sayde, ✣ He that i dippeth his hand with mee in the dish, hee shall betray me.

24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe vnto that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had neuer beene borne.

25 Then Iudas k which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, Master? Hee said vnto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ 7 ✣ And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread, and when he had l blessed, he brake it, and gaue it to his disciples, and said, Take, eate: m this is my body.

27 Also he tooke the cup, and when he had giuen thankes, he gaue it to them, saying, Drinke ye n all of it.

28 o For this is my blood of the p newe Testament that is shed for many, for the remission of sinnes.

29 I say vnto you, that I will not drinke henceforth of this fruit of the vine vntill that day, when I shall drinke it new with you in my Fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had sung q a Psalme, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

31 ¶ 8 ✣ Then said Iesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I ❧ will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shallbe scattered.

32 But ✲ after I am risen againe, I will goe before you into Galile.

33 But Peter answered, and said vnto him, Though that all men should be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 ✲ Iesus saide vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise.

35 Peter saide vnto him, Though I should die with thee, I will in no case deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ * 9 Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, & said vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I goe, and pray yonder.

37 And he tooke vnto him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waxe sorrowfull, and r grieuously troubled.

38 10 Then said Iesus vnto them, My soule is verie heauie, euen vnto the death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39 So he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this s cup passe from me: t neuertheleſſe, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 11 After, hee came vnto the disciples, and found them asleepe, and said to Peter, What? could ye not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch, and pray, that yee ᵃ not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weake.

42 Againe he went away the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cuppe cannot passe away from me, but that I must drinke it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again, for their eyes were heauy.

44 So he left them, and went away againe, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then came he to his disciples, and sayd vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is giuen into the hands of sinners.

46 ᵃᵃ Rise, let vs go: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 ✣ And while he yet spake, loe, Iudas one of the twelue came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staues, ᵘ from the hie Priests and Elders of the people.

48 Now he that betraied him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that is he, lay hold on him.

49 And forthwith he came to Iesus, and sayd, God saue thee, Master, and kissed him.

50 ¹³ Then Iesus sayde vnto him, ˣ Friend wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and layd handes on Iesus, and tooke him.

51 And beholde, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and stroke a seruant of the hie Priest, and smote off his eare.

52 ¹⁴ Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Put vp thy sword into his place: ✣ for all that ʏ take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 ¹⁵ Either thinkest thou, that I cannot now pray to my Father, and hee will giue me moe then twelue legions of Angels?

54 ᶻ How then should the ˣˣ Scriptures be fulfilled, which say, that it must be so?

55 The same houre sayd Iesus to the multitude, Yee be come out as it were against a thiefe, with swords and staues to take mee: I sate dayly teaching in the Temple among you, and yee tooke me not.

56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. ✣ Then all the disciples forsooke him, and fled.

57 ¶ ✣ ¹⁶ And they tooke Iesus, and led him to ᵃ Caiaphas the hie Priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 And Peter followed him a farre off vnto the hie Priests ᵇ hall, and went in and sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 Nowe* the chiefe Priests and the Elders, and all the whole Councill sought false witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death.

60 But they found none, and though many false witnesses came, yet found they none: but at the last came two false witnesses, 61 And said, This man said, ✣ I can destroy the Temple of God, and build it in three dayes.

62 Then the chiefe Priest arose, and saide to him, Answerest thou nothing? ᶜ What is the matter that these men witnesse against thee?

63 But Iesus held his peace. Then the chiefe Priest answered, and saide to him, I charge thee sweare vnto vs by the liuing God, to tell vs, If thou be that Christ the sonne of God, or no.

64 ✣ Iesus said to him, Thou hast said it: neuertheless I say vnto you, ᵈ Hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man, sitting ᵉ at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the ᶠ cloudes of the heauen.

65 Then the hie Priest ᵍ rent his cloathes, saying, He hath blasphemed, what haue we any more neede of witnesses: beholde, nowe ye haue heard his blasphemie.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, and said, He is gaultie of death.

67 ✣ Then spat they in his face, and buffeted him, and other smote him with rods, 68 Saying, Prophecie to vs, O Christ, Who is hee that smote thee?

69 ¶ ˣ ¹⁷ Peter ʰ sate without in the hall, and a maide came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Iesus of Galile:

70 But hee denied before them all, saying, I wote not what thou sayest.

71 And when hee went out into the porch, another maide sawe him, and saide vnto them that were there, This man was also with Iesus of Nazareth.

72 And againe he denyed with an oathe, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came vnto him they that stood by, and saide vnto Peter, Surely thou art also one of them: for euen thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began hee to ⁱ curse himselfe, and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cocke crew.

75 Then Peter remembred the words of Iesus, which had said vnto him, Before the cocke crowe thou shalt denie mee thrise. So hee went out, and wept bitterly.

o Seeing this prophecie is read in Zach. 11. 12. it can not be denied, but Jeremias name crept into the text, either through the Printers fault, or some others ignorance: it may be also that it came out of the margine, by reason of the abbreviation of the letters, the one being ieu, & the other zeu, which are not much vnlike: but in the Syriantext the Prophets name is not set downe at all.

15 Christ is buried, not priuily or by stealth, but by the gouernours consent by a famous man, in a place not farre distant, in a new sepulchre, so that it cannot be doubted of his death. ✣ Mark 15,42. Luke 23,50. John 19,38.

16 The keeping of the sepulchre is committed to Christes owne murderers, that there might be no doubt of his resurrection.

57 ¶ 15 ✣ And when the euen was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also himselfe beene Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, & asked the body of Iesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph tooke the body, and wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloath, 60 And put it in his new tombe, which he had hewen out in a rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ 16 Now the next day that followed the Preparation of the Sabbath, the high Priests and Pharises assembled to Pilate, 63 And sayd, Sir, we remember that that deceiuer said, while hee was yet aliue, Within three dayes I will rise.

64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, least his Disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shall the last errour be worse then the first.

65 Then Pilate sayd vnto them, Yee haue a watch: go, and make it sure, as ye know.

66 And they went, and made the sepulchre sure, with the watch, and sealed the stone.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The women goe to the sepulchre. 2 The Angel 9 The women see Christ. 18 He sendeth his Apostles to preach.

NOw ✣ in the a end of the Sabbath, when the first day of the weeke b began to dawne, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, came to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.

3 And his c countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for feare of him, the keepers were astonied, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and sayd to the women, Feare d ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified.

6 Hee is not here, for he is risen, as he sayd: come, see the place where the Lord was layd,

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, hee goeth before you into Galile: there ye shall see him: loe, I haue told you.

8 So they departed quickely from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did runne to bring his disciples word.

9 [2] And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you. And they came, and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Be not afrayed. Go, and tell my brethren, that they go into Galile, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ 3 Now when they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed vnto the high Priests al the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsell, and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this matter e come before the gouernour to be heard, wee will perswade him, and so vse the matter that you shall not need to care.

15 So they tooke the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is noised among the Iewes vnto this day.

16 ¶ 4 Then the eleuen disciples went into Galile, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, ✣ All power is giuē vnto me, in heauen, & in earth.

19 ✣ 5 Goe therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and the Sonne, and the holy Ghost.

20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, vnto the end of the world. Amen.

d The word (Ye) is spoken with force to confirme the women, now that the souldiers were afrayd.

CHAP. I.

1 Iohn baptizeth. 6 His apparell and meat. 9 Iesus is baptized. 12 He is tempted. 14 Hee preacheth the Gospel, 21 And 29 he teacheth in the Synagogues. 23 He healeth one that had a deuil. 29 Peters mother in law. 32 Many diseased persons. 40 The leper.

THe beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God:

2 [a] As it is writte in ŷ Prophets, ✣ Behold, [b] I send my messenger [c] before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 ✣ The voice of him that crieth in the wildernesse, is, Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

4 [2] ✣ Iohn did baptize in the wildernesse, and preach the [d] baptisme of amendment of life, for remission of sinnes.

5 And all the contrey of Iudea, & they of Hierusalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer Iorde confessing their sinnes.

6 ✣ Now Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skin about his loines, and he did eat ✣ locusts and wilde hony,

7 ✣ [3] And preached, saying, A stronger then I commeth after me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to e stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 Truely it is, I haue f baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 ¶ ✣ 4 And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazareth, a citie of Galile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.

10 5 And assoone as g hee was come out of the water, Iohn saw the heauens cloued in twaine, and the holy Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

11 Then

11 Then there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whom I am [h] well pleased.

12 ¶ ✠ 6 And immediatly the Spirit [i] driueth him into the wildernesse.

13 And hee was there in the wildernesse fourtie dayes, and was tempted of Satan: he was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 ¶ ✠ 7 Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God, 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleeue the Gospel.

16 ¶ ✠ 8 And as he walked by the sea of Galile, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.)

17 Then Iesus said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you to be fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 ✠ 9 And when hee had gone a litle further thence, he saw Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the ship with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So ✠ they entred into [k] Capernaum: and straightway on the Sabbath day hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine, ✠ for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 ¶ ✠ 10 And there was in their Synagogue a man [l] in whom was an vncleane spirit, and hee cried out, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue we to doe with thee, O [m] Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that [n] holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit [o] tare him, and cried with a loud voyce, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amased, so that they demanded [p] one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he [q] commandeth euen the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region [r] bordering on Galile.

29 ¶ ✠ 11 And as soone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30 And Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

31 And hee came and tooke her by the hand, and lifted her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, at what time the Sunne setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases: and hee cast out many deuils, and [s] suffered not the deuils to say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning very earely before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed carefully after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 Then he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the [t] next townes, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39 And hee [p] preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galile, and cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ ✠ 12 And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled downe vnto him, & said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put foorth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

42 And assoone as hee had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and hee was made cleane.

43 And after he had giuen him a straight commandement, he sent him away forthwith, 44 ✠ 13 And sayd vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and shew thy selfe to the [u] ✠ Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moyses commanded, for a testimoniall vnto them.

45 But when he was departed, [x] he beganne to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

AFter ✠ [a] a few dayes, he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noised that hee was in the [a] house.

2 And anon many gathered together, insomuch, that the [b] places about the doore could not receiue any more: and hee preached the word vnto them.

3 And there came vnto him, that brought one sicke of the palsie, borne of foure men.

4 And because they could not come neere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the roofe of the house where hee was: and when they had broken it open, they [c] let downe the [d] bed, wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.

5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, hee sayd to the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

6 And there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and [e] reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? ✠ who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

8 And immediatly, when Iesus perceiued in his spirit, that thus they reasoned with themselues, he sayd vnto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsie, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee? or to say, Arise, take vp thy bed, and walke?

10 But that yee may know, that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, hee sayd vnto the sicke of the palsie,

AND ✣ he entred againe into ỳ Synagogue, & there was a man which had a a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

3 Then hee saide vnto the man which had the withered hand, Arise: stand forth in the middes.

4 And hee saide to them, Is it lawfull to doe a good deede on the Sabbath day, or to doe euill? to saue the b life, or to kill? but they held their peace.

5 Then he looked round about on them c angerly, mourning also for the d hardnesse of their hearts, and saide to the man, Stretch foorth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored, as whole as the other.

6 ¶ ✣ And the Pharises departed, and straightway gathered a councell with the e Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Iesus auoyded with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galile, and from Iudea,

8 And from Ierusalem, and from Idumea, and f beyond Iordan: and they that dwelled about Tyrus and Sidon, when they had heard what great things he did, came vnto him in great number.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goods, except he first bind that strong man, and then spoyle his house.

28 ¶ ✣ 5 Verely I say vnto you, all sinnes shall be forgiuen vnto the children of men, and blasphemies wherewith they blaspheme:

29 But hee that blaspheme th against the holy Ghost, shall neuer haue forgiuenesse, but is culpable of eternall damnation.

30 P Because they sayd, Hee had an vncleane spirit.

31 ¶ ✣ Then came his q brethren and mother and stood without, and send vnto him, and called him.

32 And the people sate about him, and they sayd vnto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren seeke for thee without.

33 But hee answered them, saying, Who is my mother and my brethren?

34 6 And hee looked round about on them, which sate in compasse about him, and sayd, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For whosoeuer doth the will of God, he is my brother, my sister, and my mother.

CHAP. IV.

4 The parable of the sower. 14 And the meaning thereof. 18 Thornes. 21 The candle. 26 Of him that sowed, & then slept. 31 The graine of mustard seed. 39 Christ sleepeth in the ship.

AND r he began againe to teach by ✣ a sea side, & there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entred into a ship, and sate b in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the land.

2 And hee taught them many things in parables, and sayd vnto them in his doctrine,

3 1 Hearken: Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the foules of the heauen came, and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But assoone as the Sunne was vp, it was burnt vp, and because it had not roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grew vp, and choked it, so that it gaue no fruit.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and did yeeld fruit that sprang vp, & it grew, & it brought foorth, some thirtie folde, some sixtie folde, and some an hundreth fold.

9 Then he sayd vnto them, He that hath eares, to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was c alone, they that were d about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.

11 And hee sayd vnto them, To you it is giuen to know the mystery of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are e without, all things be done in parables, 12 ✲ That they seeing, may see, and not discerne: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiuen them.

13 Againe he sayd vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? how then should yee vnderstand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receiue the seede by the wayes side, in whom the word is sowen; but when they haue heard it, Satan commeth immediatly, & taketh away the word that was sowen in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the seede in stony ground, are they, which when they haue heard ✣ word, straightwayes receiue it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselues, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediatly they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

19 But the cares f of this world, and the ✣ deceitfulnesse of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receiue it, & bring foorth fruit: one corne thirtie, an other sixtie, and some an hundreth.

21 ¶ 2 Also he sayd vnto them, ✣ Commeth the candle in, to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the bed, and not to be put on a candlestick?

22 ✲ For there is nothing hid, that shall not be opened, neither is there a secret, but that it shall come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 3 And he sayd vnto them, Take heed what ye heare. ✲ With what measure you mete, it shall be measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 ✲ For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen, and from him that hath not, shallbe taken away, euen that hee hath.

26 ¶ 4 Also he sayd, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seed in the ground.

27 And g should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the seed should spring and grow vp, hee h not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite i of it selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that full corne in the eares.

29 And assoone as the fruite sheweth it selfe, anone he putteth in the sickle, because the harueth is come.

30 ¶ ✲ 5 He sayd moreouer, Wherevnto shall wee liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which when it is sowen in the earth, is the least of all seeds that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of the heauen may build vnder the shadow of it.

33 And 4 with many such parables he preached the word vnto th'E, k as they were able to heare it.

34 And without parables spake he nothing vnto them: but hee l expounded all things to his disciples apart.

35 ¶ ✣ Now the same day when euen was come, he sayd vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as hee was in the shippe, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 6 And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

low: and they awoke him, and sayd to him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And hee arose vp, and rebuked the winde, and sayd vnto the sea, Peace, and be still. So the winde ceased, and it was a great calme.

40 Then he sayd vnto them, [m] Why are yee so fearefull? how is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and sayd one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and sea obey him?

CHAP. V.

a One possessed is healed. 7 The deuill acknowledgeth Christ. 9 A Legion of deuils 13 entreth into swine. 22 Iairus daughter. 25 A woman is healed of a bloody issue. 26 Physicians. 34 Faith. 39 Sleepe.

AND [✣] they came ouer to the other side of the sea into the countrey of the Gadarens.

2 And when hee was come out of the shippe, there met him incontinently out of the graues, a man [b] which had an vncleane spirit:

3 Who had his abiding among the graues, and no man could bind him, no not with chaines:

4 Because that when he was often bound with fetters & chaines, he plucked the chaines asunder, and brake the fetters in pieces, neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes both night and day hee cryed in the mountaines, and in the graues, and strooke himselfe with stones.

6 And when he saw Iesus afarre off, he ranne, and worshipped him,

7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus the Sonne of the most high God? I [c] will that thou sweare to me by God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For hee sayd vnto him, Come out of the man, thou vncleane spirit.)

9 And hee asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for wee are many.

10 And hee [d] prayed him instantly, that hee would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 Now there was there in the [e] mountaines a great heard of swine feeding.

12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leaue. Then the vncleane spirits went out & entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong from the high banck into the sea, (& there were about two thousand swine) & they were choked vp in the sea.

14 And the swineheards fled, and told it in the citie, and in the countrey, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and saw him that had bene possessed with the deuill, and had the legion, sit both cloathed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, told them, what was done to him that was possessed with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then they began to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts.

18 And when hee was come into the ship, hee that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus would not suffer him, but sayd vnto him, Goe thy way home to thy friends, and shewe them what great things the Lord hath done vnto thee, and how hee hath had compassion on thee.

20 So hee departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, what great things Iesus had done vnto him: and all men did marueile.

21 ¶ And when Iesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, a great multitude gathered together to him, and hee was neere vnto the sea.

22 ✣ And [g] beholde, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Iairus: and when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete, 23 And besought him instantly, saying, My little daughter lieth at point of death: I pray thee that thou wouldest come and lay thine hands on her, that she may be healed, and liue.

24 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him and thronged him.

25 (✣ And there was a certaine woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffred many things of many physicians, and had spent all that shee had, and it auailed her nothing, but she became much worse.

27 When shee had heard of Iesus, shee came in the preasse behind, and touched his garment.

28 For she sayd, if I may but touch his cloathes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the course of her blood was dryed vp, and shee felt in her body, that shee was healed of that plague.

30 And immediatly when Iesus did know in himselfe the vertue that went out of him, he turned him round about in the preasse, and sayd, Who hath touched my cloathes?

31 And his disciples sayd vnto him, Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for shee knew what was done in her, and shee came and fell downe before him, & told him the whole truth.

34 And he sayd to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague.)

35 While hee yet spake, there came from the house ruler of the Synagogues house certaine which sayd, Thy daughter is dead: why disease st thou the master any further?

36 ✣ Assoone as Iesus heard that word spoken, hee sayd vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: onely beleeue.

37 And hee suffered no man to follow him saue Peter and Iames, and Iohn the brother of Iames.

38 So hee came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And hee went in, and sayd vnto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weepe? the child is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 ✣ And they laught him to scorne: but hee put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the child, and them [h] that were with him, and entred in where the childe lay.

41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and sayd vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Mayden, I say vnto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the mayden arose, & walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres, and they were astonied out of measure.

AND ✣ 1 he departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, & his disciples followed him.

2 And when the Sabbath was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue, and many that heard him, were astonied, and saide, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdome is this that is giuen vnto him, that euen suchagreat works are done by his hands?

3 Is not this that carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of Iames & Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon? and are not his [b] sisters here with vs? And they were offended in him.

4 And Iesus saide vnto them, A ✣ Prophet is not without [c] honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinred, and in his owne house.

5 And he [d] could there doe no great workes, saue that he laid his hands vpon a few sicke folke, and healed them.

6 And hee marueiled at their vnbeliefe, [e] and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

7 ¶ ✣ 2 And hee called vnto him the twelue, and began to send them foorth two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirits,

8 3 And commaunded them that they should take nothing for their iourney, saue a staffe onely: neither scrip, neither bread, neither money in their girdles:

9 But that they should be shod with ✣ [e] sandals, and that they should not put on [f] two coates.

10 And hee said vnto them, Whereseouer yee shall enter into an house, [g] there abide till yee depart thence.

11 *4 And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, ✣ shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, It shallbe easier for Sodome, or Gomorrha at the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 ¶ And they went out, and preached, that men should amend their liues.

13 And they cast out many deuils: and they [h] anoynted many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

14 ¶ ✣ 5 Then King Herod heard of him (for his Name was made manifest) and said, Iohn Baptist is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great i workes are wrought by him.

15 Other said, It is Elias: and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one of [k] those Prophets.

16 ✣ So when Herod heard it, he said, It is Iohn whom I [l] beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn saide vnto Herod, ✣ It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias [m] laid wait against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herod feared Iohn, knowing that hee was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when he heard him, hee did many things, and heard him [n] gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birth-day made a banket to his princes and captaines, and chiefe estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter [o] of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sate at table together, the King saide vnto the maide, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And hee sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of mee, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the haife of my kingdome.

24 ✣ So [p] she went forth, & said to her mother, What shall I aske? And the said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I would that thou shouldest giue me euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was very sory: yet for his oathes sake, and for their sakes which sate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the [q] hangman, and gaue charge that his head should be brought in. So hee went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, and the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke vp his body, and put it in a toombe.

30 ¶ ✣ And the Apostles gathered themselues together to Iesus, and tolde him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 6 And hee saide vnto them, Come ye apart into the wilderneſſe & rest a while: for there were many commers & goers, that they had not leasure to eate.

32 ✣ So they went by ship out of the way into a desart place.

33 But the people sawe them when they departed, and many knew him, and ranne a foote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 * Then Iesus went out, and saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe which had no shepheard. ✣ and he began to teach them many things.

35 ✣ And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desart place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them depart, that they may goe into the countrey and townes about, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

37 But hee answered, and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they said vnto him, Shall we goe, and buy two hundreth peny worth of bread, and giue them to eate?

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragements, and of the fishes.

44 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men.

45 ¶ 7 And straightway hee caused his disciples to goe into the shippe, and to goe before vnto the other side vnto Bethsaida, while hee sent away the people.

46 Then assoone as he had sent x them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.

47 ✣ And when euen was come, the shippe was in the mids of the sea, and hee alone on the land.

48 And hee saw them troubled in rowing, (for the winde was contrary vnto them) and about the fourth watch of the night, hee came vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 And when they sawe him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had beene a spirit, and cried out.

50 For they all sawe him, and were sore afraide: but anon he talked with them, and said vnto them, Be ye of good comfort: it is I, be not afraid.

51 Then hee went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased, and they were y much more amased in themselues, and marueiled.

52 For they had not z considered the matter of the loaues, because their hearts were hardened.

53 ¶ ✣ And they came ouer, and went into the land of Gennesaret, and arriued.

54 8 So when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 55 And ranne about throughout all that region round about, and began to cary hither and thither in couches all that were sicke, where they heard that he was.

56 And whithersoeuer hee entred into townes, or cities, or villages, they layde their sicke in the streetes, and prayed him that they might touch at the least the edge of his garment. And as many as touched a him, were made whole.

a None doe more resist the wisedome of God, then they that should be wisest, and that vpon a zeale of their owne traditions: for men doe not please themselues more in any thing then in superstition, that is to say, in a worship of God fondly deuised of themselues.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples a eate meate with b common hands, (that is to say, vnwashen) they complained.

3 (For the Pharises, and all the Iewes, except they wash their handes oft, eate not, c holding the traditions of the Elders.

4 And when they come from the d market, except they wash, they eate not: and many other things there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups, and e pots, and of brasen vessels, and of beds.)

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why f walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eate meate with vnwashen hands?

6 1 Then hee answered and saide vnto them, Surely ✣ Esay hath prophecied well of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth mee with lippes, but their heart is farre away from me.

7 3 But they worship me in vaine, teaching for doctrines the commandements of men.

8 4 For ye lay the Commandements of God apart, and obserue the tradition of men, as ŷ washings of pots and of cups, and many other such like things ye doe.

9 5 And he said vnto them, Will ye reiect be commandement of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

12 So ye suffer him no more to doe any thing for his father or his mother.

13 Making the word of God of none authoritie, by your tradition, which ye haue ordeined: and ye do many such like things.

14 ✣ Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Hearken yee all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceed out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught which is the h purging of all meates?

20 Then he saide, That which commeth out of man, that defileth man.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The miracle of the seuen loaues. 11 The Iewes seeke signes. 15 To beware of the leauen of the Pharises. 22 A blinde man healed. 27 The peoples sundry opinions of Christ. 29 The Apostles acknowledge Christ. 31 He foretelleth his death. 33 Peter, Satan. 35 To saue and loose the life. 38 To be ashamed of Christ.

IN those dayes, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eate, Iesus called his disciples to him, and sayd vnto them,

2 I haue compassion on the multitude, because they haue nowe continued with mee three dayes, and haue nothing to eate.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they would a faint by the way: for some of them came from farre.

4 Then his disciples answered him, Whence can a man satisfie these with bread here in the wilderneſſe?

5 And hee asked them, How many loaues haue ye? And they sayd, Seuen.

6 Then hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaues, and gaue thankes, brake them, and gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

7 They had also a few small fishes: and when he had giuen thanks, he commanded them also to be set before them.

8 So they did eat, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.

9 (And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand) so he sent them away.

10 ¶ ✣ And anon he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 ✣ 1 And the Pharises b came foorth, and began to dispure with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

12 Then hee c sighed deepely in his spirit, and sayd, Why doeth this generation seeke a signe? Verely I say vnto you, d a signe shall not be giuen vnto this generation.

13 ¶ So he left them, and went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

14 ¶ ✣ And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them, but one loafe.

15 2 And he charged them, saying, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herod.

16 3 And they reasoned among themselues, saying, It is because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, he sayd vnto them, Why reason you thus, because yee haue no bread? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? haue yee your hearts yet hardened?

18 Haue ye eyes, and see not? and haue yee eares, and heare not? and doe ye not remember?

19 ✣ When I brake the fiue loaues among fiue thousand, how many baskets full of broken meate tooke ye vp? They said vnto him, Twelue.

20 And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets full of leauings of broken meat tooke ye vp? And they sayd, Seuen.

21 Then hee sayd vnto them, e How is it that ye vnderstand not?

22 4 And hee came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blind man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

23 Then hee tooke the blind by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spat in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, and asked him, if he saw ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I f see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, and made him g looke againe. And he was restored to his sight, and saw euery man afarre off clearely.

26 5 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

27 ¶ ✣ 6 And Iesus went out, and his disciples into the townes of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way he asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and some, one of the Prophets.

29 And he sayd vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Then Peter answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou art that Christ.

30 7 And he sharpely charged them, that concerning him they should tell no man.

3 And his raiment did shine, and was very white as snowe, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.
4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.
5 Then Peter answered, and sayd to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.
6 Yet hee knew not what they sayd: for they were [c] afraid.
7 And there was a cloud that shadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloude, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne: heare him.
8 And suddenly they looked round about, and saw no more any man saue Iesus onely with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were amased, and ranne to him, and saluted him.
16 Then he asked the Scribes, What dispute you among your selues?
17 And one of the companie answered, and sayd, Master, I haue brought my sonne vnto thee, which hath a dumbe spirit:

19 Then he answered him, and said, O faithlesse generation, how long now shall I be with you? how long now shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.
20 So they brought him vnto him: and assoone as the spirit [g] saw him, he tare him, and hee fell downe on the ground wallowing and forthing.
21 Then he asked his father, How long time is it since it hath beene thus? And he said, Of a child.
22 And oft times hee casteth him into the fire, and into the water to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, helpe vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

2 Then the Phaarisees came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And hee answered, and saide vnto them, What did * Moses command you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 1 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardnesse of your heart hee wrote this b precept vnto you.

6 But at the beginning of the creation * God made them male and female:

7 ✣ For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife.

8 And they twaine shall be one flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 ∵ Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let no man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

11 And he said vnto them, ✣ Whosoeuer shall put away his wife and marry another, committeth adulterie c against her.

12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adulterie.

13 ¶ ✣ 2 Then they brought little children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus sawe it, hee was displeased, & saide to them, Suffer the little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall not receiue the kingdome of God 3 as a little childe, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he tooke them vp in his armes, and put his hands vpon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ 4 And when he was gone out on the way, there came one * running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus saide to him, Why callest thou mee good? there is none good but one, euen God.

19 Thou knowest the commandements, ✣ Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnesse. Thou shalt d hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things haue I obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus looked vpon him, and loued him, and saide vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Goe and sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, followe me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and saide vnto his disciples, How hardly doe they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

24 And his disciples were afraid at his words. But Iesus answered againe, and saide vnto them, Children, how hard it is for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God?

25 It is easier for a camell to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more abonied, saying with themselues, Who then can be saued?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, and saide, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ ✣ 5 Then Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels,

30 But hee shall receiue an e hundred fold, now

He doth not onely receiue me, but also him that sent me.

f Euen in the midst of persecutions.

✣ Mat. 19. 30. Luke 13. 30.

✣ Matt. 20. 17. Luke 18. 31.

6 The disciples are againe prepared to patience, not to be ouercome by the foretelling vnto them of his death, which was at hand, and therewithall of life which should most certainely follow.

✣ Mat. 20. 20.

7 we must first striue, before we reigne, b.

g We pray thee.

at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and landes f with persecutions, and in the world to come, eternall life.

31 ✣ But many that are first, shall be last, and the last, first.

32 ¶ ✣ 6 And they were in the way going vp to Hierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were troubled, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Iesus tooke the twelue againe, and began to tell them what things should come vnto him,

33 Saying, Beholde, we goe vp to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the hie Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles, 34 And they shall mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35 ¶ ✣ 7 Then Iames & Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, g we would that thou shouldest doe for vs that we desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What would yee I should doe for you?

37 And they said vnto him, Graunt vnto vs, that we may sit, one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Iesus saide vnto them, Yee knowe not what ye aske. Can ye drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall drinke indeede of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shall be baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand and at my left, is not mine to giue, but it shallbe giuen to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaine at Iames and Iohn

42 ✣ But Iesus called them vnto him, and said to them, ✣ Ye know that ✣ they which are princes among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie ouer them.

43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoeuer will be great among you, shall be your seruant.

44 And whosoeuer will be chiefe of you, shall be the seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ransome of many.

46 ¶ ✣ 9 Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus a blinde man, sate by the way side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

48 And many rebuked him, because he should hold his peace: but he cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49 Then Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blind, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threwe away his cloake, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, & said vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, that I may receiue sight.

52 Then Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath saued thee. And by and by he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

CHAP. XI.

✣ Matt. 21. 1. Luke 18. 29.

1 A liuely image of the spirituall kingdome of Christ on earth.

AND 1 when they came neere to Hierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethania vnto the mount of Oliues, he sent foorth two of his disciples,

2 And said vnto them, Goe your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and assoone as ye shall enter into it, yee shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe ye this? Say that the Lord hath neede of him, and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt, tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met, and they loosed him,

5 Then certaine of them, that stoode there, said vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said vnto them, as Iesus had commanded them: So they let them goe.

7 ¶ ✣ And they brought the colt to Iesus, and ✣ Iohn 12. 14. cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

8 And many spread their garments in the way: other cut downe branches off the trees, & strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna: a blessed be he that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

10 b Blessed be the kingdome that commeth in the Name of the Lord of our father Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heauens.

11 ✣ So Iesus entred into Hierusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on all things, and now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

12 ✣ And on the morrowe when they were come out from Bethania, he was hungry.

13 2 And seeing a figge tree a farre off, that had leaues, he went to see if hee might finde any thing thereon: but when he came vnto it, hee found nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

14 Then Iesus answered and said to it, Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ 3 And they came to Ierusalem, and Iesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde doues.

16 Neither would hee suffer that any man should cary a ✣ vessell through the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, Is it not written, ✣ Mine house shallbe d called the house of prayer vnto all nations? * but you haue made it a denne of theeues.

18 And the Scribes and hie Priests heard it, and sought how to destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the citie.

a Well be it to him that commeth to vs from God, or that is sent of God.

b Happie and prosperous.

21 Then Peter remembred, and said vnto him, Master, behold, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Haue e the faith of God.

23 For verely I say vnto you, that whosoeuer shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou taken away, and cast into the sea, and shall not wauer in his heart, but shall beleeue that those things which he saith, shall come to passe, whatsoeuer he saith, shall be done to him.

26 For if you wil not forgiue, your Father which is in heauen, will not pardon you your trespasses.

27 ¶ ✠ 5 Then they came againe to Hierusalem: and as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the hie Priests, & the Scribes, & the Elders, 28 And said vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie, that thou shouldest doe these things?

29 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto them, I will also aske you a certain thing & answere ye me, and I wil tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

30 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? answere me.

31 And they thought with themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then did ye not beleeue him?

32 6 But if wee say, Of men, we feare the people: for all men counted Iohn that he was a Prophet indeed.

33 Then they answered, and saide vnto Iesus, We cannot tell. And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Neither will I tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

✠ Esa. 5. 1. Ierem. 2. 21. mat. 21. 33. Iuke 20. 9. b When the fruits of the ground vse to be gathered.

AND c hee began to speake vnto them in a parables ✠ A certaine man planted a vineyard, & compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a tower in it, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a straunge countrey.

2 b And at the time, hee sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that hee might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away emptie.

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefull handled.

5 And againe hee sent another, and him they slew, & many other, beating some, & killing some.

6 Yet had hee one sonne, his deare beloued: him also hee sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen said among themselues, This is the heire; come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lord of the vineyard doe? Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Haue ye not read so much as this Scripture? ✠ The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner.

11 This was done of the Lord, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

12 Then they c went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceiued that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ ✠ 2 And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharises, and of the Herodians, that they might taken him in his talke.

14 And when they came, they saide vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou d considerest not the person of men, but teachest the e way of God truely, Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Should we giue it, or should we not giue it? but he knew their hypocrisie, and saide vnto them, Why tempt yee me? Bring me a penie, that I may see it.

16 So they brought it, and hee said vnto them, ∵ Whose is this image and superscription? and they said vnto him, Cesars.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, ∵ Giue to Cesar the things that are Cesars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.

18 ¶ ✠ 3 Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) & they asked him, saying, 19 Master, ✠ Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, & raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no issue.

21 Then the second tooke her, & he died, neither did he yet leaue issue, and the third likewise:

22 So those seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 Then Iesus answered and saide vnto them, Are ye not therefore deceiued, because yee knowe not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marrie, nor wiues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I * am the God of Abraham, & the God of Isaac, and the God of Iakob?

27 God is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.

28 ¶ ✠ 4 Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiuing that hee had answered them well, hee asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?

The poore widowes.

30 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, & with all thy minde, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandement.

31 And the second is like, that is, ✣ Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. There is none other commandement greater then these.

32 Then that Scribe said vnto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he,

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as himself, is more then all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

6 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7 Furthermore when ye shall heare of warres, and rumors of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters, and there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take yee heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: yee shall be beaten, and brought before rulers & kings for my sake, for a testimoniall vnto them.

10 And the Gospell must be published among all nations.

16 And let him that is in the fielde, not turne backe againe to take his garment.

17 Then wo shalbe to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For [f] those dayes shall be such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 Then ✲ if any man say to you, Loe, here is Christ, or loe, he is there, beleeue it not.

22 For false Christes shall rise, and false prophets, and shall shewe signes and wonders, to deceiue, if it were possible the very elect.

23 But take ye heede: behold, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 ¶ Moreouer in those dayes after that tribulation, ✲ the sunne shall waxe darke, & the moone shall not giue her light, come to passe, knowe that the kingdome of God is neere, euen at the doores.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

32 [a] But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heauen, neither the Sonne himselfe, but the Father.

33 ✣ Take heede: watch, and pray: for yee know not when the time is.

34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a strange countrey, and leaueth his house, and giueth authority to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 Watch ye therefore, (for ye know not when the master of the house will come, at euen, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in ✣ dawning)

36 Least if hee come suddenly, hee should finde you sleeping.

37 And those things that I say vnto you, I say vnto all men, Watch.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The Priests conspiracie against Christ. 3 The woman powring oyle on Christs head. 12 The preparing of the Passeouer. 22 The institution of the Supper. 41 Christ deliuered into the hands of men. 43 Iudas betrayeth him with a kisse. 53 Christ is before Caiaphas. 66 Peters denial.

AND ✣ [1] two dayes after followed the feast of the Passeouer, and of vnleauened bread: and the hie Priests, and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they sayd, Not in the feast day, least there be any tumult among the people.

3 ✣ And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as he sate at table, there came a woman hauing a boxe of ointment of Spikenard, very costly, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

4 [2] Therefore some disdained among themselues, and sayd, To what end is this waste of ointment?

5 For it might haue beene sold for more then a three hundreth pence, and beene giuen vnto the poore, and they murmured against her.

6 But Iesus sayd, Let her alone: Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 [3] For ye haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye will ye may doe them good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

8 [4] She hath done that shee could: she came aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verely I say vnto you, wheresoeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shallbe spoken of in remembrance of her.

10 ¶ ✣ [5] Then Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto the hie Priests, to betray him vnto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conueniently betray him.

12 ¶ ✣ [6] Now the first day of vnleauened bread, [b] when they sacrificed the [d] Passeouer, his disciples sayd vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passeouer?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and sayd vnto them, Goe ye into the citie, and there shall a man meete you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whithersoeuer he goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master saieth, Where is the lodging where I shall eate the Passeouer with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you an [e] vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it readie for vs.

16 So his disciples went foorth, and came to the citie, and found as he had said vnto them, and made ready the Passeouer.

17 ¶ And at euen he came with the twelue.

18 ✣ [7] And as they sate at table and did eate, Iesus said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

19 Then they began to be sorowfull and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that [f] dippeth with mee in the platter.

21 Truely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: ✣ but woe be to that man, by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had beene good for that man, if hee had neuer beene borne.

22 ▽ And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread, and when hee had giuen thankes, hee brake it and gaue it to them, and said, Take, eat, this is my bodie.

23 Also hee tooke the cup, and when hee had giuen thanks, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he said vnto them, This is my blood of that new Testament which is shed for many.

25 Verely I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the vine vntill that day, that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out to the mount of Oliues.

27 ✣ [8] Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, ✣ I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go into * Galile before you.

29 [9] And Peter said vnto him, Although all men should be offended at thee, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt denie me thrise.

31 But he said more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not denie thee: likewise also said they all.

32 ¶ ✣ [10] After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then hee said to his disciples, Sit yee here, till I haue prayed.

33 And hee tooke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he beganne to be troubled, and in great heauinesse, 34 And said vnto them, My soule is verie heauie, euen vnto the death: tarie here, and watch.

35 So he went forward a little, and fell downe on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

b This doubling of the word was vsed in those dayes, when their language were somixed together: for this word, Abba, is a Syrian word.

12 As men did willingly spoile God their Creator of his praise in forsaking and betraying him, so Christ willingly going about to make satisfaction for this ruine, is forsaken of his owne, and betrayed by one of his familiars as a thiefe, that the punishment might be agreeable to the sinne, and we who are very traitours, forsakers, and sacrilegers, might be deliuered out of the deuils snare.

c So diligently, that he scape not out of your hands.

k That is, Peter. l All his disciples.

13 Vnder pretexte of godlines, all things are lawfull to such as doe violence against Christ.

m Which he cast about him, when he hearing that sturre in the night, suddenly ranne forth: whereby we may vnderstand with how great licentiousnesse these villaines violently fet vpon him.

n The highest councell was assembled, because Christ was accused as a blasphemer and a false prophet: for as for the other crime of treason, it was forged against him by the Priests, to enforce Pilate by that meanes to condemne him.

24 Christ, who was so innocent that he could not be oppressed, no nor by false witnesses, is at the length, for confessing God to be his Father, condemned of impietie before the hie Priest: that we, who denied God and were indeede wicked, might be quit before God. ❧ Matt.26.59. ✠ Iohn 2.19.

36 And he sayd, b Abba, Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cup from me: neuertheles not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 11 Then he came, and found them sleeping, and sayd to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?

38 ¶ Watch yee, and pray, that yee enter not into tentation: the spirit indeede is ready, but the flesh is weake.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And he returned, and found them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie: neither knewe they what they should answere him.

41 And he came the third time, and said vnto them, Sleepe hencefoorth, and take your rest: it is ynough: the houre is come: behold, the Sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp: let vs goe: loe, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 ✠ 12 And immediatly while hee yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swords and staues from the hie Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, he it is: take him and leade him away i safely.

45 And assoone as hee was come, hee went straightway to him, and sayd, Haile Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they layd their handes on him, and tooke him.

47 And k one of them that stoode by, drewe out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered, and sayd to them, Yee be come out as against a thiefe, with swords and with staues, to take me.

49 I was dayly with you, teaching in the Temple, and ye tooke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 Then they l all forsooke him, and fled.

51 13 And there followed him a certaine yong man, cloathed in m linnen vpon his bare body, and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloath, and fled from them naked.

53 ✠ So they led Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came n together all the hie Priests, and the Elders, and Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a farre off, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, and sate with the seruants, and warmed himselfe at the fire.

55 14 And the ❧ hie Priests, and all the Councill sought for witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, but found none.

56 For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certaine, and bare false witnesse against him, saying, 58 Wee heard him say, ✲ I will destroy this Temple made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another, made without hands.

59 But their witnes yet agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stoode vp amongst them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is the matter that these beare witnesse against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the hie Priest asked him, & sayd vnto him, Art thou that Christ the sonne of the o Blessed?

62 And Iesus sayd, I am he, ✠ and yee shall see the Sonne of man sit at ỹ right hand of the power of God, and come in the cloudes of heauen.

63 Then the hie Priest rent his cloathes, and said, What haue we any more needs of witnesses?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemie: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be worthie of death.

65 15 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to beate him with fists, and to say vnto him, Prophecie. And the sergeants smote him with their rods.

66 ✠ 16 And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maides of the hie Priest.

67 And when she saw Peter warming himselfe, shee looked on him, and sayd, Thou wast also with Iesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied it, saying, I know him not, neither wot I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 ❧ Then p a maid saw him againe, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 But hee denied it againe: and anon after, they that stoode by, saide againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galile, and thy speach is like.

71 And hee began to curse, and sweare, saying, I know not this man of whom yee speake.

72 ✲ Then the second time the cocke crewe, and Peter remembred the word that Iesus had said vnto him, Before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt denie me thrise, and weighing that with himselfe, he wept.

desire that he would doe as he had euer done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, & sayd, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the high Priests had mooued the people to desire that he would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and sayd againe vnto them, What will ye then that I do with him, whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate sayd vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus, when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band,

17 [2] And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, King of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and spat vpon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, and put his owne cloathes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 ✣ And they [3] compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Syrene (which came out of the countrey, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 ✣ [4] And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens sculles.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrrhe: but he receiued it not.

24 ⁘ [5] And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for them, what euery man should haue.

25 And it was the third heure, when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written aboue, THAT KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him two theeues, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the scripture was fulfilled, which sayth, ✲ And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, ✲ Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the hie Priests mocking, sayd among themselues with the Scribes, He saued other men, himselfe he cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel now come downe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleeue. They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 ¶ Now when the sixt houre was come, [6] darknes arose ouer all the land vntill the ninth houre, 34 And at the [7] ninth houre Iesus cried with a loud voice, saying, ✣ Eloi, Eloi, lamma-sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, sayd, Beholde, he calleth Elias.

36 And one [8] ranne and filled a ✣ spunge full of vineger, and put it on a reed, & gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come, and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cried with a loud voice, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Now when the Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that he thus crying gaue vp the ghost, he sayd, Truely this man was the Sonne of God.

40 ¶ [8] There were also women which beheld afarre off, among whom was Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses, and Salome, 41 Which also when he was in Galile, [9] followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Hierusalem.

42 ✲ And now when the night was come (because it was the day of the preparation that is before the Sabbath)

43 ✲ Ioseph of Arimathea, an [d] honourable counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in [e] boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueiled, if he were alreadie dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether he had beene any while dead.

45 And when he knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph:

46 Who bought a linnen cloath, and tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen cloath, and layed him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre:

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother, beheld where he should be layed.

e If we consider what danger Ioseph cast himselfe into, we shall perceiue how bolde he was.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of Christes resurrection. 9 He appeareth to Marie Magdalene and others. 15 He sendeth his Apostles to preach. 19 His ascension.

AND * when the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames and Salome, brought sweet ointments, that they might come and anoynt him.

2 Therefore earely in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the Sunne was now risen.

3 And they sayd one to another, Who shall roll vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they [a] looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one)

5 ✣ So they went into the [b] sepulchre, and saw a yong man sitting at the right side, cloathed in a long white robe: and they were sore troubled.

6 But he sayd vnto them, Be not so troubled: ye seeke Iesus of Nazareth, which hath beene crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they put him.

7 But a Christ going about to take away the sinnes of men, who went about to vsurpe the throne of God himselfe, is condemned as one that hunted after the kingdome, and mocked with a false shew of a kingdome, that we on the other side, who shall indeed be exercall kings, might receiue the crowne of glory at Gods owne hand. ✣ Matt. 27 32. Luke 23. 26.

3 The rage of the wicked hath no measure, but in the meane season, euen the weakenesse of Christ, being in paine vnder the heauie burden of the crosse, doeth manifestly shewe that a lambe is led to be sacrificed. ✣ Matt. 27. 33. Luke 23. 33. John 19. 17.

5 Christ hangeth naked vpon the crosse, and as the wickedst caitife that euer was, most wilely reprooued: that we being cloathed with his righteousnes, & blessed with his curses, and sanctified by his onely oblation, may be taken vp into heauen. ⁘ Esai. 53. 12. ✲ John 2. 19.

6 How angrie God was against our sinne, which he punished in our Suretie, his Sonne, it appeareth by this horrible darkenesse.

e By this word, land, he meaneth Palestina: so that the strangenesse of the wonder, is so much the more set forth in that, that at the feast of the Passouer, and in the full moone, when the Sunne shined ouer all the rest of the world, and at midday that corner of the world, wherein so wicked an act was committed, was ouercouered with most grosse darkenesse.

7 Christ striuing mightily with Satan, with the sinne, and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grieuously tormented in body hanging vpon the crosse, and in soule plunged in the depth of hell, yet he ridded himselfe, crying with a mighty voice: and mourished and ouercame the wound which hee receiued of death in that that he died, yet by smiting both things aboue and things beneath, by rending of the vaile of the Temple, and by the rellimonie wrung out of them which murdered him, hee sheweth euidently vnto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mocke at him, that he shall be knowen out of hand to be conquerour and Lord of all. ✣ Psal. 22. 1. mat. 27. 46.

3 It seemed good also to mee (c most noble Theophilus) affoone as I had searched out perfectly all things d from the beginning, to write vnto thee thereof from point to point,

4 That thou mightest e acknowledge the certaintie of those things whereof thou hast beene instructed.

5 ‖ IN 2 the f time of 3 Herod king of Iudea, there was a certaine Priest named Zacharias, of the ✣ h course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

6 Both were i iust before God, and k walked in all the l commandements and ordinances of the Lord, m without reproofe.

7 And they had no childe, becaufe that Elisabet was barren: and both were well striken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as hee executed the Priests office before God, as his course came in order, 9 ✣ According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense, when he went into the n Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, ✲ while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing at the right side of the Altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel sayd vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladneffe, and many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For hee shall be great in the o sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine, nor ‖ strong drinke: and he shallbe filled with the holy Ghoft, euen from his mothers wombe.

by shall I know this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angell answered, and sayd vnto him, I am Gabriel x that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntil the day that these things be done, because thou beleevest not my wordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he tarried so long in the Temple.

22 And when hee came out, hee could not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that hee had seene a vision in the Temple: for hee made signes vnto them, and remained dumbe.

23 And it came to passe, when the daies of his office were fulfilled, that he departed to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceiued, and hid her selfe fiue moneths, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me, in the daies wherein he looked on me, to take from mee my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ 3 And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God vnto a citie of Galile, named Nazareth.

27 ✣ To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the y house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and sayd, Haile thou that art z freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: a blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was b troubled at his saying, and thought what maner of salutation this should be.

30 Then the Angel said vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast c found fauour with God.

31 ✣ For loe, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, ᵛ and shalt call his Name Iesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be d called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 ✣ And hee shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none end.

34 Then said Marie vnto the Angel, e How shall this be, seeing f I know not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost g shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadow thee: therefore also that h holy thing which shalbe borne of thee, shalbe i called the Sonne of God.

36 And beholde, thy k cousin Elisabet, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age: and this is her l sixt moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Beholde the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ 4 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the m hill countrey with haste, to a n citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41 And it came to passe, as Elizabet heard the salutation of Marie, the babe o sprang in her belite, and Elisabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loude voyce, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed p the fruit of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to mee, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For loe, assone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

45 And blessed is shee that beleeued: for those things shalbe performed, which were told her from the Lord.

46 5 Then Marie said, My soule magnifieth the Lord.

47 And my spirit reioyceth in God my Sauiour.

48 For hee hath q looked on the r poore degree of his seruant: for beholde, from hencefoorth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generation on them s that feare him.

51 ✣ He hath shewed strength with his t arme, ✣ he hath u scattered the proud in the x imagination of their hearts.

52 ᵛ Hee hath y put downe the mightie from their seats, and exalted them of z low degree.

53 ✣ Hee hath filled the a hungrie with good things, and sent away the rich empty.

54 b 4 He hath vpholden Israel his seruant, to be mindfull of his mercy.

55 (* As hee hath c spoken to our fathers, to d wit, to Abraham and his seed) for euer.

56 ¶ And Marie aboade with her about three moneths; after, the returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ 6 Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, & she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and cousins heard how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they ✣ reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and sayd, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none of thy kinred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So he asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and they marueiled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue, e and he spake and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt neere vnto them, and all f these words were noised abroad thorowout all the hill countrey of Iudea.

66 And

x That appeare, for so the Hebrewes vse this worde (to stand) meaning that they are ready to doe his commandement.

3 The Angel ferning the Lord which should be borne, is sent to the virgin Marie, in whom he Sonne of the most high promised to Dauid is conceiued by the vertue of the holy Ghost.

y Inasmuch is to be said of Marie, otherwise Christ had not beene of the stocke, nor the sonne of Dauid.

z It might be rendred worde for worde, full of fauour and grace, and hee sheweth straight after, laying out plainely vnto vs, what that fauour is, in that he saith, the Lord is with thee.

d He shalbe declared to be, for he was the Sonne of God from euerlasting, but was made manifest in the flesh in his time.

✣ Dan 7. 14. 27. micah 4. 7.

e The greatnesse of the matter casteth the Virgin to doubt this question, not that she disalloweth any thing at all, for she asketh onely of the maner of the conceiuing, so that it is plaine she beleeued all thereof.

f So speake the Hebrewes, signifying by this modest kinde of speech the company of man and wife together, and this is the meaning of it now shall this be, forseeing.

g Christ his mother, I am very sure, I shall not know any Virgin had trauelly the Prophets, that the Messias should be borne of a Virgin.

h That is, the holy thing and vnfit for all spot of vnclennesse: for he that was to take away sinne, must needs be void of sinne.

i Declared, and shewed to the world, to be the Sonne of God.

k Though Elisabet were of the tribe of Leui, yet for might be Maries cousin: for whereas it was forbidden by the Lawe, for maidens to be married to men of other tribes, this could not let, but that the Leuites might take them wiues out of any tribe; for the Leuites had no portion allotted them, when the land was diuided among the people.

l This is now the sixt moneth from the time when she conceiued.

5 Euery valley shallbe filled, and euery mountaine and hill shall be brought low, and crooked things shallbe made straight, and the rough ways shallbe made smooth.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then sayd he to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, ✣ O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring foorth therefore fruites worthy amendement of life, and beginne not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our Father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Now also is the axe layde vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not foorth good fruit, shallbe hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11 And he answered, and sayd vnto them, ✣ He that hath two coates, let him part with him that hath none: And he that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to be baptized, and sayd vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And he sayd vnto them, Require no more then that which is t appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your u wages.

8 Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, goe from me: for I am a sinfull man.

9 For hee was vtterly astonied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.

10 And so was also Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simon. Then Iesus saide vnto Simon, Feare not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought the ships to land, they forsooke all, and followed him.

12 ¶ ✣ 2 Now it came to passe, as hee was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie, and when hee saw Iesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commanded him that he should tell it no man: but, Goe, saith he, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as ✣ Moses hath commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 3 But so much more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But he kept himselfe apart in the wildernes, and prayed.

17 ¶ ✣ And it came to passe, on a certaine day, as hee was teaching, that the Pharises & doctours of the Law sate by, which were come out of euery towne of Galile, and Iudea, and Hierusalem, and the power of the Lord c was in him, to heale them.

18 * Then beholde, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palsie, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tyling, bed and all, in the mids before Iesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, hee said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

22 But when Iesus perceiued their reasoning, hee answered, and said vnto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

24 But that yee may knowe that the Sonne of man hath authoritie to forgiue sinnes in earth, (he ſaid vnto the ſicke of the palſie) I ſay to thee, Ariſe: take vp thy bed, and goe into thine houſe.

25 And immediatly hee roſe vp before them, and tooke vp his bed whereon he lay, and departed to his owne houſe, praiſing God.

26 And they were all amazed, & praiſed God, and were filled with feare, ſaying, Doubtleſſe wee haue ſeene ſtrange things to day.

27 ¶ ✠ 5 And after that, he went forth and ſaw a Publicane named Leui, ſitting at the receit of cuſtome, and ſaid vnto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, roſe vp, and followed him.

29 Then Leui made him a great feaſt in his owne houſe, where there was a great company of Publicans, and of other that ſate at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Phariſes among them, murmured againſt his diſciples, ſaying, Why eate ye and drinke yee with Publicans and ſinners?

31 Then Ieſus anſwered, and ſaide vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the Phyſician, but they that are ſicke.

32 ✠ I came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

33 ¶ ∵ 6 Then they ſaid vnto him, Why do the diſciples of Iohn faſt often, and pray, and the diſciples of the Phariſes alſo, but thine eate & drinke?

37 Alſo no man powreth new wine into olde veſſels, for then the new wine will breake the veſſels, and it will run out, and the veſſels will periſh:

38 But new wine muſt be powred into new veſſels: ſo both are preſerued.

39 Alſo no man that drinketh old wine, ſtraightway deſireth new: for hee ſaith, The olde is more profitable.

1 The diſciples put the eares of corne on the Sabbath. 6 Of him that had a withered hande. 13 The election of the Apoſtles. 20 The bleſſings and curſes. 27 We muſt loue our enemies. 46 With what fruit the word of God is to be heard.

AND ✠ 1 it came to paſſe on a ſecond ſolemne Sabbath, that he went through ỹ cornefields, and his diſciples ª plucked the eares of corne, and did eate, and rub them in their hands.

2 And certaine of the Phariſes ſaid vnto them, Why doe ye ỹ which is not lawfull to do on the Sabbath dayes?

3 Then Ieſus anſwered them, and ſaid, ✠ Haue yee not read this, that Dauid did when he himſelfe was an hungred, and they which were with him,

4 How hee went into the houſe of God, and tooke and ate the ſhewbread, and gaue alſo to them which were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the ✠ Prieſts onely?

5 And hee ſaid vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord alſo of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ ✠ 2 It came to paſſe alſo on another Sabbath, that hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught, and there was a man, whoſe right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Phariſes watched him, whether hee would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accuſation againſt him.

8 But he knewe their thoughts, and ſaide to the man which had the withered hand, Ariſe, and ſtande vp in the middes. And hee aroſe, and ſtoode vp.

9 Then ſaide Ieſus vnto them, I will aske you a queſtion, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill? to ſaue life, or to ᵇ deſtroy?

10 And hee behelde them all in compaſſe, and ſaid vnto the man, Stretch foorth thine hand. And hee did ſo, and his hande was reſtored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madneſſe, and communed one with another, what they might do to Ieſus.

12 ¶ 3 And it came to paſſe in thoſe dayes, that hee went into a mountaine to pray, and ſpent the night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, ∵ hee called his diſciples, and of them hee choſe twelue, which alſo hee called Apoſtles:

15 Matthew and Thomas, Iames the ſonne of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelous, 16 Iudas Iames brother, and Iudas Iſcariot, which alſo was the traitour.)

17 Then he came downe with them, and ſtood in a plaine place with the company of his diſciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea, and Hieruſalem, and from the ſea coaſt of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diſeaſes:

18 And they that were vexed with foule ſpirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude ſought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ ∵ 4 And he lifted vp his eyes vpon his diſciples, and ſaid, Bleſſed be yee poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 ✠ Bleſſed are yee that hunger now: for yee ſhalbe ſatiſfied: ✠ bleſſed are yee that weepe now: for ye ſhall laugh.

22 ✠ Bleſſed are yee when men hate you, and when ᵈ they ſeparate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of mans ſake.

23 Reioyce yee in that day, and ᵉ be glad: for beholde, your reward is great in heauen: for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 ✠ But woe be to you that are riche: for yee haue ᶠ receiued your conſolation.

25 ∵ Woe be to you that are full: for yee ſhall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for yee ſhall waile and weepe.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come, and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that he was worthy that he should doe this for him:

5 For he loueth, sayd they, our nation, and he hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when hee was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe:

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say the word, and my seruant shall be whole:

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authority, and haue vnder mee souldiers, and I say vnto one, Goe, and hee goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and hee doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marueiled at him, and turned him, and sayd to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

rowout all Iudea, and thorowout all the region round about.

18 3 And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that shoul come, or shall wee wait for another?

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall wee wait for another?

21 And h at that time, he cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many blind men he gaue sight freely.

22 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Goe your wayes and shew Iohn, what things yee haue seene and heard: that the blind see, the halt goe, the lepers are cleansed, the deefe heare, the dead are raised, and the poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shall not be offended in mee.

24 4 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, hee began to speake vnto the people of Iohn, What went ye out into the wildernes to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went yee out to see? A man cloathed in soft raiment? behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courts

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say to you, and greater then a Prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, ✣ Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, there is no greater Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuerthelesse, he that is the least in the kingdome of God is greater then he.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes i iustified God, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn.

30 But the Pharises and the expounders of the Law despised the counsell of God k against themselues, and were not baptized of him

31 ✣ 5 And the Lord said, Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto little children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and yee haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and yee haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath a deuill.

34 The Sonne of man is come, and eateth, and drinketh: and yee say, Behold, a man which is a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners:

35 But wisdome is iustified of all her children.

36 ¶ 6 And one of the Pharises desired him that he would eate with him: and he went into the Pharises house, and sate downe at table.

37 And behold, a woman in the citie, which was a sinner, when shee knew that Iesus sate at table in the Pharises house, shee brought a boxe of ointment, 38 7 And stood at his feete behind him weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them with the haires of her head, and kissed his feete, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 7 Now when the Pharise which had bidden him, saw it, he spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, hee would surely haue knowen who, and what maner of woman this is which toucheth him: l for she is a sinner.

40 8 And Iesus answered and sayd vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And hee said, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two debters: the one ought fiue hundreth pence, and the other fifty:

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgaue them both: Which of them therefore, tell me, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgaue most. And he said vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

44 Then he turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feete: but shee hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the haires of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but shee, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feete

46 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgiuen her: m for she loued much. To whom a little is forgiuen, he doth loue a little.

48 And he sayd vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

49 And they that sate at table with him, began to say within themselues, Who is this that eue forgiueth sinnes?

50 And he sayd to the woman, Thy faith hath saued thee: n goe in peace.

Iesus: for Christ sayth not as the Pharises did, that she was free witnesse that the sinnes of her life past are forgiuen her, the benefit which he had bestowed with a blessing.

11 ¶ The parable is this, The seede is the word of God:

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that heare; afterward commeth the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, least they should beleeue, and be saued.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they

19 ¶ ✠ h Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come neere to him for the preasse.

20 And it was told him by certaine which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and would see thee.

21 But he answered, and said vnto them, My mother & my brethren are these which heare the word of God, and doe it.

22 ¶ ✠ i And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And as they sailed, hee fell k asleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and l they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. And he arose, and rebuked the winde, and the waues of water:
and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he said vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among themselues, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him?

26 ¶ ✠ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galile.

27 ✠ And as hee went out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the citie, which had deuils long time, and he ware no garment, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he saw Iesus, hee cried out, and fell downe before him, & with a loud voyce said, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus the sonne of God the most High? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for oft times hee had caught him: therefore hee was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bands, & and was caried of the deuill into wildernesses.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? and he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there by an heard of many swine feeding on an hill: and the deuils besought him, that hee would suffer them to enter into them. So he suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the heard was caried with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was choaked.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie and in the countrey.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, & found the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, cloathed, & in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenes, besought him that hee would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, besought him that hee might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shewe what great things God hath done to thee. So hee went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe, when Iesus was come againe, that the people m receiued him: for they all waited for him.

THen ✣ 1 called hee his twelue diſciples together, and gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diſeaſes.

2 ✣ And hee ſent them forth to preach the kingdome of God, and to care the ſicke.

3 And hee ſaid to them, ᵛ Take nothing to your yourney, neither ſtaues, nor ſcrippe, neither bread, nor ſiluer, neither haue two coates a piece.

4 And whatſoeuer houſe ye enter into, there ᵃ abide, and thence depart.

5 And how many ſoeuer will not receiue you, when ye goe out of that citie, ✲ ſhake off the verie duſt from your feete for a teſtimonie againſt them.

6 And they went out, and went through euery towne preaching the Goſpel, and healing euery where.

7 ¶ ✲ 2 Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he b doubted, becauſe that it was ſaid of ſome, that Iohn was riſen againe from the dead:

8 And of ſome, that Elias had appeared: and of ſome, that one of the olde Prophets was riſen againe.

9 Then Herod ſaid, Iohn haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare ſuch things? and hee deſired to ſee him.

10 ¶ ✣ 3 And when the Apoſtles returned, they tolde him what great things they had done. ✣ Then hee tooke them to him, and went aſide into a c ſolitarie place, neere to the citie called Bethſaida.

11 But when the people knewe it, they followed him: and he receiued them, and ſpake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed.

12 ᵛ And when the day began to weare away, the twelue came, and ſaid vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the townes and villages round about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a deſert place.

13 But he ſaid vnto them, Giue yee them to eate. And they ſaide, Wee haue no more but fiue loaues and two fiſhes, d except we ſhould goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 For they were about fiue thouſand men. Then hee ſaide to his diſciples, Cauſe them to ſit downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did ſo, and cauſed all to ſit downe.

16 Then he tooke the fiue loaues, and the two fiſhes, and looked vp to heauen, and e bleſſed them, and brake, and gaue to the diſciples, to ſet before the people.

17 So they did all eate, and were ſatisfied: and there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 ¶ ✲ ✣ And it came to paſſe, as hee was f alone praying, his diſciples were with him: and he asked them, ſaying, Whom ſay the people that I am?

19 They anſwered, and ſaid, Iohn Baptiſt: and others ſay, Elias: and ſome ſay, that one of the old Prophets is riſen againe.

20 And he ſaid vnto them, But whom ſay yee that I am? Peter anſwered, and ſaide, That Chriſt of God.

21 And he warned and commanded them, that they ſhould tell that to no man, 22 ſ Saying, ✲ The Sonne of man muſt ſuffer many things, and be reprooued of the Elders, and of the hie Prieſts and Scribes, and be ſlaine, and the third day riſe againe.

28 ✣ 6 And it came to p[ass] about eight dayes after those wordes, that he tooke Peter and Iohn, and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment was white and glistered.

30 And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias:

31 Which appeared in glorie, and tolde of his h departing, which hee should accomplish at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heauie with sleepe, and when they awoke, they saw his glorie, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

34 Whiles hee thus spake, there came a cloude and ouershadowed them, and they feared when they were entring into the cloud.

35 ✣ And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is that my beloued Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in i those dayes any of those things which they had seene.

37 ¶ 7 And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

38 ✣ And behold, a man of the companie cryed out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, behold my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

39 And loe, a spirite taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him, that he foameth, and hardly departeth from him, when hee hath k bruised him.

40 Nowe I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Iesus answered and said, O generation faithlesse, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles hee was yet comming, the deuill rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirite, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

43 ¶ 8 And they were all amased at the mightie power of God: and while they all wondered at all things which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples, 44 l Marke these wordes diligently: ✲ for it shall come to passe, that the sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

45 But they vnderstood not that worde: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that word.

46 ¶ ✲ 9 Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.

47 When Iesus saw the thoughts of their hearts, he tooke a little child, and set him by him, 48 And said vnto them, Whosoeuer receiueth this little childe in my Name, receiueth mee: and whosoeuer shal receiue me, receiueth him that sent mee: for he that is least among you all, hee shall be great.

52 And sent messengers before him: and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritanes, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receiue him, because his behauiour was as though he would goe to Hierusalem.

54 12 And when his disciples, Iames and Iohn saw it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as ✣ Elias did?

55 But Iesus turned about, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what n spirit ye are.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. Then they went to another towne.

59 14 But hee said vnto another, Follow mee. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to goe and burie my father.

60 And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead burie o their dead: but goe thou, and preach the kingdom of God.

61 15 Then another said, I will followe thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

house thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, & and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 ⁹ But hee willing to k iustifie himself, saide vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answered, and saide, A certaine man went downe from Hierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theeues, and they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 Now so it fell out, that there came downe a certaine Priest that same way, and when hee sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when hee was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certaine Samaritane, as he iourneyed, came neere vnto him, and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an Inne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, hee tooke out two pence, and gaue them to the host, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Goe, and doe thou likewise.

38 ¶ ¹⁰ Now it came to passe, as they went, that hee entred into a certaine towne, and a certaine woman named Martha, receiued him into her house, 39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sate at Iesus feet, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was combred about much seruing, and came to him, and saide, Master, doest thou not care that my sister hath left mee to serue alone? bid her therefore, that shee helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, and art troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needfull. Marie hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

AND so it was, that as hee was praying in a certaine place, when hee ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

k Matt. 19. 18.

9 All they are comprehended in the name of our neighbour, by the Lawe, whomsoeuer we may helpe.

k That is, to vnderstand his righteousnesse, that he is iust, that is, void of all faults, and sinnes, & hath the worde of iustification in this sense.

Mat. 6. 9.

1 A forme of true prayer.

a That is, as much as is needfull for vs this day, whereby we are not debarred to haue an honest care for the maintenance of our liues, but that carefull care, which keepeth a number of men, is cut off and refrained.

2 We must pray with faith.

10 Christ careth not to be entertained delicately, but to be heard diligently, that is it, which he especially requireth.

you shall haue a friend, and shall goe to him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend mee three loaues?

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

7 And hee within should answere, and say, Trouble me not: the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and giue them to thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though he would not arise and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtles because of his ‖importunitie, hee would rise and giue him as many as he needed.

9 ✣ And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.

10 ✣ For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 ✣ If a sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? or if hee aske a fish, will he for a fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or if he aske an egge, will hee giue him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are euill, can giue good gifts vnto your children, how much more shall your heauenly Father giue the holy Ghost to them that desire him?

14 ¶ ✣ Then hee cast out a deuill which was dumbe: and when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake, and the people wondred.

15 ‡ But some of them said, ✣ He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

16 And others tempted him, seeking of him a signe from heauen.

17 ‡ But he knew their thoughts, and said vnto them, * Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, shallbe desolate, and an house diuided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I by the ‖ finger of God cast out deuils, doubtlesse the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his ‖ palace, the things that he possesseth, are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then hee commeth vpon him, and ouercommeth him: hee taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and diuideth his spoyles.

23 ‡ He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scatereth.

24 ✣ When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest: and when he findeth none, he saith, I will returne vnto my house whence I came out.

25 And when he commeth, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth hee, and taketh to him seuen other spirits worse then himselfe: and they enter in, and dwell there: ✣ so the last state of that man is worse then the first.

27 ¶ ‡ And it came to passe as he said these things, a certaine woman of the company lifted vp her voyce, and said vnto him, Blessed is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

29 ¶ ✣ ‡ And when the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is a wicked generation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen them, but the signe of ✣ Ionas the Prophet.

30 For as Ionas was a signe to the Ninenites: so shall also the Sonne of man be to this generation.

31 ✣ The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement with the men of this generation, and shall condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisedome of Salomon, and behold, a greater then Salomon is here.

32 The men of Nineue shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for they ✣ repented at the preaching of Ionas: and behold, a greater then Ionas is here.

33 ¶ ✣ ‡ No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlestick, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 * The light of the bodie is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole bodie light: but if thine eye be euill, then thy bodie is darke.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.

36 If therefore thy whole bodie shall be light, hauing no part darke, then shall all be light, euen as when a candle doth light thee with the brightnesse.

37 ¶ ‡ And as he spake, a certaine Pharise besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sate downe at the table.

38 And when the Pharise saw it, he marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 ✣ And the Lord said to him, Indeede yee Pharises make cleane the outside of the cup, and of the platter: but the inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore, giue almes ‖ of those things which you haue, and behold, all things shall be cleane vnto you.

42 ‡ But woe be to you, Pharises: for ye ‖ tithe the mynt and the rew, and ‖ all manner herbs, and passe ouer iudgement and the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.

43 ✣ ‡ Woe be to you, Pharises: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 ‡ Woe be to you, Scribes and Pharises hypocrites: ✣ for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, perceiue not.

45 ¶ ‡ Then answered one of the Lawyers, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

e Hypocrites honour those saints when they are dead, whom they most cruelly persecute, when they were aliue.
✣ Mat. 23.29.
k When you persecute Gods seruants, like mad men, euen as your fathers did, though you colour it with a pretence of godlinesse, yet not withstanding, in that you beautifie the sepulchres of the Prophets, what doe you els, but glory in your fathers cruelty, and set vp monuments (as it were) in glory and triumph of it?

IN ✣ 1 the meane time, there gathered together a an innumerable multitude of people, so y they trode one another: and he began to say vnto his disciples first, Take heede to your selues of the leauen of the Pharises, which is hypocrisie.

2 ✣ For there is nothing couered, that shall not be reuealed: neither hidde, that shall not be knowen.

3 Wherefore whatsoeuer yee haue spoken in darkenesse, it shallbe heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, in secret places, shallbe preached on the houses.

4 ✣ 2 And I say vnto you, my friends, be not afraide of them that kill the bodie, and after that are not able to doe any more.

5 But I will b forewarne you, whō ye shall feare: feare him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell: yea, I say vnto you, him feare.

6 Are not fiue sparowes bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 ✣ Yea, and all the haires of your head are numbred: feare not therefore: ye are more of value then many sparowes.

8 ✣ 3 Also I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall confesse me before men, him shall the Sonne of man confesse also before the Angels of God.

9 But he that shall deny me before men, shall be denied before the Angels of God.

10 ✣ And whosoeuer shall speake a worde against the Sonne of man, it shall be forgiuen him: but vnto him that shall blaspheme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiuen.

11 ✣ 4 And when they shall bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and Princes, take no thought how, or what thing ye shall answere, or what ye shall speake.

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.

13 5 And one of the company said vnto him, Master, bid my brother diuide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said vnto him, Man, who made mee a iudge, or a diuider ouer you?

15 Wherefore he said vnto them, Take heed, and beware of c couetousnesse: for though a man haue abundance, yet his life standeth not in his riches.

16 6 And he put foorth a parable vnto them, saying, The e ground of a certaine rich man brought forth fruits plentifully.

17 Therefore hee f thought with himselfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no roome where I may lay vp my fruites?

18 And he said, This will I do, I will pull down my barnes, and builde greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits, and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laid vp for many yeeres: liue at ease, eate, drinke, and g take thy pastime.

20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule frō thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches h to himselfe, and is not rich in God.

22 7 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, i Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat: neither for your bodie, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meat: and the body more then the rayment.

24 Consider the rauens: for they neither sowe nor reape: which neither haue storehouse nor barne, and yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better then foules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to do the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they labour not, neither spin they: yet I say vnto you, that Salomon himselfe in all his royaltie was not cloathed like one of these.

28 If then God so cloath the grasse which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the ouen, how much more will he cloathe you, O yee of little faith?

29 Therefore aske not what yee shall eate, or what ye shal drinke, neither i hang you in suspence.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the Galileans, 4 and those that were slaine vnder Siloam. 6 The figge tree that bare no fruit. 11 The woman vexed with the spirit of infirmitie, that is, with a disease brought on her by Satan, is healed. 19 The parable of the graine of mustard seed. 21 Of leauen. 23 How few shallbe saued. 31 Herod thint Foxe.

THere p were certaine men present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood a Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or thinke you that those eighteene, vpon whom the tower in b Siloam fell, and slew them, were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Hierusalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ 2 He spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figge tree, planted in his vineyard: and hee came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then sayd he to the dresser of his vineyard, Beholde, this three yeeres haue I come and sought fruit of this figge tree, and find none: cut it downe: why keepeth it also the ground c barren?

8 And he answered, and sayd vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, till I digge round about it, and dung it.

9 And if it beare fruit, well: if not, then after thou shalt cut it downe.

10 ¶ 3 And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And beholde, there was a woman which had a d spirit of infirmitie eighteene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.

12 When Iesus saw her, hee called her to him, and sayd to her, Woman, thou art e loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layed his hands on her, and immedi-

14 ✣ And the [f] ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus healed on the Sabbath day, and sayd vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and sayd, Hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabbath day loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and lead him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, loe, eighteene yeeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he sayd these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

18 ¶ ✣ Then sayd he, What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

19 [s] It is like a graine of mustard seed, which a man tooke and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the fowles of the heauen made nests in the branches thereof.

20 ¶ ✣ And againe he sayd, Wherevnto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in three pecks of flowre, till all was leauened.

22 ¶ ∵ [6] And hee went thorow all cities and townes, teaching, and iourneying towards Hierusalem.

23 Then sayd one vnto him, Lord, are there few that shalbe saued? And he sayd vnto them, 24 ✲ Striue to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and ye begin to stand without, and to knocke at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he shall answere and say vnto you, I know you not whence ye are.

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We haue eaten and drunken in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 ✲ But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquitie.

28 [8] There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham & Isaac, and Iacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out at doores.

29 Then shall come many from the [g] East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at Table in the kingdome of God.

30 * And beholde, there are last, which shall be first, and there are first, which shalbe last.

31 [9] The same day there came certaine Phatisees, and sayd vnto him, Depart, and go hence: for Herod will kill thee.

32 Then sayd he vnto them, Goe yee and tell that [h] foxe, Behold, I cast out denils, and will heale still i to day: and to morow, and the third day I shallbe [k] perfected.

33 [10] Neuertheless I must walke to day, and to morow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a Prophet should perish out of Hierusalem.

34 ✣ O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them that are sent to thee, how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as the henne gathereth her brood vnder her wings, and ye would not!

35 Beholde, your house is left vnto you desolate: and verely I tell you, ye shall not see me vntill the time come that ye shall say, Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XIIII.

2 The dropsie healed on the Sabbath. 8 The chiefe places at bankets. 12 The poore must be called to our feasts. 16 Of those that were bidde to the great supper. 23 Some compelled to come in. 28 One about to build a tower.

AND [1] it came to passe that when hee was entred into the house of [a] one of the chiefe Pharises on the Sabbath day, to eat bread, they watched him.

2 And beholde, there was a certaine man before him, which had the dropsie.

3 Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the Lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. Then hee tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pit, & will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they could not answere him againe to those things.

7 ¶ [2] Hee spake also a parable to the ghests, when hee marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes, and sayd vnto them,

8 When thou shalt be bidden of any man to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefest place, least a more honourable man then thou be bidden of him,

9 And he that bade both him and thee, come, and say to thee, Giue this man roome, and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest roome.

10 ✣ But when thou art bidden, goe and sit downe in the lowest roome, that when he that bad thee, commeth, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sit vp higher: then shalt thou haue worship in the presence of them that sit at table with thee.

11 ✣ For whosoeuer exalteth himselfe, shall be brought low, and he that humbleth himselfe, shall be exalted.

12 ¶ [3] Then said he also to him that had bidden him, ∵ When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor the rich neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe, and a recompense bee made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame and the blinde, 14 And thou shalt be blessed, because they can not recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the iust.

15 ¶ Now when one of them that sate at table heard these things, he sayd vnto him, Blessed is he that eateth bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then said he to him, ✲ A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many,

17 And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 ✣ But they all with [h] one minde beganne to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a farme, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another sayd, I haue maried a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the goodman of the house angrie, and sayd to his seruant, Goe out quickly into the c streetes and lanes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

CHAP. XV.

4 The parable of the lost sheepe. 8 Of the groate, 11 And of the prodigall sonne.

THen* resorted vnto 1 him 2 all the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

* Or, drew neere.

1 We must not despaire of them, which haue gone out of the way, but according to the example of Christ, we must take great paines about them.

2 Some Publicans and sinners came to Christ from all quarters.

2 Therefore the Pharises and Scribes murmured, saying, Hee receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 Then spake he this parable to them, saying,

4 ✣ What man of you hauing an hundreth sheepe, if hee lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernesse, and goe after that which is lost, vntill he finde it?

✣ Matth.18,12.

5 And when he hath found it, hee layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he commeth home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue founde my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heauen for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine iust men, which need none amendment of life.

8 Either what woman hauing tenne groates, if shee loose one groate, doth not light a candle, and sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till shee finde it?

9 And when she hath found it, shee calleth her friendes, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the groat which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ 2 Hee said moreouer, A certain man had two sonnes.

12 And the yonger of them sayd to his father, Father, giue mee the portion of the goods that falleth to mee. So he diuided vnto them his substance.

13 So not many dayes after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all together, he tooke his iourney into a farre country, and there he wasted his goods with riotous living.

14 Now when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and hee began to be in necessitie.

15 Then hee went and claue to a citizen of that country, and hee sent him to his farme, to feed swine.

16 And hee would faine haue filled his bellie with the huskes that the swine ate: but no man gaue them him.

17 3 Then he came to himselfe, and sayd, How many hired seruants at my fathers haue bread enough, and I die for hunger?

18 I will rise and go to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against b heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thine hired seruants.

20 So he arose and came to his father, and when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 4 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 Then the father sayd to his seruants, Bring foorth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete,

23 And bring the fat calfe, and kill him, and let vs eat, and be merry:

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found. And they began to be merry.

25 5 Now the elder brother was in the field, and when hee came and drew neere to the house, hee heard melodie, and dancing.

26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And he sayd vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fat calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then he was angry, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 But he answered, and sayd to his father, Loe, these many yeeres haue I done thee seruice, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kid that I might make mery with my friends.

30 But

a Men by their voluntary falling from God, hauing spoiled themselues of the benefits which they receiued of him, cast themselues headlong into infinite calamities: but God of his singular goodnesse, offering himself freely to them, whom he called to repentance, through the greatnesse of their miserie wherewith they were tamed, doeth not onely gently receiue them, but also enricheth them with farre greater gifts, and blesseth them with the chiefest blisse.

3 The beginning of repentance is the acknowledging of the mercy of God, which illuminateth vs to hope well.

b Against God, because he is sayd to dwell in heauen.

4 In true repentance there is a feeling of our sinnes, ioyned with sorrow and shame, from whence springeth a confession, after which followeth forgiuenesse.

30 But when this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goods with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fat calfe.

31 And he said vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue, is thine. It was meete that we should make merie and bee glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The parable of the steward accused to his master. 13 To serue two masters. 16 The Law and the Prophets. 19 Of Diues and Lazarus.

AND he sayd also vnto his disciples, [1] There was a certaine rich man, which had a steward, and he was accused vnto him, that hee wasted his goods.

2 And hee called him, and sayde vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward sayde within himselfe, What shall I doe? for my master taketh away from me the stewardship. I cannot digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I knowe what I will doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue me into their houses.

5 Then called he vnto him euery one of his masters debters, and sayd vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And he sayd, An hundreth measures of oyle. And he saide to him, Take thy writing, and sit downe quickely, and write fiftie.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And he sayde, An hundreth measures of wheate. Then he sayd to him, Take thy writing, and write fourescore.

8 And the Lord commended [a] the vniust steward, because he had done wisely. Wherefore the [b] children of this world are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends with the riches [c] of iniquitie, that when ye shall want, they may receiue you into euerlasting [d] habitations.

10 [2] He that is faithfull in the least, he is also faithfull in much: and he that is vniust in the least, is vniust also in much.

11 If then yee haue not beene faithfull in the wicked riches, who will trust you in the [e] true treasure?

12 And if yee haue not beene faithfull in [f] another mans goods, who shall giue you that which is yours?

13 ✣ [3] No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharises also, which were couetous, and they scoffed at him.

15 ¶ [4] Then hee saide vnto them, Yee are they, which iustifie your selues before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 ✣ [5] The Lawe and the Prophets endured vntill Iohn: and since that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man preasseth into it.

17 ✣ Now it is more easie that heauen and earth should passe away, then that one tittle of the Lawe should fall.

18 ¶ [6] Whosoeuer putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adulterie: and whosoeuer marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adulterie.

19 ¶ [6] There was a certaine rich man, which was cloathed in [h] purple and fine linnen, and fared well and delicately euery day.

20 Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layed at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to bee refreshed with the crummes that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the degges came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into Abrahams bosome. The rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, [i] he lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then hee cried, and sayd, Father Abraham, haue mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus paines: now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene you and vs there is a great gulfe set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, cannot: neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 ¶ Then he sayd, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house, 28 (For I haue fiue brethren) that he may testifie vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayd vnto him, They haue Moyses and the Prophets: let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will amend their liues.

31 Then he said vnto them, If they heare not Moyses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Offences. 3 We must forgiue him that trespasseth against vs. 10 Wee are vnprofitable seruants. 11 Of the ten lepers. 20 Of the comming of the kingdome of heauen. 33 False Christs. 36 After what maner Christs comming shall be.

THen sayd hee to his disciples, [1] It can not be auoided, but that offences will come, but Woe be to him by whom they come.

2 It is better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were cast into the sea, then that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶ [2] Take heed to your selues: If thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him; and if hee repent, forgiue him.

4 ✣ And though hee sinne against thee seuen times

[a] Seeing that men ostentimes purchase friendship to themselues, by other mens costs, it is a shame for vs, if with a free and liberall bestowing of the goods which the Lord hath giuen vs to that purpose, we doe not please him, nor procure the good will of our neighbours, seeing that by this onely meanes, riches, which are ostentimes occasions of sinne, are turned to another ende and purpose.

[a] This parable doth not approue the stewards naughtie dealing, for it was very theft: but parables are set forth, to shew a thing couertly, & as it were vnder a figure to represent the truth, thought it agree not throughly with the matter it selfe: so that Christ meaneth by this parable to teach vs, that worldly men are more heedie in the affaires of this world, then the children of God are carefull for euerlasting life.

[b] Men that are giuen to this present life, contrary to whom the children of light are set: S. Paul calleth those spirituall, and the other carnall.

[c] Thus is not spoken of goods that are euill gotten, for God will haue our bountifulnesse to the poore, prayed and gone from a good fountaine: but he calleth those riches of iniquitie, which men vse naughtily.

[d] To wit, the poore Christians: for they are the inhabiters of these Tabernacles. Theophil. a We ought to take heede that for abusing our earthly function and duetie, wee be not deprined of heauenly gifts: for howe can they vse spirituall gifts aright, who abuse worldly things?

[e] That is, heauenly and true riches: which are contrary to worldly and fleeting substance.

[f] In worldly goods, which are called other mens, because they are committed to our credite. ✣ Mat 6,24. 3 No man can loue God and riches together. 4 Our sinnes are not hidden to God, although they be hidden to men, yea although they be hidden to them whose sinnes they are,

[h] Very gorgeously and sumptuously: for purple garments were costly, and this fine linnen which was a kinde of linnen that came out of Achaia, was as deare as golde.

[i] Heauenly and spirituall things are expressed, and set forth vnder colours and resemblances fit for our senses.

[1] Seeing that we haue a most sure rule to liue by, layd forth vnto vs in the word of God, rashly and vainely doe they seeke for other reuelations.

✣ Mat. 11,12. 5 The Pharises despised the excellencie of the new Couenant, in respect of the olde, being ignorant of the perfect righteousnesse of the Lawe, and how false expounders they were of the Lawe, Christ declareth by the seuenth Commandement.

✣ Mat. 5,18.

✣ Mat. 5,32. and 19,9. 1. cor. 7,11.

[6] They that gather by this place, that a man cannot be maried againe after that he hath put away his wife for adulterie, while she liueth, reason sindely: for Christ speaketh of those diuorces which the Iewes vsed, of which sort we can not take the diuorcement for adultery, for adulterers were put to death by the law.

6 The end of the pouerrie and miserie of the godly, shalbe euerlasting ioy: as the end of the riotous life and cruell pride of the rich shalbe euerlasting miserie, without all hope of mercy.

✣ Matth. 18,15.

times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, It repenteth mee, thou shalt forgiue him.

5 ¶ [3] And the Apostles sayde vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, ✣ If ye had faith, as much as is [a] a graine of mustard seed, and should say vnto this mulberie tree, Plucke thy selfe vp by the rootes, and plant thy selfe in the sea, it should euen obey you.

7 ¶ [4] Who is it also of you, that hauing a seruant plowing or feeding cattell, would say vnto him by and by, when hee were come from the field, Goe, and sit downe at table?

8 And would not rather say to him, Dresse wherewith I may suppe, & gird thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and drunken, and afterward eat thou, and drinke thou?

9 Doeth hee thanke that seruant, because hee did that which was commanded vnto him? I trow not.

10 [5] So likewise yee, when yee haue done all those things, which are commaunded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruants: we haue done that which was our duetie to doe.

11 ¶ [6] And so it was when he went to Hierusalem, that hee passed through the middes of Samaria, and Galile.

12 And as hee entred into a certaine towne, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood a farre off.

13 And they lift vp their voyces and sayd, Iesus, Master, haue mercy on vs.

14 And when he saw them, he sayd vnto them, ✣ Go, shew your selues vnto the Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 Then one of them, when hee saw that hee was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voyce praysed God, 16 And fell downe on his face at his feete, and gaue him thanks, and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Iesus answered, and sayd, Are there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There is none found that returned to giue God praise, saue this stranger.

19 And hee sayd vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath saued thee.

20 ¶ 7 And when hee was demaunded of the Pharises, when the kingdome of God should come, he answered them, and sayd, The kingdome of God commeth not with [b] obseruation.

21 Neither shall men say, Lo here, or lo there: for behold, the kingdome of God is [c] within you.

22 [8] And he sayd vnto the disciples, the dayes will come, when ye shall desire to see [d] one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 ¶ [9] Then they shall say to you, Behold here, or behold there: but goe not thither, neither follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteneth out of the one part vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part vnder heauen, so shall the Sonne of man be in his day.

25 But first must he suffer many things and be reproued of this generation.

26 ✣ [10] And as it was in the dayes of Noe, so shall it be in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

27 They ate, they dranke, they married wines, and gaue in marriage vnto the day that Noe went into the Arke: and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 ✣ Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot: They ate, they dranke, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built.

29 But in the day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all.

30 After these ensampels shall it be in the day when the sonne of man is reuealed.

31 [11] At that day he that is vpon the house, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and he that is in the field likewise, let him not turne backe to that he left behinde.

32 ✣ Remember Lots wife.

33 * Whoesoeuer will seeke to saue his soule, shall lose it: and whosoeuer shall lose it, shall † get it life.

34 ✣ I tell you, in that night there shallbe two in one bed: the one shallbe receiued, and the other shallbe left.

35 Two women shallbe grinding together, the one shallbe taken, and the other shallbe left.

36 Two shallbe in the field: one shallbe receiued, and another shallbe left.

37 [12] And they answered, and sayde to him, Where, Lord? And he sayd vnto them, * Wheresoeuer the body is, thither shall also the egles be gathered together.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 The parable of the vnrighteous Iudge and the widow. 10 Of the Pharisee and the Publicane. 15 Children are of the kingdome of heauen. 22 To sell all and giue to the poore. 28 The Apostles forsake all. 31 Christ foretelleth his death. 35 The blinde man receiueth sight.

AND [1] hee spake also a parable vnto them, to this end, that they ✣ ought alwayes to pray, & not to [a] waxe faint,

2 [b] Saying, there was a iudge in a certaine city, which feared not God, neither reuerenced man.

3 And there was a widow in that city, which came vnto him, saying, Doe mee iustice against mine aduersarie.

4 And hee would not of a long time: but afterward he sayd with himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor reuerence man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth mee, I will doe her right, lest at the last shee come and [c] make me weary.

6 And the Lord sayd, Heare what the vnrighteous Iudge saith.

7 Now shall not God auenge his elect, which cry day and night vnto him, yea, though [d] he suffer long for them?

8 I tell you he will auenge them quickly: but when the Sonne of man commeth, shall hee finde faith on the earth?

9 ¶ [2] He spake also this parable vnto certaine which trusted in themselues that they were iust, and despised other.

10 Two men went vp into the Temple to pray:

✣ Gen.7,5. mat. 24.38. 1. pet.3,20.

10 The world shallbe taken vnwares with the sudden iudgement of God: and therefore the faithfull ought to watch continually.

✣ Gen.19 24.

11 We must take good heed, that neither destruss, nor the inticements of this world, nor any respect of friendship hinder vs the least that may be.

✣ Gen. 19,26.

✣ Chap 9,14. mat. 10. 39 mar. 8,35. iohn 12.25.

† That is, shall saue it, so Matth. vnderstanding it: for the life that is here spoken of, is euerlasting saluation.

✣ Mat. 24,41.

12 The onely way to continue is to cleaue to Christ.

* Mat. 24,28.

1 God will haue vs to continue in prayer, not to weary vs, but to exercise vs, therefore we must be stirue with impatience, that long delay cause vs not to breake off the course of our prayers.

✣ Rom. 12, 12. 1. thess. 5,17.

a Yeelde to affections, and aduersities, as they doe which are out of heart.

b He doeth not compare things that are equall together, but the lesse with the greater: If a man get his right at a most vnrighteous iudges hands, much more shall the prayers of the godly preuaile before God.

c Word for word, beate mee downe with her blowes, & it is a metaphore taken of wrestlers, who beate their aduersaries with their fistes or clubbes: so doe they that are importunate beate the Iudges eares with their crying out, euen as it were with blowes. d Though he seeme slowe in reuenging the iniurie done to his. 2 Two things especially make our prayers voyde and of none effect: confidence of our owne righteousnesse, and the contempt of other: and an humble heart is contrary to both these.

3 God will neuer be vtterly lacking to the Godly (although he be not so perfitly with them, as they would) euen in those difficulties, which cannot be ouercome by mans reason.

a If you had no more faith, but the quantitie of the graine of mustard seede.

4 Seeing that God may challenge vnto himselfe of right, both vs and all that is ours, he can be debter vnto vs for nothing, although we labour manfully euen vnto death.

5 The most perfit keeping of the Law, which we can performe, deserueth no reward.

6 Christ doth well euen vnto such, as will be vnthankfull, but the benefits of God profite them onely to saluation, which are thankfull.

7 The kingdome of God is not marked of many, although it be most present before their eyes: because they fondly perswade themselues, that it is ioyned with outward pompe.

b With any outward pompe and shewe of maiestie, to be knowne by: for there were otherwise many plaine and euident tokens whereby men might haue vnderstood, that Christ was the Messias, whose kingdome was so long looked for: but he speaketh in this place of those signes which the Pharises dreamed of, which looked for an earthly kingdome of Messias.

c You looke about for Messias as though he were absent, but he is amongst you in the middes of you.

8 Wee oftentimes neglect those things which they are gone, but in vaine. d The time will come that you shall seeke for the Sonne of man, with great sorow of heart, and shall not finde him. ✣ Mat. 24. 23. Mar. 13, 21.

9 Christ forewarneth vs that false Christs shall come, and that his glory shall suddenly be spred farre and wide through the world, after that the ignominie of the crosse is put out and extinguished.

the one a Pharise, and the other a Publican.

11 3 The Pharise stoode and prayed thus with himselfe, O God, I thanke thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or euen as this Publican.

12 I fast twise in the weeke: I giue tithe of all that euer I possesse.

13 But the Publican standing e a farre off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes to heauē, but smote his breſt, saying, O God, be mercifull to mee a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed to his house, iustified rather then the other: ✠ for euery man that exalteth himselfe shall be brought low, and he that humbleth himselfe shall be exalted.

15 ¶ ✠ f They brought vnto him also babes that he should touch them. 4 And when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 5 But Iesus g called them vnto him, and said, Suffer the babes to come vnto mee, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 6 Verely I say vnto you, whosoeuer receiueth not the kingdome of God as a babe, hee shall not enter therein.

18 ❧ Then a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what ought I to doe, to inherite eternall life?

19 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Why calleſt thou me good? none is good, saue one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnesse: Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 7 And he sayd, All these haue I kept from my youth.

22 Now when Iesus heard that, hee said vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing, Sell all that euer thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come follow me.

23 But when he heard those things, he was very heauy: for hee was meruellous rich.

24 8 And when Iesus saw him very sorowfull, he sayd, With what difficultie shall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God!

25 Surely it is easier for a camel to go through a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 Then sayd they that heard it, And who then shallbe saued?

27 And he sayd, The things which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.

28 ¶ ✠ Then Peter said, Loe, we haue left all, and haue followed thee.

29 9 And he sayd vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath left house, or parents or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Which shall not receiue much more in this world, and in the world to come life euerlasting.

31 ¶ * 10 Then Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and sayd vnto them, Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and all things shallbe fulfilled to the sonne of man, that are written by the Prophets.

32 For he shallbe deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shalbe mocked, and shalbe spitefully entreated, and shalbe spitted on.

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death: but the third day hee shall rise againe.

34 But they vnderstood h none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, neither perceiued they the things, which were spoken.

35 ¶ ✠ 11 And it came to passe, that as he was come neere vnto Iericho, a certaine blinde man sate by the way side, begging.

36 And when he heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they sayd vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passed by.

38 Then he cryed, saying, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

39 12 And they which went before, rebuked him that hee should hold his peace, but hee cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid haue mercy on me.

40 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought vnto him. And when hee was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And hee sayd, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saued thee.

43 Then immediatly he receiued his sight, and followed him, praysing God: and all the people, when they saw this, gaue prayse to God.

a Zacheus the Publican. 13 Ten pieces of money deliuered to seruants to occupie withall. 29 Iesus entreth into Hierusalem. 42 Hee foreteleth the destruction of the citie with teares. 45 Hee casteth the sellers out of the Temple.

NOw 1 when Iesus entred and passed through Iericho,

2 Behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the a chiefe receiuer of the tribute, and he was rich.

3 And hee sought to see Iesus, who he should be, and could not for the preasse, because hee was of a low stature.

4 Wherefore he ranne before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tree, that he might see him: for he should come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp, and saw him, and said vnto him, Zaccheus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

6 Then he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 2 And when all they saw it, they murmured, saying, that hee was gone in to lodge with a sinfull man.

8 3 And Zaccheus stood forth, & said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by b forged cauillation, I restore him foure fold.

9 Then Iesus sayd to him, This day is saluation come vnto this house, forasmuch as he is also become the c sonne of Abraham.

10 ✠ For the sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.

11 4 And whilest they heard these things, hee continued, and spake a parable, because hee was neere to Hierusalem, & because also they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.

12 He said therefore, ❧ A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and so to come againe.

3 Although we confesse, that whatsoeuer we haue, we haue it of God, yet are we despised of God, as prouide & arrogant, if we put our trust so little trust in our owne workes before God.

f The children were tender and yong, in that they were brought, which appeareth more euidently in that, that they were infants, which is to be marked against them that are enemies to the baptizing of children.

4 To iudge or thinke of Christ after the reason of our flesh, is the cause of infinite corruptions.

5 The children also of the faithfull are comprehended in the free couenant of God.

3 The example of true repentance is knowen by the effect.

b By falsely accusing any man: and this agreed most fitly to the matter of the customers person: for commonly they haue this trade among them when they rob and spoile the common weale, they haue nothing in their mouthes, but the profit of the common weale, and vnder that colour they play the theeues, insomuch that if men reproue and goe about to redresse their robberie, and spoyling, they cry out, the commen-weale is hindred.

g There are three sorts of men in the Church: the one sort fall from Christ whom they see not; the other, which according to their vocation, bestow the gifts which they haue receiued of God, to his glory with great paines and diligence: the third liue idlely, and do no good. As for the first, the Lord when hee commeth will iustly punish them in his time: the other he will blesse, according to the paines which they haue taken: and as for the slouthfull and idle persons, he will punish them as the first.

13 § And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, and said vnto them, Occupy till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, Wee will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come againe, & had receiued his kingdom, that he commanded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, [b] thy piece hath increased ten pieces.

17 And he saide vnto him, Well, good seruant: because thou hast beene faithfull in a very little thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased fiue pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.

20 [c] So the other came, and said, Lord, beholde thy piece which I haue layd vp in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man: thou takest vp that thou laiedst not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sow.

22 Then he saide vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knewest that I am a straite man, taking vp that I laid not downe, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then gauest not thou my money into the banke, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And hee saide to them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they saide vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

26 ✣ For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shallbe giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shallbe taken from him.

27 Moreouer, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 [f] And when he had thus spoken, [g] hee went foorth before, ascending vp to Hierusalem.

29 ✣ 7 And it came to passe, when he was come neere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of Oliues, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye to the towne which is before you, wherein at foone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any aske you, why ye loose him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof saide vnto them, Why loose yee the colte?

34 And they sayde, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 ✣ So they brought him to Iesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as hee went, they spred their cloathes in the way.

37 And when hee was now come neere to the going downe of the mount of Oliues, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to praise God with a loude voyce, for all the great workes that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the King that commeth in the Name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glory in the highest places.

39 § Then some of the Pharises of the company sayd vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, and said vnto them, I tell you, that if these should holde their peace, § stones would cry.

41 ¶ ✣ 9 And when he was come neere, he beheld the citie, and wept for it, 42 § Saying, [h] O if thou haddest euen knowen [i] at the least in this [k] thy day, those things, which belong vnto thy [l] peace! but now are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compasse thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side, 44 And shall make thee euen with the ground, and thy children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not [m] that season of thy visitation.

45 ¶ ✣ 10 Hee went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought, 46 Saying vnto them, It is written, [n] Mine house is the house of prayer, * but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

47 And he taught dayly in the Temple. And the hie Priestes and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him, 48 But they coulde not finde what they might doe to him: for all the people hanged vpon him when they heard him.

AND [1] it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as hee taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the hie Priestes and the Scribes came vpon him, with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what authoritie thou doest these things, or who is hee that hath giuen thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

4 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6 But if wee shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you, by what authoritie I doe these things.

and let it foorth to husbandmen : and went into a straunge countrey, for a great time.

10 And at the time conuenient hee sent a seruant to ỹ husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruite of the vineyard : but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away emptie.

11 Againe hee sent yet another seruant : and they did beate him, and foule intreated him, and sent him away emptie.

12 Moreouer he sent the thirde, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will sende my beloued sonne: it may be that they will do reuerence when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen sawe him, they reasoned with themselues, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shal the Lord of the vineyard therefore doe vnto them?

16 Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, and said, What meaneth this then that is written, ✣ The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner?

18 Whosoeuer shall fall vpon that stone, shall be broken: and on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 Then the high Priestes, and the Scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on him (but they feared the people) for they perceiued that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 ✣ 3 And they * watched him, and sent foorth [b] spies, which should faine themselues iust men, [c] to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him into the power and [d] authoritie of the gouernour.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest, and teachest right, neither doest thou accept any e mans person, but teachest the way of God truely.

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cesar tribute or no?

23 But he perceiued their [f] craftinesse, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe mee a penie. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered, and saide, Cesars.

25 Then hee said vnto them, ✣ Giue then vnto Cesar the things which are Cesars, and to God those which are Gods.

26 And they could not reproue his saying before the people: but they marueiled at his answere, and held their peace.

27 ✲ 4 Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, ✣ Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, hauing a wife, and hee die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

29 Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and he died without children.

30 And the second tooke the wife, and he died childelesse.

31 Then the thirde tooke her: and so likewise the seuen died, and left no children.

32 And last of all, the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, The [g] children of this world marry wiues, and are married.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wiues, neither are married.

36 For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, since they are the [h] children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead shall rise againe, euen ✣ Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he saide, The Lord is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.

38 For he is not the God of the dead, but of them which liue: for all i liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Scribes answered, and said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, durst they not aske him any thing at all.

41 ¶ ✣ 5 Then said he vnto them, How say they that Christ is Dauids sonne?

42 And Dauid himselfe saith in the booke of the Psalmes, ✣ The Lord saide vnto my Lord, Sit at my right hand, 43 Till I shall make thine enemies thy foote-stoole.

44 Seeing Dauid called him Lord, how is hee then his sonne?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he said vnto his disciples,

46 ✲ [e] Beware of the Scribes, which willingly goe in long robes, and loue salutations in the markets, and the highest seates in the assemblies, and the chiefe roomes at feasts:

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophecie who it is that smote thee.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ✣ [21] And assoone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the hie Priestes and the Scribes came together, and led him into their Councill, 67 Saying, Art thou that Christ? tell vs. And he sayd vnto them, If I tell you, ye will not beleeue it.

68 And if also I aske you, you will not answere me, nor let me goe.

69 Hereafter shall the Sonne of man sit at the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he said vnto them, Ye say, that I am.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He is accused before Pilate. 7 He is sent to Herode. 11 He is mocked. 14 Pilate yeeldeth him vp to the Iewes request. 27 The women bemaile him. 33 He is crucified. 39 One of the theeues reuileth him. 43 The other is saued by faith. 45 He dieth. 53 He is buried.

THen [1] the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate,

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We haue found this man [a] peruerting the nation, & forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

3 ✣ And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the hie Priestes, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, Hee mooueth the people, teaching throughout all Iudea, beginning at Galile, euen-to this place.

6 [2] Now when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when he knew that he was of [b] Herods iurisdiction, hee sent him to Herod, which was also at Hierusalem in those dayes.

8 And when Herod saw Iesus, he was exceedingly glad: for hee was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and trusted to haue seene some signe done by him.

9 Then questioned hee with him of many things: but he answered him nothing.

10 The hie Priestes also and Scribes stoode forth and accused him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his [c] men of warre, despised him, and mocked him, and arayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 [3] And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 ¶ [4] Then Pilate called together the high Priests, and the [d] rulers, and the people,

14 ✣ And said vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerted the people: and beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him:

16 [5] I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

17 (For of necessitie hee must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast)

18 Then all the multitude cried at once, saying, Away with him, and deliuer vnto vs Barabbas:

19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, and murther, was cast in prison.

20 Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose, 21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him.

22 [6] And he said vnto them the third time, But what euill hath hee done? I finde no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

23 But they were instant with loud voyces, and required that he might be crucified: and the voyces of them and of the hie Priests preuailed.

24 So Pilate gaue sentence, that it should be as they required.

25 And hee let loose vnto them him that for insurrection and murther was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to doe with him what they would.

26 ¶ ✣ [7] And as they ledde him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him they laid the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.

27 [8] And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and said, Daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountaines, ✣ Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.

31 ✣ For if they doe these things to a [e] greene tree, what shall be done to the drie?

32 ✣ And there were two others, which were euill doers, led with him to be slaine.

33 [9] And when they were come to the place, which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 [10] Then said Iesus, Father, forgiue them: for they knowe not what they doe. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, and beheld: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, Hee saued others: let him saue himselfe, if he be that Christ the [f] Chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him vineger, 37 And said, If thou be the King of the Iewes, saue thy selfe.

38 [11] And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latine, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THAT KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ [12] And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be that Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, Feareest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

b More then hee ought.

i God made the visible paradise in the East part of the world: but that which we behold with the eyes of our minde is the place of everlasting ioy and saluation, through the goodnesse and mercy of God, a most pleasant rest of the soules of the godly, and most quiet and ioyful dwelling.

46 And Iesus cried with a loud voyce, and said, ✣ Father, into thine handes I commend my spirit. And when he thus had sayd, he gaue vp the ghost.

47 ¶ [15] Now when the Centurion sawe what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a suretie this man was iust.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 [16] And all his acquaintance stood afarre off, and the women that followed him from Galile, beholding these things.

50 ¶ ✣ [17] And beholde, there was a man named Ioseph, which was a counseller, a good man and a iust.

51 Hee did not consent to the counsell and deede of them, which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Iewes: who also himselfe waited for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus, 53 And tooke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloath, and layde it in a toombe hewen out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the Sabbath [k] drew on.

55 [18] And the women also that followed after, which came with him from Galile, beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was layd.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST ACCORDING TO IOHN.

CHAP. 1.

a That Word begotten of God before all worldes, 2 and which was euer with the Fathers, 14 is made man, 6. 7 For what end Iohn was sent from God: 16 His preaching of Christes office. 19. 20 The record that he hare gaue out vnto the Priestes. 40 The calling of Andrew, 42 of Peter, 43 Philip, 45 and Nathanael.

IN [c] the [a] beginning [b] was [c] that Word, & that Word was [d] with God, and that [e] Word was God.

2 This same was in the beginning with God.

3 ✣ [2] All [f] things were made by it, and [g] without it [h] was made nothing that was made.

4 [i] In it [k] was life, and that life was [l] the light of men.

b The Sonne of God is of one, and the selfe same eternitie or euerlastingnesse, and of one and the selfe same essence or nature, with the Father.

a From the beginning, as the Euangelist saith, 1. Epistle 1. 1. As though he said, that the world began not then to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for the word was euen then when all things that were made, began to be made, and therefore hee was before the beginning of all things. b Had his being. c This word, That, pointeth out vnto vs a peculiar and chiefe thing aboue all other, and putteth a difference betweene this Worde, which is the Sonne of God, and the Lawes of God, which otherwise also are called the word of God. d This word (With) pointeth out the distinction of persons to vs. e This word (Word) is the first in order in the sentence, and is that which the learned call (Subiectum:) and this word (God) is the latter in order, and the same which the learned call (Predicatum.) ✣ Col. 1. 16. 2 The sonne of God declareth that same his euerlasting Godhead, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preseruing of them, & especially by the excellent gifts of reason & vnderstanding, wherewith he hath beautified man aboue all other creatures. f Paul expoundeth this place, Colos. 1. 15. and 16 verses. g That is, as the Father did worke, so did the Sonne worke with him: for he was fellow-worker with him. h Of all these things which were made, nothing was made without him. i That is, by him: and is spoken after the manner of the Hebrewes, meaning thereby that by his force and working power all life commeth to the world. k To wit, euen then, when all things are made by him, for els he would haue said, Life is in him, and not life was. l That force of reason and vnderstanding, which is kindled in our mindes to knowledge him the authour of so great a benefite.

5 3 And that light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse [m] comprehended it not.

6 ¶ ✣ 4 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 This same came for a witnesse, to beare witnesse of that light, that all men [n] through him might beleeue.

8 Hee was not [o] that light, but was sent to beare witnesse of that light.

9 5 This was [p] that true light, which lighteth euery man that commeth into the world.

10 [q] Hee was in the world, and the world was [r] made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came [s] vnto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 6 But as many as receiued him, to them hee gaue [t] prerogatiue to be the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his Name, 13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the [u] will of the flesh, nor of [x] will of man, but of God.

m They could not perceiue nor reach vnto it, to receiue any light of it, nor they did not so much as acknowledge him.

✣ Mat. 3. 1. mark. 1. 4. luk 3. 2.

4 There is another more full manifestation of the Sonne of God, to the confideration whereof men are in good time stirred vp, euen by Iohns voyce, who is as it were the we spake of, to wit, the Sonne of God

3 The light of men is turned into darkenesse, but yet so that there is clearenes enough to make them without excuse.

n Through Iohn. o That light which Christ, who onely can lighten our darkenesse. [p], which the Sonne of God hath endued with vnderstanding (which he had giuen to them all) hee exhibited himselfe vnto his people to be seene of them with their corporall eyes: yet neither (a) did they acknowledge him, nor receiue him. [q] Who onely and properly deserueth to be called the light, for he shineth of himselfe, & borroweth light of none. [r] That person of the Word, was made manifest euen at that time when the worlde was made. [s] Heb. 11. 3. [t] The Word shewed himselfe againe, when he came in the flesh. 6 The Sonne being shut out of the mest of his people, and acknowledged but of a fewe, doth regenerate them by his owne vertue and power, and receiueth them into that honour which is common to all the children of God, that is to bee the sonnes of God. u He vouchsafed to giue them this prerogatiue to take them to be his children. [x] Of that grosse and corrupt nature of man, which is throughout the Scriptures set as enemie to the Spirit.

7 That Sonne, who is God from euerlasting, tooke vpon him mans nature, that one and the selfesame might be both God and man, which manifestly appeared to many witnesses, that saw him amongst whom he was conuersant, and vnto whom by sure and vndoubted arguments he shewed both his natures.
u That is, man: so that the part is taken for the whole, by the figure Synecdoche, for he tooke vpon him all our whole nature, that is to say, a true body, and a true soule.
x For a season, and when that was ended, he went vp into heauen: for the word which he vseth, is taken from tents: and yet notwithstanding, his absence from vs in body is not such, but that he is alwayes present with vs, though not in flesh, yet by the vertue of his spirit.
✣ Mat.17.2.
a. pet.1.17.
y The glory which he speaketh of here, is that manifestation of Christ his maiestie, which was as it were layd open before our eyes when the Sonne of God appeared in flesh.
z This word (as) doeth not in this place betoken a likelinesse, but the trueth of the matter, for his meaning is this, that we saw such a glorie, as beseemed and was meete for the true and onely begotten Sonne of God, who is Lord and King ouer all the world.
a Hee was not onely a partaker of grace and trueth, but was full of the very substance of grace and trueth.
8 Iohn is a faithfull witnesse of the excellencie of Christ.
b That is, Hee before whome I am sent to prepare him the way: so that these words are referred to the time of his calling, and not of his age, for Iohn was sixe moneths older then he.
c This sentence hath in it a turning of the reason as we call it, as who would say, a farring of that thing which should be last, and that last which should be first: for in plaine speach this it is: He that commeth after me, is better then I am, for he was before me. The like kind of turning the reason we find in Luke 7.47. many sinnes are forgiuen her, because shee loued much, which is thus much to say, she loued much, because many sinnes are forgiuen her. ☞ Coloss. 1.19. and 2.9.
9 Christ is the most plentifull fountaine of all goodnesse, but then he powred out his gifts most bountifully, when as he exhibited, and shewed himselfe to the world.
d That is, grace vpon grace, as a man would say, graces heaped one vpon another.
10 The true knowledge of God proceedeth onely from Iesus Christ.
11 Deut.6.16. 1.cor.10.9. 12 Who is nereste to him selfe, not onely in respect of his loue towards him, but by the bond of nature, and for that vnion or oneneese that is betweene them, whereby the Father and the Sonne are one.
f Reuealed him, and shewed him vnto vs, whereas before he was hid vnder the shadowes of the Lawe, so that the quicknesse of the sight of our mindes was not able to perceiue him: for whosoeuer seeth him seeth the Father also.
11 Iohn is neither the Messias, nor like to any of the other Prophets, but is the herault of Christ, who is now present.
g He did acknowledge him, and spake of him plainely and openly.
h This rehearsing of one and the selfe same thing, though in diuers words, is vsed much of the Hebrewes, and it hath great force: for they vse to speake one thing twise, to set it out more certainely and plainely. ✣ Acts 13.25.
i The Iewes thought that Elias should come againe before the dayes of Messias, and they tooke the ground of that their opinion out of Malac. 4.5. which place is to be vnderstood of Iohn, Matth.11.14. And yet Iohn denie th that he is Elias, answering them in deed according as they meant.
k They enquire of some great Prophet, & not of Christ, for Iohn denied before that he is Christ, for they thought that some great Prophet should be sent like vnto Moses, wrestling to that purpose that place of Deut.18.15. which is to be vnderstood of all the company of the Prophets and ministers, which haue beene and shall be to the ende, and especially of Christ, who is the head of all Prophets. ✣ Isa.40.3. matth.3.3. luke 3.4.
12 Christ is the author of baptisme, and not Iohn: and therefore the force thereof consisteth not in Iohn, who is the minister, but wholy in Christ the Lord.
l Hereby we may proue that the Iewes knew there should be some change in religion vnder Messias, in whom all the world seeth, and is euen amongst you, 14 ✣ 7 And that Word was made u flesh, and x dwelt among vs, (and wee ✣ sawe the y glorie thereof, z as the glorie of the onely begotten Sonne of the Father) a full of grace and trueth.

15 ¶ 8 Iohn bare witnesse of him, and cryed, saying, This was he of whom I said, He that commeth b after me, was c before me: for he was better then I.

16 ✣ 9 And of his fulnesse haue all we receiued, and d grace for grace.

17 For the Law was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.

18 10 ✣ No man hath seene God at any time: that onely begotten Sonne, which is in the e bosome of the Father, he hath f declared him.

19 ¶ 11 Then this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And hee g confessed and h denyed not, and said plainely, I ✣ am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he said, i I am not. Art thou k that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou, that wee may giue answere to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 He said, I ✣ am the voice of him that cryeth in the wildernesse, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

24 12 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisee.

25 And they asked him, and said vnto him, l Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, neither Elias, nor that Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one m among you, whom yee know not.

27 ✣ Hee it is that commeth after me, which was before me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 ¶ 13 The next day Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayeth, Behold n that Lambe of God, which o taketh away the p sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me commeth a man, which was before me: for he was better then I.

31 And q I knewe him not: but because hee should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.

32 14 So Iohn bare record, saying, I beheld ✣ that Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knewe him not: but hee that sent me to baptize with water, hee said vnto mee, Vpon whom thou shalt see that Spirit come downe, and tary still on him, that is hee which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is r that Sonne of God.

35 ¶ 15 The next day, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples.

36 16 And he beheld Iesus walking by, and said, Behold that Lambe of God.

37 17 And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned about, and saw them follow, and said vnto them, What seeke yee? And they said vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say by interpretation, Master) s where dwellest thou?

39 Hee said vnto them, Come, and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the t tenth houre.

40 Andrew, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard it of Iohn, and that followed him.

41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said vnto him, We haue found that Messias which is by interpretation, that u Christ.

42 And hee brought him to Iesus. And Iesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon the sonne of Iona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation a stone.

43 ¶ The day following, Iesus would goe into Galile, and found Philip, and said vnto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrew and Peter.

45 18 Philip founde Nathanael, and sayde vnto him, Wee haue founde him of whome ✣ Moses did write in the Lawe, and the ✣ Prophets, Iesus that Sonne of Ioseph, that was of Nazareth.

13 The bodie and trueth of all the sacifices of the Law, to make satisfaction for the sinne of the world, is in Christ.
n This word (That) which is added, hath great force in it, not onely to set forth the worthinesse of Christ, and so to separate him from the Lamb: which was a figure of him, and from all other sacrifices of the Law, but also to bring into our mindes the Prophecies of Esay and others.
o This word of the present time, signifieth a continuall act, for the Lambe hath his vertue proper vnto him, and for euer, to take away the sinnes of the world.

29 We must especially take heede of false presumptions, which shut vp against vs the entrance to Christ. 30 Simple vprightnesse discerneth the true Israelites from the false. 31 The ende of miracles is to set before vs Christ the Almighty, and also the onely author of our saluation, that we may apprehend him by faith.

✣ Gen. 28. 12.

x By these wordes, the power of God is signified which should appeare in his ministery by the angels seruing him as the head of the Church.

46 19 Then Nathanael sayd vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip sayd to him, Come, and see.

47 20 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and said of him, Behold indeede an Israelite, in whom is no guile.

48 21 Nathanael saide vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the fig tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and said vnto him, Rabbi, thou art that Sonne of God: thou art that King of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Because I said vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, beleevest thou? thou shalt see greater things then these.

1 Christ turneth water into wine. 11 Which was the beginning of his miracles. 12 He goeth downe to Capernaum: 13 from thence he goeth vp to Hierusalem, 15 and casteth the merchandise out of the Temple. 19 He foretelleth that the Temple, that is, his body should be destroyed of the Iewes. 23 Many beleeue in him, seeing the miracles which he did.

AND a the third day, was there a mariage in Cana a towne of Galile, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the mariage.

3 b Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus sayd vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus sayd vnto her, Woman, c what haue I to doe with thee? mine d houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayd vnto the seruants, Whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there, six e waterpots of stone, after the maner of the purifying of ỹ Iewes, conteining two or three f firkins apiece.

7 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Fill the waterpots with water. Then they filled them vp to the brimme.

8 Then he sayd vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. So they bare it.

9 Now when the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for he knew not whence it was, but the seruant, which drew the water, knew) the gouernour of the feast called the bridegrome,

10 And sayd vnto him, All men at the beginning set foorth good wine, and when men haue g well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Iesus in Cana a towne of Galile, and shewed forth his glorie: and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 After that, he went downe into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his ✣brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

13 3 For the Iewes Passeouer was at hand. Therefore Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

14 4 And hee found in the Temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money sitting there.

15 Then hee made a scourge of small cordes, and draue them all out of the Temple with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew their tables,

16 And said vnto them that sold doues, Take these things hence: make not my fathers house an house of marchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred, that it was written, ✣ The g zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 5 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, What h signe shewest thou vnto vs, that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered and said vnto them, ✣ Destroy this Temple, and in three dayes I will rayse it vp againe.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fourtie and six i yeeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the i temple of his body.

22 As soone therefore as hee was risen from the dead, his disciples remembred that he thus said vnto them: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had said.

23 Nowe when hee was at Hierusalem at the Passeouer in the feast, many beleeued in his Name, when they saw his miracles which he did.

24 6 But Iesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew them all, thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: so is every man that is borne of the Spirit.

9 [2] Nico demus answered, and sayd vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, We speake that we know, and testifie that we haue seene: but ye receiue not our [t] witnesse.

12 If when I tell you earthly things, ye beleeue not, how should ye beleeue, if I shall tell you of heauenly things?

13 For no [k] man [l] ascendeth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, [m] that Sonne of man which [n] is in heauen.

14 ✣ And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wildernesse, so must that Sonne of man be lift vp,

15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 ✣ [5] For God so loued the world, that hee hath giuen his onely begotten Sonne, that whosoeuer beleeueth [o] in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

17 [*] [6] For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should [p] condemne the world, but that the [q] world through him might be saued.

18 He that beleeueth in him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because hee hath not beleeued in the Name of that onely begotten Sonne of God.

19 [*] [7] And this is the [r] condemnation, that that light came into the world, and men loued darkenesse rather than that light, because their deedes were euill.

20 For euery man that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to light, least his deedes should be reproued.

21 But he that [s] doth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought [t] according to God.

22 [5] After these things came Iesus, and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there taried with them, and ✣ baptized.

23 And Iohn also baptized in Enon besides Salem, because there was much water there: and they came and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 [8] Then there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and saide vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordan, to whom [*] thou barest witnesse, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, & said, A man [u] can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are my witnesses, that ✣ I said, I am not that Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome, which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly, because of the bridegromes voice. This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that is come from on hie, is aboue all: he that is of the earth, is of the [x] earth, and [y] speaketh of the earth: hee that is come from heauen, is aboue all.

32 And what he hath [z] seene and heard, that he testifieth: but [a] no man receiueth his testimonie.

33 He that hath receiued his testimonie, hath sealed that ✣ God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by measure.

35 The Father loueth the Sonne, and hath [b] giuen all things into his hand.

36 [*] Hee that beleeueth in the Sonne, hath euerlasting life, and he that obeyeth not the Sonne, shall not [c] see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

13 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more athirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shallbe in him a well of water, springing vp into euerlasting life.

15 The woman said vnto him, Sir, giue me of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hither to draw.

16 Iesus sayd vnto her, Goe, call thine husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and sayd, I haue no husband. Iesus sayd vnto her, Thou hast well sayd, I haue no husband.

18 For thou hast had fiue husbands, and bee whom thou now hast, is not thine husband: that saydest thou truely.

19 The woman sayd vnto him, Sir, I see that thou art a Prophet.

20 3 Our fathers worshipped in this † mountaine, and yee say, that in ✣ Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus sayd vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor at Hierusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which ye ✣ know not: we worship that which wee know: for saluation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in a Spirit and Trueth: for the Father requireth euen such to worship him.

24 ✣ God is a [h] Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in Spirit and Truth.

25 The woman sayd vnto him, I know well that Messias shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am he, that speake vnto thee.

27 ¶ And vpon that, came his disciples, and marueiled that hee talked with a woman: yet no man sayd vnto him, What askest thou? or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and sayd to the men, 29 Come, see a man which hath told mee all things that euer I did: is not he that Christ?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

31 ¶ In the meane while, the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But hee sayd vnto them, I haue meat to eat, that ye know not of.

33 Then sayd the disciples betweene themselues, Hath any man brought him meat?

34 Iesus sayd vnto them, My meat is that I may doe the will of him that sent mee, and finish his worke.

35 5 Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth harueste? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: ✣ for they are white already vnto harueste.

39 7 Now many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued in him, for the saying of the woman which testified, He hath told me all things that euer I did.

40 Then when the Samaritans were come vnto him, they besought him, that he would tary with them: and he aboade there two dayes.

41 And many moe beleeued because of his owne word.

42 And they sayd vnto the woman, Now we beleeue, not because of thy saying: for wee haue heard him our selues, and know that this is indeed that Christ the Sauiour of the world.

43 ¶ 8 So two dayes after he departed thence, and went into [k] Galile.

44 For Iesus himselfe had ✣ testified, that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when hee was come into Galile, the Galileans receiued him, which had seene all the things that he did at Hierusalem at the feast: for they went also to the feast.

46 9 And Iesus came againe into ✣ Cana of Galile, where he had made of water wine. And there was a certaine [l] ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, hee went vnto him, and besought him that he would goe downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen readie to die.

48 Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, ye will not beleeue.

49 The ruler sayd vnto him, Sir, go downe before my sonne die.

50 Iesus sayd vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne liueth: and the man beleeued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and went his way.

51 And as hee was now going downe, his seruants met him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

52 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amend. And they sayd vnto him, Yesterday the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 Then the father knew that it was the same houre in the which Iesus had sayd vnto him, Thy sonne liueth. And he beleeued, & all his houshold.

54 This second miracle did Iesus againe, after he was come out of Iudea into Galile.

beene diseased eight and thirtie yeeres.

6 When Iesus saw him lie, and knew that he now long time had beene diseased, hee sayd vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am comming, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus sayd vnto him, Rise: take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 [a] The Iewes therefore sayd to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: ✣ it is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole he sayd vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which sayd vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, knew not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed himselfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, and sayd vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus that had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 ✣ Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because hee had broken the Sabbath: but sayd also that God was [c] his Father, and made himselfe equall with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The Sonne can doe nothing [d] of himselfe, saue that he seeth the Father doe: for whatsoeuer things he doeth, the same things doth the Sonne [e] in like maner.

20 For the Father loueth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer he himselfe doeth, and he will shew him greater workes then these, that ye should wonder.

21 [f] For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father [g] iudgeth [h] no man, but hath committed all iudgement vnto the Sonne, 23 That all men should honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: he that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 [i] Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleeueth him that sent mee, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death to life.

25 [k] Verely verely I say vnto you, the houre shall come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voice of the Sonne of God: and they that heare it shall liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe, 27 And hath giuen hem [l] power also to execute iudgement, in that he is the [k] Sonne of man.

28 [l] Marueil not at this: for the houre shall come, in the which all that are in the graues, shall heare his voice.

29 [m] And they shall come [l] foorth, ✣ that haue done good, vnto the [m] resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 [n] I can [o] doe nothing of mine owne selfe: [o] as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the Father who hath sent me.

31 If I ✣ should beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnesse were not [p] true.

32 [q] There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I know that the witnesse, which he beareth of me, is true.

33 [r] [s] [10] Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witnesse vnto the trueth.

34 But I receiue not the record of man: neuertheless these things I say, that ye might be saued.

35 He was a burning and a shining candle: and ye would for [q] a season haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witnesse then the witnesse of Iohn: for the works which the Father hath giuen me to finish, the same works that I do, beare witnesse of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the ✣ Father himselfe, which hath sent me, beareth witnesse of me. Ye haue not heard his voice at any time, * neither haue yee seene his shape.

38 And his word haue you not abiding in you: for whom hee hath sent, him ye beleeue not.

39 ✣ Search the Scriptures: for in them yee thinke to haue eternall life, & they are they which testifie of me.

40 But ye will not come to me, that ye might haue life.

41 I receiue not the praise of men.

42 But I know you, that ye haue not the [r] loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my Fathers Name, and ye receiue me not: if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue.

44 How can ye beleeue, which receiue ✣ honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God alone?

45 [s] Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my Father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses, in whom ye truſt.

46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: [t] for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleeue not his writings, how shall yee beleeue my words?

AFter these things, Iesus went his way ouer the sea of Galile, which is Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

3 Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.

4 Nowe the Passeouer a ✠ feast of the Iewes was neere.

5 ✠ b Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these might eat?

6 (And this bee sayd to prooue him: for hee himselfe knew what he would do.)

7 Philip answered him, Two hundreth penie worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a little.

8 Then sayd vnto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, 9 There is a litle boy here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Now there was much grasse in that place.) Then the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousand.

11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and gaue thanks, and gaue to the disciples, & the disciples to them that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And when they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meat which remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then the men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a trueth that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 a When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come, and take him to make him a king, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 ¶ b When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea, 17 c And entred into a ship, and went ouer the sea, b towards Capernaum: and now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the Sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about fiue and twentie, or thirtie furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing neere vnto the ship: so they were afraid.

20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraid.

21 Then c willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, the people which stood on the other side of the sea, sawe that there was none other ship there, saue that one, whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone,

23 And that there came other ships from Tiberias neere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thankes.

24 Nowe when the people saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 ✠ Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Ye seeke me not, because ye saw the miracles, but because ye eate of the loaues, and were filled.

27 d Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for the meate that endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of man shall giue vnto you: for him hath ✠ God the Father e sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shall we do, that we might worke the f workes of God?

29 ✠ Iesus answered, & said vnto them, ✠ This is the worke of God, that ye beleeue in him, whom he hath sent.

30 g They said therefore vnto him, What signe sheweste thou then, that we may see it, and beleeue thee? what doest thou worke?

31 Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is h written, Hee gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

32 ✠ Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not i that bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you that true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then they sayd vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus sayd vnto them, I am that bread k of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger, and he that beleeueth in me, shall neuer thirst.

36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and beleeue not.

37 ✠ All that the Father giueth me, shall come to me: and him that commeth to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but his will which hath sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent mee, that of all which he hath giuen me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that euery man which l seeth the Sonne, and beleeueth in him, should haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 ✠ The Iewes then murmured at him because he sayd, I am that bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they sayd, ✠ Is not this Iesus that sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother wee know? how then sayeth hee, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, and sayde vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent mee, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the ✠ [m] Prophets. And they shalbe all [n] taught of God. Euery men therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, commeth vnto me:

46 ✠ Not that any man hath seene the Father, [o] saue hee which is of God, he hath seene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleeueth in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 [10] I am that bread of life.

49 [v] Your fathers did eate Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead.

50 [p] This is that bread, which commeth downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it, should not die.

51 [11] I am that [q] liuing bread, which came downe from heauen: if any man [r] eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

52 [12] Then the Iewes stroue among themselues, saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the Son of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue [s] no life in you.

54 Whosoeuer eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meate indeede, and my blood is drinke indeede.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As [t] that liuing Father hath sent me, so liue I by the [u] Father, and he that eateth me, euen hee shall liue by me.

58 This is that bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 [13] Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) said, This is an hard saying: who can heare it?

61 But Iesus knowing in himselfe, that his disciples murmured at this, said vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

62 What then if yee should see that Sonne of man ascend vp ✠ where he was before?

63 [14] It is the [x] spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 [15] From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then saide Iesus to the twelue, Will ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall we goe? thou hast the wordes of eternall life:

69 And wee beleeue and knowe that thou art that Christ that Sonne of the liuing God.

70 [16] Iesus answered them, Haue not I ✠ chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuill?

71 Now he spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for hee it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelue.

CHAP. VII.

2 Christ, after his cousins were gone vp to the feast of Tabernacles, 10 goeth thither priuily. 12 The peoples sundry opinions of him. 14 He teacheth in the Temple. 32 The Priests command to take him. 41 Strife among the multitude about him, 47 and betweene the Pharisees and the officers that were sent to take him, 50 & Nicodemus.

AFter these things, Iesus walked in Galile, and would not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

2 Now the Iewes ✠ [a] feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 [1] His brethren therefore sayd vnto him, Depart hence, and goe into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing secretly, & he himselfe seeketh to be famous. If thou doest these things, shew thy selfe to the world.

5 For as yet his [b] brethren beleeued not in him.

6 [2] Then Iesus sayd vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world can not hate you: but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the works thereof are euill.

8 Goe ye vp into this feast: I will not go vp yet vnto this feast: [y] for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 ¶ These things he sayd vnto them, and abode still in Galile.

10 [3] But assoone as his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and sayd, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some sayd, He is a good man: other sayd, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake [c] openly of him for feare of the Iewes.

14 [4] Now when [d] halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 6 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but hee that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnesse is in him.

19 ✣ 7 Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? ✣ Why goe yee about to kill me?

20 The people answered, and sayd, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 8 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, I haue done one worke, and ye all marueile.

22 ✣ Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the ✣ fathers) and yee on the Sabbath day circumcise a man.

24 ✣ 9 Iudge not g according to the appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 ¶ 10 Then sayd some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he whom they goe about to kill?

26 And beholde, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers know indeed that this is indeed that Christ?

27 11 Howbeit we know this man whence hee is: but when that Christ commeth, no man shall know whence he is.

28 ¶ 12 Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as hee taught, saying, Ye both knowe mee, and knowe whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 13 Then they sought to take him, but no man layd hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Now many of the people beleeued in him, and sayd, When that Christ commeth, will he doe moe miracles then this man hath done?

32 14 The Pharises heard that the people murmured these things of him, and the Pharises, and high Priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while ✣ with you, & then I goe vnto him that sent me, 34 * Ye shall seeke me, and shall not find mee, and where I am, can ye not come.

35 Then sayde the Iewes among themselues, Whither will hee goe, that we shall not find him? Will he go vnto them that are h dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Grecians?

36 What saying is this that hee sayd, Yee shall seeke me, and shall not find mee? and, Where I am, can ye not come?

37 15 Now in the i last and ✣ great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

39 (* This spake hee of the Spirit which they that beleeued in him, should receiue: for the l holy Ghost was not yet giuen, because that Iesus was not yet m glorified.)

40 16 So many of the people, when they heard this saying, sayd, ✣ Of a trueth this is that Prophet.

41 Other sayd, This is that Christ: and some sayd, But shall that Christ come out of Galile?

42 ✣ Saith not the Scripture that that Christ shall come of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Beth-lehem, where Dauid was?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layd hands on him.

45 17 Then came the officers of the hie Priests and Pharises, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharises, Are ye also deceiued?

48 18 Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharises beleeue in him?

49 But this people, which know not the Law, are cursed.

50 Nicodemus sayd vnto them, (* he that came to Iesus by night, and was one of them,)

51 Doth our Law iudge a man before it heare him, ✣ and know n what he hath done?

52 They answered, and said vnto him, Art thou also of Galile? Search and looke: for out of Galile ariseth no Prophet.

53 19 And euery man went vnto his own house.

8 And againe hee stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out, one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to ỹ last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 3 When Iesus had lift vp himselfe againe, & saw no man, but the woman, hee sayd vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus said, Neither do I condemne thee: go and sinne no more.

12 4 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I ✣ am that light of the world: hee that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue that light of life.

13 5 The Pharises therefore sayde vnto them, ᵉ Thou beares record of thy selfe: thy record is not true.

14 ✣ Iesus answered, & said vnto thē, ᵇ Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I come, and whither I go: but ye cannot tell whence I came, and whether I goe.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh: I ᶜ iudge no man.

16 And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true, for I am not alone, but I, and the Father, that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Law, ᵛ that the testimonie of two men is true.

18 ᵈ I am one that beare witnesse of my selfe, & the Father that sent me beareth witnesse of me.

19 6 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is that Father of thine? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor ỹ Father of mine. If ye had known me, ye should haue known that Father of mine also.

20 These words spake Iesus in the ᵉ treasurie, as he taught in the Temple, and no man layd hands on him: ỹ for his houre was not yet come.

21 8 Then sayd Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, & shall die in your sinnes. Whither I goe, can ye not come.

22 Then sayd the Iewes, Will he kill himselfe, because he saith, Whither I goe, can ye not come?

23 And he sayd vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I sayd therefore vnto you, That ye shall die in your sinnes: for except ye beleeue, that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 9 Then sayd they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus sayd vnto them, Euen ᶠ the same thing that I sayd vnto you from the beginning.

26 10 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27 11 They vnderstood not that hee spake to them of the Father.

28 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, When yee haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, ỹ so I speak these things.

29 For he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 ¶ As he spake these things, many beleeued in him.

31 12 Then sayd Iesus to the Iewes which beleeued in him, If ye continue in my word, yee are verely my disciples, 32 And shall know the trueth, and the trueth shall ᵍ make you free.

33 ʰ They answered him, We be ⁱ Abrahams seede, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then, Ye shallbe made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the ✣ seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If that Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 13 I know that you are Abrahams seede, but yee seeke to kill mee, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which yee haue seene with your Father.

39 They answered, and sayd vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus sayd vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But nowe ye goe about to kill mee, a man that haue tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye doe the works of your father. Then said they to him, We are not borne of fornication: we haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus sayd vnto them, If God were your Father, then would yee loue me: for I proceeded foorth, and come from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why doe ye not vnderstand my ᵏ talke? because ye cannot heare my word.

44 ✣ Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lustes of your father yee will doe: he hath bene a murtherer from the ˡ beginning, and ᵐ abode not in the ⁿ trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh ᵉ lie, then speaketh hee of his ᵒ owne: for he is a liar, and the ᵖ father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, yee beleeue me not.

46 14 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the trueth, why do ye not beleeue me?

47 15 He that is of God heareth Gods wordes: ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 15 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, Say we not wel that thou art a Samaritane, & hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praise: but there is one that ᵠ seeketh it, and iudgeth.

51 16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer ʳ see death.

37 Against them which abuse the glorie of the Saints, to darken Christes glory.
38 There is nothing farther off from all ambition then Christ, but his Father hath set him aboue all things.
f This is spoken by manner of a graunt: as if he had sayd, Be it so, let this report which I giue of my selfe, be of no force: yet there is another that glorifieth me, that is, that honoureth my Name.
39 There is no right knowledge of God, without Christ, neither any right knowledge of Christ without his word.
40 The vertue of Christ shewed it selfe through all former ages in the Fathers, for they saw in the promised him with a liuely faith.

52 17 Then said the Iewes to him, Now know wee that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer taste of death.
53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?
54 18 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth mee, whom ye say, that he is your God.
55 19 Yet yee haue not knowen him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his word.
56 20 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my day, and he saw it, and was glad.
57 Then sayde the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeere olde, and hast thou seene Abraham?
58 Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I am.
59 21 Then tooke they vp stones to cast at him, but Iesus hid himselfe, and went out of the Temple: And hee passed through the middes of them, and so went his way.

thine eyes opened?
21 Hee answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anoynted mine eyes, and said vnto mee, Goe to the poole of Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and receiued sight.
12 Then they said vnto him, Where is hee? He said, I cannot tell.
13 ¶ They brought to the Pharises him that was once blinde.
14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.
15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, He laid clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.
16 5 Then said some of the Pharises, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a dissension among them.
17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a Prophet.
18 Then the Iewes did not beleeue him (that he had beene blinde, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.
19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now see then?
20 His parents answered them, and said, Wee know that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:
21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, can we not tell: he is olde ynough: aske him: he shall answere for himselfe.
22 These wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeined already, that if any man did confesse that hee was Christ, hee should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.
23 Therefore sayde his parents, Hee is olde ynough: aske him.
24 Then againe called they the man that had beene blinde, and said vnto him, d Giue glory vnto God: we know that this man is a e sinner.
25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I see.
26 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?
27 Hee answered them, I haue tolde you already, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? will ye also be his disciples?
28 6 Then reuiled they him, and said, Be thou his disciple: we be Moses disciples.
29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.
30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, Doubtlesse, this is a marueilous thing, that yee know not whence hee is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.
31 Now wee know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.
32 Since the worlde began, was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

CHAP. IX.

1 Christ giueth sight on the Sabbath day, to him that was borne blind. 13 Whom, after he had long reasoned against the Pharises, 24, 35 and was cast out of the Synagogue, 36 Christ endueth with the knowledge of the euerlasting light.

1 AND as Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blinde from his birth.
2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde?
3 Iesus answered, a Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the workes of God should be shewed on him.
4 21 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is b day: the night commeth when no man can worke.
5 As long as I am in the world, ✣ I am the light of the world.
6 7 Assoone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spettle, and anoynted the eyes of the blinde with the clay,
7 And said vnto him, Goe wash in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore and washed, and came againe seeing.
8 4 Now the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?
9 Some said, This is he: and other said, He is like him: but he himselfe said, I am he.
10 Therefore they said vnto him, How were 33 If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothing.

34 They answered and sayd vnto him, f Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs? So they cast him out.

35 7 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: and when hee had found him, he sayde vnto him, Doest thou beleeue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and sayd, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleeue in him?

37 And Iesus sayde vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then hee said, Lord, I beleeue, and worshipped him.

39 8 And Iesus sayd, I am come vnto g iudgement into this world, that they h which see not, might see: and that they ✣ which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Phariſes which were with him, heard these things, and said vnto him, Are we blinde also?

41 Iesus sayd vnto them, If yee were blinde, ye should not haue sinne: but now ye say, Wee see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

f Thou art naught euen from the cradle, and as we vse to say, there is nothing in thee but sinne.

CHAP. X.

1 Chriſt propoſeth that the Phariſes are euill ſhepheards, 8 and by many reaſons, that himſelfe is, 14 is the good ſhepheard. 19 And thereof diſſenſion ariſeth. 31 They take vp ſtones, 39 and goe about to take him, but he eſcapeth.

VErely, 1 Verely I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doore into the sheepefold, but climeth vp another way, he is a theefe & a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the a porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when hee hath sent foorth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voyce.

5 And they will not follow a stranger, but they flee from him: for they know not the voyce of strangers.

6 This b parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then sayd Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am that doore of the sheepe.

8 2 All that c euer came before me, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am that good shepheard, and know mine, and am knowen of mine.

15 As the Father e knoweth me, so know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my sheepe.

29 My Father which gaue them mee, is greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

CHAP. XI.

[1] Christ, to shewe that hee is 25 the life and the resurrection, 14 commeth to Lazarus being dead, 17.34 and buried, 43 and raiseth him vp. 47 As the Priests were consulting together, 49 Caiaphas 50 prophecieth that one must die for the people. 56,57 They command to seeke Christ out, and to take him.

A Nd [a] certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, the [a] towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was that ✣ Marie which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou loue∫t, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, he sayd, This sickenesse is not vnto [b] death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 ¶ Now Iesus loued Martha and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 [2] And after he had heard that hee was sicke, yet aboade hee two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, sayd he to his di∫ciples, Let vs goe into Iudea againe.

8 [3] The di∫ciples said vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to ✣ stone thee, and doe∫t thou goe thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not [c] twelue hours in the day? If a man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after, he said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus [d] sleepeth: but I goe to wake him vp.

12 Then sayd his di∫ciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shallbe safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the naturall sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleeue: but let vs go vnto him.

16 Then sayd Thomas (which is called Didymus) vnto his fellow di∫ciples, Let vs also goe, that we may die with him.

17 ¶ Then came Iesus, and found that he had lien in the graue foure dayes already.

18 (Now Bethania was neere vnto Hierusalem, about fifteene furlongs off.)

19 [4] And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Mary to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when shee heard that Iesus was comming, went to meete him: but Mary sate still in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst beene here, my brother hath not beene dead.

22 But now I know also, that whatsoeuer thou aske∫t of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus sayd vnto her, Thy brother shall [e] rise againe.

24 Martha sayd vnto him, I know that he shall rise againe ✣ in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: ✣ hee that beleeueth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die: Beleeue∫t thou this?

27 She sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art that Christ that Sonne of God, which should come into the world.

28 ¶ And when she had so sayd, she went hes way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickely, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and saw him, shee fell downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 [5] When Iesus therefore saw her weepe, and the Iewes also weepe which came with her, hee [f] groned in the spirit, and was troubled in himselfe, 34 And sayd, Where haue yee layd him? They sayd vnto him, Lord, come and see.

35 And Iesus wept.

36 Then sayd the Iewes, Behold, how he loued him.

37 And some of them sayd, [g] Could not hee which opened the eyes of the blind, haue made also, that this man should not haue died?

38 Iesus therefore againe groned in himselfe, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was layd vpon it.

39 Iesus sayd, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, sayd vnto him, Lord he stinketh already: for hee hath beene dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus sayd vnto her, Sayd I not vnto thee, that if thou didde∫t beleeue, thou should∫t see the glory of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and sayd, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I know that thou heare∫t me alwayes: but because of the people that stand by, I sayd it, that they may beleeue, that thou hast sent me.

43 As hee had spoken these things, hee cried with a loud voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with bandes, and his face was bound with a napkin. Iesus sayd vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

Mary, and had seene the things which Iesus did, beleeued in him.

46 [6] But some of them went their way to the Pharises, & told them what things Iesus had done.

47 Then gathered the hie Priests & the Pharises a [g] councill, and sayd, What shall we doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romanes will come and [h] take away both our place, and the nation.

49 [7] Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

50 ✣ Nor yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 [8] This spake he not of himselfe: but being hie Priest that same yeere, he prophecied that Iesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation onely, but that he should gather together in one [i] children of God, which were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consulted together to put him to death.

54 [9] Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wildernesse, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Passeouer, to purifie themselues.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselues as they stoode in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he commeth not to the feast?

57 Now both the high Priests and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

6 The last point of hard and yron like stubburnesse is this, to proclame open warre against God, and yet ceaseth not to make a pretence both of godlinesse, and of the profite of the common wealth.

g The Iewes called the counsell Sanhedrin: and the word that Iohn vseth is Synedri.

h That is, take away from vs by force: for at that time, though the hie Priests authorytie was greatly lessened and decayed, yet there was some kinde of gouernement left among the Iewes.

7 The raging and mad company of the false Church, perswade themselues that they cannot be in safetie, vnlesse he be taken away, who onely vpholdeth the Church: And so likewise iudgeth the wisedome of the flesh in worldly affaires, which is gouerned by the spirit of giddinesse or madnesse.

✣ Chap.18,14.

8 Christ doth sometime so turne the tongues, euen of the wicked, that in cursing, they blesse. i For they were not gathered together in one countrey, as the Iewes were, but to be gathered from all quarters, from the East to the West.

9 We may giue place to the rage of the wicked, when it is expedient so to doe, but yet in such sort, that we swarue not from Gods vocation.

CHAP. XII.

a As Christ is at supper with Lazarus, 3 Marie anointeth his feete. 5 Iudas findeth fault with her. 7 Christ defendeth her. 10 The Priests would put Lazarus to death. 12 As Christ commeth to Hierusalem, 18 The people meet him: 12 The Grecians desire to see him. 42 The chiefe rulers that beleeue in him, but for feare do not confesse him; 44 hee exhorteth to faith.

THen ✣ Iesus, sixe dayes before the Passeouer, came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, who died, whom he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Marie a pound of ointment of Spikenard very costly, and anointed Iesus feete, and wiped his feete with her haire, and the house was filled with the sauour of the ointment.

4 Then sayd one of his disciples, euen Iudas Iscariot, Symons sonne, which should betray him:

5 [1] Why was not this ointment sold for three hundreth pence and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he sayd this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thiefe, and [2] had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 [2] Then sayd Iesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes yee haue with you, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

✣ Chap.16,17. marke 14,3.

2 An horrible example in Iudas of a minde blinded with couetousnes, and yet pretending godlinesse.

2 Chap.13,29.

3 This extraordinarie anointing which was for a signe, is so allowed of God, that hee witnesseth how he will not be worshipped with outward pompe, or costly seruice, but with alms.

9 [3] Then much people of the Iewes knew that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 The high Priests therefore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also, 11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleeued in Iesus.

12 ¶ ✣ On the morow a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus should come to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went foorth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed is the king of Israel that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus found a yong asse, and sate thereon, as it is written, 15 ✣ Feare not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King commeth sitting on an asses colt.

16 But his disciples vnderstoode not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witnesse that hee called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 ✣ And the Pharises said among themselues, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Behold, the world goeth after him.

20 ¶ Now there were certaine Greekes among them that [a] came vp to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida in Galile, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see that Iesus.

22 Philip came and told Andrew: and againe Andrew and Philip told Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

24 ✣ Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except the wheat corne fall into the ground and [b] die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth foorth much fruit.

25 ❧ He that loueth his life, shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 ✣ If any man serue me, let him followe me: for where I am, there shall my seruant be: and if any man serue me, him will my Father honour.

27 [6] Now is my soule troubled: and what shall I say? Father, saue me from this [c] houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, [d] glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then sayd the people that stood by, and heard, that it was a thunder: other said, An Angel spake to him.

30 [7] Iesus answered and sayd, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

3 When the light of the Gospell sheweth it selfe, some are found to be curious, and others (which least ought) to be open enemies: others in a rage honour him, whom they will straightway fall from: and very few there be reuerently receiue him as they ought: Notwithstanding Christ beginneth his spirituall kingdome in the midst of his enemies.

✣ Mat.21,8. marke 11,8. Iuke 19,35.

✣ Ezech.9,9.

4 Euen they which goe about to oppresse Christ, are made instruments of his glory.

a After the solemne custome: the Grecians were first so called, by the name of the countrey of Greece, where they dwelt: but afterward, all that were not of the Iewes religion, but worshipped false gods, and were also called Heathens, were called by this name.

5 The death of Christ is as it were a sowing, which seemeth to be a dying to the corne, but indeed is the cause of a far greater haruest: and such as is the condition of the head, so shall it be of the members.

b A wheat corne dieth when it is changed by vertue of the ground, and becometh a roote of a fruitfull blade.

✣ Mat.10,39. and 16,25. marke 8,35. Iuke 9,24. and 17,33.

✣ Chap.17,24.

6 Whilest Christ went about to suffer all the punishment which is due to our sinnes, and whilest his diuinitie did not yet shew his mighty and power to satisfie as this satisfaction might be thoroughly wrought, now when he is striken with the great feare of the curse of God, he crieth out and prayeth, and desireth to be released: yet notwithstanding, he preferreth the will and glory of his Father before all things, whose obedience the Father alloweth euen from heauen. c To wit, of death that is now at hand. d So then the Fathers glory is Christ his glory. 7 Christ foretelleth to the deafe, the maner of his death, the ouercomming of the deuill and the world, and in conclusion his triumph.

32 ✣ And.

✠ Chap.3.14.
e Christ vsed a word, which hath a double meaning: for it signifieth either to lift vp, or to put out of the way, for his meaning was to put them in minde of his death, but the Iewes seeme to take it another way.
f Chrysost. and Theophil. referred this word All, to all nations: that is, not to the Iewes onely.
✠ Psal.89.36. and 110.4. & 117.1. Isa.40.8. 1.Peeh. 1.25.
§ Vnmeasurable is the mercie of God, but an horrible iudgement followeth, if it be contemned.
∵ Chap.1.9.
g That is, partakers of light.
9 Faith is not of nature, but of grace.
✠ Isai.53.1. rom.10.16.
h The arme of the Lord, is the Gospel, which is the power of God to saluation to all that beleeue: And therefore the arme of the Lord is not reuealed to them, whose hearts the Lord hath not opened.
✠ Isa.6.9. mat.13.14. mar.4.12. luk.8.10. actes 28.26. rom 11.8.
10 Such as beleeue, are not only fewe in number, if they be compared with the vnbeleeuers, but also the most of those fewe (yea and that especially the chiefest) doe feare men more then God.
✠ Chap.5.44.
11 The summe of the Gospel, and therefore of saluation, which Christ witnesseth in the middest of Hierusalem, by his crying out, is this: to reit vpon Christ through faith, as the onely Sauiour appointed and giuen vs of the Father.
i This word Not, doth not take any whit of this from Christ which is here spoken of, but is in way of correction rather, as if he said He that beleeueth in me, doth not so much beleeue in me, as in him that sent me. So is it in Marke 9.37. ✠ Chap.5.19. and 9.39. ✠ Chap.3.17. ∵ Marke 16.16.

32 ✠ And I, if I were e lift vp from the earth, will draw f all men vnto me.
33 Now this said he, signifying what death he should die.
34 The people answered him, We haue heard out of the § Law, that that Christ bideth for euer: and how saiest thou, that that Sonne of man must be lift vp? Who is that Sonne of man?
35 g Then Iesus saide vnto them, Yet a little while is ∵ the light with you: walke while ye haue that light, least the darkenesse come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth.
36 While yee haue that light, beleeue in that light, that ye may be the g children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.
37 ¶ 9 And though he had done so many miracles before them, yet beleeued they not on him, 38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he said, ✠ Lord, who beleeued our report? and to whom is the h arme of the Lord reuealed?
39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias saith againe, 40 ✠ He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.
41 These things said Esaias when he sawe his glory, and spake of him.
42 10 Neuertheless, euen among the chiefe rulers, many beleeued in him: but because of the Pharises they did not confesse him, least they should be cast out of the Synagogue.
43 *For they loued the praise of men, more then the praise of God.
44 11 And Iesus cried, and said, He that beleeueth in me, beleeueth i not in me, but in him that sent me.
45 And he that seeth mee, seeth him that sent mee.
46 I ✠ am come a light into the world, that whosoeuer beleeueth in me, should not abide in darkenesse.
47 § And if any man heare my wordes, and beleeue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world.
48 He that refuseth me, and receiued not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: ∵ the word that I haue spoken, it shall iudge him in the last day.
49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the Father which sent mee, he gaue me a commandement what I should say, and what I should speake.
50 And I knowe that his commandement is life euerlasting: the thinges therefore that I speake, I speake them so as the Father saide vnto me.

CHAP. XIII.

4 Christ rising from supper, 15 To commend humilitie to his Apostles, washeth their feete, 21 He noteth the traitour Iudas 26 with an euident token. 34 He commendeth charitie. 37, 38 He foreseeleth Peter of his denial.

NOwe ✠ 1 before the feast of the Passeouer, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he should depart out of this world vnto the Father, forasmuch as he loued his a owne which were in the world, vnto the end he loued them.
2 And when supper was done (and that the deuill had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betray him.)
3 Iesus knowing that the Father had giuen all things into his b hands, & that he was come forth from God, and went to God,
4 He c riseth from Supper, and laieth aside his vpper garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.
5 After that, hee powred water into a basen, and beganne to wash the disciples feete, and to wipe them with the towell, wherewith hee was girded.
6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lord, doest thou wash my feete?
7 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What I doe thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.
8 Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue d no part with me.
9 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my feete onely, but also the hands and the head.
10 Iesus said to him, He that is washed, needeth not, saue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are § cleane, but not all.
11 For hee knewe who should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.
12 ¶ So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, & was set downe again, he said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?
13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so am I.
14 If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one anothers feete.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that he ſhould aske who it was of whom he ſpake.

25 He then as he leaned on Ieſus breaſt, ſaid vnto him, Lord who is it?

26 Ieſus anſwered, He it is, to whom I ſhall giue a ſoppe, when I haue dipt it: and he wet a ſop, and gaue it to Iudas Iſcariot, Simons ſonne.

27 And after the ſoppe, Satan entred into him. Then ſayd Ieſus vnto him, That thou doeſt, doe quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew, for what cauſe he ſpake it vnto him.

29 For ſome of them thought becauſe Iudas had the bagge, that Ieſus had ſaid vnto him, Buy thoſe things that we haue neede of againſt y feaſt: or that he ſhould giue ſome thing to the poore.

30 Aſſoone then as he had receiued the ſoppe, he went immediately out, and it was night.

31 ¶ 3 When hee was gone out, Ieſus ſaide, g Now is the Sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God ſhall alſo glorifie him in himſelfe, and ſhall ſtraightway glorifie him.

33 4 Litle children, yet a litle while am I with you: yee ſhall ſeeke mee, but as I ſaid vnto the ✠ Iewes, Whither I goe, can ye not come: alſo to you ſay I now.

34 ✠ A new commandement giue I vnto you, that yee loue one another: as I haue loued you, that ye alſo loue one another.

35 By this ſhall all men knowe, that ye are my diſciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 5 Simon Peter ſaid vnto him, Lord, whither goeſt thou? Ieſus anſwered him, Whither I goe, thou canſt not follow me now: but thou ſhalt follow me afterward.

37 Peter ſaid vnto him, Lord, why can I not follow thee now? h I will lay downe my life for thy ſake.

38 Ieſus anſwered him, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my ſake? Verely, verely I ſay vnto thee, The cocke ſhall not crowe, till thou haue denied me thrife.

3 2 And if I goe to prepare a place for you, I will c come againe, and receiue you vnto my ſelfe, that where I am, there may ye be alſo.

4 3 And whither I goe, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas ſaid vnto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goeſt: how can we then know ŷ way?

6 Ieſus ſaid vnto him, I am d that Way, and that Trueth, and that Life. No man commeth vnto the Father, but by me.

7 e If ye had knowen mee, yee ſhould haue knowen my Father alſo: and from henceforth ye know him, and haue ſeene him.

8 Philip ſaid vnto him, Lord, ſhew vs thy Father, and it ſufficeth vs.

9 Ieſus ſaid vnto him, I haue beene ſo long time with you, and haſt thou not knowen mee, Philip? hee that hath ſeene mee, hath ſeene my Father: how then ſayeſt thou, Shew vs thy Father?

10 4 Beleeueſt thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The wordes that I ſpeake vnto you, I ſpeake not of my ſelfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the workes.

11 Beleeue me, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in mee: at the leaſt, beleeue me for the very workes ſake.

12 5 Verely, verely I ſay vnto you, he that beleeueth in me, the workes that I doe, he ſhall doe alſo, and f greater then theſe ſhall hee doe: for I goe vnto my Father.

13 ✠ And whatſoeuer yee aske in my Name, that will I doe, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If yee ſhall aske any thing in my Name, I will doe it.

15 6 If ye loue me, keepe my commandements.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he ſhall giue you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for euer, 17 Euen the g Spirit of trueth, whom the h world cannot receiue, becauſe it ſeeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him: for he dwelleth with you, and ſhall be in you.

18 I will not leaue you fatherleſſe: but I will come to you.

19 Yet a litle while, and the world ſhall ſee me no more, but yee ſhall ſee me: becauſe I liue, ye ſhall liue alſo.

20 At that day ſhall ye know that I am i in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandements, and keepeth them, is he that loueth me: and hee that loueth me, ſhallbe loued of my Father: and I will loue him, and will k ſhew mine owne ſelfe to him.

22 7 Iudas ſaid vnto him, (not Iſcariot) Lord, what is the cauſe that thou wilt ſhew thy ſelfe vnto vs, and not vnto the world?

23 Ieſus anſwered, and ſaid vnto him, If any man loue mee, he will keepe my word, and my Father will loue him, and he will come vnto him, and will dwell with him.

24 He that loueth mee not, keepeth not my words, and the word which ye heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which ſent me.

25 8 Theſe things haue I ſpoken vnto you, being preſent with you.

26 ✠ But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghoſt, whom the Father will ſend in my Name, he ſhall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I haue told you.

9. All true felicity commeth to vs by Christ alone.
13 So farre is it, that we should be sory for the departing of Christ, from vs according to the flesh, that we should rather reioyce for it, seeing that all the blessing of the members dependeth vpon the glorifying of the head.
d This is spoken in that, that he is Mediatour, for to the Father is greater then he, in as much as the person to whom request is made, is greater then hee that maketh the request. 11 Christ goeth to death not vnwillingly, but willingly, not as yeelding to the deuill, but obeying his Fathers decree. m As who would say, Satan will by and by set vpon me with all the might he can, but he hath no power ouer me, neither shall he find any such thing in me, as he thinketh he shall.

27 9 Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the world giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.
28 10 Ye haue heard how I said vnto you, I goe away, and will come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye would verely reioyce, because I said, I go vnto the Father: for the Father [i] is greater then I.
29 And now haue I spoken vnto you, before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue.
30 11 Hereafter will I not speake many things vnto you: for the prince of this world commeth, and hath [m] nought in mee, 31 But it is that the worlde may knowe that I loue my Father: and as the Father hath commanded me, so I doe. Arise, let vs goe hence.

CHAP. XV.

1 By the parable of the vine, 2 and the branches, 5, 6 hee declareth how the disciples may beare fruite. 12. 17 He commandeth mutuall loue. 18 He exhorteth them to beare afflictions patiently, 20 by his owne example.

I [1] Am that true vine, and my Father is that husbandman.
2 ✣ Euery braunch that beareth not fruite in mee, hee taketh away: and euery one that beareth fruit, hee purgeth it, that it may bring foorth more fruit.
3 ✣ Now are ye cleane through the word, which I haue spoken vnto you.
4 Abide in me, and I in you: as the branch can not beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.
5 I am that vine: ye are the braunches: he that abideth in mee, and I in him, the same bringeth foorth much fruit: for without me can ye doe nothing.
6 ✣ If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.
7 ✣ [2] If ye abide in me, and my wordes abide in you, aske what ye will, and it shall be done to you.
8 [a] Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruit, and be made my disciples.
9 [3] As the Father hath loued me, so haue I loued you: [b] continue in that my loue.
10 If ye shall keepe my commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers commandements, and abide in his loue.
11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.
12 ✣ This is my commandement, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.
13 Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.
14 Yee are my friends, if ye doe whatsoeuer I commaund you.
15 4 Henceforth call I you not seruants: for the seruant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I haue called you friends: for all things that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made knowen to you.
16 5 Ye [c] haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordained you, ✣ that ye goe & bring forth fruit, and that your fruit remaine, that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the Father in my Name, hee may giue it you.
17 These things commaund I you, that ye loue one another.
18 6 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before you.
19 If ye were of the worlde, the world would loue his owne: but because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.
20 Remember the word that I said vnto you, ✣ The seruant is not greater then his master. ∵ If they haue persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they haue kept my worde, they will also keepe yours.
21 7 But ✣ all these things will they doe vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.
22 d If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloake for their sinne.
23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.
24 If I had not done workes among them which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both seene, and haue hated both me, and my Father.
25 But it is that the worde might be fulfilled, that is written in their [e] Law, ✣ They hated mee without a cause.
26 8 But when that Comforter shall come, * whom I will sende vnto you from the Father, euen the Spirit of trueth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.
27 And ye shall witnesse also, because ye haue beene with me from the beginning.

1 We are of nature dire and fit for nothing but the fire: Therefore that we may liue and be fruitfull, we must first be graffed into Christ, as it were into a vine by the Fathers hand: and then be daily stred with continuall meditation of the word and the crosse; otherwise it shall not auaile any man at all to haue beene graffed, vnlesse he cleaue fast vnto the vine, and so draw iuice out of it.
✣ Mat. 15, 13.
✣ Chap. 13, 10.
✣ Colos. 2, 23.
∵ 1 Iohn 3, 22.
2 He abideth in Christ, which reposeth in his doctrine, and therefore bringeth forth good fruit: And the Father will denie such an one nothing.
a As who would say, Herein shall my Father be glorified, and herein also shall you be my disciples, if you bring forth much fruit.
3 The loue of the Father towards the Sonne, and of the Sonne towards vs, and ours towards God and our neighbour, are ioyned together with an vnseparable knot: and there is nothing more sweet and pleasant then it is. Now this loue sheweth it selfe by the effects: a most perfect example whereof, Christ himselfe exhibiteth vnto vs. b That is, in that loue, wherewith I loue you: which loue is on both parts. ✣ Chap. 13, 34. 1. thess. 4, 9. 1. Iohn 3, 11. and 4, 21.
4 The doctrine of the Gospell (as it is vttered by Christes owne mouth) is a most perfect and absolute declaration of the counsell of God, which pertaineth to our saluation, and is committed vnto the Apostles.

5 Christ is the author and preseruer of the ministerie of the Gospell, euen to the worlds end, but the ministers haue aboue all things need of prayer and brotherly loue.
c This place teacheth vs plainely, that our saluation commeth from the onely fauour and gratious goodnesse of the euerlasting God towards vs, & of nothing that we doe or can deserue.
✣ Mat. 28, 19.
6 It ought not onely not to feare, but rather confirme the faithfull ministers of Christ, when they finde the hated of the world as their Master was.
✣ Chap. 13, 16. mat. 10, 24.
∵ Mat. 24, 9.
7 The hatred that the world beareth against Christ, proceedeth of the blockishnesse of the mind, which notwithstanding is voluntarie blind, so that the world can pretend no excuse to couer their fault.
✣ Chap. 16, 9.
d As who would say, If I had not come, these men would not haue stuck so haue sayd still before God: wherefore seing that they cleaue to them, and they cleaue to sinne, they can haue no cloake for their wickednesse.
e Sometime by this word, Law, are meant the fiue bookes of Moses, but in this place, the whole Scripture: for the place alleaged is in the Psalmes. ✣ Psal. 35, 19.
8 Against the rage of the wicked, we shall stand surely by the inward testimonie of the holy Ghost: But the holy Ghost speaketh no otherwise, then he spake by the mouth of the Apostles. * Chap. 14, 26. Iuke 24, 49.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Hee foretelleth the disciples of persecution. 7 He promiseth the Comforter, and declareth his office. 21 Hee compareth the affliction of his, to a woman that trauaileth with child.

THese [1] things haue I saide vnto you, that yee should not be offended.
2 They shall excommunicate you: yea the time shall come, that whosoeuer killeth you, will thinke that he doth God seruice.
3 And these things will they doe vnto you, because they haue not knowen the Father, nor me.
4 ✣ But these things haue I told you, that when the houre shall come, ye might remember, that I tolde you them. And these things saide I not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.
5 But now I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?
6 But because I haue saide these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.
7 [2] Yet I tell you the trueth, It is expedient for you that I goe away: for if I goe not away, that Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.
8 [3] And

1 The ministers of the Gospell must looke for all maners of reproaches, not onely of them which are open enemies: but euen of them also which seeme to be of the same houshold, and the verie pillars of the Church.
✣ Chap. 15, 21.

2 The absence of Christ, according to the flesh, is profitable to the Church, that we may wholly depend vpon his spirituall power.

3 The Spirit of God worketh so mightily by the preaching of the word, that he constraineth the world will it, nill it, to confesse it to one or other righteousnesse, and Christs righteousnesse and almightinesse.
a He will soreprooue the world, that the worldlings shall be able to pretend no excuse.
b He specifieth the time that followed his ascension, when as all gainsayers were manifestly reproued through the powring out of the holy Ghost vpon the Church: So that the very enemies of Christ were reproued of sinne, in that they were constrained to confesse that they were deceiued, in that they beleeued not, and therefore they said to Peter, Acts 2. Men and brethren, what shall we doe?
c Of Christ himselfe: For when the world shall see, that I haue powred out the holy Ghost, they shall be constrained to confesse that I was iust, and was vnderstood and knowen of my Father, when I went out of this world.
d Of that authority and power, which I haue both in heauen and earth.
e That is, because they shall then vnderstand and know indeed, that I haue ouercome the deuil, and doe gouerne the world when all men shall see, that they set themselues against you in vaine, for I will arme you with that heauenly power, whereby you may destroy euery high thing which is lifted vp against the knowledge of God, 2. Cor. 10, 12.
4 The doctrine of the Apostles proceeded from the holy Ghost, and it is most perfite. 5 The holy Ghost bringeth no newe doctrine, but teacheth that which was vttered by Christes owne mouth, and imprinteth it in our minders. 6 The grace of the holy Ghost is a most liuely glasse, wherein Christ is truely beholden with the most sharpe sighted eyes of faith, and not with the bleared eyes of the flesh: whereby we feele a continuall ioy euen in the middeit of sorrowes. f Woen a little time is once past. g For I passe to eternall glorie, so that I shall be much more present with you then I was before: for then you shall fecle indeede what I am, and what I am able to doe. ✣ Chap. 14, 13. mat. 7, 7. And 21, 22. marke 11, 24. luke 11, 9. Iames 1, 5. 7 The holy Ghost which was powred vpon the Apostles after the Ascension of Christ, instructed both them in all the chiefest mysteries and secrets of our saluation, and also by them the Church, and will also instruct it to the end of the world. 8 The summe of the worship of God, is the inuocation of the Father in the Name of the Sonne the Mediatour, who is alreadie heard for vs, for whom he both abased himselfe, and is now also glorified.

8 3 And when he is come, hee will 2 reproone the b world of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement.
9 Of sinne, because they beleeued not in me:
10 Of c righteousnesse, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.
11 Of d iudgement, e because the prince of this world is iudged.
12 4 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them now.
13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the spirit of trueth, he will lead you into all trueth: for he shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoeuer hee shall heare, shall he speake, and he will shewe you the things to come.
14 5 He shall glorifie me: for hee shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.
15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that hee shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.
16 6 A f little while, and ye shall not see mee: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me: g for I goe to the Father.
17 Then said some of his disciples among themselues, What is this that hee saith vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see mee, and againe, A little while, and ye shall see me, and, For I goe to the Father.
18 They saide therefore, What is this that hee saith, A little while? we know not what he saieth.
19 Now Iesus knew that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe yee enquire among your selues, of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, a little while, & ye shall see me?
20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that yee shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce, and ye shall sorowe, but your sorow shall be turned to ioy.
21 A woman when she trauaileth, hath sorowe because her houre is come: but as soone as shee is deliuered of the child, shee remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.
22 And yee now therefore are in sorow: but I will see you againe, and your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy shall no man take from you.
23 And in that day shall yee aske me nothing. ✣ Verely, verely, I say vnto you, whatsoeuer yee shall aske the Father in my Name, hee will giue it you.
24 Hitherto haue yee asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.
25 7 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shewe you plainely of the Father.
26 8 At that day shall yee aske in my Name.

& I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you:
27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, ✣ and haue beleeued that I came out from God.
28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: againe I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.
29 9 His disciples said vnto him, Loe, now speakest thou plainely, and thou speakest no parable.
30 Nowe knowe wee that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this wee beleeue, that thou art come out from God.
31 Iesus answered them, Doe you beleeue now?
32 ✣ 10 Behold, the houre commeth, and is alreadie come, that yee shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: But I am not alone: for the Father is with me.
33 11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that h in me ye might haue peace, in the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue ouercome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ prayeth that his glorie together with his Fathers may me made manifest. 9 He prayeth for his Apostles, 20 and for all beleeuers.

THese i things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and saide, a Father, that houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee,
2 ✣ As thou hast giuen him power ouer a all flesh, that he should giue eternall life to all them that thou hast giuen him.
3 And this is life eternall, that they know thee to be the b onely very God, and whome thou hast sent, Iesus Christ.
4 I haue glorified thee on the eath: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.
5 And now glorifie me thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glorie which I had with thee before the world was.
6 3 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest mee out of the worlde: c thine they were, and thou d gauest them mee, and they haue kept thy word.
7 ✣ Now they know that all things whatsoeuer thou hast giuen me, are of thee.
8 For I haue giuen vnto them the words which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleeued that thou hast sent me.
9 I pray for them: I pray not for the worlde, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

✣ Chap. 17, 8.
9 Faith and foolish securitie differ very much.
✣ Mat. 26, 31. marke 14, 27.
10 Neither the wickednesse of the world neither the weaknesse of his owne can diminish any thing of the vertue of Christ.
11 The suretie and stay of the Church dependeth onely vpon the victorie of Christ.
h That in me you might be throughly quieted. For by (peace) is meant in this place, that quiet state of mind, which is cleane contrarie to disquietnesse and beastinesse.

i Iesus Christ the euerlasting high Priest being readie straightwayes to offer vp himselfe, doth by solemne prayers consecrate himselfe to God the Father as a sacrifice: and vs together with himselfe. Therefore this prayer was from the beginning, is, and shall be to the end of the world, the foundation and ground of the Church of God.
a He first declareth, that as he came into the world to the end that the Father might shew in him, being apprehended by faith, his glorie in sauing his elect: so he applyeth himselfe to that onely: & and therefore desireth of the Father, that he would blesse the worke which he hath finished.

✣ Mat. 28, 18. a Ouer all men. b He calleth the Father the onely verie God, to set him against all false gods, and not to shut out himselfe and the holy Ghost. For straightwayes hee teacheth the knowledge of the Father and the knowledge of himselfe together, and according to his accustomed manner, setteth forth the whole Godhead in the person of the Father: So is the Father alone said to be King, immortall, wise, and dwelling in light which no man can attaine vnto, inuisible, Roman. 16, 17. 1. tim. 1, 17. 3 First of all he prayeth for those his disciples, by whome he would haue the elect to be gathered together, and commendeth them vnto the Father, (hauing once reiected the whole companie of the reprobate) because hee receiued them of him into his custodie, and for that they embracing his doctrine, shall haue so many and so mightie enemies, that there is no way for them to be in safetie, but by his helpe onely. c Hee sheweth hereby that euerlasting election was chosie, which was hidden in the good will and pleasure of God, which is the ground worke of our saluation, d He sheweth how that euerlasting and hidden purpose of God is declared in Christ, by whom wee are iustified and sanctified, if we lay holde on him by faith, that at length we may come to the glorie of the election. ✣ Chap. 16, 27.

o He prayeth that his people may peaceably agree and be ioyned together in one, that as the Godhead is one, so they may be of one mind and one consent together. ✣ Psal. 109, 7.

4 Hee sheweth what maner of deliuerance he meaneth, not that they should be in no danger, but that they being preserued from all, might proue by experience that the doctrine of saluation is true, which they receiued at his mouth to deliuer to other.

f That is, make them holy: and that as fayd to be holy, which is dedicated and made proper to God onely.

5 Hee addeth moreouer, that the Apostles haue a vocation common with him, and therefore that they must be holden vp by the selfe same vertue to giue vp themselues wholly to God, whereby he being first, did consecrate himselfe to the Father.

g The true and substantiall sanctification of Christ, is set against the outward purifyings.

6 Secondarily hee offereth to God the Father, all his, that it is, how many soeuer shall beleeue in him by the doctrine of the Apostles: that as he cleaueth vnto the Father receiuing from him all fulnesse, so they being ioyned with him, may receiue life from him, and at length being together beloued in him.

7 He communicateth with his by title & title, the knowledge of the Father, which is most full in Christ the Mediatour, that they may in him be beloued of the Father, with the selfe same loue wherewith he loueth the Sonne.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe them in thy Name, euen them whom thou hast giuen me, that they may be o one as we are.

12 While I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy Name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but the childe of perdition, that the ✣ Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things speake I in the world, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselues.

14 I haue giuen them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of ỹ world, as I am not of the world.

15 4 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou keepe them from euill.

16 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

17 f Sanctifie them with thy trueth: thy word is trueth.

18 5 As thou diddest sent mee into the world, so haue I sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also may be sanctified through the g trueth.

20 6 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall beleeue in mee, through their word, 21 That they all may be one, as thou, O Father, art in mee, and I in thee: euen that they may be also one in vs, that the world may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory that thou gauest mee, I haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one,

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them as thou hast loued me.

24 ✣ Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen mee, be with me euen where I am, that they may behold that my glory, which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world also hath not knowen thee, but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen, that thou hast sent me.

26 7 And I haue declared vnto them thy Name, and will declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

WHen Iesus had spoken these things, hee went foorth with his disciples ouer the brooke ỹ Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred, and his disciples.

with his disciples.

3 ✣ 2 Iudas then, after he had receiued a band of men and officers of the high Priests, and of the Pharises, came thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 3 Then Iesus, knowing all things that should come vnto him, went foorth and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus said vnto them, I am he. Now Iudas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Assoone then as he had said vnto them, I am he, they went away backwardes, and fell to the ground.

7 Then he asked them againe, Whom seeke ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 4 Iesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am he: therefore if ye seeke me, let these go their way.

9 This was that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, ✣ Of them which thou gauest me, haue I lost none.

10 5 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the hie Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then saide Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tocke Iesus and bound him.

13 6 And led him away to ỹ Annas first (for hee was father in lawe to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yeere.)

14 ✣ And Caiaphas was hee, that gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ 7 ✣ Now Simon Peter followed Iesus, and another disciple, and that disciple was knowen of the hie Priest: therefore he went in with Iesus into the hall of the hie Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out the other disciple which was knowen vnto the high Priests, and spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maid that kept the doore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He said, I am not.

18 And the seruants and officers stood there, which had made a fire of coales: for it was colde, and they warmed themselues and Peter also stood among them, and warmed himselfe.

19 ¶ (8 The hie Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world: I euer taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou mee? aske them which heard mee what I saide vnto them: beholde, they know what I said.

22 When hee had spoken these things, one of the officers which stood by, smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 ¶ * Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the hie Priest)

28 ¶ ✣ 10 Then led they Iesus from a Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselues went not into the common hall, least they should be ✣ defiled, but that they might eate the Passeouer.
29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and sayd, What accusation bring ye against this man?
30 They answered, and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, wee would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.
31 Then sayd Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Lawe. Then the Iewes sayd vnto him, b It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.
32 It was that the word of Iesus ✣ might be fulfilled which he spake, c signifying what death he should die.
33 ✣ So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Iesus, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?
34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?
35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iew? Thine owne nation, and the high Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me, What hast thou done?
36 11 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants would surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.
37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause I am borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witnesse vnto the trueth: euery one that is of the trueth, heareth my voice.
38 12 Pilate sayd vnto him, d What is trueth? And when he had sayd that, hee went out againe vnto the Iewes, and sayd vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.
39 ✣ But you haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loose at the Passeouer: will yee then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

CHAP. XIX.

1 Pilate, when Christ was scourged, 2 and crowned with thornes, 4 was desirous to let him loose: 5 but being ouercome with the outrage of the Iewes, 16 he deliuereth him to be crucified. 26 Iesus committeth his mother to the disciple. 30 Hauing tasted vineger, he dieth: 34 and being dead, his side is pierced with a speare. 40 He is buried.

THen ✣ Pilate tooke Iesus, and 1 scourged him.
2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment,
3 And said, Haile King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rods.
4 2 Then Pilate went foorth againe, and said vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know, that I find no fault in him at all.
5 Then came Iesus foorth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, Behold the man.
6 Then when the hie Priests and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, a Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I find no fault in him.
7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himselfe the Sonne of God.
8 ¶ 3 When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraid,
9 And went againe into the common hall, and said vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answere.
10 Then sayd Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?
11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.
12 From thence foorth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cesars friend: for whosoeuer maketh himselfe a King, speaketh against Cesar.
13 ¶ 4 When Pilate heard this worde, hee brought Iesus foorth, and sate downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the pauement, and in Hebrew, b Gabbatha.
14 And it was the Preparation of the Passeouer, and about the sixt houre: and hee said vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.
15 But they cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saide vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The hie Priests answered, We haue no King but Cesar.
16 5 Then deliuered hee him vnto them, to be crucified. ✣ And they tooke Iesus, and led him away.
17 And he bare his owne crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens skulles, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha:
18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the midst.
19 ¶ 6 And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.
20 This title then read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was neere to the citie: and it was written in Hebrewe, Greeke, and Latine.
21 Then said the high Priestes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that he said, I am the King of the Iewes.
22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.
23 ¶ 7 Then the ✣ souldiours, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments (and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part) and his coat: and the coate was without seame wouen from the top thorowout.
24 ¶ Therefore they saide one to another, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be. This was that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, ✣ They parted my garments among them, and on my coat did cast lots. So the souldiers did these things indeed.
25 ¶ 8 Then stoode by the crosse of Iesus his mother, a They will haue him crucified, whom by an old custome of theirs, they should haue stoned and hanged vp as commit of blasphemie: but they desire to haue him crucified after the maner of the Romans.

3 Pilats conscience fighteth for Christ, but straightway it yeeldeth, because it is not vpholden with the singular vertue of God.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Iesus appeareth to his disciples as they were a fishing. 6, 7 whom they know by a miraculous draught of fishes. 15 He committeth the charge of the sheepe to Peter, 18 and foretelleth him of the manner of his death.

AFter these things, [1] Iesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himselfe:

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said vnto them, I goe a fishing. They sayd vnto him, Wee also will goe with thee. They went their way and entred into a shippe straightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus then sayd vnto them, Syrs, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 Then he sayd vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall finde. So they cast out, and, they were not able at all to draw it, for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore sayde the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his [a] coat to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by shippe, (for they were not farre from lande, but about two hundreth cubites) and they drewe the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to lande, they sawe hote coales, and fish layed thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus sayde vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped foorth and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, an hundreth, fiftie and three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus sayde vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou? seeing they knewe that hee was the Lord.

13 Iesus then came and tooke bread and gaue them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed himselfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

15 ¶ [2] So when they had dined, Iesus sayde to Simon Peter, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feed my lambes.

16 He sayd to him againe the second time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? He sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayd vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

17 He sayd vnto him [b] the third time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third time, Louest thou me? and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus said vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

18 [3] Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When thou wast yong, thou [c] girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch foorth thine handes, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldest [c] not.

19 And this spake he signifying by what [d] death he should glorifie God. And when he had said this, he said to him, Follow me.

20 [4] Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whom IESVS loued, following, which had also ✣ leaned on his breast at supper, and had sayde, Lord, which is hee that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore saw him, hee sayd to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

22 Iesus sayd vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this worde abroad among the brethren, that this disciple should not die. Yet Iesus said not to him, Hee shall not die: but if I will that hee tary till I come, what is it to thee?

24 [5] This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimonie is true.

25 ✣ Now there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should be written euery one, I suppose the worlde coulde not conteine the bookes that should be written. Amen.

Matth.18,18. 6 The publishing of the forgiuenesse of sinnes by faith in Christ, and the setting forth and denouncing the wrath of God in retaining the sinnes of the vnbeleeuers, is the summe of the preaching of the Gospel.

7 Christ draweth out of the vnbeleefe of Thomas, a certaine and sure testimonie of his resurrection.

8 True faith dependeth vpon the mouth of God, and not vpon fleshly eyes.

✣ Chap.20,29.

9 To beleeue in Christ the Sonne of God: and out onely Sauiour, is the end of the doctrine of the Gospel, and especially of the history of the resurrection.

1 In that, that Christ here is not onely present, but also eateth with his disciples, he giueth a most full assurance of his resurrection.

a It was a linnen garment, which could not let his swimming.

a Peter by his triple confession is restored into his former degree from whence he fell by his triple denial: and thereuppon is also inuested, that he is indeed a pastour, which sheweth his loue to Christ in feeding his sheep.

b It was meet that he that had denied him thrise, should confesse him thrise, that Peter might neither doubt of the forgiuenesse of his grieuous a sinne, nor of his restoring to the office of the Apostleship.

c The violent death of Peter is foretolde.

c They that tooke fayre iourneys, especially in the East countrey, and in those places where the people vsed long garments, had need to be girded and trussed vp.

d He meant that kinde of girding which is vsed toward captiues, when they are bound fast with cordes and chaines, as when it is said, Now thou girdest thy selfe as thou thinkest best, to go whither thou listest, but the time will be, when thou shalt not gird thee with a girdle, but another shall binde thee with chaines, and carry thee whither they thou wouldest not.

e Not that Peter suffered ought for the truth of God against his will: for we read that he came with ioy and gladnes when he returned from the Councell where he was whipped: but because this will commeth not from the flesh, but from aboue: therefore he foresaith there should be a certaine fretting & conflict or repugnance, which also is in vs, in all our sufferances, as touching the flesh.

f That is, that Peter should die by a violent death.

THE ACTES OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, WRITTEN BY LVKE THE EVANGELIST.

CHAP. I.

1 Luke tieth this historie to his Gospell. 10 Christ being taken vnto heauen, 10 the Apostles 11 being warned by the Angels, 12 to returne, 14 and giue themselues to prayer. 15 By Peters motion, 18 into Iudas the traitours place 26 Matthias is chosen.

THe made the [1] former treatise, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began to [a] doe and teach.

2 Vntill the day that hee was taken vp, after that hee through the holy Ghost, had giuen commaundements vnto the Apostles, whom hee had chosen:

3 [2] To whom also hee presented himselfe aliue after that hee had suffered, by many [b] infallible tokens, being seene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, and speaking of those things which appertaine to the kingdome of God.

4 ✣ And when he had [c] gathered them together, he commanded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but to waite for the promise of the Father, ✣ which said he, ye haue heard of me.

5 [3] For Iohn indeed baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized [d] with the holy Ghost within these few dayes.

6 [3] When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time [e] restore the kingdome to Israel?

7 And he sayd vnto them, It is not for you to know the times, or the [f] seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power.

8 ✣ But yee shall receiue power of the holy Ghost, when he shall come on you: and ye shalbe witnesses vnto mee both in Hierusalem and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

9 ✣ [4] And when hee had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp: for a cloude tooke him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as he went, behold, two men stoode by them in white apparell, 11 Which also sayd, Yee men of Galile, why stand ye gasing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp [g] from you into heauen, shall so come, as ye haue seene him go into heauen.

12 ¶ Then returned they vnto Hierusalem from the mount that is called the mount of Oliues, which is neere to Hierusalem, being from it a Sabbath [h] dayes iourney.

13 [5] And when they were [i] come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, were aboade both Peter and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartlemew, & Matthewe, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

14 These all [k] continued with [l] one accord in [m] prayer and supplication with the [n] women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his [o] brethren.

15 ¶ [6] And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the middes of the disciples, and sayd (now the number of [p] names that were in one place were about an hundreth and twentie,)

16 [7] Yee men and brethren, this scripture must needes haue beene fulfilled, which the ✣ holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was [q] guide to them that tooke Iesus.

17 For hee was numbred with vs, and had obteined fellowship in this ministration.

18 He therefore hath [q] purchased a fielde with the reward of iniquity: and when [r] he had throwen downe himselfe headlong, he brast asunder in the middes, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the inhabitants of Hierusalem, in so much, that that field is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, ✣ Let his habitation be voyd, and let no man dwel therein: ✣ also, Let another take his [s] charge.

21 [8] Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time, that the Lord Iesus was [t] conuersant among vs, 22 Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn vnto the day that he was taken vp [u] from vs, must one of them be made a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 [9] And they [x] presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, saying, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take the [y] roume of this ministration and Apostleship, from which Iudas hath [z] gone astray, to go to his owne place.

26 Then they gaue forth their lots: and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was by a common consent counted with the eleuen Apostles.

CHAP. II.

1 The Apostles 4 filled with the holy Ghost, 8 speake with diuers tongues. 12 They are thought to be drunke, 15 but Peter disprooueth that. 34 He teacheth that Christ is the Messias: 37 And seeing the hearers astonied, 38 he exhorteth them to repentance.

AND 1 when the day of Pentecost was a come, they were b all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heauen, as of a rushing and mightie winde, and it filled all the house where they sate.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, like fire, and it sate vpon eache of them,

4 And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and began to speake with c other tongues, as the d Spirit gaue them vtterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Hierusalem Iewes, men that feared God, of euery nation vnder heauen.

6 Now when this was noised, the multitude came together and were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake his owne language.

7 And they wondered all, and marueiled, saying among themselues, Behold, are not all these which speake, of Galile?

8 e How then heare we euery man our owne language, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the inhabitants of Mesopotamia, and of Iudea, and of Cappadocia, of Pontus, and Asia,

10 And of Phrygia, and Pamphylia, of Egypt, and of the parts of Libya, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, & f Iewes, and Proselytes, 11 Cretes, and Arabians: we heard them speake in our owne tongues the wonderfull workes of God.

12 2 They were all then amased, and doubted, saying one to another, What may this be?

13 And others g mocked, and sayd, They are full of new wine.

14 ¶ But Peter standing with the eleuen, h lift vp his voyce, and said vnto them, Yee men of Iudea, and ye all that inhabite Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and hearken vnto my words.

15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, since it is but the i third houre of the day.

16 But this is that, which was spoken by the k Prophet ✣ Ioel, 17 3 And it shalbe in the last dayes, saith God, I will powre out of my Spirit vpon l all m flesh, and your sonnes, and your daughters shall prophecie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your olde men shall dreame dreames.

18 And on my seruants, and on mine handmaides I will powre out of my Spirit in those dayes, and they shall prophecie.

19 And I will shew wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

20 The Sunne shall be turned into darkenesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 4 And it shalbe, that whosoeuer shall n call on the Name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

22 5 Yee men of Israel, heare these wordes, IESVS of Nazareth, a man o approoued of God among you with great workes, and wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the mids of you, as ye your selues also know:

23 Him, I say, being deliuered by the determinate counsell, and p foreknowledge of God, after you had taken, with wicked q hands, you haue crucified and r slaine.

24 6 Whom God hath raised vp, and loosed the s sorrowes of death, because it was vnpossible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid saith concerning him, ✣ I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand, that I should not be shaken.

26 Therefore did mine heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad, and moreouer also my flesh shall rest in hope.

27 Because thou wilt not t leaue my soule in graue, neither wilt suffer thine Holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast u shewed me the wayes of life, and shalt make mee full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, I may boldely speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, ✣ that hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remaineth with vs vnto this day.

30 Therefore, seeing he was a Prophet, and knew that God had v x sworne with an oathe to him, that of the fruit of his loines he would raise vp Christ concerning the flesh, to set him vpon his throne, 31 He knowing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that y his soule should not be left in graue, neither his flesh should see corruption.

32 7 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Since then that hee by the z right hand of God hath beene exalted, and hath receiued of his Father the promise of the holy Ghost, hee hath shed foorth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but hee saith, ✣ The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thine enemies thy footestoole.

36 Therefore, let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath a made him both Lord, and Christ, this Iesus, I say, whom yee haue crucified,

1 The Apostles being gathered together on a most solemne feast day in one place, that it might euidently appeare to all the world, that they had all one office, one Spirit, one faith, are by a double signe from heauen authorised, and anointed with all the most excellent gifts of the holy Ghost, and especially with an extraordinarie and necessary gift of tongues.

a Word for word, was fulfilled: that is, was begunne, as Luke 1.31. For the Hebrewes say, that a day, or a yeere is fulfilled or ended, when the former dayes or yeeres are ended, and the other begunne, Iere. 25.12. And it shall come to passe, that when seuenitie yeeres are fulfilled, I will visite, &c. For the Lord did not bring home his people after the seuentieth yeere was ended, but in the seuentieth yeere. Now the day of Pentecost was the fiftieth day after the feast of the Passeouer.

b The twelue Apostles, which were to be the Patriarkes as it were of the Church.

c He calleth them other tongues, which were not the same which the Apostles vsed commonly, and Marke calleth them new tongues.

d Hereby wee vnderstand that the Apostles vsed not now one tongue, and then another by hap-hazard and at all aduenture, or as fantasticall men vse to doe, but with good consideration of their hearers: and to be short, that they spake nothing but as the holy Ghost gouerned their tongues.

e Not that they spake with one voyce, and many languages were heard, but that the Apostles spake with strange tongues: for els the miracle had rather beene in the hearers, whereas now it is in the speakers. Nazian. in his oration of Withsunday.

f By Iewes, hee meaneth them that were both Iewes by birth, and Iewes by profession of religion, though they were borne in other places: and they were Proselytes, which were Gentiles borne, and embraced the Iewish religion.

g Gods worde pierceth some so, that it driueth them to seeke out the truth, and it doeth so choke other, that it forceth them to be witnesse of their owne impudencie.

h The worde which he vseth here, signifieth such a kinde of mocking which is reproachfull and contumelious: And by this reproachfull mocking we see, that there is no miracle so great and excellent, which the wickednes of man dareth not speake euill of.

i Peter his boldnesse is to be marked, wherein the grace of the holy Ghost is to be seene, euen straight after the beginning.

k After the sunne rising, which may be about seuen or eight of the cloke with vs.

l There is nothing that can dissolue questions and doubts, but testimonies taken out of the Prophets: for mens reasons may be ouerturned, but Gods woyce can not be ouerturned. ✣ Ioel 2.28. &c. 1.Cor. 14.21.

m Peter setting the trueth of God against the false accusations of men, sheweth in himselfe and in his fellowes, that that is fulfilled which Ioel spake before concerning the full giuing of the holy Ghost in the latter dayes: which grace also is offered to the whole Church, to their certaine and vndoubted deliuerance, which doe contemne it.

i All without exception, both vpon the Iewes and Gentiles. n That is, men.

4 The chiefest vse of all the gifts of the holy Ghost, is to bring men to saluation by faith.

n This word, Call on, signifieth in holy Scriptures, an earnest praying and crauing for helpe at Gods hand.

5 Christ being innocent, was by Gods prouidence crucified of wicked men.

o Who is by those workes which God wrought by him, so manifestly approoued and allowed of, that no man can gainesay him.

p Gods euerlasting knowledge going before, which can neither be separated from his determinate counsell, as the Epicures say, neither yet be the cause of euill: for God in his euerlasting & vnchangeable counsell, appointed the wicked acte of Iudas to an excellent ende: and God doeth that well, which the instruments doe ill.

q Gods counsell doeth not excuse the Iewes, whose hands were wicked.

r The fact is sayd to be theirs, by whose counsell and egging forward it is done

6 Christ (as Dauid foretolde) did not onely rise againe, but also was in the graue voide of all corruption.

s The death that was full of sorowe both of body and minde: therefore when death appered conquerour and victour ouer these sorowes, Christ is rightly sayd to haue ouercome these sorowes of death, when as being dead, he ouercame death, to liue for euer with his Father.

8 Repentance and remission of sinnes in Christ, are two principles of the Gospel, and therefore of our salvation, and they are obtained by the promises apprehended by faith, and are ratified in vs by Baptisme, wherewith is signed the vertue of the holy Ghost.
a The word that is vsed here, giueth vs to vnderstand that it was a free gift.
9 Hee is truely ioyned to the Church which separateth himselfe from the wicked.
10 A notable example of the vertue of the holy Ghost: but such as are of age, are not baptized before they make confession of their faith.
11 The markes of the true Church of the doctrine of the Apostles, the duties of charitie, the pure and simple administration of the Sacraments, and true invocation vsed of all the faithfull.
b Communicating of goods, and all other duties of charitie, as is shewed afterward. c The Iewes vsed thin loaues, and therefore they did rather breake them then cut them: So by breaking of bread, they vnderstood that liuing together and the banquets which they vsed to keepe. And when they kept their lone feastes, they vsed to celebrate the Lords Supper, which euen in these dayes began to be corrupted, and Paul amendeth it, 1. Cor. 11. 12 So soft as the Lord thinketh expedient, he bridleth the rage of strangers, that the Church may be planted, and haue some refreshing. 13 Charitie maketh all things common concerning the vse, according as necessitie requireth. 14 The faithfull came together at the beginning with great fruit, not onely to the hearing of the word, but also to meat.

37 Now when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and sayd vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we doe?
38 8 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Amend your liues, and be baptized euery one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ for the remission of sinnes: and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.
39 For the a promise is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shall call.
40 9 And with many other words he besought and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this froward generation.
41 10 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized, and the same day there were added to the Church about three thousand soules.
42 11 And they continued in the Apostles doctrine, and b fellowship, and c breaking of bread, and prayers.
43 ¶ 12 And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders & signes were done by ✠ Apostles.
44 13 And all that beleeued, where in one place, and had all things common.
45 And they sold their possessions, and goods, and parted them to all men, as euery one had need.
46 14 And they continued dayly with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread at home, did eate their meat together with gladnesse and singlenesse of heart.
47 Praising God, and had fauour with all the people: and the Lord added to the Church from day to day, such as should be saued.

CHAP. III.

1 Peter goeth into the Temple with Iohn, 2 healeth the creeple. 9 To the people gathered together to see the miracle, 12 he expoundeth the mysterie of our saluation through Christ, 14 accusing their ingratitude, 19 and requiring their repentance.

NOw Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple, at the ninth houre of prayer.
2 And a certaine man which was a creeple from his mothers wombe was carried, whom they layde dayly at the gate of the Temple called Beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.
3 Who seeing Peter and Iohn, that they would enter into ✠ Temple, desiring to receiue an almes, 4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with Iohn, sayd, Looke on vs.
5 And he a gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.
6 Then said Peter, Siluer & gold haue I none, but such as I haue, that giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, rise vp and walke.
7 And hee tooke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediatly his feete and ankle bones receiued strength.
8 And he leaped vp, stoode, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking and leaping, and praising God.
9 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God.
10 And they knew him, that it was he which sate for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the Temple: and they were amased, and sore astonied at that, which was come vnto him.
11 ¶ And as the creeple which was healed, b held Peter and Iohn, all the people ranne amased vnto them in the porch which is called Salomons.
12 2 So when Peter sawe it, hee answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marueile ye at this? or why looke ye so stedfastly on vs, as though by our own power or godlinesse, we had made this man goe?
13 The God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, the ✠ God of our fathers hath glorified his Sonne Iesus, whom ye betraied, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be deliuered.
14 But yee denied the Holy one and the iust, and desired a murtherer to be giuen you, 15 And killed the Lord c of life, whom God hath raised from the dead, wherof we are witnesses.
16 And his Name hath made this man sound, whom ye see & know, through faith in his Name: d and the faith which is by him, hath giuen to him this perfite health of his whole body in the presence of you all.
17 3 And now brethren, I know that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your gouernours.
18 But those things which God before had shewed e by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled.
19 Amend your liues therefore, and turne, that your sinnes may be put away, when the time of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord.
20 And hee shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you, 21 f Whom the heauen must containe vntill the time that all things be restored, which God had spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets since the world began.
22 ✠ For Moses said vnto the Fathers, The Lord your God shall raise vp vnto you g a Prophet, euen of your brethren, like vnto me: ye shall heare him in all things whatsoeuer he shall say vnto you.
23 For it shalbe that euery person which shal not heare ✠ Prophet, shallbe destroyed out of ✠ people.
24 Also all the Prophets h from Samuel, and thencefoorth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.
25 4 Ye are the i children of the Prophets, and of the couenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, k Euen in thy seede shall all the kinreds of the earth be blessed 26 First vnto you hath God l raised vp his Sonne Iesus, and him he hath sent to bleese you, in turning euery one of you from your iniquities.

1 Christ in healing a man that was borne lame, and well-knowen to all men, both in place and time very famous, by the hands of his Apostles, doeth partly confirme them which beleeued, and partly also calleth other to beleeue.
a Both with heart and eyes.

b Either because he loued them, who had healed him: or because he feared that if he once let them goe out of his sight, he should be lame againe.
2 a Miracles are appointed to conuince the vnbeleeuers, and therefore they doe wickedly abuse them, who standing amased either at the miracles themselues, or at the instruments and meanes which it pleaseth God to vse, take an occasion to establish idolatrie and superstition by that, which God hath prouided for the knowledge of his true worship, that is, Christianitie.
✠ Chap. 5. 30.
c Who hath life in himselfe, and giueth life to others.
d Because he beleeued on him being raised from the dead, whose Name he heard of by vs.
3 It is best of all to receiue Christ so soone as he is offered vnto vs: but such as haue neglected so great a benefite through many weaknesse, haue yet repentance for a meane: As for the ignominie of the crosse, we haue to set against that, the decree and purpose of God, foretold by the Prophets, of Christ, how that first of all he should be crucified here vpon earth, and then he should appeare from heauen the iudge and restorer of all things, that all beleeuers might be saued, and all vnbeleeuers vtterly perish.
e Though there were many Prophets, yet he speaketh but of one mouth, to shewe vnto vs the consent and agreement of the Prophets. f Or, he taken vp into heauen. ✠ Deut. 18. 15. chap 7. 37.
g This promise was of an excellent and singular Prophet. h At what time the kingdome of Israel was established. ✠ The Iewes that beleeue are the first begotten in the kingdome of God.
i For whom the Prophets were specially appointed. k Gen. 12. 3. 22. 18.
l Risen from the dead, and aduanced to his kingdome.

CHAP. IV.

1 Peter and Iohn 3 are taken and brought before the councell, 7 and 19 They speake boldly in Christs cause. 23 The disciples pray vnto God. 32 Many sell their possessions, 36 Of whom Barnabas is one.

AND 1 as they spake vnto the people, the Priestes and the a Captaine of the Temple,

1 None are commonly more diligent or bolder to beat builders: but the more they rage, the more constantly the faithfull seruants of God do continue.
a The Iewes had certaine garisons for the garde and safetie of the Temple and holy things, Mat. 26. 65. These garisons had a Captaine, such as Eleazarus Ananias the hie Priestes sonne was, in the time of the warre that was in Iudea being a very impudent and proud young man, Ioseph. lib 2. of the taking of Iudea.

and the Sadduces came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus Name the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they layd hands on them, and put them in hold, vntill the next day: for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word, beleeued, and the [b] number of the men was about fiue thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morrow, that their [c] rulers, and Elders, and Scribes, were gathered together at Hierusalem,

6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the [d] kinred of the hie Priest.

7 [2] And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what [e] Name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghost, sayd vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 [3] For as much as we this day are examined, of the good deede done to the impotent man, to wit, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 [4] Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye haue crucified, whom God raised againe from the dead, euen by him doth this man stand here before you, whole.

11 ✣ This is the stone cast aside of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other: for among men there is [f] giuen none other [g] Name [h] vnder heauen, whereby we must be saued.

13 [5] Now when they saw the boldnesse of Peter and Iohn, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned men and without [i] knowledge, they marueiled, & knew them, that they had beene w Iesus:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15 Then they commaunded them to goe aside out of the Councill, and [k] conferred among themselues, 16 [6] Saying, What shall we doe to these men? for verely a manifest signe is done by them, and it is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Hierusalem: and we cannot denie it.

17 But that it be noised no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, and commanded them, that in no wise they should speake or teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 [7] But Peter and Iohn answered vnto them, and sayd, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake the things which we haue seene and heard.

21 [8] So they threatned them, and let them goe, and found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboue fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 [9] Then assoone as they were let goe, they came to their fellowes, and shewed all that the hie Priests and Elders had sayd vnto them.

24 [10] And when they heard it, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accord, and said, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen, and the earth, the sea, and all things that are in them, 25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast sayd, ✣ Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The kings of the earth assembled, and the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For doubtlesse, against thine holy Sonne Iesus, whom thou haddest anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles & the [l] people of Israel gathered themselues together, 28 To [m] do whatsoeuer [n] thine hand, and thy counsell had determined before to be done.

29 And now, O Lord, behold their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy seruants with all boldnesse to speake thy word, 30 So that thou stretch forth thine hand that healing, and signes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holy Sonne Iesus.

31 [11] And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 [12] And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of [o] one heart, and of one soule: neither any of them said, that any thing of that which he possessed, was his owne, but they had all things ✣ common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 [13] Neither was there any among them, that lacked: for as many as were possessours of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the price of the things that were sold,

35 And layd it downe at the Apostles feete, and it was distributed vnto euery man, according as he had need.

36 Also Ioses which was called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is by interpretation, the sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprus, 37 Where as he had land, sold it, and brought the money, and layd it downe at the Apostles feete.

b While they thought to diminish the number, they increased them.
c These were they that made the Sanhedrin, which were all of the tribe of Iuda, vnwill Herod so did that cruelitie against Dauids seede.
d Of whom the high Priests were wont to be chosen and made, the execution of the yeerely office being now changed.
2 Against such as bragge of succession of persons, without a succession of doctrine, and by that meanes beate downe the true ministers of the word, so farre foorth as they are able.
e By what authority.
3 Wolues which succeede true Pastours, pleade their owne cause, and not Gods neither the Churches.
4 He is indeede a true shepheard, that teacheth his sheepe to hang vpon Christ onely, and vpon one that is not dead, but hath conquered death, and hath all rule in his owne hand.

g There is no other man, or no other power & authority whatsoeuer: which kinde of speech being vsuall among the Iewes, rose vpon this, that when we are in danger, we call vpon them at whose hands we looke for helpe.
h Any where: and this setteth forth vnto vs the largenesse of Christes kingdome.
5 The good liberalitie and boldnesse of the seruants of God doth yet thus much good that such as lay hid vnder a visard of zeale, doe at length bewray themselues to be indeed vnlearned men.
i The worde vsed here, is Idiot, which being spoken in comparison had to a Magistrate, betokeneth a priuate man: but when we speake of sciences and studies, it signifieth one that is vnlearned: and in accompt of honour and estimation it importeth one of base degree, and no estimation.
k Laid their heads together.
6 He that flattereth himselfe in ignorance, commeth at length to do open wickednesse and that against his owne conscience.
7 We must so obey men, to whom we are subiect, that especially and before all things we obey God. 8 So we must flie off are the wicked from doing what they list, that contrary wise God vseth them that to the setting forth of his glory, which he giueth them leaue to doe.

9 The Apostles communicate their troubles with the Congregation.
10 We ought neither to be afraid of the threatnings of our enemies, neither yet foolishly contemne their rage and madnesse against vs, but we haue to set against their force and malice, an earnest thirsting vpon the power and good will of God (both which we doe manifestly behold in Christ) and so flee to the ayd and succour of our Father.
✣ Psalme 2. 1.
l Although the people of Israel was but one people, yet the plurall number is here vsed, not so much for the twelue tribes, euery one of which made a people, as for the great multitude of them, as though many nations had assembled themselues together, as Iudg. 5, 14.
m The wicked execute Gods counsell, though they thinke nothing of it, but they are not therefore without fault.
n Thou haddest determined of thine absolute authoritie and power.

filled thine heart, that thou shouldest lye vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of this possession?

4 Whiles it remained, apperteined it not vnto thee? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? how is it that thou hast conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Now when Ananias heard these wordes, he fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell me, sold ye the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue yee agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feete of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the doore, and shall carie thee out.

10 Then she fell downe straightway at his feet, and yeelded vp the ghost: and the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the handes of the Apostles were many signes and wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accord in Salomons porch.

13 And of the other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheleffe, the people magnified them.

14 Also the number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more.)

15 In so much that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least way the shadow of Peter, when he came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation, 18 And laid handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and said, 20 Goe your way, and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people, all the wordes of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Councill together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned and told it,

23 Saying, Certainely we found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without, before the doores: but when wee had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priests and the captaine of the Temple, and the hie Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, least they should haue bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councill, and the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not we straightly command you, that ye should not teach in this name? and behold, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and ye would bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and said, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 The ✣ God of our fathers hath raised vp Iesus whom ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Sauiour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses concerning these things which wee say: yea, and the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in the Councill a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles foorth a litle space, 35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye intend to doe touching these men.

36 For before these times, rose vp Theudas boasting himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose vp Iudas of Galile, in the dayes of the tribute, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot destroy it, least ye be found euen fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 So they departed from the Councill, reioycing, that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And dayly in the Temple, and from house to house they ceased not to teach, and preach Iesus Christ.

b Fully possessed.
c For when they had appointed that summe or possession for the Church, they stucke not at it to keepe away a part of the price, as though they had to doe with men, and not with God, and therefore he saith afterward that they tempted God.
d Hereby is declared, an aduised and purposed deceit, and the fault of the man in admitting the deuils suggestions.
e Loke how oft men do things with an euill conscience, so oft they pronounce sentence against themselues, and as much as in them lieth, prouoke God to anger, as of set purpose, minding to trie whether he be wise and almightie or no.
f Are at hand.
a The Lord by his marueilous vertue brideleth some, that they may not hurt the Church: other some hee keepeth in his awe and feare: and other some he alloweth vnto him.
g Highly prayed them.
3 The more that the Church increaseth, the more increaseth the rage of Satan, and therefore they proceede from threatnings, to prisoning.
h The word which is vsed here, is Heresie, which signifieth a choyse, and so is taken for a right forme of learning, or fashion, or studie and course of life, which the Latines call a sect: at the first this word was indifferently vsed, but as length, it came to be taken onely in euill part, whereupon came the name of Heresie, which is taken for one that goeth astray from sound and wholesome doctrine after such sort, that he setteth light by the iudgement of God and his Church, and continueth in his opinion, and breaketh the peace of the Church. 6 Angels are made seruants of the seruants of God. 5 God doeth therefore deliuer his, that they may more stoutly prouoke his enemies. i Wordes, whereby the way vnto life is shewed. 6 God mocketh his enemies attempts from aboue.

7 The more openly that Christes vertue sheweth it selfe, the more increaseth the madnes of his enemies which consiste against him.
8 Tyrants which feare not God, are constrained to feare his seruants.
9 It is the propertie of tyrants to set out their owne commandements as right and reason, be they neuer so wicked.
k Make vs guiltie of murdering, that man whom yet they will not vouchsafe to name.
10 We ought to obey no man, but so farre foorth as obeying him, we may obey God.
11 Christ is appointed and indeede declared Prince and preseruer of his Church in despite of his enemies.
✣ Chap. 3. 13.
12 It is not sufficient for vs that there is a right end, but we must also accordingly to our vocation goe on forward till we come vnto it.
l This betokeneth that they were in a most vehement rage, and wanted lesurely disquieted in minde, for it is a borrowed kinde of speech taken from them which are harrisly cut in sunder with a sawe.
13 Christ findeth defenders of his cause euen in the very toute of his enemies, so often be thei keth it needefull.
14 In matters of religion we must take good heede that we attempt nothing vnder a colour of zeale, beside our vocation.
m To be of some fame.
n He disswadeth his fellowes from murdering the Apostles, neither doeth he thinke it good to referre the matter to the Romane Magistrate, for the Iewes could abide nothing worse, then to haue the tyrannie of the Romanes confirmed. o If it be counterfeit and vnadusised. 15 The Apostles accustomed to suffer and beare wordes, are at length inured to beare stripes. yet so, that by that meanes they become stronger. p Both publikely and priuately.

CHAP. VI.

a The Apoſtles 3 appoynt the office of Deaconſhip to ſeuen choſen men: 5 Of whom Steuen full of faith, is one: 12 He is taken, 13 & accuſed as a tranſgreſſour of Moſes Law.

AND in thoſe dayes, as the number of the diſciples grew, there aroſe a murmuring of the a Grecians towardes the Hebrewes, becauſe their widowes were neglected in the b dayly miniſtring.

2 a Then the twelue called the multitude of the diſciples together, and ſaide, It is not c meete that we ſhould leaue the word of God to ſerue the tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke you out among you ſeuen men of honeſt report, and full of the holy Ghoſt, and of wiſedome, which we may appoynt to this buſineſſe.

4 And wee will giue our ſelues continually to prayer, and to the miniſtration of the word.

5 And the ſaying pleaſed the whole multitude: and they choſe Steuen a man full of faith and of the holy Ghoſt, and ✣ Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a Proſelyte of Antiochia, 6 Which they ſet before the Apoſtles: and they prayed, and e layed their hands on them.

7 And the worde of God increaſed, and the number of the diſciples was multiplied, in Hieruſalem greatly, and a great company of the Prieſts were obedient to the f faith.

8 ¶ Now Steuen full of faith & g power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there aroſe certaine of the b Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Aſia, and diſputed with Steuen.

10 But they were not able to reſiſt the wiſedome, and the Spirit by the which he ſpake.

11 Then they ſuborned men, which ſayd, We haue heard him ſpeake blaſphemous words againſt Moſes, and God.

12 Thus they mooued the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Councill.

13 And ſet foorth falſe witneſſes, which ſaid, This man ceaſeth not to ſpeake blaſphemous words againſt this holy place, and the Law.

14 For we haue heard him ſay, that this Ieſus of Nazareth ſhall deſtroy this place, and ſhal change the ordinances which Moſes gaue vs.

15 And as all that ſate in the Councill looked ſtedfaſtly on him, they i ſaw his face as it had bene the face of an Angel, r When Satan hath ſtirred one Church without, and that to no end but to purpoſe and in vaine, he ſtirreth it within, with ciuill diſſention and ſtrife betwixt themſelues: But the Apoſtles take occaſion thereby to ſet order in the Church.

a Of theſe varies which of Grecians became religious Iewes.

b In the beſtowing of almes according to their neceſſities.

c The office of preaching the word, and diſpenſing the goods of the Church are different one from another, and not raſhly to be ioyned together, as the Apoſtles doe here diuiſe: and the Apoſtles doe not chuſe ſo much as the Deacons without the conſent of the Church.

d It is ſuch a matter, as we may in no wiſe accept of it.

e Byſhops though by the name of tables, other offices are alſo meant, which are annexed to it: ſuch as pertaine to the care of the poore.

f In chuſing of Deacons (and much more of Miniſters) there muſt be examination both of their learning and maners of life.

✣ Chap. 21. 8.

g The Ancient Church did with laying on of hands & with prayer conſecrate to the Lord ſuch as were lawfully elected.

e This ceremonie of laying on of handes came from the Iewes, who vſed this order both in publike affaires, and offring of ſacrifices, and alſo in priuate prayers and bleſſings, as appeareth Gene. 48. and the Church obſerued this ceremonie, 1. Tim. 5. 22. acte 8 17 but here is no mention made either of creame, or ſtoning, or raiſing, or aſſiſe, &c. i An happie end of temptation. f This is the figure Metonymia, meaning by faith, the doctrine of the Goſpel which engendreth faith.

g God exerciſeth his Church firſt with euill wordes and ſlaunders, then with impriſonments afterward with ſcourgings, and by theſe meanes prepareth it to ſuch ſtorms, that at length hee cauſeth it to encounter with Satan and the world, euen to bloodſhead and death, and that with good ſucceſſe.

g Excellent and ſingular gifts. 7 Schooles and Vniuerſities were of olde time addicted to falſe paſtours, and were the inſtruments of Satan to blowe abroad and defend falſe doctrines.

h Of the company & College as it were. i Falſe teachers, becauſe they will not be ouercome, flee from diſputations to maniſeſt and open ſlaunderings and falſe accuſations. 9 The firſt bloudy perſecution of the Church of Chriſt begunne and ſprang from a Councill of Prieſts by the ſuggeſtion of the Vniuerſitie doctours.

10 An example of cauillers or falſe accuſers, which gather falſe concluſions of things that are well vttered and ſpoken. i Hereby it appeareth that Steuen had an excellent and goodly countenance, hauing a quiet and ſetled minde, a good conſcience, and ſure perſwaſion that his cauſe was iuſt: for ſeeing he was to ſpeake before the people, God beautified his countenance, to the end that with the very beholding of him, the Iewes mindes might be pearced and amazed.

CHAP. VII.

1 Steuen pleading his cauſe, ſheweth that God choſe the Fathers, 20 before Moſes was borne, 43 and before the Temple was built: 44 And that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the heauenly Patterne. 54 The Iewes gnaſhing their teeth, 59 ſtone him.

THEN ſayd ✣ chiefe Prieſt, Are theſe things ſo?

2 And he ſaid, Ye men, brethren, and Fathers, hearken. ✣ That God of a glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in b Meſopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And ſaid vnto him, Come out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, and come into the land which I ſhall ſhew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead: God brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye now dwell,

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the c breath of a foote: yet he d promiſed that he would giue it to him for a poſſeſſion, and to his ſeede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

6 But God ſpake thus, that his ✣ ſeede ſhould be a ſoiourner in a ſtrange land: and that they ſhould keepe it in bondage, and entreate it euill e foure hundreth yeeres.

7 But the nation to whom they ſhallbe in bondage, will I iudge, ſaith God: and after that, they ſhall come forth and ſerue me in this place.

8 ✣ He gaue him alſo the couenant of circumciſion: and ſo Abraham begate ✣ Iſaac, and circumciſed him the eight day: and Iſaac begate ✣ Iacob, and Iacob the twelue * Patriarkes.

9 And the Patriarkes mooued with enuie, ſold ✣ Ioſeph into Egypt: but God was f with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and ✣ gaue him g ſauour and wiſdome in the ſight of Pharao king of Egypt, who made him gouernor ouer Egypt, and ouer his whole houſe.

11 ¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no ſuſtenance.

12 But when ✣ Iacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he ſent our fathers firſt:

13 ✣ And at the ſecond time Ioſeph was knowen of his brethren, and Ioſephs kindred was made knowen vnto Pharao.

14 Then ſent Ioſeph and cauſed his father to be brought, and all his kinred, euen threeſcore and fiſteene ſoules.

15 So ✣ Iacob went downe into Egypt, and he * died, and our fathers, 16 And were h remooued into Sychem, and were put in the ſepulchre, that Abraham had bought ✣ for money of the ſonnes of Emor, ſonne of Sychem.

17 But when the time of the promiſe drewe neere, which God had ſworne to Abraham, the people ✣ grew and multiplied in Egypt, r Steuen is admitted to pleade his cauſe, but no this end and purpoſe, that vnder a cloake, and colour of Law, he might be condemned.

a Steuen witneſſeth vnto the Iewes, that hee acknowledgeth the true fathers, and the onely true God: and ſheweth moreouer, that they are more ancient then the Temple, with all that ſeruice appoynted by the Law, and therefore they oughtto lay another foundation of true religion, that is to ſay, the free couenant that God made with the fathers.

18 Till another King arose, which knew not Ioseph.

19 The same i dealt subtilly with our kinred, and euill intreated our fathers, and made them to cast out their yong children, that they should not remaine aliue.

20 ✣ The same time was Moses borne, and was k acceptable vnto God: which was nourished vp in his fathers house three moneths.

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaohs daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deedes.

23 Now when hee was full fourtie yeere old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 ✣ And when he saw one of the suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For hee suppoſed his brethren would haue vnderstoode, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 ✣ And the next day, he shewed himselfe vnto them as they strone, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, yee are brethren: why doe ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Midian, where hee begate two sonnes.

30 And when fourtie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the ✣ wildernes of mount Sina, an l Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses saw it, he wondred at the sight: and as he drewe neere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, saying, 32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moses trembled, & durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord sayde to him, Put off thy shooes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, & I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a prince and a iudge? the same God sent for a prince, and a deliuerer by the hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He ✣ brought them out, doing wonders, and miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wildernes * fourtie yeeres.

37 ✣ This is that Moses, which said vnto the children of Israel, ✣ A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 ✣ This is he that was in the Congregation, in the wildernesse with the Angel, which spake to him in mount Sina, and with our fathers, who receiued the liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt, 40 Saying vnto Aaron, ✣ Make vs gods that may goe before vs: for we know not what is become of this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a n calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, & reioyced in the works of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned himselfe away, and o gaue them vp to serue the p hoast of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, ✣ O house of Israel, haue ye offred to me slaine beasts & sacrifices by the space of fortie yeeres in the wildernesse?

43 And ye q tooke vp the Tabernacle of Moloch, and the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 r Our fathers had the Tabernacle of s witnesse in the wildernesse, as he had appointed, speaking vnto t Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seene.

45 ✣ Which tabernacle also our fathers receiued, and brought in with Iesus into the u possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out x before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

CHAP. VIII.

a The godly make lamentatiō for Steuen 3 Saul maketh hauocke of the Church. 5 Philip preacheth Christ in Samaria. 9 Simon Magus 18 his couetousnesse reproued. 26 Philip 27 commeth to the Ethiopian Eunuch, 38 and baptizeth him.

AND 1 Saul consented to his death. And at that time, there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, & they were all scattered abroad thorow the regions of Iudea and Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 2 Then certaine men fearing God, a caried Steuen among them, to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

3 3 But Saul made hauocke of the Church, and entred into euery house, and drew out both men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 ¶ 4 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heed vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accord, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with a loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with palsies, and that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 5 And there was before in the citie, a certaine man called Simon, which vsed b witchcraft, and c bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he himselfe was some great man.

10 To whom they gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that great power of God.

11 And they gaue heed vnto him, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But assoone as they beleeued Philip, which preached the things that concerned the king dome of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 6 Then Simon himselfe beleeued also, and was baptized, and continued with Philip, and wondred, when he saw the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ 7 Now when the Apostles, which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receiue the holy Ghoft.

16 (For as yet he was fallen downe on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus)

17 Then layd they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghoft.

18 8 And when Simon saw, that through laying on of the Apostles hands the holy Ghoft was giuen, he offred them money, 19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoeuer I lay the hands, hee may receiue the holy Ghoft.

20 9 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this e businesse: for thine heart is not f right in the sight of God.

22 10 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.

23 For I see that thou art in the g gall of bitternesse, and in the h bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoken come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritanes.

26 11 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is waste.

27 And he arose and went on: and behold, a certaine Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians i chiefe Gouernour, who had the rule of all her treasure, and came to Hierusalem to worship.

28 And as he returned sitting in his charet, hee read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Goe neere and ioyne thy selfe to yonder charet.

30 And Philip ranne thither, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaias, and sayd, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And hee sayd, How can I, except I had k a guide? And he desired Philip, that he would come vp and sit with him.

32 12 Nowe the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, l He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumbe before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 In his l humilitie his iudgement hath beene exalted: but who shall declare his m generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 Then the Eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuch sayd, See, here is water, what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 13 And Philip sayd vnto him, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered, and sayd, n I beleeue that that Iesus Christ is that Sonne of God.

38 Then hee commanded the charet to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And assoone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: so he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus, and hee walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAP. IX.

2 Saul going towards Damascus, 4 is striken downe to the ground of the Lord: 10 Ananias is sent to baptize him. 23 The laying awaite of the Iewes, 25 hee escapeth, being let downe through the wall. 33 Peter cureth Aeneas of the palsie, 36 and by him Tabitha being dead, 40 is restored to life.

AND ✣ Saul yet a breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie Priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any that were of that b way, (either men or women) hee might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 Now as he iourneyed, it came to passe that as hee was come neere to Damascus, ✣ suddenly there shined rounde about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is c hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

6 He then both trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou that I doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shallbe tolde thee what thou shalt doe.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, d stood amased, hearing his e voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and open-ned his eyes, but sawe no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus,

9 Where hee was three dayes without sight, and neither ate nor dranke.

10 ¶ And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And hee said, Behold, I am here Lord.

11 Then the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the streete which is called Streight, and seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of f Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem.

14 Moreouer here hee hath authoritie of the hie Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a g chosen vessell vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will h shew him, how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into i that house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent mee (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had beene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized,

19 And receiued meate, and was strengthened.
So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 ² And straightway hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was that Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him were amased, and said, Is not this hee, that made hauocke of them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, & came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bound vnto the hie Priests?

22 ³ But Saul encreased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, k confirming that this was that Christ.

23 ⁴ And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together, to kill him.

24 But their laying awaite was knowen of Saul: now they ✣ watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 ⁵ Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe by a rope in a basket.

26 ⁶ And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, hee assayed to ioyne himselfe with the disciples:
but they were all afraid of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, and how hee had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 ⁷ And hee was conuersant l with them at Hierusalem.

29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord
Iesus, and spake and disputed against the m Grecі-ans: but they went about to slay him.

30 ⁸ But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him foorth to Tarsus.

31 ⁹ Then had the Churches rest through all Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, and were n edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 ¹⁰ And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his couch eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

34 Then said Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and trusse thy couch together. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at o Lydda and Saron, saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 ¹¹ There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) shee was full of good workes and almes which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an vpper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that he would not delay to come vnto them.

1 Saul (who is also Paul) persecuting Christ most cruelly, who did as it were flee before him, falleth into his hands, and is ouercome: and with a singular example of the goodnesse of God, in stead of punishment which he iustly deserued for his cruelnie, is not onely receiued to fauour, but is also euen by the mouth of God appointed an Apostle, and is confirmed by the ministerie and witnesse of Ananias.

39 Then Peter arose and came with them: and when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber, where all the widowes stood by him weeping, and shewing the coates and garments, which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all foorth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the bodie, and said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, sate vp.

1 Cornelius 4 at the Angels commandement, 5 sendeth for Peter: 11 Who alsoby a vision 15.20 is taught not to despise the Gentiles. 34 He preacheth the Gospel to Cornelius and his houshold: 45 Who hauing receiued the holy Ghost, 47 are baptized.

1 Peter confesseth the first fruits of the Gentiles to God by the meane of two miracles.

3 He saw in a vision euidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, c What is it, Lord? and he said vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are d come vp into e remembrance before God.

5 Now therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his seruants, and a souldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all things, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morow as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixt houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, and would haue eaten: but while they made some thing readie, he fell into a f trance.

11 And he sawe heauen opened, and a certaine vessell come downe vnto him, as it had beene a great sheete, knit at the 8 foure corners, and was let downe of the earth.

12 Wherein were h all maner of i foure footed beasties of the earth, and wilde beasties and k creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 l But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the second time, The things that God hath purified, 1 polluted thou not.

16 This was so done thrise: and the vessell was drawen vp againe into heauen.

17 ¶ Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which hee had seene, meant, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had enquired for Simons house, and stoode at the gate, 18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit saide vnto him, Beholde, three men seeke thee, 20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, and doubt nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 ¶ Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel to send for thee into his house, and to heare thy words.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: and the next day, Peter went foorth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 ¶ And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Now Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen, and speciall friends.

25 3 And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my selfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Yee know that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iew, to company, or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me?

30 Then Cornelius said, Foure dayes agoe, about m this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and beholde, a man stood before me in bright cloathing, 31 4 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 5 Sende therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter, (hee is lodged in the house of Simon a Tannar by the Sea side) who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done to come. Now therefore are we all here present before God to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 6 Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a trueth I perceiue, that n ✠ God is no accepter of persons, o By the feare of God, the Hebrewes understand the whole seruice of God: whereby we perceiue that Cornelius was not void of faith, no more then they were which liued before Christs time: and therefore they deale foolishly, which build preparatiue workes and free will vpon this place.

p God gaue the Israelites to vnderstand, that whosoeuer liueth godly, is acceptable to God, of what nation soeuer he be, for hee preached peace to men through Iesus Christ, who is Lord not of one nation onely, that is, of the Iewes, but of all.

7 The summe of the Gospell (which shall be made manifest at the latter day when Christ himselfe shall sit as iudge both of the quicke and dead) is this, that Christ promised to the Fathers, and exhibited in his time with the mightie power of God, (which was by all meanes shewed) and at length crucified to reconcile vs to God, did rise againe the third day, that whosoeuer beleeueth in him should be saued through the remission of sinnes.

✣ Luke 4.14. 9 This stile is taken from an olde custome of the Iewes, who vsed to annoint their Kings and Priestes, wherevpon it grew, to call them annointed, vpon whom God bestoweth giftes and vertues. r This chusing of the Apostles is properly giuen to God: for though God be president in the lawfull election of ministers, yet there is in this place a secret opposition and setting of Gods chusing, and mens voices the one against the other, for the Apostles are immediatly appointed of God, and the Church Ministers by meanes. ✣ Iere. 31.34. mica 7.18. chap. 15.9. s 8 The Spirite of God sealeth that in the heart of the hearers, which the minister of the word speaketh by the commandement of God, as it appeareth by the effects. 9 Baptisme doth not sanctifie or make them holy which receiue it, but sealeth vp and confirmeth their sanctification.

35 But in euery nation hee that o feareth him, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Ye p knowe the word which God hath sent to the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all:

37 7 Euen the worde which came through all Iudea, ✣ beginning in Galile, after the Baptisme which Iohn preached:

38 To wit, how God 9 anointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Iewes, and in Hierusalem, whom they slew, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eat and drinke with him, after he arose from the dead, 42 And hee commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testifie, that it is he that is ordained of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him also giue all the ✣ Prophets witnes, that through his Name all that beleeue in him, shall receiue remission of sinnes.

44 8 While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 So they of the circumcision, which beleeued, were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 9 Can any man forbidde water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certaine dayes.

a Peter being accused for going to the Gentiles, defendeth himselfe. 22 Barnabas is sent to Antiochia, 26 where the disciples are first called Christians: 28 and there Agabus foretelleth a famine to come.

1 Peter being without cause reprehended of the vnskilfull and ignorant, doth not obiect that hee ought not to be iudged of any, but openly giueth an account of his doing.

NOw 1 the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded the thing in order to them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I sawe this vision, A certaine vessell comming downe as it had beene a great sheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

6 Towarde the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, & saw foure footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voice, saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: slay and eate.

8 And I said, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me the second time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediatly there were three men alreadie come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit said vnto me, that I should go with them, without doubting: moreouer, these sixe brethren came with me, and wee entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs, how he had seene an Angell in his house, which stood and said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

14 He shall speake wordes vnto thee, whereby both thou and thine house shall be saued.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, ✣ euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembred the word of the Lord, how hee said, ✣ Iohn baptized with water, but yee shalbe baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 For as much then as God gaue them a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when we beleeued in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God?

18 2 When they heard these things, they helde their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles graunted repentance vnto life.

19 3 ¶ And they which were * scattered abroad because of the affliction that arose about Steuen, went throughout till they came vnto Phenice, and Cyprus, and 4 Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 4 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number beleeued and turned vnto the Lord.

22 5 Then tidings of those things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Hierusalem, and they sent foorth Barnabas, that he should goe vnto Antiochia.

23 Who when hee was come and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would continue in the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, and much people ioyned themselues vnto the Lord.

25 ¶ 6 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:

26 And when hee had found him, hee brought him vnto Antiochia: and it came to passe that a whole yere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, insomuch that the disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

a Herod killeth Iames with the sword, 4 And imprisoneth Peter, 8 whom the Angell deliuereth. 20 Herod being offended with them of Tyrus, 21 is pacified: 22 And taking the honour due to God, to himselfe, 23 he is eaten with wormes, and so dyeth.

NOw 1 about that time, a Herod the king stretched foorth his hand to vexe certaine of the Church,

2 And he b killed Iames the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 2 And when he saw that it pleased the Iewes, hee proceeded further, to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)

4 3 And when he had caught him, hee put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quaternions of souldiours to be kept, intending after the Passeouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 4 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vntoGod for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiours, bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 ✣ And behold, the Angell of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the c house, and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickely. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and bind on thy sandales. And so he did. Then hee said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and knewe not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by it owne accord, and they went out, and passed through one street, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to himselfe, he said, Now I know for a truth, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 5 And as he considered the thing, hee came to the house of Mary, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 6 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide d came foorth to hearken, named Rhode,

14 But when she knew Peters voice, shee opened not the entrie doore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and told how Peter stood before the entrie, 15 But they said vnto her, Thou art mad. Yet she affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened it, and saw him, they were astonied.

17 7 And he beckened vnto them with the hand, to hold their peace, and told them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And hee said, Goe shewe these things vnto Iames and to the brethren: and hee departed and went into an other place.

18 ¶ 8 Now assoone as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiours, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, hee examined the keepers, & commanded them to be led to be punished. And hee went downe from Iudea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 9 Then Herod was angrie with them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accorde vnto him, and perswaded Blastus the Kings Chamberlaine, & they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the Kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herod arayed himselfe in royall apparell, and sate on the iudgement seat, and made an oration vnto them.

22 10 And the people gaue a shoute, saying, The voice of God, and not of man.

23 11 But immediately the Angell of the Lord smote him, because he e gaue not glorie vnto God, so that hee was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

24 12 And the f word of God grew and multiplyed.

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Hierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, & tooke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

11 Now therefore behold, the f hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, and not see the sunne for a season. And immediatly there fell on him a mist & a darkenes, and he went about, seeking some to leade him by the hand.

12 Then the Deputie when hee saw what was done, beleeued, and was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 6 Now when Paul and they that were with him were departed by shippe from Paphus, they came to Perga a citie of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia a citie of Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, & sate downe.

15 7 And after the lecture of the Law and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if yeh haue any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 8 Then Paul stood vp and beckened with the hand, and sayd, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and i exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of + Egypt, and with an + k high arme brought them out thereof.

18 And about the time * of forty yeeres, suffred hee their maners in the wildernesse.

19 And he destroyed seuen nations in the land of Chanaan, & * diuided their land to them by lot.

20 Then afterward he gaue vnto them * Iudges about l foure hundreth and fiftie yeeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 So after that, they desireth a * King, and God gaue vnto them + Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Beniamin, by the space of m fourtie yeeres.

22 And after he had taken him away, he raised vp + Dauid to be their King, of whom hee witnessed, saying, I haue found Dauid the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which will doe all things that I will.

23 9 Of this mans seede hath God * according to his promise raised vp to Israel, the Sauiour Iesus:

24 When * Iohn had first preached n before his comming the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And when Iohn had fulfilled his course, he said, + Whom ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but behold, there commeth one after mee, whose shooe of his feete I am not worthy to loose.

26 10 Yee men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoeuer among you feareth God, to you is the word of this saluation sent.

27 11 For the inhabitants of Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knewe him not, nor yet the wordes of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, + yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 12 But God * raised him vp from the dead.

31 And he was seene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Hierusalem, which are his witnesses vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you, that touching the promise made vnto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he o raised vp Iesus, 13 euen as it is written in the second Psalme, * Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Now as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, no more to returne to corruption, hee hath saide thus, * I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, p which are faithfull.

35 14 Wherefore hee saieth also in another place, * Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 Howbeit, Dauid after hee had serued his time by the counsell of God, hee + slept, and was laid with his fathers, and saw corruption.

37 But hee whom God raised vp, sawe no corruption.

38 15 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiuenesse of sinnes:

39 And from q all things, from which ye could not be iustified by the Law of Moses, by him euerie one that beleeueth, is iustified.

40 16 Beware therefore least that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophets, 41 + Beholde, yee despisers, and wonder, and vanish away: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a worke which yee shall not beleeue, if a man would declare it you.

42 ¶ 17 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought, that they would preach these wordes to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Now when the congregation was dissolued, many of the Iewes and r Proselites that feared God, followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake vnto them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

18 The fauour of one selfe same Gospel is vnto the reprobate and vnbeleeuers, death, and to the elect and such as beleeue, life.

19 The Gospel is published to the Gentiles by the expresse commandement of God.

f By this your doing you doe as it were pronounce sentence against your selues, and iudge your selues.

✠ Esa. 49. 6.

g Therefore either all were not appointed to euerlasting life, or els all should haue beleeued: but because that is not so, it followeth that some certeine were ordained, ✠ therefore God did not onely foreknow, but also foreordaine, that neither faith nor the effects of faith should be the cause of his ordeining or appointmēt, but his ordeining the cause of faith. 20 Such is the craft and subtilnie of the enemies of the Gospel, that they abuse the simplicitie of some which are not altogether euill men, to execute their cruelty. u Such as embraced Moses his Law.

21 The wickednesse of the worlde cannot let God to gather his Church together, and to foster and cherish it, when it is gathered together. ✠ Mat. 10. 14. mar. 6, 11, iude 9. 5. chap. 18. 6.

1 We ought to be no lesse constant in preaching of the Gospel, then the peruersnes of the wicked is obstinate in persecuting of it.

a Iconium was a citie of Lycaonia. b Which abused not the doctrine.

2 We ought not to leaue our places and giue place to threatnings, neither to open rage, but when there is no other remedie, and that not for our owne quietnes sake, but that the Gospel of Christ may be spread further abroad.

c It is lawfull sometime to flee dangers, as time conuenient.

3 It is an olde subtilitie of the deuill, rather to cause the faithfull seruants of God to be punished at once, or to be worshipped for idoles: and that chiefly taking occasion by miracles wrought by them.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole citie together, to heare the word of God.

45 [18] But when the Iewes saw the people, they were full of enuie, and spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and railing on them.

46 [19] Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and sayd, It was necessary that the word of God should first haue beene spoken vnto you: but seeing yee put it from you, and [f] iudge your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, ✠ I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be the salutation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, & glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were [g] ordained vnto eternall life, beleeued.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was published thorowout the whole countrey.

50 [20] But the Iewes stirred certaine [u] deuote and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 [21] But they ✠ shooke off the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas [a] are persecuted at Iconium: 6 At Lystra Paul [b] healeth a creeple: 13 They are about to doe sacrifice vnto them. 15 but they forbid it: 19 Paul by the perswasion of certaine Iewes, is stoned: 23 From thence passing thorow diuers Churches, [c] 26 they returne to Antiochia.

AND [1] it came to passe in [a] Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleeued.

2 And the [b] vnbeleeuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 [2] So therefore they aboade there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimony vnto the word of his grace, & cauled signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the citie was diuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and of the Iewes with the rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and [c] fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region round about,

7 And there preached the Gospel.

8 ¶ 3 Now there sate a certaine man at Lystra, impotent in his feete, which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, who had neuer walked.

9 He heard Paul speake: who beholding him and perceiuing that he had faith to be healed, 10 Saide with a loud voice, Stand vpright on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift vp their voices, saying in the speach of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter: and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Iupiters Priest, which was before their citie, brought buls with garlands vnto the [d] gates, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their cloathes, and ran in among the people, crying,

15 ✠ And saying, O men, why doe yee these things? We are euen men subiect to the [e] like passions that yee be, and preach vnto you, that yee should turne from these [f] vaine things vnto the liuing God, ✠ which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are:

16 [5] Who in times past [g] suffered all the Gentiles to walke in their owne wayes.

17 Neuertheless, he left not himselfe without witnes, in that he did good and gaue vs raine from heauen, and fruitfull seasons, filling our hearts with food, and gladnesse.

18 And speaking these things, scarse appeased they the multitude, that they had not sacrificed vnto them.

19 [6] Then there came certaine Iewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, [h] stoned Paul, and drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had beene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, hee arose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 [7] And after they had preached the glad tidings of the Gospell to that citie, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia, 22 [8] Confirming the disciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that wee must through many afflictions enter into the kingdome of God.

23 [9] And when they had ordeined them Elders by election in euerie Church, and prayed, and fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whom they beleeued.

24 [10] Thus they went throughout Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the worde in Perga, they came downe to [h] Attalia.

26 And thence sailed to [i] Antiochia, ✠ from whence they had bene commended vnto the grace of God, to the worke, which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God had done by them, and how hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 So there they aboade a long time with the disciples.

d Of the house where Paul and Barnabas were.

4 That is also called idolatry, which giueth to creatures, be they neuer so holy and excellent, that which is proper to the onely one God, that is, Inuocation or calling vpon.

e Men as ye are, and partakers of the selfe same nature of man as you.

2. Cor 11. 25.

7 We must goe forward in our vocation through a thousand deaths.

8 It is the office of the ministers, not onely to teach, but also to confirme them that are taught, and prepare them to the crosse.

9 The Apostles committed the Churches which they had planted, to proper and peculiar Pastours, which they made not rashly, but with prayers and fastings going before: neither did they thrust them vpon Churches through briberie or lordly superioritie, but chose and placed them by the voyce of the congregation.

THen i came downe a certaine from Iudea, and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moses, yee cannot be saued.

2 [2] And when there was great dissention, and disputation by Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, should goe vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders about this question.

3 Thus [b] being brought foorth by the Church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles, and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.

5 But said they, certaine of the sect of the Pharises, which did beleeue, rose vp, saying that it was needefull to circumcise them, and to commaund them to keepe the Law of Moses.

6 [3] Then the Apostles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

7 And when there had beene great disputation, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, ✣ [4] Yee men and brethren, ye know that a [c] good while agoe, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleeue.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witnesse, in giuing vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.

9 And he put no [d] difference betweene vs and them, after that ✣ [e] by faith he had purified their hearts.

10 [5] Now therefore, why [f] tempt ye God, to [g] lay a yoke on the disciples necks, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue, through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to be saued, euen as they do.

12 [6] Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, [g] Iames answered, saying, Men, and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 [7] Simeon hath declared, how God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 ✣ After this I will returne, and will builde againe the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will set it vp,

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, sayeth the Lord which doeth all these things.

18 From the beginning of the worlde, God [h] knoweth all his workes.

19 [8] Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God, 20 But that we send vnto them, that they abstaine themselues from [i] filthinesse of idoles, and fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preach him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

22 [9] Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church to sende chosen men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Iudas whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, & the Elders, & the brethren, Vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, send greeting.

24 [10] Forasmuch as we haue heard, that certaine which [k] went out from vs, haue troubled you with words, and [l] combred your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised and keepe the Law: to whom we gaue no such commandement, 25 It seemed therefore good to vs, when wee were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul.

26 Men that haue [m] giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 We haue therefore sent Iudas and Silas, which shall also tel you the same things by mouth.

28 [11] For it seemed good to the [n] holy Ghost, and [o] to vs to lay no more burden vpon you, then these [p] necessarie things, 29 [12] That is, that ye abstaine from things offered to idoles, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. Fare ye well.

30 [13] Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 And when they had read it, they reioyced for the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets, exhorted the brethren with many words, and strengthened them.

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in [q] peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding Silas thought good to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many other the word of the Lord.

36 ¶ [14] But after certaine dayes, Paul sayd vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne and visite our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and see how they doe.

---

i The Church is at length troubled with dissension within it selfe, and the trouble riseth of the proud and stubburne wittes of certaine euill men: The first strife was concerning the office of Christ, whether we be saued by his onely righteousnesse apprehended by faith, or we haue needefull also to obserue the Law.

a Epiphanius is of opinion that this was Cerinthus.

b Meetings of Congregations were instituted to suppresse heresies, wherevnto certaine were sent by common consent in the name of all.

b Courteously and louingly brought on their way by the Church, that is, by certaine appointed by the Church.

3 The matter is first handled, both parts being heard in the assemblie of the Apostles and ancients, and after is communicated with the people.

✣ Chap. 10. 20. and 11. 13.

4 God himselfe in calling of the Gentiles which are vncircumcised, did teach that our saluation doth consist in faith without the worship appointed by the Law.

c Word for word, of old time, that is, euen from the first time that we were commanded to preach the Gospel, and straightwayes after that the holy Ghost came downe vpon vs.

d He put no difference betweene vs and them, assuaging the benefite of his free fauour.

e Christ pronounceth them sanctified, which are pure of heart: and here we are plainly taught, that men are made such by faith.

5 Peter, passing from the Ceremonies to the Law it selfe in generall, sheweth that none could be saued, if saluation were to be sought for by the Law, and not by grace onely in Iesus Christ, because that no man could euer fulfill the Law, neither Patriarch, nor Apostle.

f Why tempt yee God, as though he could not saue by faith?

✣ Matth. 23. 4.

6 A true patterne of a lawfull Councill, where Gods truth onely reigneth.

g The sonne of Alpheus, who is called the Lordes brother.

7 Iames confirmeth the calling of the Gentiles, out of the wordes of God, therein agreeing to Peter.

✣ Amos 9. 11.

h And therefore nothing commeth to passe by fortune, but by Gods appointment.

8 In matters indifferent we may so farre beare with the weakenesse of our brethren, as they may haue time to be instructed.

i From sacrifices, or from feasts where they were kept in idols Temples.

9 In a lawfull Synode, neither they which are appointed and chosen Iudges, appoint and determine any thing tyrannously or vpon a Lordlines, neither doth the common multitude so themselues tumultuously against them, which sit as Iudges by the worde of God: as the like order also is holden in publishing and ratifying thothe things which haue beene so determined and agreed vpon.

10 The Councill of Hierusalem concludeth, that they trouble most constrictes, which teach vs to seeke saluation in any other meanes then in Christ onely, apprehended by faith, from whence soeuer they come, and whomsoeuer they professed to be authour of their vocation.

k From our congregation.

l A borrowed kinde of speach taken of them which pull downe that that was built vp: and it is a very vsuall metaphore in the Scriptures, to say the Church is built, for, the Church is planted and stablished.

m Haue greatly hazarded their liues.

11 The Councill, a lawfull Councill, which the holy Ghost ruleth.

n First they make mention of the holy Ghost, that it may not seeme to be any mans worke.

o Not that men haue any authoritie of themselues, but and labour. p This is, that the Gentiles and the Iewes might more peaceably liue together with lesse occasion of quarell.

12 Charitie is requisite euen in things indifferent.

13 It is requisite for all people to knowe certainely what to holde in matters of faith and religion, and not that the Church by ignorance and knowing nothing, should depend vpon the pleasure of a few.

q This is an Hebrew kinde of speech, which is as much to say, as the brethren wished them all prosperous successe, and the Church dismist them with good leaue.

14 Congregations or Churches doe easily degenerate, vnlesse they be diligently seene vnto, and therefore went these Apostles to ouersee such as they had planted, and for this cause also Synodes were instituted and appointed.

15 A lamentable example of discord betweene excellent men and very great friends, yet not for prophane or their priuate affaires, neither yet for doctrine.
16 God vseth the faultes of his seruants to the profite and building of his Church, yet we haue to take heed, euen in the best matters that wee passe not measure in our heate.
They were in great heate: but herein we haue to consider the force of Gods counsell: for by this meanes it came to passe, that the doctrine of the Gospel was exercised in many places.

37 15 And Barnabas counselled to take with them Iohn, called Marke.

38 But Paul thought it not meete to take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 16 Then were they ſo r stirred, that they departed asunder one from the other, ſo that Barnabas tooke Marke, and ſailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul choſe Sylas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And hee went through Syria and Cilicia, ſtabliſhing the Churches.

THen 1 came he to Derbe and to Lyſtra: and behold, a c certaine diſciple was there, named ✣ Timotheus, a womans ſonne, which was a a Iewеſſe, and beleeued, but his father was a Grecian.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lyſtra and Iconium, b reported well.

3 2 Therefore Paul would that hee ſhould goe forth with him, and tooke and circumciſed him, becauſe of the Iewes, which were in thoſe quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Grecian.

4 3 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them c the decrees to keepe, ordeined of the Apoſtles & Elders which were at Hieruſalem.

5 And ſo were the Churches ſtabliſhed in the faith, and increaſed in number dayly.

6 ¶ ✣ Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were d forbidden of the holy Ghoſt, to preach the word in Aſia.

7 Then came they to Myſia, and ſought to goe into Bithynia: But the Spirit ſuffered them not.

8 Therefore they paſſed through Myſia, and came downe to Troas, 9 f Where a viſion appeared to Paul in the night. There ſtood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, ſaying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 6 And after he had ſeene the viſion, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, being aſſured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Goſpel vnto them.

11 Then went wee forth from Troas, and with a ſtreight courſe came to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis.

12 ¶ And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in the parts of Macedonia, and whoſe inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there: and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

13 7 And on the Sabbath day we went out of the citie, beſides a riuer, where they were wont to g pray: and we ſate downe, and ſpake vnto the women, which were come together,

14 8 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a ſeller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worſhipped God, heard vs: whoſe heart the Lord opened, that ſhee attended vnto the things, which Paul ſpake.

15 9 And when ſhee was baptized, and her houſhold, ſhe beſought vs, ſaying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into mine houſe, & abide there: and ſhe conſtrained vs.

16 10 And it came to paſſe that as we went to prayer, a certaine maid hauing a ſpirit h of diuination, met vs, which gate her maſters much vantage with diuining.

17 Shee followed Paul and vs, and cried, ſaying, Theſe men are the ſeruants of the moſt high God, which ſhew vnto you the way of ſaluation.

18 And this did ſhee g many dayes: but Paul being grieued, turned about, and ſaid to the ſpirit, I commaund thee in the Name of Ieſus Chriſt, that thou come out of her. And he came out the ſame houre.

19 11 Now when her maſters ſaw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto the Magiſtrates.

20 12 And brought them to the gouernours, ſaying, Theſe men which are Iewes trouble our citie, 21 13 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obſerue, ſeeing we are Romanes.

22 14 The people alſo roſe vp together againſt them, and the gouernours rent their cloathes, and commanded them to be beaten with rods.

23 And when they had beaten them ſore, they caſt them into priſon, commanding the Gaolor to keepe them ſurely.

24 Who hauing receiued ſuch commandement, caſt them into the inner priſon, and made their feet h faſt in the ſtocks.

25 15 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and ſung Pſalmes vnto God: and the priſoners heard them.

26 And ſuddenly there was a great earthquake, ſo that the foundation of the priſon was ſhaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were looſed.

27 16 Then the keeper of the priſon waked out of his ſleepe, and when hee ſaw the priſon doores open, hee drew out his ſword and would haue killed himſelfe, ſuppoſing the priſoners had bin fled.

28 17 But Paul cried with a loude voyce, ſaying, Doe thy ſelfe no harme: for we all are here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas.

30 And brought them out, and ſayd, Syrs, what muſt I doe to be ſaued?

31 And they ſayde, Beleeue in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, & thou ſhalt be ſaued, and thine houſholde.

32 And they preached vnto him the worde of the Lord, and to all that were in the houſe.

33 18 Afterwarde hee tooke them the ſame houre of the night, and waſhed their ſtripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him ſtraightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his houſe, he ſet meate before them, and reioyced that he with all his houſhold beleeued in God.

35 19 And when it was day, the gouernours ſent the ſergeants, ſaying, Let thoſe men goe.

36 Then

20 We must not render iniurie for iniurie, and yet notwithstanding it is lawfull for vs to vse such helpes as God giueth vs, to bridle the outrageousnesse of the wicked, that they hurt not other in like sort.

22 We may eschew dangers, so that we neuer neglect our duetie.

36 Then the keeper of the prison tolde these wordes vnto Paul, saying, The gouernours haue sent to loose you: now therefore get you hence, and goe in peace.

37 20 Then sayd Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, which are Romanes, they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuily? nay verely: but let them come and bring vs out.

38 21 And the sergeants tolde these wordes vnto the gouernours, who feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 22 And they went out of the prison, and entred into the house of Lydia: and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul at Thessalonica 3 preaching Christ, 6. is intertained of Iason: 10 Hee is sent to Berea: 15 from thence comming to Athens, 19 in Mars streete 23 hee preacheth the liuing God to them vnknowen, 34 and so many are conuerted vnto Christ.

NOw 1 as they passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synogogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes disputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 2 Opening and alledging that Christ must haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead, and this is Iesus Christ, whom sayd he, I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned in company with Paul and Silas: also of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 3 But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine [a] vagabondes and wicked fellowes, and when they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, and made assault against the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying. These are they which haue subuerted the state of the [b] world, and here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these all doe against the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receiued sufficient [c] assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

10 4 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 5 These were also more [d] noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which receiued the worde with all readineſſe, and searched the Scriptures dayly, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 ¶ 6 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knew, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and mooued the people.

14 7 But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to goe as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus aboade there still.

15 8 And they that did conduct Paul, [e] brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 ¶ 9 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was [f] stirred in him, when he saw the citie subiect to idolatry.

17 Therefore hee disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market dayly with [h] whom soeuer he met.

18 10 Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoicks, disputed with him, and some said, What will this [i] babbler say? Others sayd, He seemeth to be a setter foorth of strange gods (because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into [k] Mars street, saying, May we not know, what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: wee would know therefore what these things meane.

21 11 For all the Athenians and strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselues to nothing els, but either to tell, or to heare some newes.

22 12 Then Paul stood in the middes of Mars streer, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things yee are too [l] superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your [m] deuotions, I founde an altar wherein was written, VNTO THE [n] VNKNOWEN GOD. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shewe I vnto you.

24 13 God hath made the world, and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heauen and earth, ✣ dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 ✣ Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giueth to all life and breath and all things, 26 14 And hath made of [o] one blood all mankind, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the seasons which were ordeined before, and the bounds of their habitation.

1 The casting out of Silas and Paul, was the fauing of many other.
2 Christ is therefore the Mediatour, because he was crucified and rose againe: much lesse is he to be reiected, because the crosse is ignominious.
3 Although the zeale of the vnfaithfull seeme neuer so goodly, yet at length it is found to haue neither truth nor equitie: But yet the wicked cannot doe what they list, for euen among themselues God stirreth vp some, whose helpe he vseth to the deliuerance of his.

c When Iason had put them in good assurance that they should appeare.
4 That is indeede the wisedome of the Spirit, which alwayes seeketh the glory of God before it seeketh it selfe as a marke whereunto it directeth it selfe, and neuer swarueth from it.
5 The Lord setteth out in one moment, and in one people, diuers examples of his vnsearchable wisedome, to cause them to feare him.

13 It is a most foolish and vaine thing to compare the Creator with the creature, to limite him within a place, which can be comprehended in no place, and to thinke to allure him with giftes, of whom all men haue receiued all things whatsoeuer they haue: And these are the fountaines of all idolatrie. ✣ Chap. 7. 48. ✣ Psalme 50. 8.

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if so be they might haue P groped after him, and found him, though doubtlesse he be not farre from euery one of vs.

30 r And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now he admonisheth all men euery where to repent, 31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom he hath appointed, whereof he hath giuen an s assurance to all men, in that hee hath raised him from the dead.

32 t Now when they had heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other said, We will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 As Paul at Corinth is taught the Gentiles, 9 the Lord comforteth him. 12 He is accused before Gallio, 16 but in vaine. 18 From thence he saileth to Syria, 19 and so to Ephesus. 23 At Galatia and Phrygia he strengtheneth the disciples. 24 Apollos being more perfectly instructed by Aquila, 28 preacheth Christ with great efficacie.

AFter these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus,

2 And found a certaine Iew named ✣ Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie, and his wife Priscilla (because that a Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and hee came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, hee abode with them and wrought (for their craft was to make tents.)

4 1 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath day, and b exhorted the Iewes, and the Grecians.

5 Now when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul c forced in Spirit, testified to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 2 And when they resisted and blaspheméd, he v shooke his raiment, and said vnto them, Your d blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 So hee departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

8 And ✲ Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue beleeued in the Lord with all his houshold: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleeued and were baptized.

9 ✣ Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

11 So he e continued there a yeere & sixe moneths, and taught the word of God among them.

12 ¶ f Now when Gallio was deputie of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God otherwise then the Law appointeth.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, I would according to g reason maintaine you.

15 But if it be a question of h wordes and i names, and of your Law, looke yee to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of those things.

16 And hee drawe them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then tooke all the Grecians Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beate him before the iudgement seate: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 6 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he tooke leaue of the brethren, and sailed into Syria, (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that k he had shorne his head in l Cenchrea: for he had made a ✣ vowe.

19 Then hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes.

20 7 Who desired him to tarrie a longer time with them: but he would not consent, 21 But badde them farewell, saying, I must needes keepe this feast that commeth, in Hierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, ✣ m if God will. So he sailed from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And when hee came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Hierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went thorow the countree of Galatia & Phrygia by order, strengthening all § disciples.

24 8 And a certaine Iewe named ✲ Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and n mighty in the Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, and hee spake feruently in the Spirit, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, and knew but the baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And hee began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whom when ✲ Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the o way of God more perfectly.

27 And when hee was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after hee was come thither, he holpe them much which had beleeued through P grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publikely the Iewes, with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was that Christ.

1 Certaine disciples at Ephesus, 3 hauing onely receiued Johns baptisme, 4 and knew not the visible gifts of the holy Ghost, wherewith God had beautified his Sonnes kingdome, 5 are baptized in the Name of Iesus. 13 The Iewish exorcists 16 are beaten of the deuill. 19 Conniuing bookes are burnt. 24 Demetrius 29 vaiseth sedition against Paul.

AND it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed thorow the vpper coasts, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,

2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the a holy Ghost since yee beleeued? And they sayd vnto him, We haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 [2] And he sayd vnto them, Vnto [b] what were ye then baptized? And they sayd, Vnto [c] Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayd Paul, ✠ Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus.

5 And when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 So Paul layd his handes vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 ¶ Moreouer he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 [3] But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the [d] way of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed dayly in the schoole of one [e] Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Grecians,

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, kerchefs, or bandkerchefs, & the diseases departed from them, & [f] euil spirits went out of them.

13 [4] Then certaine of the vagabond Iewes, [g] exorcists tooke in hand to name ouer them which had euill spirits, the name of the Lord Iesus, saying, We adiure you by Iesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 (And there were certaine sonnes of Sceua a Iew, the Priest, about seuen which did this.)

15 And the euill spirit answered, and sayd, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I know: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and [g] preuailed against them, so that they fleede out of that house, naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to all the Iewes and Grecians also which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified, 18 [5] And many that beleeued, came and [h] confessed, and shewed their works.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious artes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the word of God grewe mightily, and preuailed.

21 ¶ [6] Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed by the [k] Spirit to passe through Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus, and Erastus, but he remained in Asia for a season.

23 [7] And the same time there arose no small trouble about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius a siluersmith, which made siluer [l] temples of Diana, brought great gaines vnto the craftesmen,

25 Whom he called together, with the workmen of like things, and sayd, Sirs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue our goods:

26 Moreouer ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they be not Gods which are made with hands.

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, that this our [m] portion shall be reproued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should be nothing esteemed, and that it would come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia and the world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole citie was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, and caught ✠ Gaius, and ✠ Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companions of his iourney.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 [8] Certaine also of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not present himselfe in the Common place.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was out of order, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And some of the company drew foorth Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forwards. Alexander then beckened with his hand, and would haue excused the matter to the people.

34 [9] But when they knew that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 [10] Then the towne clearke when hee had stayed the people, sayd, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image, which [n] came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that no man can speake against these things, ye ought to be appeased, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For yee haue brought hither these men, which haue neither committed sacrilledge, neither doe blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius and the craftes men which are with him, haue a [o] matter against any man, the [p] law is open, and there are [q] Deputies: let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul appointed to goe to Macedonia: 7 In Troas preaching vntil midnight, 9 Eutychus fell downe dead out of a window, to he raiseth him to life: 15 At Miletum, 27 hauing called the Elders of Ephesus together, 29 he declareth what things shall come vpon himselfe, 28 and others.

NOw [1] after the tumult was appeased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone through those parts, & had exhorted them with [a] many words, he came into Grecia.

3 [2] And hauing taried there three moneths, because the Iewes layd waite for him, as hee was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from Philippi, after the dayes of vnleauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where wee aboade seuen dayes.

7 [3] And the [b] first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morow, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 [4] And there were many lights in an vpper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certaine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a dead sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, he ouercome with sleepe, fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and layd himselfe vpon him, and embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 Then when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, hauing spoken a long while till the dawning of the day, hee so departed.

12 And they brought the boy aliue, and they were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went before to shippe, and sailed vnto the citie Assos, that wee might receiue Paul there: for so had hee appointed, and would himselfe goe a foote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 [5] For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted to be, if hee could possible, at Hierusalem at the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ Wherefore from [c] Miletum, hee sent to Ephesus and called the Elders of the Church.

18 [6] Who when they were come to him, hee sayd vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue beene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all modestie, and with many teares, and tentations, which came vnto me by the layings await of the Iewes,

20 And how I kept [d] backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, and taught you openly and throughout euery house, 21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, & faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 [7] And nowe beholde, I goe [e] bound in the Spirit, vnto Hierusalem, and know not what things shall come vnto me there, 23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery citie, saying, that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministration which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospell of the grace of God.

25 And nowe beholde, I know that henceforth ye all, through whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am [f] pure from the blood of all men.

27 [8] For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you Ouerseers, to [g] feede the Church of God which [h] hee hath purchased with [i] that his owne blood.

29 [9] For I know this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreouer of your owne selues shall men arise speaking peruerse things, to [k] draw disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

32 [10] And nowe brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an [l] inheritance, among all them, which are sanctified.

33 [11] I haue coueted no mans siluer, nor golde, nor apparell.

34 Yea, ye knowe, that these handes haue ministred vnto my ✣ neceisities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring, ye ought to [m] support the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesus, howe that he sayd, It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 [12] Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him, 38 Being chiefly sorie for the words which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the shippe.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Paul goeth toward Hierusalem, 8 at Cesarea he talketh with Philip the Euangelist: 10 Agabus foretelleth him of his bonds. 17 After hee came to Hierusalem, 26 and into the Temple, 27 The Iewes layd hands on him: 32 Lysias the captaine taketh him from them.

AND as we launched foorth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And wee found a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboard, and set foorth.

3 And when wee had discouered Cyprus, wee left it on the left hand, and sailed toward Syria, and arriued at Tyrus: for there the shippe vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes. And they told Paul through the [a] Spirit, that he should not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, wee departed & went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiues & children, euen out of the cities: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when wee had embraced one another, we tooke ship, and they returned home.

7 And when wee had ended the course from Tyrus, wee arriued at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul and wee that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and wee entred into the house of ✣ Philip the Euangelist, which was one of the [b] seuen Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgins, which did [c] prophecie.

10 And as wee taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when hee was come vnto vs, hee tooke Pauls girdle, & bound his owne hands & feete, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee had heard these things, both we and other of the same place besought him that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said What doe ye weeping, and breaking mine heart? For I am ready not for to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 [1] So when he would not be perswaded, wee ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trussed vp our fardels, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, & brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, a olde disciple, with whom wee should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto Iames: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 [2] And when he had embraced them, he told by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 [4] So when they heard it, they glorified God, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all zealous of the Law:

21 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and sayest that they ought not to circumcise their sonnes, neither to liue after the customes.

22 What is then to be done? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee. Wee haue foure men, which haue made a vow, 24 Them take, and [d] purifie thy selfe with them, and [e] contribute with them, that they may ✣ shaue their heads: and all shall know, that those things, whereof they haue beene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleeue, we haue written, and determined, that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselues from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, [f] declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 [5] And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they saw him in the Temple) mooued all the people, and layd hands on him, 28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: moreouer, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted his holy place.

29 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was mooued, and the people ran together: and they tooke Paul, and drewe him out of the Temple, and foorthwith the doores were shut.

31 [6] But as they went about to kill him, tidings came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Hierusalem was on an vproare.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers and Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe captaine, and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere and tooke him, and commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cried this, another that, among the people. So when hee could not know the certaintie for the tumult, hee commanded him to be led into the castle.

35 And when he came vnto the grieces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue beene led into the castell, hee saide vnto the chiefe captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou the [g] Egyptian, who before these dayes raised a sedition, and led out into the wilderneſſe foure thousand men that were murtherers?

39 Then Paul saide, Doubtlesse, I am a man which am a Iew, and citizen of Tarsus, a famous citie of Cilicia, and I beseech thee, suffer mee to speak vnto the people.

43 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the grieces, and beckened with the hand vnto the people, and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAP. XXII.

1 Paul yeeldeth a reason of his faith, 22 and the Iewes heare him a while. 23 But so soone as they cried out, 24 He is commanded to be scourged and examined, 27 and so declareth that he is citizen of Rome.

YE men, brethren, & fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 (And when they heard that hee spake in the Hebrewe tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said)

3 [1] I am verely a man, which am a Iew, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this citie at the [a] feete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner of the Law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth beare me witnes & all the company of the Elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as I iourneyed, and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, & heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to mee, I am Iesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer they that were with mee, saw in deede a light and were afraide: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I saide, What shall I doe Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and goe vnto Damascus: and there it shall be tolde thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I couide not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias a godly man, as perteining to the Lawe, hauing good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto mee, and stood, and saide vnto me, Brother, Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he saide, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and shouldest see that Iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men, of the things which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tariest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a traunce, 18 And saw him, saying vnto mee, Make haste, and get thee quickely out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I saide, Lord, they know that I prisoned, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also stoode by, and consented vnto his death, & kept the cloathes of them that slew him.

21 Then hee saide vnto mee, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ [2] And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voyces, and saide, Away with such a fellowe from the earth: for it is not meete that he should liue.

23 And as they [c] cried & cast off their cloathes, and drew dust into the aire, 24 [3] The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the castle, and bade that hee should be scourged, & examined, that he might know wherefore they cried so on him.

25 [4] And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and saide to him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after hee knew that he was a [d] Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 On the next day, because hee would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore hee was accused of the Iewes, hee loosed him from his bonds, and commanded the hie Priestes and all their Councill to come together: and hee brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 As Paul pleadeth his cause, 2 Ananias commaundeth them to smite him. 7 Dissention among his accusers. 11 God encourageth him. 14 The Iewes laying wait for Paul, 20 is declared vnto the chiefe captaine. 27 He sendeth him to Felix the Gouernour.

AND [1] Paul beholde earnestly the Councill, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in al good conscience serued God vntill this day.

2 [2] Then the hie Priest Ananias commaunded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 [3] Then saide Paul to him, God [b] will smite thee, thou whitbed wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Lawe, and [c] transgressing the Law, commandest thou me to be smitten?

4 And they that stood by, saide, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 [4] Then said Paul, I knew not brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speake euill of the ruler of thy people.

6 [5] But when Paul perceiued that the one part were of the Sadduces, and the other of the 1 Paul making a short declaration of his former life, proueth both his vocation and doctrine to be of God.

a That is, his daily hearer: the reason of this speech is this, for that they which teach, sit commonly in the higher place, speaking to their scholders which sit vpon formes beneath: and therefore hee saith, at the feete of Gamaliel.

b This is properly spoken: for Steuen was murthered of a sort of cutthrotes, not by order of Iustice, but by open force: for at that time the Iewes could not put any man to death by Law.
2 Stout and stubborne pride will neither it selfe embrace the trueth, neither suffer other to receiue it.
c The description of a seditious hurly burly, and of an harebrained and madmultitude.
3 The wisedome of the flesh doeth not consider what is iust, but what is profitable, and thereto withall measure the profit according as it appeareth presently.
4 There is no cause why we may not vse those lawfull meanes which God giueth vs, to repell, or put away an iniurie.
d Not by Nation, but by the lawe of the citie.

2 Paul against the false accusations of his enemies, setteth a good conscience, for proofe whereof, he repeateth the whole course of his life.
3 Hypocrites are constrained at length to betray themselues by their intemperancie.
4 It is lawfull for vs to complaine of iniuries, and to sue vpon the wicked to the iudgement seate of God, so that we do it without hatred, and with a quiet & peaceable minde. a It appeareth plainely by the Greeke phrase, that Paul did not curse the hie Priest, but onely pronounce the punishment of God against him. b This is a vehement & sharpe speach, but yet not reproachfull: For if godly may speake roundly, and yet be voyde of the bitter affection of a sharpe and angrie minde. c For the Lawe commandeth the Iudge to beare the person that is accused patiently, and to pronounce the sentence aduisedly. 4 We must willingly and from the heart giue honour to Magistrates, although they be tyrants. ✣ Exod. 22, 27. 5 Wee may lawfully sometimes set the wicked together by the eares, that they may leaue off to assault vs, so that it be with no hinderance of the trueth.

6 The concord of the wicked is weake, although they conspire together to oppresse the truth.

7 It is an olde heresie of the Sadducees, to denie the substance of Angels and soules, and therewithall the resurrection of the dead.

✠ Mat. 22. 23.

a Natures that want bodies.

8 The Lord when it pleaseth him, findeth defenders of his cause, euen amongst his enemies.

e The Scribes office was a publik office, and the name of the Pharisees was the name of a sect.

9 God will not forsake us to the end.

10 Such as are caried away with a foolish zeale, think that they may lie and murther, and doe whatsoeuer mischiefe they list.

f They cursing and banning themselues promised.

g Tee and the Senate requiring the same to be done, least that the Tribune should thinke that it was demanded of him at some priuate mans suite.

11 The wisedome of the Spirit must be ioyned with simplicitie.

12 There is no counsell against the Lord and his seruants.

‖ Greeke, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

Pharises, he cried in the Councill, Men and brethren, ✠ I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 6 And when hee had sayde this, there was a dissension betweene the Pharises & the Sadduces, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 7 ✠ For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither [d] Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 8 Then there was a great crie: and the [e] Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, and stroue, saying, Wee finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 9 And when there was a great dissension, the chiefe captaine, fearing left Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and take him from among them, & to bring him into the castell.

11 Now the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul, for as thou hast testified of mee in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 - And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assembly, and bound themselues [f] with a curse, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were moe then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders, and said, Wee haue bound our selues with a solemne curse, that we will eate nothing, vntill wee haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the [g] Councill, signifie vnto the chiefe captain, that he bring him forth vnto you to morow, as though you would knowe something more perfectly of him, and we, or euer he come neere will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying await, he went, and entred into the castell, and told Paul.

17 [11] And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Take this yong man hence vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and sayd, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed mee to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath something to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shew me?

20 And he sayd, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring foorth Paul to morow into the Councill, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly:

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in wait for him of them, more then fourty men, which haue bound themselues with a curse, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, and wait for thy promise.

22 [12] The chiefe captain then let the yong man depart, after hee had charged him to vtter it to no man, that hee had ‖ shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night:

24 And let them make ready an horse, that Paul being set on, may me brought safe vnto Felix the gouernour.

25 And he wrote an Epistle in this maner:

26 [13] Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble gouernour Felix sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue beene killed of them, I came vpon them with a garison, and rescued him, perceiuing that hee was a Romaine.

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him foorth into their Councill.

29 There I perceiued that hee was accused of questions of their Lawe, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed mee, how that the Iewes layd wait for ỹ man, I sent him straightway to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned into the Castell.

33 Now when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouernour had read it, he asked of what prouince he was: and when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, sayd hee, when thine accusers also are come, and commaunded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIV.

a Tertullus accuseth Paul: 10 He answereth for himselfe: 21 He preacheth Christ to the gouernour and his wife. 27 Felix hopeth, but in vaine, to receiue a bribe, 28 who going from his office, leaueth Paul in prison.

NOwe [1] after fiue dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came down with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine oratour, which appeared before the gouernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that wee haue obteined great quietnesse [a] through thee, and that many [b] worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a few words.

5 Certainely we haue found this man a [c] pestilent fellow, and a moouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a [d] chiefe maintainer of the sect of the [e] Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore we tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our Law:

7 But the chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou maiest (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

13 Lysias is suddenly made by the Lord Pauls patron.

1 Hypocrites, when they cannot doe what they would doe by force and deceit, at length they goe about to compasse it by a sheeve of Law.

a Felix ruled that prouince with great cruelty and couetousnesse, and yet Iosephus recordeth that he did many worthy things, as that he tooke Eleazar the captaine of certain cut-throats, and put that deceauing wretch the Egyptian to flight, which caused great troubles in Iudea.

b He vseth a word which the Stoikes defined to be a perfit duetie and behauiour.

c Word for word, a plague.

d As you would say, a ringleader, or ensigne bearer.

e So they called the Christians, scoffingly borne, where vpon of the townes name where they thought that Christ was came that Iulian the Apostate called him Galilean.

f Confirmed Tertullus his sayings.

2 Tertullus by the deuils rhetoricke beginneth with flatterie, maketh an end with lies: but Paul vsing heauenly eloquence, and but a simple beginning casteth off from himselfe the crime of sedition, wherewith he was burdened, with a simple denial.

g Paul pleadeth his cause two yeares before Felix departed out of the prouince, chap. 27. but he had gouerned Trachonite, and Batanee, and Galaunite, before that Claudius made him gouernour of Iudea: Iosephus in the history of the Iewes warres, lib. 2. cap. 21.

h They cannot lay forth before thee and prooue by good reasons.

3 Paul goeth in the cause of religion from a state consciouall to a state of qualitie, not onely not denying that religion which was obiected against him, but also prooueing it to be true, to be heauenly and from God, and to be the oldest of all religions.

i Here this word, Heresie, or sect, is taken in good part.

4 Paul in conclusion letteth the thing which was alone true, vnto Tertullus had before sinera wayes corrupted.

k And while I was busie about those things.

l Hereby it appeareth that these of Asia were Pauls his enemies, and those that stirred vp the people against him.

m Watther the Tribune brought me.

5 The Iudge suspendeth his sentence, because the matter is doubtfull.

n Felix could not iudge whether he had done wickedly in the matters of his religion or no, vntill he had better vnderstanding of that way which Paul professed: and as for other matters touching the sedition, he thanketh God to be sure it till he hear Lysias, and therefore he gaue Paul somewhat more liberty. 6 God is a most faithfull keeper of his seruants, and the force of the truth is wonderfull, euen among the vnbeleeuing, which are otherwise prophane. o This Drusilla was Agrippa his sister, of whom Luke speaketh afterward, a very harlot and the vitious woman, and being the wife of Azizas king of the Emesens, who was circumcised, departed from him, and went to Felix the brother of one Pallas, who was sometime a Hebrew his bondman.

9 And the Iewes likewise ſ affirmed, saying that it was ſo.

10 1 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckened vnto him that hee ſhould ſpeake, anſwered, I do the more gladly anſwere for my ſelfe, foraſmuch as I know that thou haſt beene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation,

11 Seeing that thou mayeſt know, that there are but twelue dayes ſince I came vp to worſhip in Hieruſalem.

12 And they neither found me in the Temple, diſputing with any man, neither making vproare among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie.

13 Neither can they h prooue the things, whereof they now accuſe me.

14 3 But this I confeſſe vnto thee, that after the way (which they call hereſie) ſo worſhip I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the reſurrection of the dead, which they themſelues looke for alſo, ſhallbe both of iuſt and vniuſt.

16 And herein I indeuour my ſelfe to haue alway a cleare conſcience toward God and toward men.

17 4 Now after many yeeres, I came & brought almes to my nation and offerings.

18 At which time, certaine Iewes of i Aſia found mee purified in the Temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

19 Who ought to haue beene preſent before thee, and accuſe me, if they had ought againſt me.

20 Or let theſe themſelues ſay, If they haue found any vniuſt thing in mee, while I ſtood in the m Council, 21 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cried ſtanding among them, Of the reſurrection of the dead am I accuſed of you this day.

22 5 Now when Felix heard theſe things, hee deferred them, and ſayd, When I ſhall more n perfectly know the things which concerne this way, by the comming of Lyſias the chiefe Captaine, I will decide your matter.

23 6 Then hee commaunded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that he ſhould haue eaſe, and that he ſhould forbid none of his acquaintance to miniſter vnto him, or to come vnto him.

24 ¶ And after certaine daves, came Felix with his wife o Druſilla, which was a Ieweſſe, and he called foorth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Chriſt.

25 And as he diſputed of righteouſnes & temperance, & of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and anſwered, Go thy way for this time, and when I haue conuenient time, I will call for thee.

26 Hee hoped alſo that money ſhould haue beene giuen him of Paul, that he might looſe him: wherefore hee ſent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

27 7 When two yeeres were expired, Porcius Feſtus came into Felix roome: and Felix willing to p get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bound.

p For whereas he had behaued himſelfe very wickedly in the prouince, had done for al: ſo that it not beeue for fauour of his brother Pallas, hee ſhould haue done for al: ſo that we may gather hereby why he would haue pleaſured the Iewes.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Feſtus ſucceeding Felix, 6 commandeth Paul to be brought forth. 11 Paul appealeth vnto Cæſar. 14 Feſtus openeth Pauls matter to king Agrippa, 23 and bringeth him before him, 27 that he may vnderſtand his cauſe.

WHen Feſtus was then come into the prouince, after three dayes hee went vp from Ceſarea vnto Hieruſalem.

2 Then the high Prieſt, and the chiefe of the Iewes appeared before him againſt Paul: and they beſought him,

3 And deſired fauour againſt him, that hee would ſend for him to Hieruſalem: and they layd wait to kill him by the way.

4 But Feſtus anſwered, that Paul ſhould be kept at Ceſarea, and that he himſelfe would ſhortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, ſayd he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednes in the man, let them accuſe him.

6 ¶ 2 Nowe when he had tarried among them no more then ten dayes, he went down to Ceſarea, and the next day ſate in the iudgement ſeate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Iewes which were come from Ieruſalem, ſtoode about him and layd many and grieuous complaints againſt Paul, whereof q they could make no plaine proofe,

8 Forasmuch as he anſwered that he had neither offended any thing againſt the lawe of the Iewes, neither againſt ỹ temple, nor againſt Ceſar.

9 3 Yet Feſtus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, anſwered Paul and ſayd, Wilt thou goe vp to Hieruſalem, and there be iudged of theſe things before me?

10 Then ſaid Paul, I ſtand at Cæſars iudgement ſeate, where I ought to be iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knoweſt.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuſe not to die: but if there be none of theſe things whereof they accuſe me, no man, to pleaſure them, can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cæſar.

12 Then when Feſtus had ſpoken with the Councill, hee anſwered, Haſt thou appealed vnto Cæſar? vnto Cæſar ſhalt thou goe.

13 ¶ 4 And after certaine dayes, King r Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cæſarea to ſalute Feſtus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Feſtus declared Pauls cauſe vnto the king, ſaying, There is a certaine man left in priſon by Felix, 15 Of whom when I came to Hieruſalem, the hie Prieſts and Elders of the Iewes enformed me, and deſired to haue iudgement againſt him.

16 To whom I anſwered, that it is not the manner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to the death, before that the which is accuſed, haue the accuſers before him, and haue place to defend himſelfe, concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I ſate on the iudgement ſeate, and commanded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Againſt whom when the accuſers ſtood vp, they q Yet whereas he had behaued himſelfe very wickedly in the prouince, had done for al: ſo that r Satans Miniſters are ſubtill and diligent in ſeeking all occaſions: but God who watcheth for his, hindreth all their counſels eaſily.

a We may repell an iniurie iuſtly, but not with an iniurie.

a. They could not prooue them certainly & without doubted reaſons.

3 God doeth not onely turne away the counſell of the wicked, but alſo turneth it vpon their owne heads.

4 Feſtus thinking no ſuch thing, euen before kings, bringing to light the wickednesſe of the Iewes, and Pauls innocencie, doeth marueilouſly confirme the Church of God.

b This Agrippa was Agrippa his ſonne, whoſe death Luke ſpak of before, and Bernice was his ſiſter.

c The Romans vſed not to deliuer any man to be puniſhed before, &c.

they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 5 But had certaine questions against him of their owne d superstitions, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of question, I asked him whether he would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things.

21 But because he appealed to be reserued to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 6 Then Agrippa sayd vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morrowe when Agrippa was come, and Bernice with great e pompe, and were entred into the Common hall with the chiefe captaines and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought foorth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon me, both at Hierusalem, and here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I found nothing worthy of death, that he hath committed: neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my f lord: wherefore I haue brought him foorth vnto you, and especially vnto thee, King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For mee thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, and not to shew the causes which are laid against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

a Paul in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 16 and his calling, 21 with such efficacie of words, 28 that almost he perswaded him to Christianisme. 30 But he and his company depart doing nothing in Pauls matter.

THen Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 1 I thinke my selfe happy, King Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Chiefely, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare mee patiently.

4 2 As touching my life from my childe-hood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe all the Iewes,

5 Which a knewe me heretofore, euen from my b Elders (if they would testifie) that after the most straight sect of our religion, I liued a Pharise.

6 3 And now I stande and am accused for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Wherevnto our twelue tribes instantly ser-uing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 4 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazareth.

10 ✣ Which thing I also did in Hierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue my d sentence.

11 And I punished them thorowout all the Synagogues, and e compelled them to blaspheme, and being more madde against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to ✣ Dama-cus with authoritie, and commission from the high Priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heauen passing the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about mee, and them which went with me.

14 So when wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, and saying in the Hebrewe tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feet: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witnesse, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from this people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,

18 5 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darknesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenesse of sinnes, & inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 6 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disоbedient vnto the heauenly vision,

20 ✣ But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and thorowout all the coasts of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe workes worthy amendment of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the ✣ Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 7 Neuertheless, I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to f small and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets and Moses did say should come,

23 To wit, that Christ should g suffer, and that he should be the h first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto this people, and to the Gentiles.

24 8 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus sayd with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy selfe, much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of trueth, and sobernesse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him: for this thing was not done in a k corner.

27 9 O king Agrippa, beleeuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleeuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul said, I would to God that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 10 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose

✣ Chap. 8, 3.

d I consented to, and allowed of their doing: for he was not a iudge.
e By extreme punishment.
✣ Chap. 9, 2.

5 The end of the Gospel is to saue them which are brought to the knowledge of Christ, and are iustified and sanctified in him being layd hold on by faith.
6 Paul alledgeth God to be authour of the office of his Apostleship, and his grace as a witnesse.
7 Chap. 9, 22, 26, and 13, 4.
✣ Chap. 21, 30.
7 Christ is the end of the Law and the Prophetes.
f To euery one.
g That Christ should not be such a king as the Iewes dreamed of; but one appointed to beare our miseries, and the punishments of our sinnes.
h The first of them which are raised from the dead.
i Safe, sound, and that a most blessed life which shall be endlesse: and this is set against darknesse, which almost in all tongues signifieth sometime death, and sometime miserie and calamitie.
8 The wisedome of God is madnesse to fooles, yet notwithstanding we must boldly auouch the trueth, & secretly, and priuately.
9 Paul as it were forgetting himselfe that he stood a prisoner to defend his cause, forgetteth not the office of his Apostleship.
l I would to God that not onely almost, but thorowly and altogether both thou and all that heare me this day, might be made as I am, my bonds onely except.
10 Paul is solemnely quiet, and yet not dismissed.

rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying. This man doeth nothing worthy of death, nor of bonds.

32 Then sayd Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue beene loosed, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Paul 7.9 foretelleth the perill of the voyage, 11 but he is not beleeued. 14 They are tossed to and fro with the tempest, 22.41 and suffer shipwracke: 34 Yet all safe and sound 44 escape to land.

NOw a when it was concluded, that we should saile into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, and certaine other prisoners vnto a Centurion, named Iulius, of the band of Augustus.

2 And ✠ we entred into a shippe of Adramyttium, purposing to saile by the coastes of Asia, and launched foorth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

3 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: and Iulius courteously entreated Paul, and gaue him liberrie to goe vnto his friends, that they might refresh him

4 And from thence we launched, & sailed hard by Cyprus, because the windes were contrary.

5 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a citie in Lycia.

6 And there the Centurion found a shippe of Alexandria, sailing into Italie, and put vs therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sailed hard by Candie, neere to a Salmone,

8 And with much adoe sailed beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called § Faire hauens, neere vnto the which was the citie Lasea.

9 a So when much time was spent, and sailing was now ieopardous, because also the b Fast was now passed, Paul exhorted them,

10 And said vnto them, Sirs, I see that this voyage will be with hurt, and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 a Neuertheleste the Centurion beleeued rather the gouernour and the master of the shippe, then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lieth toward the Southwest and by West, and Northwest and by West.

13 And when the Southerne winde blewe softly, they supposing to attaine their purpose, loosed neerer, and sailed by Candie.

14 But anon after, there arose by c it a stormie winde called d Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the winde, we let her goe, and were caried away.

16 And we ran vnder a little Vle named Clauda, and had much adoe to get the boat.

17 Which they tooke vp and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the ship, fearing least they should haue fallen vnto Syrtes, and they strake saile, and so were caried.

18 § The next day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightned the ship.

19 And the third day wee cast out with our owne hands the takling of the ship.

20 And when neither sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued, was then taken away.

21 § But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the mids of them, and said, Sirs, ye should haue hearkened to me, and not haue loosed from Candie: so should ye haue gained this hurt and losse.

22 But now I exhort you to be of good courage: for there shalbe no losse of any mans life among you, saue of the ship onely.

23 For there stood by me this night the Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and loe, God hath giuen vnto thee freely, all that saile with thee.

25 e Wherefore, Sirs, be of good courage: for I beleeue God, that it shall be so as it hath beene tolde me.

26 Howbeit, wee must be cast into a certaine Iland.

27 f And when the fourteenth night was come, as wee were carried to and fro in the e Adriaticall sea about midnight, the shipmen deemed that some countrey f approached vnto them, 28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded againe, and found fifteene fathoms.

29 Then fearing least they should haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure ancres out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

30 § Now as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boat into the sea vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the foreship, 31 g Paul saide vnto the Centurion and the souldiers Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be safe.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

33 h And when it began to be day, Paul exhorted them all to take meat, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue tarried, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing:

34 Wherefore I exhort you to take meat: for this is for your safegard: for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, hee tooke bread, and gaue thankes to God in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they also tooke meat.

37 Now we were in the ship in all two hundred threescore and sixteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 i And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine b creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed the shippe vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bonds, and hoised vp the maine saile to the winde, and drew to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place, where two seas mette, they thrust in the shippe: and the forepart stucke fast, and could not be mooued, but the hinderpart was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 k Then

2 Paul with many other prisoners, and through the midst of many dearths, is brought to Rome, but yet by Gods owne hand as it were, and set forth and commended vnto the world with many singular testimonies. Ch. 2, Cor. 11, 23.

a Which was an high point of Candie.
a Gods prouidence taketh not away the causes which God vseth as meanes, but rather ordereth and disposeth their right vse euen then when he openeth a extraordinarie waie.
b This is meant of the Iewes fast, which they keepe in the feast of expiation, as we reade Leuit 23, 27 which fell in the seuenth moneth which we call October, and is now gone for nauigation, or sailing.
g Men cast themselues willingly into an infinite sort of dangers, when they chuse to follow their owne wisedome, rather then God speaking by the mouth of his seruants.
c By Candie, from whose shore our ship was driuen by that meanes.
d North east wind.
e § The end proueth that none prouide worse for themselues, then they which commit themselues to be gouerned onely by their owne wisedome.

5 God spareth the wicked for a time, for his elects and chosens sake.

6 The promise is made effectuall through faith.

7 We attaine and come to the promised and sure saluation through the midst of tempests and death it selfe.
f For Ptolome writeth, that the Adriaticall sea beateth vpon the East shore of Sicilia.
f That they drew neere to some countrey.
8 There is none so foule an act, wherevpon distrust and an euill conscience doe not enforce men.
9 Although the performing of Gods promises doth not simply depend vpon second causes, yet they make them fruitlesse, which doe not embrace those meanes which God offereth them, either vpon rashnesse or distrust.
10 When the world trembleth, the faithfull alone be not onely quiet, but confirme others by their example.
g This is a prouerbe which the Hebrues vse, whereby is meant, that they shall be safe, and not one of them perish.
11 Then are tempests most of all to be feared and looked for, when the port or hauen is neerest.
b A creeke is a sea within land, as the Adriaticall sea, and the Persian sea.
i So is Isthmus called, because the sea toucheth it on both sides.

42 11 Then the ſouldiers counſell was to kill the priſoners, leaſt any of them, when he had ſwomme out, ſhould flee away.

43 12 But the Centurion willing to ſaue Paul, ſtayed them from this counſell, and commaunded that they that could ſwimme, ſhould caſt themſelues firſt into the ſea, and goe out to land:

44 13 And the other, ſome on boards, and ſome on certaine peece of the ſhip: and ſo it came to paſſe, that they came all ſafe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 The Barbarians curteſie towards Paul and his companie. 3 A viper on Pauls hand: 6 He ſhaketh it off without harme: 8 Publius 9 and others are by him healed. 11 They depart from Melita, 16 and come to Rome. 17 Paul openeth to the Iewes, 20 the cauſe of his comming. 22 He preacheth Ieſus 30 two yeeres.

AND when they were come ſafe, then they knew that the Iſle was called [a] Melita.

2 And the Barbarians ſhewed vs no litle kindneſſe, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, becauſe of the preſent ſhowre, and becauſe of the cold.

3 [c] And when Paul had gathered a number of ſticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and leapt on his hand.

4 [d] Now when the Barbarians ſawe the worme hang on his hand, they ſaid among themſelues, This man ſurely is a murtherer, whom, though he hath eſcaped the ſea, yet [b] Vengeance hath not ſuffered to liue.

5 But hee ſhooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when hee ſhould haue ſwolne, or fallen downe dead ſuddenly: [e] but after they had looked a great while, and ſawe no inconuenience come to him, they changed their mindes, and ſaid, That he was a God.

7 [f] In the ſame quarters, the chiefe man of the Iſle (whoſe name was Publius) had poſſeſſions: the ſame receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteouſly.

8 And ſo it was, that the father of Publius lay ſicke of the feuer, and of a bloodie flixe: to whom Paul entred in, and when hee prayed, hee layde his hands on him, and healed him.

9 [g] When this then was done, other alſo in the Iſle, which had diſeaſes, came to him, and were healed, 10 [h] Which alſo did vs great honour: and when wee departed, they laded vs with things neceſſarie.

11 ¶ [i] Now after three moneths wee departed in a ſhip of Alexandria, which had wintred in the Iſle, whoſe [d] badge was Caſtor, and Pollux.

12 And when we arriued at Syracuſe, we taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee fet a compaſſe, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South wind blewe, and wee came the ſecond day to Puteoli:

14 [k] Where wee found brethren, and were deſired to tary with them ſeuen daies, and ſo we went toward Rome.

15 ¶ [l] And from thence when the brethren heard of vs, they came to mecte vs at the [e] Market of Appius, and at the three tauernes, whom when Paul ſawe, hee thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 So when wee came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the priſoners to the generall Captaine: but Paul was ſuffered to dwell by [f] himſelfe with a ſouldier that kept him.

17 [m] And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together, and when they were come, hee ſaide vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing againſt the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered priſoner from Hieruſalem into the handes of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let me go, becauſe there was no cauſe of death in me.

19 [n] But when the Iewes ſpake contratie, I was conſtrained to appeale vnto Ceſar, not becauſe I had ought to accuſe my nation of.

20 For this cauſe therefore haue I called for you to ſee you, and to ſpeake with you: for that hope of Iſraels ſake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they ſaid vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that ſhewed or ſpake any euill of thee.

22 But wee will heare of thee what thou thinkeſt: for as concerning this ſect, we know that euerie where it is ſpoken againſt.

23 [o] And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whome hee expounded, [p] teſtifying the kingdome of God, and perſwading them thoſe things that concerne Ieſus, both out of the Lawe of Moſes, and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 [q] And ſome were perſwaded with the things which were ſpoken, and ſome beleeued not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themſelues, they departed, after that Paul had ſpoken one word, to wit, Well ſpake the holy Ghoſt by Eſaias the Prophet vnto our fathers, 26 [r] Saying, Goe vnto this people, and ſay, By hearing ye ſhall heare, and ſhall not vnderſtand, and ſeeing ye ſhall ſee, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing and with their eyes haue they [s] winked, leaſt they ſhould ſee with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderſtand with their hearts, and ſhould returne that I might heale them.

28 [t] Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this ſaluation of God is ſent to the Gentiles, and they ſhall heare it.

29 [u] And when hee had ſaid theſe things, the Iewes departed, and had great reaſoning among themſelues.

30 [x] And Paul remained two yeeres full in an houſe hired for himſelfe, & receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching thoſe things which concerne the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, with all boldneſſe of ſpeech, without let.

2 Although aduerſitie be the puniſhment of ſinne, yet ſeeing that God in puniſhing of men doth not alwayes reſpect ſinne, they iudge raſhly, which either doe not wait for the end, or doe iudge and eſteeme of men according to proſperitie or aduerſitie.

b Right and reaſon

c The Greeke word ſignifieth, to be inflamed, or to ſwell: moreouer Dioſcorides in his 6 booke cap. 38. witneſſeth, that the biting of a viper cauſeth a ſwelling of the bodie, and ſo ſaith Nicander, in his remedies againſt poyſon.

3 There is nothing more vncertaine euery way, then they which are ignorant of true religion.

4 If neuer yet repented any man, that receiued the ſeruant of God, were he neuer ſo miſerable and poore.

5 Although Paul were a captiue, yet the vertue of God was not captiue. 6 doe not deſile the Saints, which doe in no wiſe conſent vnto them. d So they vſed to decke the forepart of their ſhippes, wherevpon the ſhippes were called by ſuch names. 8 God bleſſeth and bendeth the hearts euen of prophane men, as it pleaſeth him to fauour his.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAVL TO THE ROMANES.

CHAP. I.

1 He first sheweth on what authoritie his Apostleship standeth. 15 Then hee commendeth the Gospell, 16 by which God setteth out his power to those that are saued, 17 by faith, 18 but were guiltie of wicked vnthankefulnesse to God: 26 For which his wrath was worthily powred on them. 30 So that they ranne headlong to all kinde of sinne.

PAVL a [a] seruant of IESVS Christ called to be an [b] Apostle, [c] put apart to preach the Gospel of God,

2 (Which hee had promised afore by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures)

3 Concerning his [d] Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord (which was [e] made of the seed of Dauid [f] according to the flesh),

4 And [g] declared [h] mightily to be the sonne of God, touching the Spirit of sanctification by the resurrection from the dead)

5 [i] By whome wee haue receiued [k] grace and Apostleship (that [l] obedience might be giuen vnto the faith) for his name [m] among all the Gentiles,

6 Among whome ye be also the [n] called of Iesus Christ:

7 To all you that be at Rome beloued of God, called to be Saints: [o] Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

8 [p] First I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you all, because your faith is [q] published throwout the whole world.

9 For God is my witnesse (whom I serue in my [r] spirit in the Gospell of his Sonne) that without ceasing I make mention of you.

10 Alwayes in my prayers, beseeching that by some meanes, one time or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 [s] For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spirituall gift, that you might be strengthened:

12 That is, that [t] I might be comforted together with you, through our mutuall faith, both yours and mine.

13 Now my brethren, I would that yee should not be ignorant, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene let hitherto) that I might haue some fruit also among you, as I haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise men and to the vnwise.

15 Therefore, as much as in me is, I am readie to preach the Gospell to you also [y] are at [u] Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ: [x] for it is the [x] power of God vnto saluation vnto euery one that beleeueth, to the Iew first, and also to the [y] Grecian.

17 [6] For by it the righteousnesse of God is reuealed from [z] faith to faith: [7] as it is written, [+] The iust shall liue by faith.

18 [8] For the wrath of God is reuealed from heauen against [a] all vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, which withholde the [b] truth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For asmuch as that, which may be knowen of God, is manifest in [c] them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternall power & Godhead, are seene by the creation of the world, being [d] considered in his works, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, they [e] glorified him not as God, neither were thankefull, but became [f] vaine in their thoughts, and their foolish heart was full of darkenesse.

22 When they [g] professed themselues to be wise, they became fooles, 23 For they turned the glorie of the [h] incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beasts, and of creeping things.

24 [10] Wherefore [i] also God [k] gaue them vp to their hearts lusts, vnto vncleannesse, [9] to defile their owne bodies betweene themselues:

25 Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp to vile affections for euen their women did change the naturall vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselues such [l] recompence of their errour, as was meet.

a The first part of the Epistle containing a most profitable preface vnto verse 15.

b He moouing the Romanes to giue diligeut eare vnto him in that hee sheweth that hee commeth not in his owne name, but as Gods messenger vnto the Gentiles, intreateth with them of the waighticst matter: that is promised long since of God, by many sit witnesses, and now at the length performed indeede.

c A minister, for this worde seruant, as not taken in this place, as set against this word, Freeman, but declareth his ministerie and office.

d Whereas hee saith before in a generall teame, that he was a minister, now he commeth to a more speciall name, and saith he is an Apostle, and that he tooke not vpon him this office of his owne head, but being called of God, and therefore in this his writing to the Romanes, doeth nothing but his duetie.

+ Actes 13.3. t. e Appointed of God to preach the Gospel.

3 By declaring the summe of the doctrine of the Gospel, hee stirreth vp the Romanes to good consideration of the matter whereof hee entreateth: So then hee sheweth that Christ (who is the very substance and summe of the Gospell) is the onely sonne of God the Father, who as touching his humanitie, is made of the seed of Dauid, but touching his diuine and spirituall nature, whereby hee sanctified himselfe, is begotten of the Father from euerlasting, as by his mightie resurrection manifestly appeareth. d This is a plaine testimonie of the person of Christ, that he is but one, and of his two natures, and their properties. e Which tooke flesh of the virgin, Dauid his daughter. f As he is man: for this word Flesh, by the figure Synechdoche, is taken for man. g Shewed and made manifest. h The diuine and mightie power is set against the weakenesse of the flesh, for that ouercame death. i Of whom. k This meruailous liberall and gracious gift, which is guenenzee, the least of all the Saints, to preach, &c. Ephes. 3.8. l That men through faith might obey God. m For his Names sake. n In Which through Gods goodnesse, are Christes. o Gods free good will: by peace, the Hebrewes meane a prosperous successe in all things. p He procureth their fauourable patience, in that he reckoneth vp their true commendation, and his true & resolike good will toward them, confirmed by taking God himselfe to witnesse. q Because your faith is such, that it is commended in all Churches. r In all Churches, s Very willingly and with all my heart. t In preaching his Sonne. u Though Rome were neuer so excellent, yet by teaching the Church, it might be inlightned by it.

x He meaneth all them that dwelt in Rome, though some of them were not Romanes, Luke the end of the epistle.

y The second part of the Epistle vnto the beginning of the 9 Chap. Now the whole end and purpose of the disputation is this: that is to say: to shew that there is but one way to attaine vnto saluation (which is set forth vnto vs of God in the Gospell, without any difference of nations) and that is Iesus Christ apprehended by faith.

x God his mightie and effectuall instrument to saue men by.

y Whom this word Grecian, is set against this word Iewe, then doth it signifie a Gentile.

6 The confirmation of the former proposition: we are taught in the Gospel that we are iustified before God by faith which encreaseth daily: and therefore also saued.

z From faith which encreaseth daily.

7 The proofe as well of the first as the second proposition, out of Habakuk, who attributeth and giueth vnto faith both iustice and life before God.

+ Abak. 2.4.

8 Another confirmation of that principall question: All men being considered in themselues or without Christ, are guiltie both of godlinesse, and also vnrighteousnesse, and therefore are subiect to condemnation in some other.

a Against all kind of vngodlinesse. b By trueth, Paul meaneth all the light that is left in mans nature his fall, not as though they being led thereby were able to come into fauour with God, but that their own reason might condemne them of wickednesse both against God and man. c Their vngodlines he proueth hereby, that although al men haue a moit cleare and euident glasse wherein to behold the euerlasting & almighti e nature of God, euen in his creatures, yet haue they fallen away from those principles to meer foolish & fonde deuises of their own braines, in constituting and appointing the semise of God. d To their hearts. e Thou seest not God, and yet thou acknowledgest him as God by his workes. Cicero. f They did not honour him with that honour, and seruice, which was meet for his euerlasting power and Godhead. g As if he said, became so mad of themselues. h Or, thought themselues. i For the true God they make another. 10 The vnrighteousnesse of men hee setteth forth briefly, in this, that euen against nature following their lusts, they defiled themselues one with another, by the iust iudgement of God. k The contempt of religion, is the fountaine of all mischiefe. l As a iust iudge. I Ameet reward for their deserts.

1r He proceeth the vnrighteousnesse of man by a large rehearsall of many kindes of wickednesse, from which (if not from all, yet at the least from many of them) no man is altogether free.

m Into a mad and froward minde, whereby is commeth to passe, that the conscience being once put out, and hauing almost no more remorse of sinne, men runne headlong into all kind of mischiefe.

n Vnmindfull of their couenants and bargaines.

o By the Law of God he meaneth that which the Philosophers called the Law of nature, and the Lawyers themselues termed the Law of nations.

p An ordinary and parable-word them in their wickednesse, and besides that, commend them which doe amisse.

2 He conuinceth them which would seeme to be exempt out of the number of other men, because they reprehend other mens faults, and sayth that they are least of all to be excused, for if they were well and narrowly searched (as God surely doth) they themselues would be found guilty in those things which they reprehend, and punish in other: so that in condemning other, they pronounce sentence against themselues.

a Paul alleageth no places of Scripture, for he ye[illegible] generally against all men: but he bringeth such reasons as euery man is perswaded of in his mind, so that he deuiseth himselfe is not able to pluckе them cleane out.

b Crossing and vndoing things aright, and not by any outward shew.

c A vehement and grieuous crying out against them that please themselues, because they see more then other do, and yet are no whit better then others are.

d Iam. 5. 3. e Wrathfe thou giuest thy selfe to pleasures, thinking to increase thy goods, thou shalt find God his wrath. 3 The ground of the former disputation, That both the Iewes and Gentiles haue altogether need of righteousnes. ✠ Psal. 62. 12. Mat. 16. 27. rom. 2. 6. 2. 10. f Glory which followeth good works, which he saieth not out before vs, as though there were any that could attaine to saluation by his owne strength, but by laying this condition of saluation before vs, which no man can performe, to bring men to Christ, who alone iustified the sele sorry, as he himselfe confesseth, chap. 2. 22. following. g By trueth, he meaneth that knowledge which we haue of nature. f Gods indignation against sinners, which shall quickly be kindled. g God doeth not measure men either by their blood, or by their countrey, either successiue them, or is call them away.

28 11 For as they regarded not to acknowledge God, euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a reprobate minde, to doe these things which are not conuenient,

29 Being full of all varitateousnesse, fornication, wickednesse, couetousnesse, malitiousnesse, full of enuie, of murther, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in the euill part, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proud, boasters, inuenters of euill things, disobedient to parents, 31 Without vnderstanding, h conenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, mercilesse.

32 Which men, though they knew the o Law of God, how that they which commit such things are worthy of death, yet not onely doe the same, but also p fauour them that doe them.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee bringeth all before the iudgement seat of God. 12 The excuse that the Gentiles might pretend. 14 of ignorance, he taketh quite away. 17 Hee vrgeth the Iewes with the written Law. 23 in which they boasted. 27 And so maketh both Iew and Gentile alike.

THerefore a thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer thou art that condemnest: for in that thou condemnest another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that condemnest, doest the same things.

2 But we b know that the iudgement of God is according to c trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that condemnest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 d Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifulnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifulnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thine hardnesse, and heart that cannot repent, ✠ heapest vp as a treasure vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

6 3 ✠ Who will reward euery man according to his workes:

7 That is, to them which through patience in well doing, seeke glory, and honour, and immortalitie, euerlasting life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and disobey the e trueth, and obey vnrighteousnesse, shall be f indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation and anguish shall be vpon the soule of euery man that doeth euill: of the Iewe first, and also of the Grecian.

10 But to euery man that doeth good, shall be glory, and honour, and peace: to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

11 For there is g no respect of persons ✠ God.

12 4 For as many as haue sinned without the Lawe, shall perish also without the Lawe: and as many as haue sinned in the Law, shalbe iudged by the Law, 13 5 (For the hearers of the Law are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shall be h iustified.

14 6 For when the Gentiles which haue i not the Lawe, doe by k nature the things contained in the Law, they hauing not the Law, are a Law vnto themselues, 15 Which shew the effect of the Law l written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witnes & their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing)

16 7 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to m my Gospel.

17 ✠ 8 Behold, thou art called a Iew, and restest in the Law, and gloriest in God,

18 And knowest his will, and n ‖ tryest the things that differ from it, in that thou art instructed by the Law:

19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenesse, 20 An instructer of them which lack discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the o forme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the Law.

21 Thou therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, doest thou steale?

22 Thou that saiest, A man should not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacriledge?

23 Thou that gloriest in the Law, through breaking the Law, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, ✠ as it is written.

25 9 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou doe the Law: but if thou be a transgressour of the Law, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the Law, shall not his p vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not q vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Law) condemne thee which by the ‖ letter and circumcision art a transgressour of the Law?

28 For hee is not a Iewe, which is one a outexecute at their conuenient time by Iesus Christ, with a most straight examination, not onely of words and deedes, but of thoughts also, be they neuer so hidden or secret. m As this my doctrine witnesseth, which I am appointed to preach.

8 He proueth by the testimonie of David, and the other Prophets, that God bestowed greatest benefits vpon the Iewes, in giuing them also the Lawe, but that they are the most vnthankefull and vnkindest of all men. n Canst true & discerne what things swarue from Gods will. ‖ Or allowest the things that are excellent.

o The way to teach and frame others in the knowledge of the trueth. p As though he said, that the Iewes vnder a colour of an outward seruing of God, challenged all to themselues, when as indeed, they did nothing lesse then obserue the Lawe. ✠ Esai 52. 5. Ezek. 36. 20. 9 Here precisely preuenteth their obiection, which set an holinesse in circumcision, and the outward obseruation of the Law. So that he sheweth that the outward circumcision (if it be separated from the inward) doeth not onely not iustifie, but also condemne them that are indeed circumcised, of whome requisith that, which is signified, that is to say, cleannesse of the heart and the whole life, according to the commaundement of the Law, so that if there be a man vncircumcised according to the flesh, who is circumcised in heart, he is in faire better and more to be accounted of, then any Iewe that is circumcised according to the flesh onely. q This is the figure Metonymie, for, of the vncircumcised. r The state and condition of the vncircumcised. ‖ He which is vncircumcised of nature and blood. s Paul vseth oftentimes to set the letter against the Spirit: but in this place, the circumcision which is according to the letter, is the cutting off of the foreskin, but the circumcision of the Spirit, is the circumcision of the heart, that is to say, the spirituall end of the ceremonie, is true holinesse and righteousnesse whereby the people of God is knowen from prophane and heathenish men. t By the outward ceremonie only.

4 He appleth that generall accusation of mankind particularly both to the Gentiles, and to the Iewes.

5 He preuenteth an obiection which might be made by the Iewes, whom the Lawe doeth not excuse, but condemne, because that not the hearing of the Lawe, but the keeping of the Lawe doeth iustifie.

6 Studie pronounced iust before Gods iudgement seate: which is true indeede, if any such could be found that had fulfilled the law: but seeing Abraham was not iustified by the Lawe, but by faith, it followeth that no man can be iustified by workes.

6 He preuenteth an obiection which might be made by the Gentiles, who although they haue not the Lawe of Moses, yet they haue no reason whereby they may excuse their wickednes in that they haue somewhat written in their hearts to lead of a Law, as men that forbid, and punish some things as wicked, and command and commend other some as good.

7 Not simply, but in comparison of the Iewes.

8 Command honestthings, and forbid dishonest.

9 This knowledge is a naturall knowledge.

7 God deserveth many iudgements which notwithstanding he will ward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Iewe which is one within, and the circumcision is of the heart, in the z spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 He giueth the Iewes some a preferment, for the couenants sake, 4 but yet such, as wholly dependeth on Gods mercie. 9 That both Iewes & Gentiles are sinners, 11 he proueth by Scriptures: 19 and shewing the vse of the Law, 28 he concludeth that we are iustified by faith.

WHat is then the preferment of the Iew? or what is the profit of circumcision?

2 Much euery maner of way: for a chiefly, because vnto them were of credit committed the b oracles of God.

3 For what, though some did not c beleeue? shall their vnbeleefe make the d faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, and euery man a liar, as it is written, That thou mightest be e iustified in thy words, and ouercome, f when thou art iudged.

5 2 Now if our g vnrighteousnes commend the righteousnes of God, what shall we say? is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake as h a man.)

6 God forbid: (els how shall God iudge the world?)

7 3 For if the i veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glory, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as we are blamed, and as some affirme, that we say) why doe we not euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 4 What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already prooued, that all, both Iewes and Gentiles are k vnder sinne, 10 As it is written, ✣ There is none righteous, noe not one.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue beene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 ✣ Their throat is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceit: the poyson of aspes is vnder their lips.

14 ✲ Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse.

15 ✲ Their feete are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and calamity are in their waies:

17 And the l way of peace they haue not knowen.

18 ✲ The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 5 Now we know that whatsoeuer the m law sayeth, it saieth it to them which are vnder the lawe, that n euery mouth may be stopped, and all the world be o subiect to the iudgement of God.

20 Therefore by the p workes of the Law shall no q flesh be r iustified in his s sight: for by the Law commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 7 But now is the righteousnes of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witnesse of the Law, and of the Prophets, 22 8 To wit, the righteousnesse of God by the faith of t Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleeue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are depriued of the u glory of God,

24 9 And are iustified v freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

25 10 Whom God hath set forth to be a reconciliation through faith in his w blood, to declare his righteousnesse, by the forgiuenesse of the sinnes that y are passed,

26 Through the z patience of God, to shew at a this time his righteousnesse, that hee might be b iust, and a c iustifier of him which is of the d faith of Iesus.

27 11 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what e Law? of workes? Nay: but by the Law of faith.

28 Therefore wee conclude, that a man is iustified by faith, without the workes of the Lawe.

29 12 God, is hee the God of the f Iewes onely, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God, who shall iustifie g circumcision of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 13 Doe wee then make the Lawe of h none effect through faith? God forbid: yea, wee i establish the Law.

z Whose force is inward, and in the heart.

1 The first meeting with, or preuenting an obiection of the Iewes: what then, haue the Iewes no more preferment then the Gentiles? yes, that haue they, saych the Apostle, on Gods behalfe: for he committed the tables of the couenant to them, so that the vnbeliefe of a few, can not cause the whole nation without exception to be cal-away of God, who is true, and who also vseth their vnworthines to commend and set foorth his goodnesse.

a The Iewes state and condition was chiefest.

b Wordes.

c Brake the couenant.

d The faith that God gaue.

e That thy iustice might be plainely seene.

f Iustifyed as thou shewedst forth an euident token of thy righteousnes, constancie & faith, by preseruing him who had broken his couenant.

2 Another preuention, issuing out of the former answer: that the iustice of God is in such sort commended and set foorth by our vnrighteousnesse, that therefore God forgetteth not that he is the iudge of the world, and therefore a most seuere reuenger of vnrighteousnesse.

g Treachery, and all the fruits thereof.

bTherefore I speake not these wordes in mine owne person, as though I thought so, but this is the talke of many wisedome, which is not subiect to the will of God. 3 A third obiection which ariseth somewhat to the former. If sinnes do turne to the glory of God, they are not only to be punished, but wee ought rather to giue our selues to them: which blasphemie Paul contending himselfe to curse and detest, pronounceth iust punishment against such blasphemers. i The trueth and constancie. 4 Another answere to the first obiection: that the Iewes, if they be considered in themselues, are no better then other men are: as it hath beene long since pronounced by the mouth of the Prophets k Are guiltie of sinne. ✣ Psal. 14.1.2. and 53.1.3 ✣ Psal. 5.10. ✲ Psal. 140.3. ✲ Psal. 10.7. ✲ Esai. 59.7. l An innocent and peaceable life. * Psal. 36.1. 5 He proueth that this grieuous accusation which is vttered by Dauid and Esaias, doeth properly concerne the Iewes. m The law of Moses. 6 A conclusion of all the former disputation, from the 9 verse of the first Chapter. Therefore saith the Apostle, No man can hope to be iustified by any Law, whether it be that generall Law, or the particular Law of Moses, and therefore to be saued: seeing it appeareth (as we haue already prooued) by comparing the Law and mans life together, that all men are sinners, and therefore worthy of condemnation in the sight of God.

n Be found guilty before God.

o By that that the Law can by vs be performed.

p Flesh is here taken for man, as in many other places, and furthermore hath here a greater force: for it is put to shew the contrarietie betwixt God and man: as if you would say, Man who is nothing else but a peece of flesh defiled with sinne, and God who is most pure and most perfit in himselfe.

q Abolished before the iudgement seate of God.

r A secret setting of the righteousnesse which is before men, & they know it not, against the iustice which can stand before God: now there is no righteousnesse can stand before God, but the righteousnesse of Christ onely.

7 Therefore saieth the Apostle, Least that men should perish, God doth now exhibite that, which he promised of old, that is to say, a way whereby we may be iustified and saued before him without the Law.

8 The matter as it were of this righteousnesse, is Christ

Iesus apprehended by faith, and for this end offered to all him all people are shut out from the kingdome of God.

people, as without Christ, as without whom all people are shut out from the kingdome of God. s Which wee giue to Iesus Christ, or which resteth vpon him. t By the Glory of God, is meant that marke which wee all shoote at, that is, euerlasting life, which standeth in that wee are made partakers of the glory of God. u Therefore this righteousnesse touching vs, is altogether freely giuen, for it standeth vpon those things which we haue not done our selues, but such as Christ hath suffered for our sakes, to deliuer vs from sinne. u Of his free gift, and meere liberalitie. 10 God then is the authour of that free iustification, because it pleased him: and Christ is hee, which suffered punishment for our sinnes, and in whom wee haue remission of them: and the meane whereby wee apprehend Christ, is faith. To be short, the end is the setting foorth of the goodnesse of God, that by this meanes it may appeare, that hee is mercifull in deede, and constant in his promises, as hee that freely, and of meere grace iustifieth the beleeuers. x This name of God, calleth vs backe to the figure of the olde sacrifices, the trueth and substance of which sacrifices is in Christ. y Of those sinnes which wee committed when we were his enemies. z Through his patience, and suffering nature. a To wit, when Paul wrote this. b That he might be found exceeding true & faithfull. c Making him iust, and without blame by imputing Christs righteousnesse vnto him. d Of the number of them which by faith lay hold vpon Christ: contrarie to whome, are they which looke to be saued by circumcision, that is, by the Law.

11 An argument to proue this conclusion, that we are iustified by faith without workes, taken from the end of iustification. The end of iustification is the glorie of God alone. therefore we are iustified by faith without workes: for if wee were iustified either by our owne workes onely, or partly by faith, and partly by workes, the glorie of this iustification should not be wholly giuen to God. e By what doctrine? now the doctrine of workes hath his condition ioyned with it, If thou doest: and the doctrine of faith hath this condition, If thou beleeuest. 12 Another argument of an absurditie: if iustification depended vpon the Law of Moses, then should God be a Sauiour to the Iewes only. Againe: if hee should saue the Iewes after one sort, and the Gentiles after another, hee should not be one and like himselfe. Therefore hee will iustifie both of them after one selfe same manner, that is to say, by faith. Moreouer, this argument must be ioyned to that which followeth next, that this conclusion may be firme and euident. f God is said to be their God, after the manner of the Scripture, who are hee loueth and tendereth. g The circumcised. 13 The taking away of an obiection: yet is not the Law taken away therefore, but is rather established, as it shalbe declared in his proper place. h Vaine, voide, to no purpose, and of no force. i Wee make it effectuall and strong.
